RAILROAD CLATTER

By CHARLES L. UPTON

No man calls this a bad world who is doing his share toward making it a good one.

Birthday Greetings

Mrs. R. J. Murray Elected International Vice-Pres. Woman's Auxiliaries

Los Angeles members of the Ladies' Auxiliaries were highly elated over the good news that their delegate and secretary, Mrs. R. J. Murray, was elected International Vice President of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters at the recent convention of that organization in Chicago. Mrs. Murray is the wife of the past vice-president of the Los Angeles Division of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and is well capable of filling this office. Due to arrive in the city on the evening we go to press, Mrs. Murray will make her convention report to the Ladies' Auxiliary at a date in the near future.

Porters Brotherhood Delegates To Attend A. F. of L. Convention

According to information received at the Midwest headquarters of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, Chicago, A. Philip Randolph, International Vice-President, left Chicago to attend the fifty-eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor which convened in Houston, Texas October 3, and extends through two weeks. Randolph and Webster are members of the organization and Shorter Work Week Committees of the convention respectively.

The Brotherhod has important resolutions which will be brought before the convention related to the Negro people.

B. M. Hawkins Ill

B. M. Hawkins, one of the veterans of the Pullman service, operating from Los Angeles to Chicago was ill at his home as we go to press. Hawkins got an attack of ptomaine poison en route from Chicago to Los Angeles and is now confined to his home under the care of his family physician.

W. B. Holland in Train Wreck, En Route Home From Convention

W. B. Holland, secretary-treasurer of the Los Angeles Division of the BSCP had some thrilling experiences while en route home from the convention. Shortly after leaving Denver on the Rio Grande, the train in which he was on had a head-on collision with another train and so severe was the crash that one steel car was cut compeltely in half. The shock threw Holland against the side of the car, but he was not injured and after some delay continued on to Los Angeles.

R. C. Franklin Recovers From Illness

R. C. Franklin, who has been ill for several weeks, is gradually rounding into shape and although still under the care of his family physician expects to be able to return to work soon.

Mrs. Chas. L. Upton Returns From East

Mrs. Chas. L. Upton, better known as the writer's war department, arrived in the city early this week with a ham in her trunk that weighed twenty-two pounds. After making a thorough check up of the chickens she left behind, she gave the writer a clean bill of sale as a jam-up housekeeper. She was royally entertained in Chicago by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackburn and Anita Patti Brown, famous prima dona with whom she stopped. Unfortunately she was ill all during the convention with the exception of a few days at which time she appeared there and was introduced on the convention floor where I am informed she was given a big hand. She was gone for two months and never mind what I was doing while she was gone, at least the house was there and I got a clean bill of sale.

Delegates Make Reports At Meetings

Delegates W. B. Holland and H. L. Armstrong made their reports at meetings which were held all week at the Brotherhood headquarters to a large attendance. Both delegates were given a rising vote of thanks for their splendid reports.

Status of Ladies' Auxiliary

The question has been raised as to what is the position of the Ladies' Auxiliary. The answer is simple and clear, the Ladies' Auxiliary is subordinate to the Brotherhood. It is consequent to the Brotherhood. It is the Brotherhood's assistant. It is its helpmate. The Brotherhood, in common parlance, is the Boss. The Brotherhood has chartered the Ladies' Auxiliary. It grants its charter and can withdraw it if the purpose and aims of the Brotherhood were being opposed by the Auxiliary. In the several divisions, the local Brotherhood has authority over the Auxiliary in the district, for if there was no Brotherhood, there would be no need for either a National or local auxiliary. If a local auxiliary is pursuing policies directly against the interest of the Brotherhood, the local Brotherhood Division President would so inform his Regional Supervisor, and the same would be taken up with the National President of the Brotherhod and the National Ladies' Auxiliary.

Art Club Begins Fall Activities

Los Angeles City College's Negro art and culture club initiated Fall term activities last Thursday afternoon, meeting in the first session on the campus. Officers of the organization are: Margie Fiedler, pres.; Charles Gibson, vice president; Julia Luke, recording secretary; Carolyn Jacobs, corresponding secretary, Victor Lyons, treasurer, Thelma Wallace, Parlimentarian, and William Lewis, publicity chairman. Dr. Herbert Alexander is faculty advisor.

18 Register for Course in Negro Life

Eighteen persons have enrolled Church, 43rd and Avalon. Regis- for the course "The Negro in American Civilization" which is being offered by Zelma Watson Duke at the Avalon Christian tration will be limited to thirty persons to facilitate class work. Contributions of the past, present status under various legislation, and possible cantributions of the future Negro will mark the course which is free of tuition and being taught to stimulate more reading and concern about the chance of the Negro in American civilization.

Mrs. Duke formerly taught the course at Tennessee State College in Nashville for several years before coming to Los Angeles. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago with the degree of Ph. B. and has a master's degree from New York University. The course was brought up to date in some special work done this summer at the University of So. California.

Persons wishing to enroll are advised to write Mrs. Duke at 334 East Jefferson or telephone Adams 11605. A meeting for determining the time of the class will be held soon.

U. S. Cruiser to Call at African Port

The Navy Department has announced that the cruise of the newly-commissioned 10,000 ton cruiser Boise will begin on October 12, and will include formal courtesy calls at two ports in Africa. The Boise is scheduled to visit Monrovia, seaport capitol of Liberia, from October 24 to October 27, and Capetown, Union of South Africa, for the week beginning November 6.

There are a number of reasons why the visit of the Boise to Liberia is of interest at this time. The United States Government has completed plans for a modern Legation building at Monrovia, designed especially for tropical conditions, to take the place of the rented structure occupied at present. Construction is to start shortly. It is planned to dedicate the site of the new Legation building at the time of the Boise's visit.

For some time there has been in the possession of the Phelps-Stokes Fund, a philanthropic organization which for many years has contributed actively to the advancement of Liberia, the surviving portions of the bunting from which the first flag of the Republic of Liberia was made. As a special gesture of good will, the trustees of the Fund have decided to prepare this material in a form suitable for donation to the Liberian government and the historic relic will be carried into Monrovia on the Boise.

Liberia has always been bound to the U. S. by close and traditional ties of friendship. In 1822 American freedmen established the first settlement near what is now Monrovia. During the period preceeding the Civil War many emigrants left this country under the auspices of the American Colonization Society to join the colonists on the West Coast of Africa. In 1847 a group of the West African settlements united to adopt a constitution modeled on that of the United States and a Declara the United States and a Declaration of Independence was issued.

The first treaty between the United States and Liberia was signed in 1862, after the outbreak of the Civil War, ratified and proclaimed in 1863. This treaty was recently replaced by the signing on August 8, 1938 of a new Treaty of friendship, Commerce and Navigation. The visit of the Boise to Monrovia therefore coincides with the 75th anniversary of the initiation of treaty relationships between the two governments.

The last visit of a United States naval vessel to Liberia took place in 1928.

To Widen Slauson as Traffic Aid

Widening of Slauson avenue between Compton and Central Avenues to eliminate this dangerous bottleneck on one of the country's major east-west traffic arteries will be started immediately according to Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough, sponsor of the project.

McDonough made this statement yesterday following award of contract to C. O. Sparks company, whose low bid of $23,712-.50 was recommended for approval by the County Road Department.

PLAN 20% INCREASE IN NEGRO'S SUBSCIPTIONS TO COMMUNITY CHEST

Mrs. Zelma Watson Duke, President of South Central Coordinating Council and Chest Campaign Chairman of Negro Division, Lays Plans for Drive

Plans to bring the subscriptions of Negro citizens to help support the agencies of the Community Chest up 20 per cent beyond the subscriptions of last year were being laid this week by Mrs. Zelma Watson Duke, president of the South Central Coordinating Council and Chest campaign chairman of the Chest's Negro division.

Goal for the entire Chest territory has been set at $3,206,409, which is $534,000 more than last year's objective.

It is pointed out by Mrs. Duke that the population of the Los Angeles Chest area has grown 41 per cent since 1926, while public subscriptions to the Chest fund were 1 per cent less last year than they were twelve years ago. Although the amount of the subscriptions was less in 1927, however, the number of individual subscribers has increased 56 per cent.

The striking shrinkage in the size of the average subscription was attributed by the chairman to a tendency on the part of the public to forget that once a year subscription under the Community Chest system has taken the place of eighty-eight or more separate subscriptions to separate agencies under the old system of pre-Chest days. As a result of this forgetfulness, she said, a great many subscribers now are giving the same amount through the Chest that they would give to any one of the eighty-eight agencies.

Emphasizing that, as needs have increased in proportion to the population growth, and as the Chest-supported agencies, with less money, have been wholly unable to care for them adequately, the chairman added: "Services of many of the agencies have had to be curtailed seriously, hundreds of applicants have had to be placed on long waiting lists or turned away entirely, and, in several cases, large agency deficits have been incurred in rendering emergency assistance."

MARTIN L. HARVEY, CHRISTIAN EDUCATION DIRECTOR, TO SPEAK

FORMER NATIONAL PRESIDENT OF CHRISTIAN YOUTH COUNCIL AT INDEPENDENT AND WESLEY CHAPEL SUNDAY; TO CONDUCT FORUM

Martin L. Harvey of Hempstead, New York, national director of Christian Education for Youth and former national president of the Christian Youth Council, will arrive in Los Angeles Sunday morning for a week's stay, during which time he will speak at principal churches and to various youth groups. Sunday evening at seven o'clock, he will speak at the People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma street; and early that same evening (6:30) at Wesley Chapel M. E. hurch, Eighth and San Julian streets.

Mr. Harvey has just returned from the World Missionary Conference in India to which he was a delegate from the youth council. He is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary and has studied at New York University, is former president of New York Christian Youth Council, the first Negro officer of that body; was a member of the National Teaching Mission to the Pacific Northwest last fall and has traveled in the Phillipine Islands, Japan, Egypt, India, and Europe.

GUEST SPEAKER

MARTIN L. HARVEY, JR., former president of the Christian Youth Council of North America who will be guest speaker at the evening service of the People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma next Sunday at 7:30. The only Negro to have received that honor, Mr. Harvey has studied at New York University and Union Theological Seminary. He has just returned from a owrld tour representing the United Christian Youth Movement of North America, comprising 43 denominations. His itinerary will include the Phillipine Islands, Japan, India, and other parts of Europe. The young churchman is considered one of the ablest orators in the country today.

Dr. E. W. Rakestraw, pastor of Wesley Chapel M. E. Church, has chosen for his morning subject this Sunday, "Let's Move". The evening service will be under the sponsorship of the Women's Progressive Club and will feature a sacred drama entitled "Women of the Bible" and music by the organization's glee club.

Rev. E. W. Moore of Pasadena will preach Sunday morning at the First A. M. E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma streets, in the absence of Rev. Lovell who is attending the annual conference in Hanford. At 6:45 p. m., Rev. J. G. Edmonds will preach.

The seventeenth anniversary celebration of the pastorate of Dr. T. L. Griffith continues this week at Second Baptist church and will climax in the anniversary sermon Sunday morning by Dr. W. D. Carter of Pasadena and the evening sermon by Dr. E. W. Moore, also of Pasadena.

The Baptists Ministers' Union is in charge of tonight's program and auxiliaries of the church will sponsor an informal reception Friday evening.

Sunday, October 2, 1938: Services were nicely attended, Rev. James T. Yancey preached at the 11 o'clock hour. A very constructive sermon was witnessed by all present. Service all day was wonderful. True Light will be conducting a series of Bible lessons and evangelistic services each night this month. Rev. J. T. Yancey will be in charge of these services. The Pastor is very happy to have this man of God as his assistant. Services will be held as usual Sunday. Good inspirational singing. Everybody is welcome to attend these services.

"Seeing it Through will be the subject of the Pastor's morning message this Sunday, October 9, at Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, Vernon and Hooper Avenues, Rev. E. E. Lightner, Minister. "Advantages of Church Membership" will be the evening message. This service begins at 7: 30 o'clock and lasts one hour. Special music will be rendered by our choir under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Frederick.

The past Sunday was a good day with us. Following a brief meditation by the Pastor, many grasped the opportunity of personally witnessing for the Master. The Lord's Supper was administered at the coles of the services. There were four additions to the church. You are cordially invited to worship with us at all times.

"The Gift of the Holy Ghost" will be the subject of the eleven o'clock sermon of Rev. T. T. Addison, minister, Goodwill Missionary Baptist Church, Sunday morning. The sermon is the third in a series on the seven spirits. Rev. H. Williams will preach Sunday night. BYPU groups numbers one and two are enjoying a beneficial contest which is contributing to the growth of the group.

"The Enemy Dare This" has been announced as the sermon subject of Rev. F. A. Jones, pastor of the Revelation Baptist church for next Sunday morning. The evening address will be "What's Your Conception about Jesus?" The church edifice is located at 4440 Compton avenue.

The pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church at 40th Place and Wadsworth Avenue will speak Sunday night on the subject "World Peace To Be Declared", But Will It Be Assured?" The topic will be illustrated with screen pictures.

On the Sabbath (Saturday) "How Much Like Ancient Isreal are The Seventh Day Adventists" will be the sermon subject for 11 a. m. services.

The young people of Avalon Christian Church will present a one hour service at seven o'clock Sunday evening. The introductory part of the program will feature music under the direction of Mrs. Melba Hannah, church pianist.

It will be followed with the moving picture "Let My People Live" which was filmed at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama with Rex Ingram in a leading role and the Tuskegee choir of 100 voices. The last fifteen minutes will be given to a skit "The Church on Trial" presented by some of the young people of the church and is meant to summarize the findings of groups that have studied the city. Characters are judge, Leland Whitney; prosecuting attorney, Percy Williams; attorney for the defense, Jewell Watson; bailiff, George Winchester, clerk of the court, Coy Chatman. Witnesses are Thelma Luck, Dr. L. E. Windsor, Beulah Terry, Herod Ward, Melba Hannah, Olivia Orme, Martha Shepperd is cast as the church.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord." This passage from Jeremiah is the Golden Text of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The question "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon.

One of the Bible selections includes the verses from Luke: "And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: . . . And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee. . . . What reason ye in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house. And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God."

The Lesson-Sermon presents also these words from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The supremacy of Spirit was the foundation on which Jesus built. . . . Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing."

Youth Program to Mark Rally Day at Hamilton M. E.

The annual rally of Hamilton M. E. Church, 18th and Naomi Avenue, of which Rev. S. M. Beane is pastor, sponsored by the church school and Epworth League will feature a youth program Sunday morning at which the Rev. Dr. J. B. F. Shaw will deliver a message for the youth of the church and the junior choir will sing. In the evening, representatives from Georgia, Mississippi, and Alabama will present a well arranged program.

Friday evening a youth banquet will be held and all young people of the church are invited.

CHURCH CELEBRATES 92ND ANNIVERSARY

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 6, (ANP)—The 92nd anniversary of the founding of the St. Matthews Episcopal church was observed here Sunday with a special musical program. The Rev. Father Daniels in his sermon told of the founding of St. Matthews church in 1864. He said St. Matthews has gone through the stormiest days in the history of this country, and has been a sure guide.

Henry Boyd Will Go to Africa

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7, (ANP)—Henry Allen Boyd, secretary of the National Baptist Sunday School Board will go to Durban, Natal Province, South Africa to attend the 13th World's Sunday School association which will be held there July 22-28, 1940. Mr. Boyd was selected as a delegate to the association during the recent meeting of the National Baptist convention of America at its recent convention in Fort Worth, Tex. Mr. Boyd returned this week from Chicago, where he was host to 500 boys at the Herman Baptist church. He said that while he had been named by his board, he still was pondering whether to make the trip.

Eichelberger at World Confab

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 6, (ANP)—Dr. J. W. Eichelberger of Chicago, secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the A. M. E. Zion church, was in New York last week attending the meeting of the North American Administrative committee of the World's Sunday School association, of which he is the only Negro member, which met at the Waldorf Astoria. He also attended as one of the guests the tea in honor of Sir Harold and Lady MacKintosh held in the Perroquet room of the Waldorf Astoria.

CHILDREN'S AIRING CARRIES 3 STORIES

Featured in "The Monitor Children's Program" next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock over KNX is a little elf who lives by himself in the middle of a dark wood. The world seems a very gloomy place indeed for this lonely little elf until one day he follows an impulse to present a gift to a cousin. Then suddenly he discovers a bright new world of green grass, blue sky, and golden sun with happy elves coming and going.

Two other stories, "An Indian and a Paleface Doll" and "A Chipmunk Party," are included in the program.

Rev. Edwards Surprised On Birthday by Friends

Rev. S. E. Edwards was surprised with a birthday supper, September 29, in his home when a group of friends called at the invitation of his wife, Mrs. M. L. Edwards. Guests were Mmes. Hall, Hicks, Selena Jennings, White, a Chicago evangelist, who contributed much to the evening's enjoyment. The affair was held in the Edwards home at 1427 East 51st street.

AME Leader to Try for Bishopric

MADISON, Fla., Oct. 6, (By Eric Hercules, Calvin Service)—Having served the members of his denomination as religious leader for more than 30 years, Rev. A. I. G. Richardson, outstanding Presiding Elder of the Madison District, has made formal announcement of his candidacy for Episcopal honors at the next General conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, which will convene in Detroit, Mich., in 1940. Rev. Richardson has the distinction of being one of the first graduates of Edward Waters college and gained national recognition for his brilliant scholastic record, having finished with the honor of being valedictorian of his class.

The Rev. Dr. Richardson is a member of the Financial Board of the A. M. E. church, representing the Eleventh District and has contributed largely to the financial support of Edward Waters College and other institutions.

Dental Clinic at Independent Will Be Reopened

In keeping with National Dental Week, the Dental Clinic of People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets prepared this week for re-opening the early part of next week, according to the minister, Rev. Clayton D. Russell.

A large amount of new equipment has been secured, and the clinic will now operate as a specific department of the social service of the church itself, rather than as heretofore, an agency of the county welfare department. Dr. E. W. Hardimon, dentist, and Al Patrick, mechanical dentist, will be in charge.

The service which will be open it was announced, to all needy persons, includes extraction, fillings, treatments, and repairing bridgework.

The Mental Hygiene Department of the Clinic will open Friday under the direction of Dr Henry McPherson. Other departments will be opened at a later date.

To Aid Ex-Banker Binga

CHICAGO, Oct. 6, (ANP) — Prominent friends of former banker Jesse Binga, now reported penniless, this week launched a drive for $2,500, to save his home near 60th Street and South Parkway, where he has lived since 1917. The former founder and president of the defunct Binga State Bank, was recently released from Joliet State Prison after serving an indeterminate sentenct for conviction on an embezzlement charge.

Binga's friends have organized the Binga Home Fund, with Attorney George L. Griffin (white) of the Chicago Surface Lines, as trustee, to raise the needed money. Funds will be used to repurchase the home from the defunct bank and at Binga's death the property will be converted into a home for aged colored men.

NEGRO HISTORY CLUB TO HOLD FIRST MEET

The Negro History Study Club of Los Angeles, which is open to all interested in the study of Negro Life and History, will hold its first Fall meeting today, 1:30 p. m. at the office of the State Department of Education, 4404 McKinley Avenue.

Carter Holds New Church Unnecessary

By REV. W. D. CARTER

Pastor, Friendship Baptist Church

(In answer to numerous inquiries concerning the newly-proposed ommunity Baptist Church and the questioned need for an additional church to serve the Negro population of Pasadena, this article is written to give insight concerning the adequate supply of churches and social centers already established by and for Negroes in Pasadena).

Pasadena's colored citizens are proud of the fact that there is in existence here a creditable supply of church homes wherein they may worship.

According to a recent announcement, however, a new church is to be added to the list of 10 already serving the Negro population within the northern area of Pasadena.

CHURCHES ARE LISTED

Among those churches already established are St. Barnabas' Episcopal Church, Father J. Alfred Wilkins, victor; the Seventh Day Adventist Church and Day school at Sunset and Pepper Streets, Elder Campbell, pastor; Zion A. M. E. Church at Sunset and Hammond Streets, Rev. Mr. Alexander, pastor the Kirkwood and Glorietta Streets C. M. E. church, Rev. Mr. Rhea, pastor; Sunset and Glorietta Street Christian Aliance Church, Rev. Mr. Calander, the resigned pastor; the Lincoln Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Goff, pastor; Lincoln Avenue Christ Temple Church, Rev. Mr. Raines, pastor; the Lincoln Avenue and Westgate Church of God in Christ. Rev. Mr. Johnson, pastor; the Washington and Mentone Street Church of God. Brother Morgan supervisor; and the Fair Oaks and Mountain Full Gospel church.

Other churches for the care of the colored people of Pasadena are: Friendship Baptist Church, Rev. W. D. Carter, pastor; Scott M. E. hurch, Rev. Karl Downs, pastor; First A. M. E. Church, Rev. J. M. Brown pastor; and the Metropolitan Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Morgan supply pastor. This makes a total of 14 churches to serve the Negro areas in both the southern and northern ends of Pasadena.

CENTERS AVALABLE

There are also several centers serving the Negro population among them the Chicago Clubhouse, Mrs. Eva Burton, president; the Parish Hall on Fair Oaks Avenue, Father and Mrs. J. A. Wilkins directors; the Garner Center at 470 Blake Street; the Scattergood Center on North Fair Oaks Avenue, Mrs. Mae Reese Johnson, president and founder; the Scott M. E. ommunity Center; the Friendship Baptist Church Social Hall, with competent teachers in religious work and the Metropolitan Baptist Church Social Hall, gift of the late Mrs. Brooks wealthy philanthropist.

Many of the people in the neighborhood of the proposed new church and a number of the pastors have expressed the belief that the church is not needed inasmuch as it will interfere with the good fellowship of the 10 churches already established in that neighborhood, adding unnecessarily to the heavy financial burden of all the Negro churches and social centers throughout Pasadena.

Baptist Pastors Resume Meetings

The Baptists Ministers' Union resumed its weekly meetings Tuesday after a month's vacation with a session in the Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith Avenue. Dr. J. L. Caston, president presided and superintended reports from various committees. Among recommendations accepted was the program for the ministerial retreat to be held in the Corner Stone Baptist Church on Thursday, October 20.

Rev. Caston will be the principal speaker for next Tuesday's meeting. Visitors included Rev. E. T. Lawson of the Home Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention, Dr. Bell of New Jersey and Rev. C. H. Hampton of San Diego.

Artists Develop in Urban League's Fine Arts Division

Younger artists are finding that participation in the work of the Los Angeles Urban League's Music and Fine Arts Division provides opportunity for development without the danger of too early professionalization, it was claimed this week. This division, under the direction of Gilbert Allen, is already in full swing. Allen is director of the Allen Singers, now in their 28th week on the radio program "Curtain Calls".

Individual and group artists already working with the Fine Arts Division include: the Five Brown Buddies; Jimmie Cowans, piano and voice teacher; Mr. Nash, pianist, who plays the most difficult music with one hand; and the Four Mayfield Brothers.

Urban League Work Appeals

This week marks the end of the first year of employment for Rex Hall and Edward Hardwick at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in Los Angeles. They are the first and only Negro employees of a major rubber manufacturing company in this section, and received their posts through cooperation of the Urban League.

In Memoriam

In memory of my loving father, Arthur Ponder of 1380 E. 33rd street, who passed away two years ago October 5, 1936:

Two years have passed since that sad day
That called the one I loved away.
Forget? No, I never will
For in my heart he liveth still.
He lived and died believing
That all this world is true
Yet left it without grieving
To seek one shining new.

Pasadena Breakfast Club Holds Brilliant Session

More than one hundred persons comprising members and friends of the Pasadena Fellowship Breakfast League, met yesterday morning, in the hall of the Garner Foundation, 470 Blake Street to attend the regular monthly session of the League.

Mrs. Marian Downs, soprano soloist, commemorated Loyalty Day by leading the assembly in singing of the hymn "Faith of Our Fathers". There followed an invocation, delivered by Dr. W. D. Carter, pastor to Friendship Baptist Church.

Reverend E. W. Moore, commentator of the Pasadena Community Sing Association gave a resume of Negro historical events important during the month of September after which George Garner, Sing Association director, introduced the morning's guest speaker: Reverend Karl E. Downs, pastor of the Scott M.E. Church.

Reverend Downs' vital and timely message, 'Whither, Negro Americans?" held the audience in rapt attention long after the final word had been spoken.

It is reprinted herewith as follows:

"In a world that is torn with grave threats of devastating wars, class conflicts, racial tensions and great waves of immorality, nothing is more refreshing than to fellowship with a group socially alert and responsive to the need for betterment. Joyous, therefore is this privilege to "breakfast" with you and to share with you the subject: "Whither, Negro Americans?"

Like the poor battered and bleeding victims of the Sino-Japanese War; like the fearful groups of the Czechoslavakian crisis; like the general plight of mankind in our day, we too are struggles, struggling in a confusschaotic, catastrophic world for the things that make life rich, happy and secure."

"We are but weary strugglers along life's dusky way
So, he who has a helpful word, for God's sake let him say."

"You will note that my subject seems prohibitive. It is not; and I am glad that your white friends have come to share with us in this meeting, even though the remarks which I shall have to make will concern your racial welfare. I have prepared my speech in the hope that we, as Negroes can be lifted above the forces which are undermining our rich heritage.

"I greet you as Negro Americans! Hidden in and through this greeting lies a veritable world of challenging suggestiveness. Spring is more welcome because it follows the rigors of winter. Dawn is more striking in the riot of color because it leaps into visibility after the raging storms have passed. The peace of mind, the warmth of heart, and the joy of life which have been bred into the soul of the Negro are more precious attributes than all the superficial progress of white supremacy because they follow periods of agony and despair. All the foes of hell have not and cannot conquer that spirit of love which has brought us thus far. At all odds, this rich heritage must be protected!

Packed like sardines in a dungy boat bottom for 3.00 miles of ocean travel; landing upon a strange shore and rushed to the slave markets where they were sold like cattle; brothers separated from suckling babes and children; husbands separated from wives; horsewhipped upon suspicion— salt poured into open wounds— and yet, while masters sat with head bowed in deepest worry as to how long before the inevitable end would come to such human cruelties, our ancestors strolled joyfully to the fields singing: "O Stand the storm, it won't be long, we'll anchor by and by". In this spirit from the depths of slavery have blossomed some of humanity's towering peaks.

"Another picture looms before us—with ropes about their necks —eyes and tongues starting from their sockets, gleeful spectators dancing amid the ardors of burning flesh and cutting toes and fingers for souvenirs from the charred body, gross economic limitations and exploitation and exploitation heaped upon their head, victims of malicious prejudices that deny them educational and cultural advantages, 14.-000.000 Negroes, despite all this, are increasingly establishing themselves in governmental, musical, theatrical, business and professional lives. The genius of this success lies in the philosophy: "I will not allow one prejudiced person, one thousand prejudiced persons, nor one hundred thousand prejudiced persons to blight my life. I will not allow prepudice nor any of its humiliations to bear me down to spiritual defeat. My inner life is my own and I shall defend and maintain its integrity against all the powers of hell."

"This brief resume of our condition, past and present, grips me as I hope it does you. I have become increasingly convinced of the rich heritage and great blessing that is mine to be born a Negro in the 20th Century. Should God ask my choice as to another birth you may be sure that it would be make me again a Negro! You and I have unique contributions to make to the world: and the sooner we give ourselves to this task rather than to bitterness and despise to our beautiful color, the earlier that abundance of life which is ours shall come.

"As I travel from coast to coast I find that ours is not so much a Negro problem as it is a minority problem. Time and again I have been in white groups who have no prepjudice against the Negro; but they hate the Mexican, despise the Oriental, detest the Filipino, or cannot stand the Jew. The more inferior the white man the more vicious is he in his insults or stupid, obnoxious acts.

"We come today seeking avenues of sustenance ino American life. Though time does not allow a fair discussion of each of these I should like to comment on some of them.

"For a long time exodus has been advocated as a way out of the Negro problem in America—even Thomas Jefferson wasted effort and energy to make real this fanciful dream. Some today think that all the Negroes should be deported to Africa. However, they do not stop to think that with the exception of a lone republic, this entire continent has been gobbled up by European powers. Nor was the exodus of Haiti, during the Civil War, of any. The American Colonization Society which established Liberia has never had a great appeal. The talk of a 49th state in America for Negroes is a most impracticable proposal. The ridiculous Bilbo of Mississippi, who stood in Congress to advocate a stupid policy of deportation as regards the Negro became a laughing stock. The Negro is in America to stay! 'Old Glory is as much mine, and yours as it is anybody's else! The Negro is an integral part of American life. America needs him and he needs America! Exodus and the thought of it is foolish, wasted effort toward adjustment.

"Another advocated step toward adjustment is that of physical force. As a Christian I have moral objections to this means: and as a reasonably intelligent human being I can see only utter futility in any attempt by the Negro to assert himself through physical force. All odds argue against the possibility of so foolish a suggestion.

A formidable foe to Negro progress in America lies in tht next advocated attempt toward social adjustment—that of revolt. Many Negroes are espousing Communism—one of the greatest menaces to the Negro race. Communism as a philosophy of life is shot through with inconsistencies. Communism will never solve the race problem in America. The order has played a significant part in Russia's life; and I do see some real facts about life which it has uncovered. However, it should be borne in mind that Communism did not solve the race problem in Russia—Russia has never had one. She honored Hannibal—a black general; made a mulatto her national poet. I do not feel that we should bring added hardship upon ouselves by wasted Communistic efforts. I do realize the great need for justice in our American society; but Communism is no only inadequate but also a much greater hinderance than help to the Negro in American life.

"If I could state my position without being misunderstood, I should say that adjustment to American life must come in a synthesis between the isolationists theory and the theory of integration. It is not a matter of 'either or,' it is a matter of 'both and'. We must not be afraid to face the facts. We cannot solve the problem in Pasadena by setting ourselves apart from the rest of the community; nor can we appreciate our own worth until we develop among ourselve in racial groups. Fuller co-operation with other groups will come when we have fuller co-operation among ourselves,

Let me hasten to say that the mere overcoming of race prejudice will not have solved our problems. Pressure from without is no more theatening than borings within. We are too much at each other's throat. The crab philosophy of which we have been accused—reaching up to pull the other fellow down—is being supplanted by a philosophy bent on keeping each other down without letting him up at all. There are enough community needs among us to keep us all busy; and we need not be stepping on each others toes to do so. Let us beware of weak leaders: grafting politicians and the other valuable traits of good citizenship.

I believe in the community welfare and all organizations that seek to build it. This Foundation is being congratulated for its place in the Community.

May I reiterate yours is a precious privilege. Pasadena needs yau as America needs you. You need Pasadena as you Need America."

Fla. Memorial College has Big Enrollment

LIVE OAK, Fla., Oct. 6, (C)—With an enrollment which promises to eclipse all previous records Florida Memorial college opened its 65th session last week. The school, which operates under the auspices of the General Baptist State Convention, has as its president Dr. Robert L. Holley, who is well known as an educator and administrator. During Dr. Holly's regime, which has extended over a period of thirteen years, great progress has been made by this institution, notably the paying off of the mortgage which pressed heavily on the school for many years. Dr. Holley has also succeeded in obtaining a well prepared and versatile faculty, the members of which graduated from some of the best institutions in the country.

Besides a beautiful campue ideally situated, Florida Memorial also boasts one of the best music departments of any southern institution. The quartette, under the direction of Mrs. Holley, contributes much to the aesthetic enjoyment of the student body and in instrumental in bringing funds to the school. The choral clubs and choirs are also above the average. In spite of terrifying obstacles in these days of economic stringency, Dr. Holley has seen fit to adequately maintain the same high standard of tuition as that required by many of the leading schools. This progressive president is urging all graduates and former students to rally to his support in the worthwhile attempt to oobtain much needed funds for a much better institution.

Local Agency Gets Fugitive

A colored private detective agency, the only one operated in the city, was responsible for the capture this week of a fugitive from justice, wanted for a year and a half-old murder in Fort Worth, Texas.

The agency is the Thomas Detective agency, with offices on upper Central avenue. Andrew Thomas, head of the concern, arrested Tucker Coleman, alias "Slim" Williams, on the corner of 46th and Central avenue late Tuesday night. Self-confessed murderer of his wife, Coleman is in the County Jail awaiting an order of extradition from the Texas authorities.

Thomas said he recognized the man only from a written description from the Texas police, carried in his memory for several weeks. Coleman submitted "You've u quietly to the arrest, saying, "You've got your man."

Mrs. W. Jones Rushes to Ill Mother's Bedside

Mrs. Wesley Jones, 4361 South Hooper Avenue, left hurriedly this week for Kansas City, to attend the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Clark, who is ill. Mrs. Jones plans to remain in the Missouri City until her mother reaches the convalescent stage. Mr. Jones, an employee of the Don Lee Broadcasting System and son, Enos, will remain in the family home here.

Irene Hunter, Cecil Allen

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hulett of Fresno are among California guests in the city. Mr. Hulett who is labor foreman of the Harris and Hall ranch where he employs about 100 men has been traveling through the Imperial Valley looking over the sugar beet industry. While here they visited Lake Elsinore as guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kent and left Saturday in an automobile purchased here.

Woman Found Dead In Theatre

Apparently having suffered a heart attack as she enjoyed a moving picture, Mrs. Palmer, first name unknown, 55 of 631 East 42nd street, was found dead in a motion picture house at 52nd and Avalon, Tuesday night.

Manual Hoffman, proprietor of the theatre, said he turned on the lights at about 9 p. m. and observed the woman slumped over in her seat. He tried to revive here by artificial means, he said, but to no avail.

The Department of Officers, the Spanish War Veterans will be the guests at luncheon Friday at the Rosslyn Hotel of Mrs. Stella Gardner, president of the E. L. Baker auxiliary.

Local Boys, Girls Make Good, is Claim of NYA

"Local boys and girls make good!" is the cheering news from National Youth Administration headquarters. Anne de G. Treadwell, N. Y. A. director for California, reports that 465 young people found jobs in private industry during the past month.

"Modern industry needs skilled workers", says Mrs. Treadwell. "It is not enough to want a job. Young people must know what jobs they are best qualified to hold successfully. Also, they are at a tremendous disadvantage in applying for a job unless they have had enough experience to find their way about in the trade or business they have chosen."

More than 500 work projects have been established by the N. Y. A. in the state of California. Approimately 6,000 young people are learning to work and are gaining that confidence which comes with experience. There are not enough jobs to go around during the present period of economic adjustment but there are jobs for efficient and courageous young people.

Medics Work To No Avail To Save Man Shot In Abdomen

Efforts of General Hospital surgeons to save the life of William Yates, 31, of 5517 Hooper avenue, failed late Sunday evening as Yates died from the effects of gun-shot wounds in the abdomen, inflicted by Cornelius L. Jefferson, 34-year-old porter, during a quarrel which culminated a drinking party.

Jefferson was ordered held to answer a murder charge by the coroner's jury Tuesday morning. He was arraigned yesterday afternoon and preliminary hearing set for Tuesday in the Municipal Court.

Yates was shot twice in the stomach with a 38 calibre revolver, investigating officers reported. The shooting climaxed a party in Jefferson's home at 1217 E. Santa Barbara avenue on Saturday night.

Rushed to the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital, Yates was removed to the General where two major operations were performed in a vain attempt to save him.

SELF DEFENSE

Jefferson claimed self defense and defense of his wife as motives for the shooting. His wife, Mrs. Lottie Jefferson, was treated at the Georgia Street Receiving hospital for bruises about the face and body, allegedly inflicted by Yates.

When he protested this treatment of his wife, the accused man claimed Yates pulled a knife. Then Jefferson shot twice.

Only eye-witness to the actual shooting was Mrs. Jefferson. Other persons in the house at the time of the tragedy were Mrs. Robbie Yates, wife of the deceased, Clarence McKinley, 1334 E. 48th place, Prentice Hawkins of the same address, and Marie Holton of 5371 Hooper avenue.

Gold Is Where You Find It

One night in 1924 Frank W. Epperson, of California, went to bed leaving a glass of hot lemonade on the sill of an open window. The next morning he found the lemonade frozen solid around a spoon. He poured water on the glass and drew out the frozen lemonade still clamped around the spoon. Then he hot-footed it to a lawyer and applied for a patent. Now the good Mr. Epperson has plenty of money and tours the world on royalties received from his patent. Oh . . . I forgot to mention what the patent was for . . . It was for Popsicles, son.

Read Colored Papers

Both for their own preservation and for the information they can gve you whch you could not obtan otherwse. For example, up in North Carolina Friday we covered a criminal case three young white men were charged with committing criminal attack on a colored woman, the mother of ten children, six of them living.

The young men were found not guilty by the jury and the morning papers stated that when the jury returned with its verdict the court room was crowded with both white and colored. As a matter of fact the judge had politely informed all colored people that they were excused and the woman in the case did not even know the men had been acquitted the night before, and started back to the court house the next morning, on her way she happened to buy a morning paper and learned that the case had ended.

Runs Like Jesse Owens

On our way to a trial up near Morganton, N. C., the other day we passed near a spot where a few hours earlier Deputy Shriff Wilburn Wilson, had surprised a man and woman as each was carrying a five gallon container of peach brandy from a still, which they had apparently operated the night before on Hildebran mountain, south of Connelly Springs. The woman threw her five gallon demijohn of brandy and hit the grit. Both made their escape, for a while the man kept up with her, but when she looked back and saw Wilson close behind she grabbed her frock and started to "cannonballing", easily outdistancing the man and the deputy sheriff.

Morris Brown Begins 53rd Session

ATLANTA, Oct. 6, (C)—Morris Brown College, one of the city's outstanding institutions for the higher training of Negro youth, began its 53rd session last Thursday with varied activities representing the annual Freshman Week.

Chapel assemblies, songs, college yells and placement examinations played an important part in the reopening of the school term which promises to be the most successful in the history of the institution. Students are registered from all parts of Georgia, the adjoining state and other sections of the country. The principal speakers on the opening chapel assembly program were Dr. A. R. Billings, college physician, Dean Edith Gibson and Dean A. E. Mitchell. The advancenment of Morris Brown under the leadership of President W. A. Fountain, Jr., and his illustrous father, Bishop W. A. Fountain, Sr., is an inspiring phase of the higher education of the Negro.

had apparently carried Crowell for nine rounds and then nearly knocked him out in the tenth round. The referee, Frank Van, called the bout a draw.

In the affidavit Bray accused Welch of offering him the money to "take the dive" and said Welch had made him another proposal to lost the fight standing up and take an additional 10 per cent of the gate receipts.

The state boxing commission ordered Welch, Van Stumme, Cowan, Harry Popkin, lessee of Olympic audiaorium, and Jack Daro and Gene Sorral, comanager of Bray, to appear and make complete statements Tuesday.

who has been ill for nine months, but is now recovering.

Rev. Brown is, at present, looking forward to the visit on October 15 of his brother and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Russell S. Brown of Denver where the Rev. Mr. Brown is pastor of the Shorter Community A. M. E. church to which he has just been returned for the sixth consecutive year.

Rev. Russell Brown has just completed the paying off of an approximate fifty thousand dollar debt. He formerly served in Cleveland, Ohio where he was a member of the City council. His son was state champion for track in Colorado High School and is now in Ohio State University, from which his daughter, Alice Elaine, holds the master's degree and is now one of the three Negro teachers in the Denver Public School system. His wife is from Oberlin, Ohio and the daughter of Professor Charles Smith instructor at Wilberforce University for forty years.

The Browns will spend ten days in California.

JAMES E. JONES IS SOUGHT

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of James E. Jones, formerly proprietor of the Felix Argo club on East 28th street, is asked to communicate that information to the office of the California Eagle where important mesages await him.

APPLYING THE GOLDEN RULE IN BUSINESS

Consistent Application of Famous Precept Brings Outstanding Success

There s an old saying that 'Business is Business", certainly a harsh, unsympathetic phrase when you come to think of it. But then, that seems to be the order of the day. It's a fact and a cold one at that. Be that as it may, there is one store in Los Angeles that has demonstrated that, a business, like man himself can really have a heart. But it's not by chance that the business of which we speak developed this fine quality. Rather, it is the outcome of something that guided Saml. Surkis when he first organized the National Furniture Co. at 6200 South Broadway just seventeen years ago. At that time Mr. Surkis determined that his business, small as it was would be built on human understanding, on a firm desire to do a little more than seemed necessary. Families in the immediate neighborhood recall the many courtesies extended by Mr. Surkis in those early days. Soon the fame of the National Furniture Company spread until today it is recognized as a city wide institution, serving thousands of families. Many changes have taken place since those early days, and despite the fact that the National has grown to immense proportions Mr. Surkis himself is unchanged, a fact that has won the renewed confidence of his countless friends and customers. But the remarkable thing is that Mr. Surkis has inculcited his aims and ideals in the minds of every member of his organizatino, all of whom have been trained to be of genuine service to the public.

There is no doubt that these factors are greatly appreciated by the men and women of Los Angeles, who by their consistent patronage and recommendations have made it possible for the National to again enlarge and improve their store. The National, by the way, has only one location--the same location that they have occupied for the past seventeen years. Prospective furniture buyers will find a visit to the National not only interesting, but extremely profitable as well. That's because the National saves you as much as thirty-five percent. It is also interesting to note that an executive of the National will work out a plan of payment that will conform to your exacting needs and requirements.

Bankers Cannot Accept $30 Plan Pension Warrants

W. J. Church, vice president of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Watts, states that many questions have been asked of bankers regarding the position which banks will have to take with respect to the proposed amendment to the State Constitution purporting to set up a system of pensions payable in so-called warrants. As the THIRTY THURSDAY SCHEME directly affects banking because the operation of the plan contemplates that banks should handle the so-called warrants as if they were money, Mr. Church further states that the Executive Council representing the Banks in California, has authorized this statement regarding the banks position.

"After considering the matter from the standpoint of a bank's ordinary business operations and consulting with our attorneys regarding the legal requirements, we have reached the conclusion that banks could not take the so-called warrants and pay cash for them, could not receive them for deposit, could not buy them for investment, and could not make loans on them. The reasons are based on both practical consideration and the rules of law which govern duty of a bank to its depositors and stockholders.

The fundamental difficulty is that the so-called warrants are not money or the equivalent of money. The language of the proposed amendment does not make them legal tender and it could not do so because the Constitution of the United States prohibits any state from making anything but gold and silver coin legal tender. The pieces of paper to be issued under this scheme are not in fact warrants as the term is generally understood and have none of the characteristics which warrants must have. They are not promisory notes, not state bonds, not obligations of the state or of any governmental agency. They are not backed by the taxing power or credit of the state government. In short they are simply pieces of paper giving the person who holds them the privilege of paying a 2 cents tax every week. In view of the nature of these so-called warrants it is obvious that banks could not cash them, regardless of whether or not stamps should be affixed.

When a bank accepts money on deposit for the account of a customer it promises to repay to the customer the same amount in lawful money. In other words, a bank must be able to meet all withdrawals made from it by payment of cash. This obligation is, imposed by law and applies to all banks, both state and national, and makes it necessary for banks to accept for deposit only money or certain instruments such as checks, drafts, etc., which can be converted into money. Therefore, banks could not take these so called warrants for deposit because they could not use them to pay the demands of their depositors.

The banks could neither buy so-called warrants nor loan money on them. The scheme requires that persons holding warrants on any Thursday must purchase a 2 cents tax stamp for each $1.00 warrant and affix it in the proper space. On this basis, the cost of the stamps required for each $1.00 warrant would be $1.04. In the aggregate, the cost of the necessary tax stamps repeated in many transactions over a considerable period would amount to a tremendous sum, which would ultimately exhaust a bank's capital funds and lead to certain financial ruin." (Adv.)

Boy Stick-Up Artist Taken By Cops

Police stopped the crime career of 16-year old Curtis Williams from Oklahoma in its infancy with arrest early Tuesday morning and lodging in the juvenile hall.

Williams had terrorized proprietors and automobile occupants in the vicinity of 9th and Hemlock the previous night, with a series of hold-ups, all of them with the exception of one, fruitless.

Brandishing a revolver, Williams entered a cafe at 1357 E. 18th street, about midnight Monday and demanded the cash register contents of the proprietor, Mrs. Carmen Walters. Stalling for time, Mrs. Walters scooped up the nickles and handed them to the youth, then the quarters and half dollars. Becoming angered, the youth leaned over and cleaned the register of $14.85.

Grinning nervously, he backed to the door, waved the gun and fled.

Displaying the same nervousness, the youthful bandit, later indentified by all his victims, approached Leslie Mills, truck driver, at 8th and Hemlock and asked for a match. Given a lighted cigarette, he demanded "Give me your greenbacks" and produced the gun.

When Mills said he had nothing on him, the youthful adventurer in crime looked "non-plussed", took Mills' word, and backed away, saying, "Oh, all right."

Edward Eckhart, 1744 W. 23rd street, was Williams' next 'touch' Sitting in his car at 9th and Hemlock, Eckhart was approached by the youth, who asked for a match then stuck the revolver in his victim's face. An automobile approached before Eckhart could comply with the hold-up man's demands and the youth leaped to the porch of a nearby house out of the auto's lights, shot wildly once and escaped.

Police, who apprehended him later, took into custody also, a 20-year old shine boy, Carlton L. Hearthy, 1165½ Central avenue, said to be an accomplice.

CHATTER AND . SOME NEWS

By HELEN F. CHAPPELL

Society Editor

All my life I've been in love with men! . . . Madly so . . . Even when I've been down on them most . . . even when experiences have influenced me to hate them fiercely. But the very fact that they could matter enough to make me rip-snorting mad has kept me in love with them. By this time, you probably think I'm a female victim of continuous crushes . . . that swerves madly from frying pan to fire . . . to kettle . . . always off on the deep end looking for a place to pin my affection. But you're wrong. When I say "in love with men" it's because I know no other way to explain the way I go for the things men do. I loved my grandfather because he could make chips fly so fast and keep on talking . . . there was a cousin who could ride any horse bareback and I adored him. And when I tried once to chop wood, a brittle piece clipped me just above the temple . . . the last horse I tried without a saddle left me in a clump of apricots . . . which put an end to my struggle for the physical prowess that came with being a man . . . More the reason to marvel, to be in love with them. Woe was my lot in being a female . . . why anybody could wash dishes! And then one day it dawned on me that the men who were always such marvelous riders weren't really the men that mattered. It's those who stand in the vanguard of frays . . . who get in there and do things . . . who can stand up and keep others standing up with them . . . for no other reason than they feel themselves men . . . who make their exits without whimpering. I'm not playing sisters of the sink and pens . . . and institutions, if you please, cheap . . . they do things, too, and stick by . . . Besides who doesn't believe the adage "cherchez la femme" in viewing most men. Accomplishment is sexless . . . but, I do love men.

INTROMISSIONS . . . ENRICHENING:

Martin L. Harvey's one of them, former president of the Christian Youth Council of North America, product of New York University and Union Seminary . . . fresh from the Christian Youth Council in India, a regular fellow. Not a bombastic speaker, but such a sincere one with so much to back it up. He'll be in L. A. next Sunday . . . speaking at Independent in the afternoon at four.

Men started organizations, but the women've gone on with the art . . . Sunday at four-thirty in the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hardiman, Delta Chapter of Chi Eta Phi Sorority introduces itself. A nurses' sorority that aims to get the two hundred ladies in white acquainted with each other . . . to attain togetherness. Officers and members: Ferrol G. Bobo, Arlayne Hall, Evelyn Delaney, Ruby Wiggins, Corrine Fleming, Clyde McCollum, Melrose Jones, Mariam M. Willingham, Louise Smith, and Corrine Howell . . . with Vera Wysinger of Beta Chapter, Dee Cee, as an associate member . . . more next week.

Returning to L. A. in the near soon is Mrs. Edna Hargrove . . . a nice little letter from Columbus, Ohio, tells me so . . . 'Member her as one of the teachers in Ruth's Beauty School . . . and a very brilliant personality.

Life for the Eugene Rabbs (Lois Williams) takes on a richer glow with the advent of a baby girl . . . she arrived Sunday at the Queen of Angels Hospital . . . tipping the scales at eight and one-half pounds. Congratulations!

Zelma Watson-Duke has decided that most of us don't know enough about Negro history . . . and we don't. She's offering a course, free of tuition, at Avalon . . . Laura Slayton's rounding up the Doll League to get these China babies ready for unfortunate little girls at Christmas time—just two months, eighteen days away!

It's only the packing that I hate about moving . . Saturday found me in the midst of it . . . Now that the one hundred and some odd pounds are domiciled in the duckiest apartment of them all . . . to live with Verna Branch with Mitzi (Jackson) and Arthur Adams for neighbors . . . it's apparently a grand move.

EXODUS . . . BROADENING:

It's a man again. Button-holed Robert Ware at lunch t'other day and learned all about the smoker Golden State Mutual agents tendered Victor Nickerson Thursday night before he entrained for Chicago . . . to carry on in the world of business. Grand boy that Vic is . . . don't you hear him answering when his dad challenged him to bring the bacon home?—"It's as good as on the table, dad." Ruby McKnight was the only lady present . . . and if she felt a little sentimental, I bet she wasn't the only one. W. Hayman from Hot Springs, Arkansas . . . walked off with the bacon in the liars' contest that characterized the smoker . . . ante-program.

This week-end, Mrs. Cora Johnson, with son, Bobby, and niece, Azalia Allewyne, quits the clime of the Southland to join her husband, Clarence, in Washington, D. C. where he recently was appointed in the national housing set-up . . . Dee Cee will love the lady . . . but "California's still home".

BON VOYAGE DINNER HONOREE

MRS. GEORGE A. BEAVERS, JR., wife of the vice-president of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, was complimented with a dinner Tuesday evening in the Dunbar Hotel hostessed by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson. Mrs. Beavers leaves Los Angeles today with her husband who will officially visit his company's Illinois office and will accompany him as far as Kansas City, Mo., where she will visit with relatives and friends. Guest at the dinner included Messrs. and Mmes. William Nickerson, Jr., George A. Beavers, Jr., Norman O. Houston, and Mrs. Verna A. Branch.

'Favorite Recipes' Discussed By Wives of Churchmen

"Favorite Recipes" was the very homey topic of discussion for the monthly meeting of the Interdenominational Ministers Wives' Council of Los Angeles and Vicinity Wednesday, September 28, in the home of Mrs. Margaret Rakestraw, 1028 East 43rd street who led the discussion.

Hostesses to the meeting were Mmes. Rakestraw, Ruby Brooks, and Agnes Camp. Other features of the program included a talk by Mrs. Epie Haymon, representative of the Home Service Department of the Department of Water and Power, who demonstrated the making of fancy sandwiches.

Immediately following a delectable repast, Titus Alexander talked on the building of Boulder Dam and was followed by the presentation of a Mr. Debrower who showed motion pictures of the beginning and completion of the structure.

Birthday gifts for the month of September were presented to Mmes. W. D. Carter, the council president, who has just returned from the National Baptist Convention in St. Louis; Gertrude Harris, Janie Twyne, Mosebly, Florence A. L. Gordon, and Rachel Duvall by Mrs. Maude Watkins.

The next meeting will be held on October 12 in the home of Mrs. Muriel Brewer, 4911 Wadsworth with Mrs. Cornelia Pius as co-hostess with Mrs. Brewer.

Also gone is whatever difference there was between Coral and Elliott Johnson (say close friends) who're reported back together again . . . and who am I to not be glad . . . and hope it's true!

Study Club Prepares for 1938 Confab

With final plans for the Convention taking shape, the September meeting of the Women's Political Study Club Council was a busy one. The Convention will be held Thursday and Friday, October 20th and 21st, at the 28th St. Branch YMCA. The banquet will be held in the gymnasium of that building, Thursday evening, October 20th. Names of the speakers, their subpject, and the hour of the addresses, will be published in later editions of the local papers.

That the Study Club is well represented on the State and County entral Committees was County Central Committees was ing. The president of the Fresno Unit was elected to the Republican Central Committee of that County, and Mesdames Craig and Spurlock on the Walter S. Gates Unit were accorded that honor in Los Angeles County. Mrs. Echo Robinson is a member of the State Central Committee and the Executive Secretary, Mrs. Hill has been named for the Executive Board of that body.

Mrs. Robinson gave a report of the work of the Campaign Headquarters and Mrs. Coleman read the financial report of that project.

The Theodore Roosevelt Unit announced a Children's Revue, "Mother Goose in Sepia," which was to be directed by Mrs. Mabel Shepard at the Good Templar's Hall the evening of September 30th.

Lucy Laney Unit reported a very successful demonstration luncheon and gave a short synopsis of a novel written and published by a member.

San Pedro reported that its unit had given a party for the colored officers there with the C. M. T. C. boys.

Watch the local papers for more news of the Convention!

Club Calendar

THE STREAMLYNERS SOCIAL CLUB met at the home of J. L. Stoglin with Leo Williams acting as host.

Because of the great number of visitors the business meeting was very brief. Plans were started for the Hallowe'en party to be held in the home of Miss Doris Moten of East 55th street.

Visitors included the Misses Victoria and Rachael Coclough of the "Lites Elites Social Club" of Oakland, California; S. Jackson and A. B. Rasberry of Augusta, Arkansas; Bill Thompson and Clarence Harris, Mr and Mrs. Aubrey Mitchell and Mrs. Isabelle Conner, the charming wife of the club chaplain.

The evening was spent in dancing and the host served cool refreshments.

THE GARDENIA GIRLS BRIDGE CLUB met at the home of Mrs. Miller, 1566 East Twenty third Street for last week's meeting. Prizes were won by Mmes. Oliver, Reed and Longston and guest prize by Mrs. Conway. A birthday party for the club will be held on October 30, at the home of the president, Mrs. Ada Reed, 1127 East 27th Street.

Bishop Phillips Honored with Reception

The Rt. Rev. Charles Henry Phillips, presiding bishop of the California conference of the C. M. E. Church was honored with a reception last Thursday night by the Phillips' Temple congregation in the Wesley Center on Vernon Avenue in commemoration of his eighty-second birthday.

Bishop Phillips received felicitations and greetings from church and civic leaders and was enthusiastic in acceptance of the honor, referring to the birthday cake, a very novel one, and the dinner as one of the finest he had ever enjoyed.

Style Notes

FOR OUR STYLE CHAT THIS WEEK . . .LET'S JUMP INTO THE VERY HIGHLY controversial issue of the style world—to wear or not to wear your hair brushed up and piled in a mass of ringlets on the top of your head. There are plenty of rooters in both camps. The pros base their ayes on the regal effect of the style. . .on its extreme newness, and very drastic departure from the sweeping page boy of last season . . .in short, it's being so different is about the strongest argument the pros have. The cons offer impracticality, the baring of touchy lines and the moot question—it make you look older. . . .

We consider the safest path is to take sides with neither camp . . . and hang all arguments on one question—Does it do anything for you? No doubt a number of co-eds, shopgirls, stenographers and maids have looked at glamorous Parisian models and movie stars in breath taking poses . . .with their heads cocked at just the right angle . . .and rushed to see their hairdresser with the commanding request . . ."I want my hair fixed like this." . . .and since the hairdresser has a record of satisfying her customers and needs the money . . . most of the time, she goes to work without comment . . .singes, brushes and combs . . .locks of every hue and texture up from necks of as many descriptions . . . collects sends the exhilirated customer on her way . . .and makes a wry face at her conscience for its warning that she should have known better.

Getting back to the question raised . . . let's look first at the texture of your hair and the way it grows. . . I don't care whether it's baby down or a coarse as the proverbial mane, the upsweep is not in accord with the way the strands grow . . .after all these years of combing and brushing it down in line with the natural trend, it's just impossible to train it up in a day, a week, a month, and in many cases, even a year . . .In the second place does its texture allow exposure of the strands at the nape of your neck . . .I mean, do you have contrary little tight curls and patches creeping out of the brushed up mass and returning to their true habitat . .If not, go right ahead and wear your hair swept up . . Does it really do something for you or to you? And is the thing it does to you what you really want it to do? Does it bring out your good points . . .or do you run back to your magazine for a peep at Miss Movie Queen to make sure that it's following suit . . .forgetting that it's your hair that you're dressing and not the exotic lady's!

Now turn around and look at the front . . .Are your features finely chisled, your skin clear and unblemished, your chest full. . . No, well, lady, you'd better take your hair down . . .for that's what the model you're looking at has. . . If you've got those things, I say keep it up . . .you're blessed and so are the retailers that are overstocked on doll hats.

You unfortunate ones may console yourselves with a moderate upsweep rrom the side or front at a length that suits your profile . . .or just wear the old dependable long bob in page boy or simply curled and keep comfortable . . .which is three-fourths of the reason for choosing any style.

Many Attend and Praise Opening of Art Studio

Sunday afternoon hundreds of Angelenos crowded the spacious display hall and private studio of the Lena Edwards Art Studio which formally opened in a reception in the California Bank Building, Vernon and Central Avenue.

Miss Edwards, charmingly gowned in black crepe afternoon frock, received guests in her inimitable manner and was assisted by Miss Nellie Mills and other friends.

The art display showed rare ability and enthusiasts declared it attested to a great future for Miss Edwards. The studio itself decorated and furnished by the young artist showed remarkable judgment in selection with a keen sense of balance and color harmony. A color scheme of blue and white is carried out with just enough blending to make the studio office very restful.

The portrait work very strategically displayed aroused much enthusiasm and several of the guests made engagements for portrait sittings with Miss Edwards.

The young woman announced this week that several artists will be associated with her so that any type of art work can be done. The general public is invited to consult the studio for any type of work they wish well done.

Covington Deals with Race Problems in San Diego Talk

SAN DIEGO. (By Mrs. E. B. Wesly)—Floyd C. Covington, Los Angeles Urban League executive secretary, and one of the most popular speakers in the southland, was last Thursday afternoon's speaker at the luncheon meeting of the local Civic League. Covington dealt with an aspect of the race problem. Mrs. J. E. Craft is president of the League.

Next Sunday the Civic League will have as its speaker, Mrs. Dee Smith, who will talk on "Composition and how it affects Labor". The meeting will be held at the church pastored by Rev. Columbus at Commercial and Hensley streets.

Coordinating Council Sponsors Contest

The various Coordinating Councils in the city are vitally interested in the prevention of juvenile delinquency. In order to maintain closer companionship between parents and their children and also to encourage adults to utilize their backyards, a contest for backyards was held by the Council on September 20th. Six contestants in the district near Imperial Avenue entered and prizes were awarded to the following families, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Strickland, 29th and Webster, first prize which was an outdoor lounging couch. Their yard had been made into a charming livingroom for the adult members and a playground for the children; Mrs. Urias on 17th street, second prize for the unique doll house for the small grandaughter, a Junior Kodak; Miss Nadine Redmond, third prize, for an outdoor picnic scene, $2.00 grocery order; Mrs. Townsend, fourth prize for the community playground on the corner of 28th and Imperial Ave., an electric clock. Fifth prize went to Mrs. Jaspar Davis, for a children's playground, an electric heater. Judges for this district were Mrs. Nye, principal of Stockton school and one other teacher from the same school, Mrs. Exie Hampton, Miss Octavia Payne.

Miscellany

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Green, prominent San Diegans, returned a few days ago from a delightful vacation trip in the East. Hubert Claridy and his niece, Miss Leona Blackburn, were week-end guests of Mrs. Lulu Claridy, mother and grandmother, respectively of the guests. Mrs. A. McPerson, active in church circles, and Mrs. M. Gordon are back from an extensive tour of the East, where they were mainly interested in visiting many of the large YWCA's.

Clarence King, jr. has returned from Denver, Colo., where he spent several months. Clarence is the son of Mrs. Lucille King and the late Clarence King, Sr.

William Trebb of Chicago, former director of the Gospel choir of Olivet Baptist church, of which Dr. L. K. Williams is pastor, is a welcome addition to San Diego's musical circles. He has already been chosen director-organist of the senior and junior choir of Calvary Baptist church.

On Thursday night, Sept. 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Barland, 3070 Ocean View Blvd., an Arthur Mitchell Democratic club was organized with the following officers at its head.

Mrs. Ella R. Hutson, chairman; D. V. Warner, vice-chairman; Mrs. Margaret Douglass, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Frances Taylor, publicity chairman; Fred Johnson, campaign manager. Headquarters will be opened on Imperial avenue within the next few days.

Society

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Neal were host and hostess at a most enjoyable birthday party on Saturday night at the rapidly growing popular Neal Ranch, in compliment to their sister, Mrs. Velma McFadden Jarman. The hall was attractively decorated in red, white and blue, enhanced by a profusion of beautiful flowers furnished by the young daughters of Alonzo McFadden, Mrs. Jarman was the recipient of many handsome presents, among them a gorgeous birthday cake, the gift of her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall of La Jolla. The wee hours of the morning found the party of fifty or more wishing the honoree many happy returns of the day.

The Missionary Society of Calvary Baptist Church, sponsored a house warming and miscellaneous shower, Thursday at the parsonage. Sister Beulah Robinson, was chairman of the affair and Sister Mayola Johnson Curl was an able assistant. Sister A. T. Brown is president of the Mission Society, and each member ably assisted those in charge.

The mission sisters have beautifully furnished the parsonage, and in order to complete the home for the newly elected pastor, the sisters thought the friends of Calvary would like to join in donating something, that might help to make the home more comfortable.

Nearly 100 friends called during the hours of 2 and 11 p. m. Each one bringing gifts of every kind that could be used in a home. Donors will be mentioned later.

Interdenominational Missionary Union Celebrated Its 5th Anniversary

Churches Show Financial Gains

OAKLAND, Oct. 6. (ANP)—Bishop Noah W. Williams has just finished the Puget Sound, California, Southern California and Colorado conferences with five more to be held. These four conferences were well over last year's reports in all claims and increase in membership and the spirit in each of them was very fine. The Bishop is holding two conferences in Kansas, beginning October 5 at Leavenworth and Fort Scott respectively. Western University School of Religion is at Kansas City, Kansas is receiving special attention and money by the Bishop and each of the conferences. Douglas Hospital at Kansas City, Kans is also owned by this district, the Fifth, and Bishop Williams is raising money to pay the debt off the property.

ZION TEMPLE CHURCH
1315 E. Vernon Ave.
Bishop Sara Butler, pastor

Services were well attended at the Temple on last Sunday. During the morning testimonial period many people arose and testified as to the Spiritual Uplift they had experienced through attendance at Temple services. On Sunday night a large audience witnessed the impressive Candle-light Service, held on each first Sunday evening, and many spoke freely of the wonderful healing vibration which they sensed and experienced during the course of this service. Services this Sunday as follows:

11 a. m., morning worship. Sermon, "Come To The Front"; Truth class, 6 p. m.; Open forum 7 to 8 p. m. Beginnig promptly at 8 o'clock we hold Evening Meditation. This Meditation service is for your Peace, Health, and Prosperity: preparing you to meet the problems of daily life. Find your way to our Shrine of Truth, kneel at our Altar, and ask God for his blessing, knowing that your plea has already been granted.

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons
Gain in Health and Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak— the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and smarts and burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right safe harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to the kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed —you won't be disappointed.

But be sure and get GOD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland—a grand kidney stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptons of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffy eyes, moist palms and nervousness.

Vivian Osborne-Marsh Gets State N.Y.A. Appointment

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6—Appointment of Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh as state supervisor in the division of Negro affairs for the National Youth Administration was announced today at local N.Y.A. headquarters.

Mrs. Marsh, the first of her race to hold executive office in the western units of the National Youth Administration, will at once assume responsibility for directing the program in California which extends to young people participation in all N. Y. A. work projects, student aid and vocational guidance facilities.

Well known for her progressive policies in carrying through recreational activities for children under the auspices of the Oakland YWCA and for her leadership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Mrs. Osborne-Marsh holds an M. A. degree from the University of California and is one of the directors of the East-Bay Council of Church Women. She is also national president of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

Negro Flyers Participate in Air Show

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (ANP) — Taking one first and a second, Chicago's colored flyers created aviation history here Sunday afternoon before 30,000 spectators at Harlem airport, 5,000 of them colored. It was the first time that Negroes had participated in a white air show in America.

Chauncey-Spencer was the first prize winner in the parachute jump. He and Sidney Ruben, white, were the lone contestants After being flown to 10,000 feet at which altitude they were supposed to jump, an arguement developed over who would leap firsct. Finally Spencer did jump, whereupon Ruben started to crawl back from the wing to the cabin, but was dissuaded by the pilot. Both jumpers landed far from the airport.

Charles Johnson took second place in the precision flying contest. Other colored aviators entering this event included Miss Lola James, Charles Johnson, Albert Cosby and Herman Ray. In the spot landing competition where each contestant sought to land in a 40 foot circle, Negro entrants were Cornelius Coffey, Fred Hutchison, Dale White and Miss Willas Brown, only colored woman to hold a private pilot's license.

Rev. L. R. Dyas In Victorville

VICTORVILLE.— (By Velma Jean Dyas)—Members of the C. M. E. Church in Victorville were greatly favored by the presence of their pastor, Rev. L. R. Dyas of Los Angeles last Sunday, Oct. 2nd. Mrs. Dyas, wife of the pastor, and Rev. and Mrs. Thornton also of L. A. accompanied him. The congregation including members of the Church of God in Christ, were greatly benefited by the message brought to them by Rev. M. L. Marston, of the White Methodist Church. Two beautiful violin solos were played by Mr. Ernest Moore accompanied at the piano by Velma Jean Ryals. The entire service were greatly enjoyed by all.

Rev. Dyas and Rev. Thornton also visited the Church of God in Christ, where he and Dyas delivered the sermon in the morning.

Mrs. Carrie Story, who for many years has been a resident of Victorville, has been on the sick list for some time. All the many friends of Victorville, Los Angeles and other cities are wishing her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Margaret W. Holt is also on the sick list.

Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. Louise White were guest at the home of Mrs. Howard Masters on Hesperia Drive near Victorville last Sunday. A most delicious six-course dinner was enjoyed immensley, the credit for which goes to the creator of the dinner, Mrs. Barbara Rosamond. I would mention some of the most enticing dishes that were served but for fear that you moths will "water". You'll just have to imagine how good every thing was.

Mrs. C. A. Roten, of Redland accompanied by Mildred Burton and Mary Lee and Hettie Bullard, were visitors in Victorville last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson have returned home after a very interesting vacation spent in San Francisco. While there they visited many historical places, went sight-seeing in Berckley, Oakland and surrounding cities. They were accompanied by Mrs. Louise White, and an enjoyable time was reported by the trio.

Mrs. Franke Bright, and Mr. Cook of San Bernardino were quietly married in September. duty to Washington's already full schedule of ball carrying and passing was tantamount recognition of the colored youth as the focal point of the Brain squad.

HOW TO HAVE HAIR THAT WOMEN ENVY, MEN ADMIRE

Larieuse Gives Results Instantly—brings sheen and color to Drab, Lifeless or Gray-Streaked Hair.

DOESN'T it make your heart skip a few beats and sort of take your breath away when a wonderful new man is attracted to you . . . when he can't take his eyes off you . . . when somehow you know that you're the new queen of his heart?

Maybe this hasn't happened to you lately. If not—did you ever wonder why? Maybe it's because your hair has prematurely lost its color . . . is dull, lifeless, peppered with gray . . . makes you look unromantic. If that is what's holding you back, you can easily correct it. Just do this . . .

Color your hair with Larieuse. Then look in your mirror—and rejoice. What you'll see is a more youthful edition of yourself. Your hair will again be soft, fluffy, uniformly colorful, with that vibrant and sparkling lustre so much admired by everyone. Color? Your choice of 18, including jet-black, black and brown. If you are not satisfied with the results, your dealer will refund your money.

Larieuse Shampoo
. . . produces a remarkably cleansing shampoo which leaves the hair light and fluffy.

Larieuse Stain Remover
. . . removes hair dye stains from hands, forehead and scalp. Will not affect color of hair.

County of Los Angeles

Before me a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Charlotta A. Bass, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that she is the publisher of the California Eagle and that the following is, to the best of her knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

Business Manager, Charlotta A. Bass, 1375 S. Central Ave., L. A., Calif.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)

Charlotta A. Bass, 847 E. 42nd Pl., Los Angeles, Calif.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)

None.

That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain a statement embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

MUFFED OPPORTUNITY

IN LINE with the times, a Negro all-star football team met recently one of the most respected professional elevens on Soldiers Field in Chicago. The teams: The Colored All-Stars and the Chicago Bears.

Aside from the score, which was 51 to 0 in favor of the Bears, the most discordant notes were the poor attendance and failure of All-Star handlers to field a fairly well oiled machine. Reports from Chicago, sifted by this correspondent, leave us with these major points.

As the saying goes, "the best foot forward" might have served to pave the way for a more general entrance of Negro university-graduated gridiron satellites into professional football leagues, generally agreed the most lucrative field for pigskin specialists. Results of the Chicago attempt, however, might withhold for too long a time the necessary favorable attitude on the part of promoters and fans.

Here's hoping though, that "next time" a chance presents itself to get desired recognition for comparatively great football stars of sepia hue in professional competition, said opportunity will not be muffed.

Sufficient time to practice ALL of the wanted stars; just remuneration; blanket publicity—all of these, it seems to us, make up the KEY!

"LIFE'S" NEGRO

Last week, the magazine Life" gave a partial story of the life of the Negro. Thereby, it joined the ever-growing number of widely circulated publications which have concerned themselves with the Negro and his problems.

"Life" told its story well, to the point and undoubtedly served its purpose—to help focus attention on one of the most important and the most widely discussed minority group in the world today.

JOE ANGELENO

Say what you please, but those pictures of Joe Angeleno—healthy-looking baby who is the Community Chest's campaign reminder—do something to one.

If that "something" means a willingness to lend a helpful hand to take care of approximately 200,100 dependent children, then that devilish smile that Joe greeted us with in the daily press will not turn into a disappointed frown.

My Nothings

Going to catch up on my nothings
When there's nothing else to do.
Going to find some way to favor
My good friends who saw me through.

Going to form no bad opinion
Of a body whom I meet.
Going to help some poor old lady
With her burdens cross the street.

Going to buy my mom a present
And take her this very week.
Going to knock chips off the shoulders
Of those who refuse to speak.

Going to thrash out all bad habits.
Give my self a final quiz:
Going to bite my tongue for meddling.
Into other people's "bizz".

Going to clean up my own alley
Ere I venture to my lawn.
To ask other busy bodies.
"What the deuce is going on"?

Going to stage a quaint house warming
You're invited all of you.
Come, let's have a hearty handshake.
When there's nothing else to do.

IVA O. REED

Bishop Baker at Scott M. E. Sunday

Of great interest to Pasadena and Los Angeles churchgoers as well is the announcement that this Sunday morning, October 9, the Bishop James Chamberlain Baker of the San Francisco area and the Southern California Conference, will come on from San Francisco for the express purpose to accept the invitation of the Reverend Karl E. Downs and the congregation Scott M. E., to occupy the pulpit of the Scott Methodist Episcopal Church, Mary street, Pasadena. Also present will be the Reverend F. G. H. Stevens, district superintendent.

At the invitation of William Stoard, choir director, George Garner will appear as guest conductor of the Scott M. E. Church choir on that morning. Mrs. Marian Downs, soprano, will be soloist.

The Reverend Downs' comparatively recent arrival in Pasadena to assume the pastorate of Scott M. E. Church has been colored with a number of splendid institutions--among them, the successful raising, with the aid of his associates and members, of more than $2000 to erase the Scott debt. Not only has he instituted building improvements at the church, promoted the installation of a $1000 recreation center for community needs; but also has he rearranged the morning services at Scott with the result that more than fifty members have acceded since his arrival.

Honored on Birthday

A buffet supper, hostessed by Mrs. Nona J. Tinsley, honored the birthday of her husband, John Tinsley, Sunday, in their home at 1334 East 42nd place. Eight couples were present to do honor to Mr. Tinsley.

THE LAUNDRY-MAN

HOWDY, folks I seen a front page article in the "Wur'rlds Greatest Shopping Weekly last week, wherein its Circuitous Editor announced that he was now ready to "SING". He intimated that since there was now no danger of his being molested or Intimidated by hard-hearted, wicked Policemen,--or losing a big super-market ad--he was going to expose EASTSIDE VICE CONDITIONS. Sez he, "Now It Can Be Told! We are going to name names, dates and places in this series; and we ain't going to pull no punches".

That last ultimatum is really good. WHAT A MAN, to fearlessly declare that he ain't going to pull his punches, when his opponent, PROTECTED VICE, is already down for the COUNT, smashed to the canvas by the Re-call.

We could look over somewhat this fiery editor's eagerness to belabor a flattened opponent if, in the first place, he had helped to flatten him, and was flushed with the heat of battle. But this policy of 'Sitting on the Fence until a Guy has been Kayoed, and then swarming down on him, reminds of a certain species of bird I used to observe down home that sat around in pine-trees in huddles, waiting for the dying bull to draw his last breath.

I had always imagined that the Editor of any newspaper was a FREE AGENT, one who was at liberty to fearlessly voice his opinion regarding conditions in his community. Of course if the word "Editor" is just a high-sounding name and nothing more, why that's a horse of another color.)

However, this eagerness to "SING" now, when the Camp Meeting is over, arouses my suspicions. It impresses me as a clever attempt to secure a stage all to himself, for SOLO purposes. But, since this Editor has definitely committed himself to Solo Concert Work, I hope and trust that he doesn't turn out to be a SOPRANO For in spite of his idiosyncrasies and fierce appetite for Super-Market Offerings, we all like him, and look forward hopefully to the day when he will reach Adolescence, and become a Power for Constructive Good in this Community

THE NEW FOUR-POWER PACT

If there is any one great lesson to be gleaned from the recent partition of Czecho-Slovakia, it is the truth of the Bible quotation "Put Not Your Trust In Princes". Irrespective of the Right or Wrong of the Great Powers' recent pronouncement whereby war was avoided at least temporarily, to my mind, the greatest tragedy lies in the fact that for twenty years Great Britain and France deluded the people of this little nation with False promises, aroused in them false hopes of security, fostered in their breasts false aspirations developments of the last few days.

As a racial group, we too should learn much about the devious workings of the white man's mind from this incident, and should weigh and ponder it carefully. Stripped of all camouflage it illustrates that any group can only expect from HIM what they are in a position to demand. That yelling and blating about Economic injustice will do us no good until we are in position through Organized power, to back up our pleas with organized, economic pressure.

It means that we must knit our group so closely together, that our chosen leaders will be able to control and direct the flow of the millions of dollars we spend annually, into channels where our group will reap the greatest benefits. Once armed with our tremendous spending power as a bludgeon, our leaders will never fail to get a hearing. Otherwise we will continue to be "Sold down the River". Dis-illusionment is the most cruel wound the human heart can experience, and the only successful way to avoid its deadly rapier-point is to look facts squarely in the face, and learn to depend solely upon Your Own Efforts, and Your Own God, for the furtherance of your welfare.

Youth Congress Delegates Report

Reports on the World Youth Congress which met in August at Vassar College will be heard Sunday afternoon at 5:30 p. m. in the Avalon Christian Church under the sponsorship of the Southside Youth Coordinating Committee of which Mercier Reese is chairman.

Four of the six delegates from the West Coast will speak: Wendell Green who represented the Southside Youth Coordinating Committee; Edward Moske, the Young Democrats; Fern Brobstein, Hollywood Anti-Nazi League and Lois Crozier.

(NOTE: This column is edited by J. Cullen Fentress and is sponsored by the Los Angeles branch of the Urban League under the executive directorship of Floyd C. Covington. It is designed to bring to the attention of the public the work of specialists in various fields of endeavor who so far have escaped the notice of the job-conscious. John V. Pitts appears instead of Salesman S. D. Patterson, who will be a sketch subject at a later date. Contributions are solicited.)

Sketch Subject: JOHN V. PITTS, General Blacksmith.

By LILLIAN JONES

A FEW minutes conversation with John Pitts is enough to convince one that modern blacksmithing has practically no connection with the shoeing of horses, traditionally the main activity of the trade. Pitts, reputedly one of Los Angeles' best tool-designers and tool-smiths, explains that most of his work is designing, making and dressing tools. Many industries, particularly ne_rail-roads, use blacksmiths.

Questioned regarding just how and why he happened to pick blacksmithing for a trade, Pitts smiled as he replied: "Why, when I was growing up youngsters decided to become blacksmiths just as today they decide they want to become auto mechanics. It was one of the principal trades. Besides, my father was a blacksmith, and so I just sort-of grew up with the idea of becoming a blacksmith." It is interesting to note, also, that when Pitts decided to get married, he picked out a blacksmith's daughter!

He began his apprenticeship when about 17 years old in a carriage shop at Vicksburg, Mississippi, where he had moved from his native Shreveport, Louisiana. After a few years he went out to work at his trade in the carriage shops of the railroads. He worked for the Illinois-Central and the Missouri-Pacific. It was while with the latter company that he learned the practice of ox-acetylene welding, a method infrequently used then, but now indispensable to the blacksmith. Pitts realized the importance of this method then, and later when he came to Los Angeles, one of the first things he did was to take a special course in ox-acetylene welding at Polytechnic High.

Pitts came north during the war, lured by the rumors of good conditions in the industries of the north. He stopped first at Little Rock, Arkansas. From there, in 1920, he came to Los Angeles. His first efforts to find work at his trade in Los Angeles were discouraged on every hand. But he was determined to stick to his trade. He explains it this way: "I knew that once I got out of my trade, it would be a hard matter to get back into it. You take some stop-gap job, promising yourself that it's only for a short time. Then obligations, family responsibilities, and so on, pile up. You just never have a chance to get out and get any other kind of job. Then, there you are--stuck for life!"

His resourcefulness and determination won. His first job with the Fulton Iron Works, in the boiler shops, lasted only a short while. Then he applied to and secured work with the Line which is now the Union Pacific Railroad. He stayed there until the general railroad strike in 1922. While still out on strike he took a city examination, passed, and was assigned to work in the city's blacksmith shops in San Pedro. He was there two years.

But John Pitts likes being his own boss, and in the back of his head was the idea that he'd like to go in business for himself. While still trying to work out ways and means of doing that, an action prompted by his extraordinary initiative again resulted in an event which helped to shape his future.

He had noticed on frequent trips down San Pedro street, redressed tools in the window of the E. A. Irish Company. Finally one day he went in to make inquiries--perhaps they operated a blacksmith shop--he might be able to get a job there. He found that they had been sending their work out to blacksmith shops, but were even then trying to decide whether or not it would be more profitable to operate their own shop. Pitts was asked to give them an estimate of the cost of equipping and operating a shop. He did so. A few days later in response to a 'phone call he again visited the company. He was handed a purchase order, told to go, out and buy equipment, set up a shop and manage it. For twelve years Pitts superintended the shop and supply yards of this company in City Terrace. When it was dissolved he secured a post as manager with the Bothwell Construction Company. This company was also dissolved, subsequently. He is now general manager of the Blacksmithing Service at 413 Garey street in Los Angeles, and has been with this company for about three years. Principal work here is the manufacturing and re-conditioning of tools. Here a blacksmith must not only know how to re-condition tools, but must be able to manufacture them from the designer's blue-print. He must also know how to treat steel so that the tools will be long-lived. Much of this work is done with machinery.

Pitts points out that the blacksmith is important to industry. He would like to see more young people go into the trade. "Most of the blacksmiths in Los Angeles are quite old", he says, "and not many younger people go into blacksmithing. This may be because they don't know about it."

Well, perhaps they don't. But Pitts' story should certainly lead a few to investigate its possibilities. His own vigor, his seven healthy youngsters, a charming wife and beautiful home, certainly indicate that blacksmithing has possibilities.

IN TENTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

MRS MARIE CLAY, proprietress of the Clay Shoppe at 1138 Myrtle Avenue, Long Beach, is shown above with her husband as she began preparations for celebration of the shop's tenth anniversary, October 6 to October 27.

All patrons will be given a two ounce box of special luxury oil during the anniversary period in appreciation for their loyalty to the business. Mrs. Clay announced. She is assisted in the operation of the shop by Mrs. Bertha Robinson.

BEWARE OF PROMISCUOUS INTERVIEWS

By WILLIAM HENRY HUFF

(For Associated Negro Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 6—In these days of interviews, surveys, researches, and investigations, it is necessary that our group, of all groups, be put on notice that it is dangerous business to open up store houses of information als should be demanded, and the attitude of the interviewer should be carefully noted.

Interviewers who start gossipping about some one else whom they have interviewed should be immediately shown the open door, and the organization sponsoring him or her should be as quickly notified.

Self-styled white investigators, masquerading under the pretense of gathering data for books or articles on race relations, should be looked upon with keen suspicion. That was the method of the writers of the most abominable, or rather, damnable articles and books ever written against us as a race.

I am told that the writer of THE KLANSMAN, Thomas Dixon, Jr., resorted to this method. Ray Standard Baker did resort to it following the riots in Atlanta many years ago, and it was James Ford Rhodes' longest suit. "Your home is our castle," and it is up to you to admit or refuse to admit whomever you desire.

The organizations for race relations are composed of white and colored citizens of the highest calibre, whose names are not only well known to their respective groups, but to the country at large. Such names as John Hope, R. R. Moton and Forester B. Washington, are examples of the kind persons who lead in such movements, and persons who come without authentic credentials, either from the parent organization, should be looked upon as an impostor with the cheek of Judas!

Recently, a white woman from South Dakota blew into' town" to study Negroes. Bear in mind there are only 640 colored people in the whole state of South Dakota, and only twenty-two in her home town of Mitchell, counting men, women, and children. She had been vouched for by a young colored man of South Dakota, said to be twenty years old. When we presented the matter to a group of race sociologists, one a Harvard University trained young man, the conclusion was reached that questionnaire should be sent him in order to determine who this woman was, the extent of her education, and what would be her probable approach to the subject and reaction to such information as she might obtain. This young man wrote in reply to this questionnaire one of the nastiest and most sarcastic letters imaginable, which was tantamount to saying the woman could not stand the searchlight of investigation.

The woman came, and if we are to take the word of her landlady, in the fashionable Woodlawn district of Chicago, who is a colored woman whose reputation for truth and veracity has never been questioned, this white person made a horrible mess of things, as naturally would be expected of one whose sponsor would take the attitude already mentioned

She reputedly did and said sundry other little things disdainful to our intelligence

Our race needs no such so-called benefactors. We, like other peoples, must learn to first interview the interviewers, whoever they may be, and, thereby, ascertain who wants the information, and for what purpose is it wanted.

Magazine Tells Story of Negro in Pictures

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—Twelve full pages of the October 3 issue of Life magazine contained an essay in picture on the Negro in the United States. The pictures give a birds-eye view of the Negro's development in politics, economics, art, literature, social life, education, and sports.

The panorama included pictures of the new buildings on several Negro university campuses, a full-page photo of Augusta Savage, showing the sculptress working on a figure to be shown at the New York World Fair; and more than a score of pictures of Negro leaders from Frederick Douglass to Walter White. According toobservers the publication of so large a number of pictures of Negroes by a national magazine, represents a new trend in this field.

LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

By Miriam Matthews

We know that summer is over since the fall rush of business has begun in earnest at the library. "What's new in books" is heard on every side on the lips of returning vacationists, students and that great host of patrons who have been living away from the printed page during the summer months.

If you have been out of touch and wish to catch up on your reading, we recommend . . . . "The Enchanted Vagabonds" the exciting adventures of a young couple who set off from the California coast with a canoe and four dollars and traveled sixteen thousand miles on an amazing voyage which landed them finally in Panama. It was written by Dana Lamb and June Cleveland . . . . If you want a book about America which will charm you with its stories of people, animals and ghosts, read Cecile Hulse Malschat's "Suswannee River," the fascinating background of history and legend which surrounds this famous river flowing through Georgia and Florida . . . Laura Gray has written a swiftly flowing narrative called "And Tell of Time" which is a tale of the turbulent years that followed Calvin Darcy's westward trek from Georgia to Texas in 1865 . . . From "kitchen surgery" to a famous clinic in Kansas is, in brief the autobiography of Arthur E. Hertzler which has been recently published under the title of "Horse and Buggy Doctor". . . . "Triumph Over Pain," by Rene Fulop-Miller is an absorbing story of anesthesia for the general reader, emphasizing the life of William T. G. Morton, the little Boston dentist who first perfected the practical use of ether. . . A significant new work by Maurice Hindus, author of "Red Bread" is "Green Worlds", his autobiography, in which he tells of two rural worlds as he lived in them—Russian and America . . The homelessness of the Jewish race is personified in "The Fishmans," by H. W. Katz, the story of a family of Eastern Jews, who in 1914, sought refuge in America. . . In "We Lived as Children" Kathryn Hulme has written the story of an engaging family living in San Francisco from the earthquake up to the World War. . . . "Class Houses", Carleton Beal's story of ten years as a foreign correspondent is full of color and adventure, and the changing scenes of national and international politics.

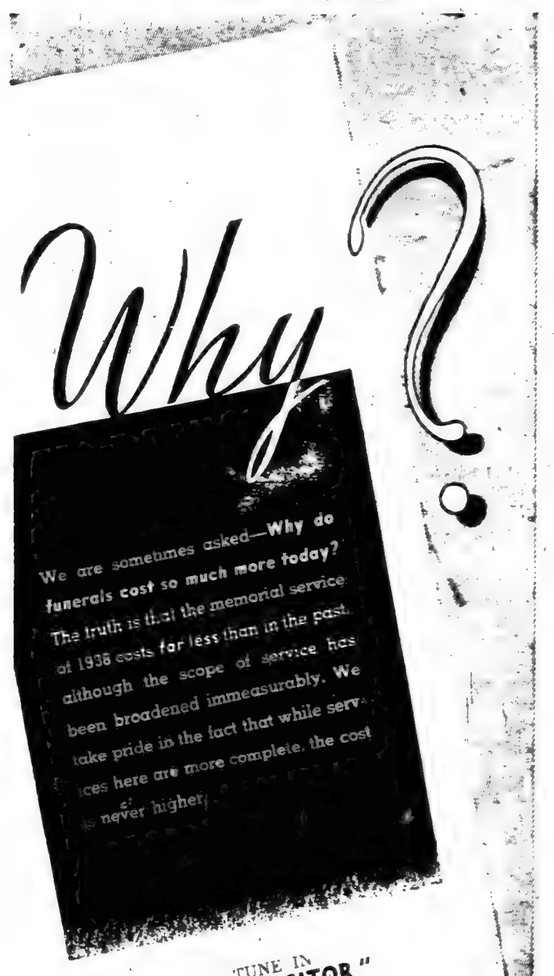
Would Fire Any Professor Teaching Race Superiority

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 6, (ANP)—A step expected to be of far reaching effect in the field of race relations was taken Monday by the Very Rev. Joseph M. Noonan, President of Niagara university, when he publicly told enrolling students he would summarily dismiss any professor found teaching superiority of one race over another. Niagara is a Catholic institution.

In his pronouncement, Dr. Noonan said, "I emphatically disagree with the unfounded allegations that any race inherent qualifications that render it inevitably superior to any other race.



"Consequently, I reserve the right to break without warning, without discussion, the contract of any professor who dares either by work or in writing, on this campus or off the campus, to defend any of the excessively absurd principles."

State Baptist Rally Planned

Plans were perfected this week for a state-wide rally among Baptists to emphasize the work of Christian Education, Evangelism, Missions, Stewardship and the conventional program of the Western Baptists under the presidency of Rev. Chas H. Hampton of San Diego.

A "flying squadron" of ten ministers will visit the churches of the Southern California area in a series of area meetings beginning October 18 and closing November 4. Afternoon and night meetings will be held and local guidance will be furnished church leaders in an effort to standardize the work of the churches.

WORDS WITHOUT MUSIC

By LOUIS REID

(Music Features & Photo Syndicate)

BILLY HILL, who wrote "The Last Round-Up," witnessed his first round-up recently at Beaumont, Texas. . . . Most enthusiastic of musical mariners is Guy Lombardo. For years he has lived on his cabin cruiser during the summer months. . . . No one can sing a blues song more enticingly than Frances Langford. . . . Hottest of the fiddlers is said to be Ray Venuti. . . . Who is the coolest? . . . It is not an uncommon sight in recording studios to see an orchestra composed equally of white and colored musicians making discs. . . . No World's Fair ditty is yet within earshot. . . . Larry Clinton, song-writing bandleader, takes about two hours to write his tunes but spends months thinking up the right title. . . . It's often the title that turns a song into a popular craze. . . . Clinton's tongue-tickling titles, "Dipsy Doodle" and "Abba Dabba" had much to do with the popularity of these numbers . . . Newest title in this style is "A - Tisket A - Tasket," (don't ask us what it means!) from the workshop of Ella Fitzgerald and Al Feldman.

Six Years a Great Songwriter

In the passing of James Weldon Johnson in an automobile accident in Maine, America lost one of its most gifted writers of songs. Though a man of exceptional and varied talents—he had served his country in consular positions in South and Central America, had won wide prestige as an educator, a poet, lawyer and crusader for the Negro race—it is as a songwriter he will be chiefly remembered by his fellow Americans.

James Weldon Johnson
A.S.C.A.P

And yet his career as a maker of popular melody was a brief one. It was confined within six years—from 1900 to 1906. However, during this short span, he became with his partners, comprising his brother J. Rosamond Johnson and Bob Cole, famous vaudevillian, the top-ranking writer of American popular music. The trio set up shop in Tin Pan Alley, developed the technique of playing and singing—and subsequently selling — their pieces to the leading stars of the day.

Their songs became identified with such personalities as Anna Held, for whom they wrote "The Maiden with the Dreamy Eyes"; Lillian Russell, whom they supplied with "The Maid of Timbuctoo"; Bert Williams, who sang their "My Castle on the Nile," and Marie Cahill, who made their "Congo Love Song" famous. But their most popular songs—they were the rage of the nation for many months—were "Oh! Didn't He Ramble," which was written for the famous minstrel, George Primrose, and "Under the Bamboo Tree."

James Weldon Johnson—he was the lyrist of the trio—did not confine all of his attention to popular songs. With his brother, who had been graduated from the Boston Conservatory of Music, he wrote a hymn, "Lift Every Voice," recognized today as the national anthem of the Negro. He also prepared the English version of the libretto of the grand opera, "Goyescas," which was produced by the Metropolitan Opera Company in 1915. He retired from Broadway in 1906 when Theodore Roosevelt appointed him U. S. Consul at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela.

Until his death he maintained his affiliation with the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, in which he was one of the highest-ranking members, though in late years his life had been devoted to education, serving as Professor of Creative Literature at Fisk University and visiting professor of the same subject at New York University.

Ann Harding in Shaw Play at Biltmore

Ann Harding as "Candida"—that sounds like important prospects in the realm of the make-believe. The lovely stage and screen star will appear in person at the Biltmore Theatre, Los Angeles, in the famed George Bernard Shaw comedy for two weeks beginning Monday evening, Oct. 10.

Homer Curran, who announced several months ago his intention of presenting a series of the classics with big-name stars, is presenting "Candida" in association with Luther Greene.

"Candida" has remained for over 40 years the most successful of all of Shaw's comedies. It is said to have been Shaw's answer to Henrik Ibsen's "The Doll House", written at a time when dramatic literature was undergoing a rapid change. Miss Ann Harding appeared as "Candida" in London last season with a great success and Bernard Shaw himself is said to have come into the city to take charge of rehearsals.

Paul Cavanaugh, popular Broadway actor, will appear as the Rev. James Mavor Morrell; Ernest Cosstart will enact the comedy role of Mr. Burgess, a character Shaw created for his outflow of philosophy, and Eugene Marchbanks, the moon-struck poet, will be played by Clay Mercer, a brilliant newcomer to the legitimate field, and a discovery of Miss Ann Harding.

Gangster Storv at Bill Robinson STARTS SUNDAY

In "Blind Alibi" star Richard Dix has as his pal and constant companion "Ace, the Wonder Dog," in the role of a blind man's guide. Dix assumes the part of a sculptor who counterfeits blindness, and uses the canine guide to give an air of reality to his camouflage. The story is laid in Paris and in an American art museum.

Sparkeeta Nite at the Bill Robinson Theatre. Every Friday nite 25 lucky winners receive a full 24 bottle case of that new and invigorating dring, "Sparkeeta Root Beer" made by the Sparkeeta Company. The winners at the Bill Robinson Theatre will receive the "Sparkeeta" delivered direct to their homes. Considerable response has been shown to this new idea.

Miss Allen Entertains With Luncheon

Mrs. Christine Allen entertained with a bridge luncheon Thursday at her home in West 37th Place honoring her sister, Miss Beatrice Smith of Canada. Prizes were won by Mmes. Irene Henderson, Mary Lindell, and Hattie Burns. Covers were laid for twenty-four guests.

Dunbar Gives Highlights of Shows 'Across the Pond'

LONDON, Oct. 6. (By Rudolph Dunbar for ANP)—I am now back in London at my post after a very satisfactory vacation on the Riviera, although it was not the kind that I should choose to spend owing to the fact that I was engaged most of the time in preparing details for my forthcoming lecture tour in America. I am, nevertheless, thankful to have been away from the hustle and bustle of London.

During my peaceful seclusion among the mountains, which know no prejudice, I was rudely interrupted by sordid piece of front page news in the Melody Maker, which reached me, stating that the Peters Sisters had been subjected to a barrage of embarrassment by hotel managers who refused to give them accommodation in London. There must be an end to this frightful form of embarrassment; I am going to put the matter before the Socialist members of parliament in order that there shall be a parliamentary debate on the subject when parliament reopens in October.

American Negro artists have given happiness all over the world and have enriched the firmament of entertainment in England and it is intolerable that they should be treated in this manner. It is chiefly the fault of the agents who book these first class Negro artists, but they are chiefly interested to see how much commission they can draw. If they will take more interest in their Negro proteges and approach the subject of living accommodation with tact and understanding, the question of unpleasant refusals will never arise.

However, I was glad to note in the Daily Herald that a group of Negro financiers in America were about to construct a Negro hotel in the heart of London in answer to the sniggering hostility of English hotel proprietors and certain types of English landlady. I have always advocated a scheme of this sort and, when I come to America on my lecture tour I will present the whole situation of the prejudice in England in order that Negro persons visiting this country will know exactly how to guard themselves against affronts of this nature.

A Change in Paris

En route to London, I spent seven days in Paris. This alluring capital looked good to me after an absence of so many years, but there was a great change. It was not the Paris of birth and glamour that I knew as a student; it has changed considerably. I shall deal with this in a separate article. Most of the colored performers were away playing at various summer resorts in different parts of Europe. There were, however, Bricktop, the Empress, who represents the quintessence of entertainment in Europe, majestically installed in "The Big Apple"; Alberta Hunter the Apostle of Gaiety, imping her dynamic personality on the visitors to Fred Payne's bar and at the Melody bar, Tori Morrow, statuesquely beautiful, emanating charm and vivacity in her songs. I stepped into the Romance and there was Creighton Thompson, the celebrated lyric baritone, who has travelled all over Europe and has played for kings, princes and maharajahs and who is having overwhelming success in this establishment which is known to be the smartest place at the moment.

I had a chat with Creighton Thompson and he told me a most interesting story about a scene which he encountered in Berlin when the Nazis came into power. He also told me about the luxurious state pullman car which the Maharajah of Indore placed at his disposal when he was going to entertain him at one fo his palaces in India. At this same Romance club, there was Greeley W. Franklin, the old veteran who has been in Paris now for 20 years and can still play the guitar.

Ingram's Act Steals Show in New Revue

NEW YORK, Oct. 6, (ANP)—A group of colored actors led by Rex Ingram has been acclaimed by critics as turning in the highlight performances of "Sing Out the News," new George S. Kaufman-Moss Hart revue which opened on Broadway last Saturday night at the Music Box. The colored group appears in both acts of the satirical revue. "One of These Fine Days," is the song theme for their first appearance against a Harlem background. In the second act the keynote song is "Franklin D. Roosevelt Jones."

In addition to Ingram, who quit the Federal theatre's 'Haiti' to appear, the colored group includes Benjamin Wailes, Traverse Crawford, Otto Gaines, Harry Lewis, Elmaurice Miller, Mae Williamson, Elizabeth Dozier, Lucille Wilson, Lydia Holmes, Hazel Scott, James Lillard, Warren Coleman, Louie Williams, Estelle and Elizabeth McDowell, Maude Simmons, William and Allen Tinney, Ray Harrison, Herbert Sumpter, Lilyn and Ethel Brown, Musa Williams, Add Bates, Richard Huey, Sally Ellis, Bertram Holmes, Wanda Macy, Shirley Macy, Sibol Cain, Sadie McGill, George Jones, Jr., Gus Jones, Henrietta Lovelace, Jackie Petty, Emmett Mathews, Carrington Lewis, Grant and Sonny Timmons, Portia Patterson, Mrs. Pety, William Brown and Clarence Wheeler.

'St. Peter Talks' on Air Tonight

"Saint Peter Talks" unique dramtization of a popular James Weldon Johnson poem, promises a quarter hour of stirring musical novelties over KMPC tonight at 9:30.

"A Cappella In Bronze" Federal Theatre Radio Division program, will present Charles Hawkins, Earl Hall and other favorites, enhanced by Sherman Walker's celebrated choir batoned by Herbert Ward.

The Johnson poem featured on tonight's presentation relates the Unknown Soldier's resurrection from his grave on Judgement Day.

A stirring solo number, "Deep River," will be a highlight of the musical program which is directed by Robert Cummins from the Amos Reese script.

New Members in 'Chillun' Cast

Replacements in the cast of "Run, Little Chillun", FTP drama at the Mayan Theatre were this week announced as follows: Carl Haney, Bene Greene, Effie Smith, Charles Clinksdale, Katherine Lindsay, Arthur Walker;

Also: Morris J. Stokes, Jr., Cernice Lawson, Jack West, Raymond Smith, Norman Stewart, and William Davis.

These players take the place of white actors who were called from the production to take part in other Federal productions to which they had been previously committed.

Half-Century Post Reached By 'Chillun'

Passing its 50th performance mark Sunday night, "Run, Little Chillun", the sensational Negro folk play which features a cast of 150 capable actors from the Federal Theater and Music Projects, celebrated with SRO signs in the Mayan theater lobby.

Just before the curtain-rising, Clarence Muse, director of the play, and Carlyle Scott, supervisor of the music group, complimented the cast on keeping up the high standard of dramatic fervor during the long run of the show.

RECORD BREAKING

Federal Theatre executives, Jerome Coray, head of all productions, and Peter O'Crotty, F. T. P. superviser of Information Service (publicity), also commented on the record-breaking production.

"Run, Little Chillun" continues at the Mayan until October 30, according to present schedules. Five hundred reserved seats are available each night at the low cost of twenty-five cents.

Edna Heard Writes for New FTP Play

Edna R. Heard, ace composer for Federal Theaters Project, was assigned to do the musical score for "Volpone", Ben Jonson's bold satire of the Elizabethan Period, it was learned today.

The production is scheduled to run at the Mayan Theatre November 4, at the close of "Run, Little Chillun."

"Volpone" is based on man's eternal lust for wealth and is packed with ingenious scheming of a man who robs his friends, loves their wives, and laughs at their groveling when tho beg for money. Peter Heiman directs.

PICTURE "Story of Dr. Carver"
PLACE: Rosebud
PLAYERS: Clinton Rosemond

"The Story of Dr. Carver" is a short. Big, feature pictures dare not deal with the Negro so intelligently. This film is one of the most significant Hollywood has ever produced. It is simple, moving and straight-forward. It tells the story of a great scientist—incidentally a Negro. See it. Marvel at the courage of Producer Pete Smith. Write him a Thank the managers of the Rosebud (pic starts there Sunday). Go out and pray awhile. Mesdames Mills (pic starts there Sun-Do anything that might insure another similar effort!

PICTURE "You Can't Take It With You!"
PLACE: Clinton Rosemond
PLAYERS: Eddie Anderson, Lillian Yarbo, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Jean Arthur, Donald Meek, James Stewart, and everybody else on the Columbia lot.

"Fuhgot the mustard!" shrieks kitchen-mechanic Eddie Anderson as he tears through a parlor where the Sycamore's entertain the snooty family of their daughter's fiance. "Fuhgot to touch second!" exclaims Lionel Barrymore—er—Grandpa Vanderhoff.

The Sycamore family is the nuttiest, sanest family ever to hit the screen. Their antics are screwball straight through. The underlying philosophy of it all is deep and, yes, beautiful.

It seems that Grandpa Vanderhoff, in the distant days of his youth, had started a career as a money-grabbing capitalist. One morning on his way to work he thought: "I am not having fun!" He returned home and never went to work again. Instead, he did the one thing he enjoyed the most—stamp-collecting. Becoming expert, he earned a living as an appraiser of stamp-collections.

His family, down to grandchildren, follow suit. Do exactly what they want, stop only to help others and "notice the spring." Mother Spring Byington paints and writes plays. Father Sycamore makes fire-works in the cellar with the ice-man who quit delivering ice to join the family. Granddaughter No. 1 studies ballet dancing; granddaughter No. 2, most "normal" of the lot, works in a big bank where she falls in love with the President's son.

This is where "You Can't Take It With You" opens. Chief worry is to get the consent of banker's son James Stewart's uppity family. Smash hilarity-scene is the visit of the uppity Kirbys on the wrong night. They catch Sycamores giving vent to all inhibitions—ballet dancing, painting, fire works, etc. Capitalist Kirby, (Edward Arnold) has a delicate stomach. Scheduled for dinner includes hot-dogs, pickled pigfeet, sauerkraut and so on.

It develops that Edward Arnold as the money-grubbing senior Kirby is all set to lose his soul at the altar of "filthy lucre". To complete a gigantic financial coup, he ruins his best friends. But he is more and more influenced by Grandpa Vanderhoff's homespun philosophy. He begins to wonder if the mountains of coin are really worth it all. When son James Stewart leaves his banking firm in disgust, he is convinced. Calling a halt to a tremendous banking haul, he joins the Sycamore family and once again takes up—the harmonica.

All performances are top-notch. Lillian Yarbo and Eddie Anderson as the thoroughly uninhibited servants, who have as much to say anent family affairs as anyone, put exceptional vigor in their portrayals. The principals are uniformly excellent, with special emphasis on Lionel Barrymore and Edward Arnold. Mischa Auer's "It steenks!" long will be remembered.

Frank Capra has scored again. Hence-far "You Can't Take It With You" is the most likely entrant for the 1938 Academy Award.

Guild Meeting Starts Drive to Re-establish Chas. Butler

The meeting held by members of the Screen Actor's Guild last Friday developed into a move to have Charles Butler reinstated in Central Casting Bureau on a salary. Butler after casting the colored actors for eight years and earning 33 per cent more than his salary for the corporation was discharged because of a so-called economy drive as soon as Mr. McCullough, the present head, took his seat. Reduced to the status of an agent he has since been forced to subsist on commissions from castings.

As the only Negro in the office where all other races are still represented, Butler had an excellent opportunity to safeguard the interests of colored players and frequently blocked moves that would have caused the blackening up of whites for native parts. Even before the new Guild prices he has gone to the bat to get the best wage prices for the colored players.

At last Friday's meeting Mrs. Matilda Caldwell was unanimously elected chairman of the committee of petitions that Butler be re-instated on a salary basis.

Some of the best known members among the two hundred or more were: Jesse Graves, Mrs. Anna Mabry, Ted Collins, Tarue Reed, Henry Hastings, Miss Patsy Hunter, Miss Gladys Jackson, and Cutris Hamilton, Harold Garrison, and Mrs. Emma Robinson.

Bill Robinson who had already signed a petition sent his regrets that he could not be present, and Louise Beavers made a brief talk in favor of the move.

Lincoln Tigers Trip Western U.

LNCOLN UNIVERSITY, JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 6. (Special)—Weight in both the line and backfield, general shiftiness and alertness, and a much better group of football players told the story last Saturday of the encounter between Lincoln "U's" Tigers and the team from Western University, Quindaro, Kansas, an old but small school just outside of Kansas City. It was the first game on the 1938 Lincoln schedule and at the end the score stood, Lincoln 48, Western 0.

Down In Front

By Almena Davis

In the year of our Lord, 1938 and in the 75th year of freedom, the greatest collection of football aces of color in history is performing on the greenswarrds of the Nation's colleges and universities. We have Kenny Washington and Woodrow Strode at U. C. L. A., Don Presley and Lloyd Thomas at San Jose State, Fritz Pollard and Horace Johnson at North Dakota, Bernie Jefferson and Jim Smith at Northwestern, Horace Bell at Minnesota, Archie Harris at Indiana, Fred Smith at Iowa, Wilmeth Sidat-Singh at Syracuse, and the greatest of these is BRUD HOLLAND, 1937 All-American end, from Cornell.

A great many athletes owe their physical hardihood to childhood handicaps. In his boyhood, Jerome "Brud" Holland was hampered somewhat by a pair of slightly deformed legs, twisted by a bone ailment just below the knee. Possibly saving him from a cripple's life by doing so his grandmother massaged the soft and bowed limbs daily for more than a year, starting them back on the road to normal activity. Thereafter, Brud says, his legs and their growing strength became of primary importance to him and he concentrated on their weakness until they became strong.

The neighborhood kids dubbed him "Bottleknees" during this hard time. They could hardly know that the hobbling youngster would someday become an All-American football player, and his shifty, pace-breaking center the nemesis of a dozen or more colleges in the Cornell loop.

BRUD HOLLAND - END

ever since childhood, Holland said he has entertained the idea of entering Cornell and playing the game for the rather toney school in Ithaca, New York. He was practically reared on the campus, his father working for one of the professors.

He took to football like a natural in high school, playing the backfield on the offensive and tackle on the defensive. In this way he became a double threat man, a shifty jitterbug of a ball lugger, and an ol' meanie who broke up all kinds of cute plays behind the line of scrimmage.

From a scintillating prep career, it was a comparatively easy matter to choose his institution and it was Cornell. There the freshman coach played him in the backfield. When he reported to Varsity duty however, he was shifted to end. His is an essential part of the Snavely system of end-around plays, calling for speed and ball carrying. It was his proficiency there that netted him unanimous selection as All-American end.

Almost 22 years old, one inch over six feet tall, and weighing 202 pounds, Holland is something of a country boy. His pleasures are simple, and they even whisper it about that he possesses a fondness for books. As soon as school is out, he rushes to an upstate New York farm where the hard life keeps him in shape for King Football. As to his future, he is due a teaching post in an Eastern school after graduation in June.

Undoubtedly Holland is tops of the dusky pig-skinners. He hasn't Kenny Washington's versatility, but he is able to leaven his brilliance with consistency. His should be a second All-American berth.

Joe Louis' Softball Team Plays at Wrigley Monday

Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion, goes gunning for his second "title" at Wrigley Field Monday night.

Louis, whose iron fists have led him through victory after victory in the squared circle, will be seeking the national softball championship when his Brown Bombers tangle with the powerful Commerce Finance nine.

Fighting is the Brown Bomber's business and softball is his hobby. His managers have pleaded and begged him to stop the sport before he breaks a finger or hand and tosses a million dollars out of the window. But Louis still keeps on touring with his Brown Bombers, one of the best softball teams in the country.

The Bombers, with Louis playing first base with almost as much skill and damage as he fights, have swept the nation's finest teams before them. They now claim the uncrowned softball championship of America.

NAT'L TITLE

Hearing that the Commerce Finance had just won the Southern California championship from some of the best teams ever organized, Louis asked that Monday night's game be billed for the national title.

With Dave Henry on the mound and a raft of the game's greatest stars in its lineup, Commerce Finance will put up a contest that may be the highlight of softball competition in this section.

A championship girls' game is also on the program for Monday night. Efforts are being made by Promoter Tom Gallery to have Louis box an exhibition between the two games, but until the Brown Bomber arrives in town, probably Sunday, the bout cannot be billed definitely.

Slate Roller Parties For Lincoln Park

Resuming of the very popular skating parties at the Shrine rink announced today the consummation of a contract with the Lincoln Park Rink. This will be news to thousands of skating enthusiasts who have eagerly awaited the opening event of the skating season. The party will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16th. Daring skaters will be found in the girls and men's races, but general interest will be centered in the "jitterbug" contest on wheels which will be the featured contest.

Due to the popularity of the events, which attract thousands of enthusiasts from all parts of the Southland, there will be two session, the first at 12:30 P. M., followed at 3:00 P. M. by a session concluding at 5:30 P. M. The rink is located directly across from Lincoln Park where motor boats and a merry-go round are available and a pleasant afternoon's recreation can be enjoyed by fathers and mothers who accompany their youngsters.

Special low rates for students have been arranged. Student passes at 25 cents for admission and skates may be secured at the V. and C. Market, Bakery Dept., 4401 Central. The regular price for admission is 15 cents, skates 25 cents. The No. 10 car stops directly in front of the rink.

Winter Loop in Sunday Debut at Park

With all the celebration, glamour and fan fare of the old days, Winter League baseball at White Sox Park will stage its official opening next Sunday with a big parade, music, honor guests, and fitting ceremonies.

The first game of the 1937-38 season will be a double-header between the Elite Giants, and Casey Campbell's White Kings. Incidentally the White Kings have been thoroughly revamped and built up for this season although they already had a strong outfit last winter. The Royal Giants, pennant winners of last season had a tough time every time they played the White Kings which include some of the best Coast and major league players in the game. Rod Castillo, wide awake, genial White Sox park proprietor predicts the league's greatest year.

TOM WILSON HERE WITH ELITES

Of added importance this year will be the presence of Thos. Wilson, famous baseball magnate and owner of the Washington Elites. Arriving with his team he will aid in the smooth operation of the league opening before returning to his varied businesses in Nashville. He declared in a letter that indications point to the fact that the first draft of colored players into the major leagues may take place next year, hence he is anxious to see that his players show their mettle against big league players this winter as never before.

BIG PARADE SUNDAY

Starting at Washington and Central Avenue at 12 o'clock next Sunday a parade led by Prof. Le Blanc's and Alton Reed's Vernon, then east to the park, band will proceed on Central to A number of clubs and other organizations besides business firms plan to have cars or floats in the line. Chief of Police Davis will pitch the first ball.

TEAM LINE UP

The tentative line-up of the Elite Giants is Bill Wright, rf; West 1b; Hughes, 2B; Snow, 3B; Mackey, C; Schoolboy riffith, P; p; Williams ss; Suttleslf; Somers rf; and Porter, P. Other teams in the league this year will be Newton's Detroit All Stars, the Santa Paula Merchants, San Diego and Brawley.

HONOR GUESTS

Among the honor guests will be Ralph Cooper Bill Robinson, Clarence Muse, Louise Beavers, Jeni Le Gon, Ernest Williams, Bert McDonald, Hattie McDaniel's, Willie and Florence Covan. For reservations call Ad. 9400.

WASHINGTON IN KEY POSITION AT FULLBACK; TO CALL SIGNALS

Expect Kenny—Strode Aerials To Click

Breaking Coast precedent, Kenny Washington, U. C. L. A.'s All-American potentiality, was a tentative selection yesterday to call signals for the Bruins in Saturday's game with the University of Washington, to be held in the L. A. Coliseum.

To this writer's knowledge, no other colored athlete in a major Pacific Coast University has ever before held the acknowledged key position on a football team that is signal calling. Addition of that

Washington was moved from left halfback to fullback, his first shift since becoming a member of the Westwood varsity in '37. Charles Fenenbock, understudy to Kenny and star of last Saturday's ill-fated game with Oregon, was permanently awarded Washington's relinquished post.

As fullback, Washington will have an opportunity to punt from time to time, the only maneuver he hasn't performed with the ball to date. As signal caller, passer, ball carrier, punter and an effecti e blocker and line plunger, the former Lincoln High sensation is just about the whole Uclan team.

STRODE TO BE UTILIZED

The passing combination of Washington to Woodrow Strode, Bruin right end, will doubtless prove more effective with Kenny calling signals. Close companions, the two youths have an understanding between them regarding the disposition of the pigskin that bodes evil for the opposition.

Coach Bill Spaulding concentrated on putting a spark in his offensive this week hence little was heard of Strode's activities in practice sessions. The tall youth's end of the Bruin defense proved mightly vulnerable to Oregon's end-around plays last week. That was, in fact, the only successful invasion of Uclan right-end territory made by any of the Bruin foes since Spaulding put Strode to guarding it. It was noticeable that Iowa in the first Bruin game shied away from Mr. Strode's vicinity.

Observers credited the success of Oregon's right end plays to the new Bruin formation in which Strdoe is delegated to taking out the interference and the backs to the rear are supposed to stop the ball carrier.

The two teams are even-steven on paper. Both are highly defensive squads and in this game have much at stake. Washington a clean slate thus far this season to maintain and U. C. L. A. the ignominous failure of last Saturday to wipe out.

Louis to Give Gridiron Trophy

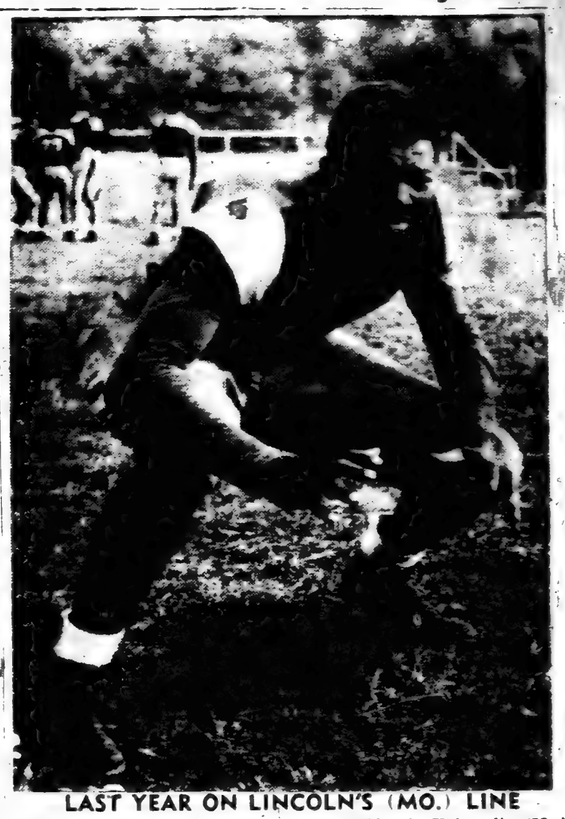
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 6—Joe Louis, the world's heavyweight champion, said today that he would give a handsome trophy to the winning team in the Tuskegee-Wilberforce football game which will be played under the lights at 8 o'clock Friday night, October 14, at Soldier Field.

The trophy will become the permanent possession of the winning team and will be presented to the victors by Julian A. Black, manager of the Brown Bomber.

Jesse Owens Visits Creole Town

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6. (By Leon Lewis for ANP) — Two years after he blazed Olympic cinder tracks in Germany to lead the U. S. team to victory, Jesse Owens, during his three day visit in New Orleans last week, was hailed as an athletic idol and people of all races ignored local attractions to get a glimpse of the famed sprinter.

Owens came to New Orleans to appear at the Louisiana Negro fair being held in Jefferson parish just out of New Orleans city limits. The fair was destined to be a flop so far as attendance was concerned until sound trucks and news media announced that Jesse Owens would be present.



Big Shots vied for the opportunity to show Owens about the city. Photographers scuffled around him for pictures. Night spots souht him for appearances. Local track aspirants hailed him as their inspiration. Society attempted to induce him into its ranks. Beautiful girls ganged him for autographs.

Owens has lost the shyness that he had in 1936. He spoke with clarity and precision, is an alert, interesting conversationalist.

AMATEUR BOXER GOES TO SOUTH AMERICA

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 6. (ANP)—Bradley Lewis, clever 160 lb. amateur, and ruler of that division, was named by the A. A. U. to make the trip to South America along with seven other top notch simon pures.

The team, along with an eight man basketball squad, left last week on the S. S. Pan America and is due to arrive in Buenos Aires, Argentina October 12.

LAST YEAR ON LINCOLN'S (MO.) LINE

One of the few returning veterans on the Lincoln University (Mo.) Tiger eleven is tall, sinewy Lindsay "Showhouse" Strothers, dependable tackle on the 1935, 1936, and 1937 squads. A colorful basketball performer as well, and native of Philadelphia, Strothers is expected to offer a bit of power to a line that promises to fall short of the 1937 Tiger line in strength and weight.

Editorial Comment

$30 EVERY THURSDAY

The most impractical measure ever presented to the voters of this or any other state is the so-called California Retirement Pension scheme. If ratified by the voters, all persons fifty years and over would receive thirty dollars in warrants every Thursday, cashable when a two-cent stamp is attached thereto each week. After one year, the warrant would have earned four cents and the state retires same at face value.

These fantastic slips of paper would be good for spending in the State of California only and no merchant or individual is compelled to accept them in exchange for merchandise or service rendered.

The scheme out-Epics Sinclair's Epic Plan and is more socialistic than the doctrine preached by the late Eugene V. Debbs and far less practical.

To illustrate: You have $500.00 good American dollars tucked away in a bank and same is desired for use. Would you be willing to accept the amount in "shin-plasters" upon which a tax of 2c is placed each week they are in your possession? Of course not. You gave the bank United States money and expect—demand same when you call for dollars placed in the keeping of that institution. No sane person is willing to trade a dollar backed by the United States government for a piece of paper upon which he is taxed 2c weekly for one year before retirement at face value.

Not only would our public educational system suffer, but the ambition of youth to strive, save and acquire would be stifled and killed. It would create a feeling of "Why save?". Why strive to accumulate for the future rainy day? Life, they will figure, begins at fifty when thirty smackers will be placed in my hands every Thursday. This, of course, will only keep aglow the lights down the primrose path to the dark, deep hole that awaits each and all at the end of this cock-eyed road.

No. The $30 every Thursday idea won't work. It's the ideal dream of a reformer who is, doubtlessly, honest and conscientious, but has seized upon an irrational scheme. It's not workable! -Vote it down!!

A CHANGE OF HEART

If all reports are true, Governor Alred of Texas, since his appointment to a Federal judgeship by President Roosevelt, has changed into a sympathetic human being.

It will be remembered when the Governor visited California some three years ago, that he made a statement denying any intention to investigate a notorious lynching, declared in fact, that the mobsters were right.

Speaking before the National Negro Business Conference in Texas a short time ago, he was indeed a changed man. Leaving a sick bed, he came to meet and greet the Negro business leaders of the nation.

Weak and almost exhausted, the governor leaned upon the altar for support as he told them "something must be done to correct the injustice heaped upon you people. Taxation without representation is unjust, illegal and un-American". He also condemned the Democratic white primary system and said it should and would be changed and that Negroes' full rights soon would be granted.

KANSAS REPUBLICANS GIRD FOR ELECTION

With the election some six weeks to the windward, Kansas Republicans have swung into what is said to be the hottest campaign since 1896.

Both old parties are playing ball with the Negro, who holds the balance of power. The Republican platform pledges equality and a new deal to the colored citizens, while the Democrats now entrenched in office from governor to highway boss, are doing things for the colored brother.

In many of the state departments, Negroes have been recognized.

The heaviest artillery in the Republican camp has been called into the state in an attempt to overcome the Democratic wave that swept it two years ago, and also went against her favorite son, Alf Landon, in the race for President.

President Hoover was called into the state as a special guest of the colored citizens at the fashionable CME churches. He started his remarks by saying, "You have done me a great honor, and I wish to express appreciation for your courtesy and the generosity of this meeting at this time of all times, because we still have a battle before us in a war-torn country, in a crisis as great as that which faced Mr. Lincoln. We still have a battle for freedom and justice and truth and that battle will be won or lost in a large degree by the colored people of the United States".

If the Donkey had thought friend Elephant dead or impotent, he certainly erred. With ideas like that, the Republican Party CAN'T be far from a comeback.

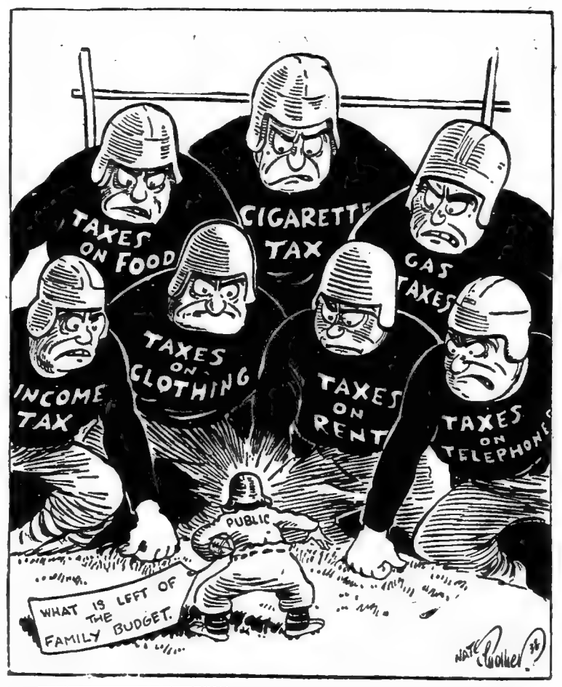
MAYOR BOWRON'S CLEAN-UP

We are in full accord with any program that will make Los Angeles a clean city and pledge Mayor Bowron our support and cooperation in his effort to carry us to new heights.

Numerous arrests have been reported since his induction into office. Featured among these spectacular raids by the daily press were a few alley or back-room gambling games in what these sheets call "little Harlem". A game in which a dozen or more bootblacks and news vendors were "captured" is typical. A total of $2.50 is said to have been seized between them.

To kill a snake, crush his head and the tail is bound to go out of business. "Big Time" gambling lords with millions, whose names are often mentioned in connection with the gambling industry, are unmolested and seem to be pursuing their usual course. Hollywood and other spots where a raid would find thousands on the betting tables, basks in safety behind the smoke-screen of a raid in "Little Harlem".

The new Mayor's orders were to "bring in the big shots", which seems to have been disobeyed and overlooked.



Other Papers Say—

Seventy five years after emancipation Negro insurance companies can be proud of the contribution which they have made in the economic developement of the race. Negro insurance had its beginning in the fraternal associations after the Civil War. Within the last twenty years their services have caused them to be regarded by home owners, businessmen and the sick as financial reservoirs from which funds would flow in time of stress.

There are forty nine companies owned and operated by Colored People in the United States. These companies reported nearly $340,000,000, worth of insurance in force with admitted assests of savings for their policy holders of about $21,000,000. These companies employ over 9,000 men and women among whom are executives, actuaries, accountants, salesmen and clerks.

Negro insurance companies were founded and organized by Negro capital for the protection of our people and to provide for thousands of our young men and women. These companies owe their present power and prestige to the many ambitious and highly educated men and women who brought character and stability to this institution. The cooperation and confidence shown by our group for Negro insurance should be a guide in the planning and in the building of a larger and more secure Negro economic life.

NOT A CHANCE

THE WORLD THIS WEEK

By ROBERT PATTERSON

LET THERE BE LIGHT

"Give the people light, and they will find their way!" is a ringing affirmation of democracy's faith in the people. Within recent days it has been clearly revealed that the tragedy of dictatorship is that it deliberately blots out the light from the people, and prepares them for war by consigning truth to the rubbish heap and assailing them with a barrage of incredible, and oftentimes vicious, nonsense. Of world opinion, the German nation has heard nothing during the European crisis. Of the actual course of events in recent weeks it has been told nothing. Little wonder, lacking light, the German people follow their leader so blindly!

A BETTER CONGRESS?

Could the urgent problems of unemployment, taxation, recovery, be more effectively treated if there were fewer politicians in Congress? This was answered in the emphatic affirmative the other day by Bruce Barton, member of the House of Representatives. He proposes that the membership of the House be halved, and that salaries of remaining congressmen be raised from $10,000 to $25,000. Relieved from the worry of making ends meet in Washington—one of the highest-priced cities in the world in which to live—congressmen would be far better equipped to devote their best energies to the pressing dilemmas of government—so believes Mr. Barton. But an early solution to his proposal is not likely. Whether a smaller group of men can run government better than a larger group has been debated for some 2000 years without a decision being reached. And if Mr. Barton thinks 218 representatives are going to vote themselves out of a job he doesn't know his politicians, but he'll soon find out if he tries his plan!

FREE LAND!

"First come, first served!" was the rough-and-ready invitation of the Old West to land-hungry settlers. The free soil a great Oklahoma land rush once gobbled up is now being deserted, but the call of new land still holds its grip on the hearts of men. Next year the Bureau of Reclamation is giving away 55,000 acres of virgin farmland in the Black Canyon district of Idaho, and already hopes of thousands are running high. When 67 farms were given away by the government at Klamath, Calif., a few months ago, the land-office was deluged with more than 3000 applications! The urge to return to the soil, no matter how great its uncertainties, shows little sign of becoming extinct in this age of giant metropolises. That urge, in fact, is showing new life. The thousands who are clamoring for a stake in the free lands of 1938 and '39 attest it!

HORSE-PLAY

In productivity, wealth, and resources, California has long been a record-breaker. That disposition to accomplish things in a bigger or more spectacular fashion than any other state has brouht California honor, and sometimes embarrassment. Now that the figures are in, it appears that California has become the nation's greatest horse-playing—and paying!—state. No less than $66,000,000 streamed into the pari-mutuel windows of the State's racetracks during the last fiscal year. California's 18 tracks staged 258 days of racing—enough tracks and enough racing, apparently, to put the Golden State several lengths ahead of all others in the amount of money devoted exclusively to horse-play.

Guest Editorial

RECENTLY, Negro newspaper editors and writers have been airing their opinions touching the appointment of Governor Allred to a Federal court bench. It has been interesting to watch the sectional approach to the various discussions—editorially and otherwise.

During his first campaign for Governor of Texas Allred got himself in bad with the Negro people, especially the colored voters of Texas—first, because of his slurring remarks during his campaignings; and secondly, because of the part he played as attorney general of the state in keeping Negroes from voting in the Democratic primary. Negro editors and writers from other states and sections are still holding these things against Governon Allred and have minced no words in referring to them as indications of his unfitness for a federal judgeship even though it be in the lower court. Because Mr. Allred as Governor of Texas has done some nice things for Negroes of this state and seemingly has had a change of heart in general since being governor, Negroes of Texas have almost forgiven him for his past sins against the race—at least they do not hold them against him as a stumbling block in his way to lending his aid to furthering their economic and social welfare in this state. In fact, they take pride in pointing to his actions and public utterances where the race has been concerned. His speech at the meeting of the National Negro Business League in Houston last month they put down as among the most liberal ever delivered by the chief executive of any state in the Union.

But be this as it may. The thing which has impressed us in considering the various viewpoints of editors and newspaper writers has not been the personal opinion which they hold of Mr. Allred. Rather has it been the sharp sectional division of opinion which has characterized the discussion. Texans have come out in defense of Governor Allred while out-of-state papers with two or three notable exceptions—all Southern—have been against his affirmation by the Senate. There was a time when this sectional difference in opinion, even as a subject of this nature, could not have been found. Negro editors and writers of the South either had no opinions or learned to express any which seemed contrary to the opinions held by their brethren in other sections. In the Allred case there has been no maudlin expressions seeming to curry favor at the hands of any one but quite as logically and openly arrived at as have been the statements of the Northern contemporaries. Apparently, they have only wished that a proper evaluation be made of the good points which Goernor Allred has rather than too much stress be placed upon what he did in the distant past. Independently, they appear to be thinking things through.

ON THE SIDEWALK

duty to Czechoslovakia is clear to students of world affairs. For judging on this basis, America is almost as keenly responsible for the present situation as Britain.

No nation took so outstanding a role in the conferences following the World War. No nation was more prompt in loans to bankrupt Germany, or more prompt in the matter of collection. It was our own Woodrow Wilson who sponsored the wanton juggling of ancient border lines to create a new, superficial European map. American influence was felt in every meeting of the Big Five. It was the United States that finally acquiesced to the victors' greed of France and Britain. And now we speak in high-sounding terms of "American neutrality". We ask, "What neutrality?"

And in a night edition of a last weeks' local paper we quote "A prayer for peace went up today from the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood where ministers and officers of 115 Southland Presbyterian churches convened in their annual meet.

"Gathering at the church yesterday, even as war clouds gathered over Europe, the churchmen prayed for 'a wisdom throughout the world that peace might come to stay forever.'"

Announcement from another leading cleric states, "In the critical hour we believe that it is most fitting and proper that the resources of prayer and spiritual longing should be utilized to express the world desire for peace, so, I venture to suggest that our churches be opened each day this week that people may come in to pray in silence for the peace of the world."

But, friends, now is not the time for prayer. A situation caused by injustice and maljudgment has come to a head—no amount of praying will change it. We have no doubt of the sincerity of supplications for peace at this time, but hold, that in order to be effective, this interest should have been exhibited before now. When America became party to the great international thievery that went on after the war, today's worries were born. An active campaign for justice and fair-play at that time might have had far-reaching effects. When American oil in Italian tanks consumed Africa's last republic, the out-cry might have helped. By a deliberate compromise with conscience, our neutrality law made the United States Mussolini's greatest ally. The choice then lay between justice and democracy—dollars and cents. Without protest from the clergy, we accepted dollars and cents.

No, my friends, a week of prayer will not aid the foreign situation. Three weeks of prayer will not aid, and any compromises which may have been reached at Munich last week will not really aid it. Now is the time for serious and lengthy considerations. The entire Versailles treaty status quo has failed. To escape, the world must build another. It has been proved that careless shuffling of borders will not change men's thoughts or sympathies. A return to fundamentals alone can succeed. We must again decide whether Germany's colonies should be returned, whether the injustice of the Ethiopian war shall remain on the "unavoidable" list of European diplomats.

And in place of the week of prayer, we suggest that America's clerics devote themselves to some more constructive design. And we do not underestimate the power of prayer, but contend that it should be applied before a crisis is upon us. Let the nation's ecclesiastics head off the dissension of future years. By removing today's injustice, they may prevent tomorrow's chaos. Let them explore the slight discrepancy in our own democracy which denies the franchise to eight million citizens of the southland. Let them remove the shameful evidences of inequality before the law that exists within our borders. Let them investigate a United States Army which enlists men in Jim Crow regiments, kills them on Jim Crow battlefields, and buries them in Jim Crow grave-yards. Let them remember, above all, that there can be no international peace without peace within.

But, by all present indications, the churches of the world soon will resound with the old, familiar chant: "Lord, safeguard me and my family, my son John and his family, my nation, and my flag; and, please Lord, DESTROY MY ENEMY".

UNTIL A few years ago when Monroe N. Work, of Tuskegee, published the first Negro Year Book, little was recorded about American Negro achievements. It was generally understood, and accepted even by Negroes, that there had been little economic progress, and since the achievements of individuals, races or nations are measured by their economic advancement, the Negro was considered a burden rather than a blessing.

While the depression hit the colored man a solar plexus blow, it served to stimulate an investigation into Negro farm and property assets. It is estimated on the basis of tax returns that in spite of the depression, Negroes in the United States in 1936 owned 20,000,000 acres of land, or 31,000 square miles. This is an area about equal to the five New England states.

In 1928 Negroes of Georgia made tax returns on a million and a half acres of land assessed at thirteen million dollars, and in Virginia, in the same year, Negroes made tax returns amounting to $29,000,000 on 2,000,000 acres of land.

In studying these statistics and in measuring the Negro's economic progress thru them, one must remember that this has been accomplished in the scope of seventy-five years.

The infant clamors to touch a hot stove or wade in the duck pond, because its mother has pointed out that those things must be avoided. During the Negro's more than 250 years of bondage, he was instructed to stay away from education in art, literature and the sciences. Hence, like the curious child, liberated Negroes left farms to which they had been chained and tested their capacity for the things which had been labeled "Not for You!"

Let us very briefly measure the intellectual progress accomplished within the same period of time Negroes have become taxpayers on approximately 20 million acres of land.

Afro-Americans have had the doors of many of our best American educational institutions closed to them in the North and West, and in the South, where they pay taxes on the same basis as other Americans, they are forced to accept about one-third the amount per student allotted whites. Despite these conditions, colored men and women have forged ahead intellectually.

Negroes have graduated cum laude and magna cum laude from such leading universities as Syracuse, Bryn Mawr, Bates, Tufts, Brown, Pennsylvania, Columbia, California, and Harvard.

Membership in the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity is conferred in the leading colleges and universities on undergraduates who are among the best students, and is awarded for scholarship only.

The number of Negroes elected to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity, from 1874 to 1936, is 155.

Most of this information and the bulk of the Afro-American's historic achievements have been thoroughly ignored by our educational system. Seldom is it hinted within our institutions of learning that Negroes are vital factors in the nation's history. Recently, this lack has been decried extensively.

However, a class in "Negro History" soon will become part of the curriculum at Jefferson High school. The new subject is an experiment and, if successful, will be duplicated in other high schools of the city. One of its commendable features is the asserted policy of urging all races and nationalities to join. The class will be conducted by Mrs. Hazel Whitaker, the first young colored woman in Los Angeles who qualified to teach in the high school. Mrs. Whitaker is a serious student of social problems. She is now in her third year at Jefferson and considered one of the institution's ablest instructors.

The "Negro History" class is not a new idea. For years, its inclusion in the state's educational lay-out has been advocated. And for years its inclusion has been fought. Able, fair-minded citizens of both races have taken definite stands either pro or con.

Chief argument against a special Negro History class is the contention that Negro history, because it is a vital factor of the entire pattern of our American story, should not be dealt with in any exclusive manner. It is held that the Negro's deeds have been of such far-reaching national importance that they should be placed in their just positions within the general American history texts. An all-white instruction of the nation's history, it is claimed, is no less inaccurate than an all-black one.

For instance, the battle of San Juan Hill has been accredited one of the most glorious moments of American romance. White and black students are taught the magnificent courage of Theodore Roosevelt. Teachers herald the brave rough-riders, neglect to state that both Roosevelt and the cavalry were inspired by the tenacity of black infantry that refused to retreat when so ordered. This display of outstanding merit, it is argued, should be included in all tales of the San Juan fracas—not merely over-emphasized in an all-Negro course.

Thus, on the several previous

INSURANCE HEAD ASKS PROTESTS ON ARTICLE IN BUSINESS MAGAZINE

Wm. Nickerson, President-Manager of Golden State Insurance Here, Hits Editorial Aimed at Negro White Collar Workers; Writes Publishers

Protests by organizations and business men of the race over an editorial in the September issue of "American Business" aimed at the Negro white collar worker, were asked this week by Wm. Nickerson jr., president-manager of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company.

The magazine, published in Chicago, has a wide circulation and influence in the white business world. The article, "Negroes in Offices," described by Mr. Nickerson as "insidious propaganda," said:

"What are we going to do about the growing number of Negroes who are graduating from Northern colleges and high schools? The pressure to make jobs for these white-collared workers is becoming more and more acute, as the Negro pressure groups acquire political importance under the new order of things. Recently in New York merchants were forced to make available a certain number of sales and clerical jobs for Negroes, and there is a systematic campaign under way in Chicago and elsewhere to force public utilities to employ more Negroes in office and clerical jobs.

"We can sympathize with the Negro who made a great sacrifice to get a college education only to find that he is not wanted in offices where whites predomniate. No doubt many of these young men and women would make excellent salesmen and executives. But it would seem that their greatest opportunity is to be found in supplying leadership to their own people, rather than to force themselves into situations where their opportunity to serve society is necessarily limited."

In this communication to the publishers of American Business, Mr. Nickerson said:

"The writer of this article took a very unfriendly attitude against the American Negro as he endeavors to get 'white collared' jobs. Many of our people view this article as insidious propaganda. They view it with grave concern, and fear that it was deliberate and calculated to injure the American Negro economically.

"He takes the position, Negroes are 'not wanted' in offices where whites predominate, and that 'they should not force themselves into situations where not wanted', which means they should not contend for 'white collared' jobs here or there where white people work, etc. The writer stated many young men and women of this group would no doubt make good salesmen and executives. This is no information to us. It has already been demonstrated from time to time with great satisfaction by many white concerns and is a strong argument in favor of more white concerns giving more employment in this direction.

Negro Life is Discussed By NAACP

By HAZEL WITTAKER
(Program Director of N.A.A.C.P. Local Branch)

A large audience composed of interested citizens attended the last meeting of the N. A. A. C. P. A Survey and Analysis of Negro Life in Los Angeles was the subject for study and discusion.

Paul Williams, acknowledged most successful Negro architect in the United States, lead the discussion by presenting information on our housing problem. Mr. Williams' talk was constructive. He called to the attention of his listeners ways in which each property owner might improve and enhance the value of his property. Mr. Williams, who serves continually and consistently in our community, is a member of the Board of directors of the California Eagle and through the constructive policy of this newspaper has constantly worked for the improvement of our community.

Aid for workers, especially young workers, was given by Floyd Covington, executive secretary of the Urban League. Mr. Covington pointed out the fact that Negro workers should aim to enter all new fields of work and should strive to hold all old fields of occupation. The suggestions made by the speaker were those he has formulated as a result of his daily experience in placing workers in the various fields of occupation.

Rev. Clayton Russell, who with the members of the Independent Church of Christ, strive continually to serve as one of the most helpful welfare agencies, gave ways in which all agencies might work together to cut down the delinquency problems and lift the standards of those in need of help in our community.

Bessie Bruington Burke, well known educator and principal of Holmes Avenue Schol, gave an excellent review of news of interest to our group throughout the United States.

George Garner, nationally famous tenor soloist, thrilled the audience with his singing of a famous aria and a familiar spiritual. Mr. Garner was accompanied by his talented wife, Netta Parrlyn Garner. The four daughters of Zion quartette sang and responded to an enthusiastic encore.

Present in the audience were Mme. Florence Cole Talbert, distinguished soprano soloist, Mme. Pearl Lowery Winters, composer and soloist, Mr. Clarence A. Dickison, principal of Jefferson High School and his wife, Mrs. C. A. Dickison.

Wagner Pledges New Fight for Lynch Bill

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. — "The anti-lynching bill and a national health program are at the top of my calendar of unfinished business."

Thus did New York's Senator Robert F. Wagner assure delegates at the American Labor Party convention held in the Manhattan opera house here Monday night that he would continue his leadership of the fight in the U. S. Senaet for passage of a Federal anti-lynching bill during the coming session of Congress.

The Senator made the statement in a speech accepting the convention's endorsement of his nomination for U. S. Seator for the full term.

PRACTICES

Dr. George F. Lee Opens Offices In Eagle Building

The first osteopathic physician to practice in this district, Dr. George F. Lee, 4073 So. Central avenue (California Eagle building), has created a furore in local medical circles.

The study of osteopathic methods includes all other types of medical treatment — medicine, surgery, osteopathic manipulation, and Physic-therapy. As a cure-all for bodily ailments this new scientific field is only now being recognized. Acting as the perfect combination of medical treatment, the osteopathic way has become known as "the best way."

Dr. Lee, Chinese, is a graduate of Jefferson High School, College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons of L. A., and interned at the Los Angeles County Hospital. He has special training in treating backaches, lumbago, arthritis, athletic injuries, and various "sprains and strains."

BRUTAL ASSAULT ON TEXAS JUROR PROBED BY NAACP

Case Declared Vitally Important To Whole Question Of Negroes Serving On Juries; Action Of Governor Allred Awaited

Dallas, October 13—Thurgood Marshall, of the legal staff of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, arrived here Saturday to confer with officials of the local branch in regard to further action in the brutal jury-eviction case involving Dr. George F. Porter, 65, president of Wiley junior college.

Mr. Marshall was sent here from the New York office of the association at the request of local branch officials because of the wide implication involved in the denial of fundamental citizenship rights, as shown by the case.

Because he insisted on exercising his right of membership on a petit jury panel to which he had been legally summoned, and refused to have himself "excused" at the suggestion of court officials, Dr. Porter was dragged out from the central jury room of the Dallas courthouse, September 28 by two white men, despite his plea to court attaches for protection, and thrown down the front steps of the building. Several other prospective Negro jurors accepted dismissal at the hands of court officials.

Determined to see the thing through the college president picked himself up and broke through a line of mroe than a dozen threatening whites who sought to bar his entering the building again, re-entered the courthouse and regained his seat in the jury room.

Shortly after the assault on him, Dr. Porter was sent to the fourteenth district court in the building presided over by Judge Sarah Hughes to join the jury panel assembled there. Here, together with sixteen white veniremen, he was dismissed for the week. Judge Bush, technically in charge of the jury room, from which the college president was first evicted, refused to comment on the assault.

Persistent Porter's eviction from the jury room came on the third day of his daily attendance on the jury panel following his acceptance of jury service. Well known throughout the state, he has been dismissed twice before from jury service over his protest; once in 1921, when he served one day after having been threatened with a lynching; and again in 1936, when he served three days before he was dismissed despite his protest.

In a statement issued today, Walter White, executive secretary of the N. A. A. C. P. said:

"We have already sent a vigorous protest to Governor Allred, of Texas, over the brutal treatment meted to Mr. Porter and we intend to follwo this case through, because it involves much more than appears on the surface."

Last July, Governor Allred was nominated by President Roosevelt for the post of Federal district judge—receiving the nomination personally at the hands of the President when the chief executive visited Texas on a speaking tour. The nomination comes up for confirmation before the U. S. Senate in January.

White said the Association would "watch carefully" to see what action Governor Allred would take in the matter.

RIGHT ESTABLISHED IN 1890

The N. A. A. C. P. was the first organization in the country to give nation-wide prominence to the question involving the rights of Negroes to sit on juries, although this right was established as early as 1890.

The Association won a state supreme court reversal in the famous Elaine, Arkansas riot cases (between 1919 and 1923, involving 79 sharecroppers on the ground that Negroes were systematically excluded from the jury. It finally won the complete freedom for all the men. Twelve of them had been sentenced to death, 67, to life imprisonment.

The case of Jess Hollins, who was twice saved from death for an alleged criminal attack upon a white woman, at Okmulgee, Okla., was also won in 1916 on the ground that Negroes were sysetmatically excluded from the jury.

IRA IS ON THE MEND

Ira Smith, veteran newspaperman, successfully underwent a serious operation at the Good Samaritan hospital Monday. The famed journalist, one of the founding writers of the Topeka "Plaindealer" and for years associated with the "EAGLE", was credited with perfect physical canditino outside of leg injuries by Samaritan physicians.

Smith was involved in an automobile accident Tuesday of last week. First taken to Receiving hospital, he was later transferred to Dunbar Hospital, 15th Strete. Splintered breaks in the leg necessitated operation by specialists at the Good Samaritan.

Brother Shoots At Sister In Family Quarrel Here

Brotherly - Sisterly heckling reached near tragedy proportions this week as brother took pot-shots at sister, fortunately none of the shots taking effect.

Police called to 1820 E. 52nd street, arrested Clifton Maro of that address, after he had chased his sisters, Marguerite Maro and Mildred Maro, from the house with a 45 revolver and peppered their retreating backs with bullets.

The trio had been engaged in a bitter argument. Maro, becoming enraged, left the kitchen, scene of the battle, and returned with a gun, which, the women said, he pointed at them.

Slamming the door in his face, they said they ran, jumping fences to elude the bullets which Maro sent afetr them.

Fail to Learn Cause of 'Kid's' Death

With the coroner's jury still in doubt as to the true cause of death, funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for William (Kid) Herman, veteran motion picture extra, who died at the General Hospital, Sept. 30.

Whether Herman leaped from the porch high up on the General Hospital building where he was a patient or accidentally fell while walking there, remains a mystery to authorities and will remain that unless definite information of either circumstance is brought to the coroner's attention. On the death certificate filed with the County Vital Statistic bureau death was laid to basal fracture of the skull and brain hemorrages.

Funeral services were in charge of units of the Screen Actors'

Apologize for Mistake in Traffic Story

Due to a mistake in the identification of Mrs. Lula McKinley, Los Angeles matron, who was killed by a street car at 47th and Avalon boulevard the California Eagle stated erroneously last week that the deceased woman's husband was on a street car going in the opposite direction at the time of the tragedy.

It was learned this week that Mrs. McKinley was identified at first by a man, whose name is withheld, as his wife. Upon closer scrutiny, he realized his mistake, but the confusion persisted on police records. Subsequently, an Eagle reporter reading the records, carried the error farther.

Mrs. McKinley, according to her family, had been widowed almost fourteen years. The Eagle herewith apologizes.

COPS HUNT LES FEMMES

La Femme, whom French police have taught the world to look for in mysteries involving love and passion, was hunted in three instances on the Eastside this week after cuttings and attempted cuttings of three men, one of them a police officer.

An elusive "femme," known only as "Black Kitty," and her pal, Dorothy Wilson, 22, were sought early Wednesday morning by Newton Street police after the cutting of Wilbur Wynn, 27, 1820 E. Imperial avenue. Wynn was found by Newton Street police at about 1:45 a. m., lying in a pool of blood in a vacant lot at Santa Barbara and Central.

His brother, Russell Wynn, who called police and administered first aid, said Wilbur had left a cafe, adjoining the lot, in company with the women earlier that morning.

Wynn, slashed abuot the face and body, and in a critical condition at the General Hospital, told police that an argument ensued, a fight followed, the gals bested him and left him in the dark.

Despite this, however, he said if he recovers, he will not prosecute.

WINE BOTTLE USED

Horace Hinkle, a houseman at 3225 Waverly drive, nursing a cut lip and smaller gashes about the face, is this week pondering the whims of "wimmin."

Hinkle told police that he went to 1226½ E. Adams to see a man whom he knew as Walter. While there, he said he passed the time of the day with Mrs. Bertha Smith, 36, whom he had known for six yeras. Departing, he cautioned her not to phone him at his place of employment any more, as it might endanger his job, whereupon she up and smacked him in the face with a wine bottle.

Said Hinkle, "That's a killer." He will prosecute.

TAKES ON COP

William Watson, 1167 E. 50th street, is a fairly hefty police officer. But he's not too big for Mrs. Mary Spencer, 1463 E. 47th street. At about 3 a. m. Wednesday morning Watson said he saw the woman "flag" a passing car in which a white man was riding.

Thinking that it looked suspiciously like "soliciting," Watson said he cautioned the woman, whereupon she drew a knife from her handkerchief and attacked him. Watson parried the thrust, however, disarmed his adversary, and cooled her wrath in the city bastile.

Clarence Muse-- A-TALKIN' TO YOU

We are all Artists is a true statement of fact. If you are a great COOK, you are an Artist. If you know how to BUY a HAT and WEAR it well, you are an artist. In fact, the APPRECIATION of good things, the better way of DOING the NECESSITIES of life, all come under the realm of ART. Still most of us think only of PEOPLE doing something well in MUSIC, Acting Painting, an dthe other PHASES of fine ART as worthy of ATTENTION. When a careful Housewife makes a SCIENTIFIC study of the right kind of FOODS to put on the table at the different MEAL HOURS, she not only applies the LAW of true art in the way they are served, but the touch of GENIUS enters when she is sure not to have the KIND of MEAT that is not good for FATHER, the right kind of VEGETABLE for the DAUGHTER or SON, and the PROPER amount of OILS needed for building great BODIES when they are cleverly concealed in a delicious dish. We simply say SHE IS A GOOD COOK,—I say ARTIST. And I feel that you would get More people interested in their chosen field if you made them realize THAT they are ARTISTS in their own right. The fellow who makes for his profession, THE ART OF DRIVING a car, is indeed a valuable Artist in our midst, especially these days when so many people are driving in the streets and highways that are INCAPABLE and careless. If he holds a record of NO ACCIDENTS for a period of five years or more, HE IS A GREAT ARTIST. A MICHAEL ANGELO of the OPEN ROAD. And when he saves a fellow GUEST a terrible accident BY INSISTING to his BOSS, that he should drive his friend's car, WHILE HIS BOSS WAITS at the party until he returns, HE SHOULD RECEIVE just as much acclaim as a REMBRANDT hanging on the WALLS of a PARISIAN ART GALLERY.

CLARENCE MUSE

No use for me to name the MANY VOCATIONS of life to bring out my POINT, but if we SHOULD look about ourselves and Start to live a ARTISTIC life, we build all END up HAPPY. We would not be quitting GOOD paying-jobs, trying to be ordinary ACTORS in pictures or the Stage. We would NOT SPEND good honest MONEY earned in the PROFESSION you are good in, TRYING TO GET some CROOKED firm to publish a "BAD" song. Just being yourself at your ARTISTIC BEST, makes you a TRUE ARTIST.—We are all ARTISTS!

Find Body of Girl Flood Victim

WESTERLY, R. I., Oct. 13. (ANP)—The body of 17 year old Ellefair Price, who disappeared during the recent Atlantic Coast flood and tornado, was found last Monday wedged between two houses that had floated out to sea. The body had been mangled almost beyond recognition. Miss Price lived in Westerly with her foster-parents, had graduated last June from Stonington high school. Her father, a World War veteran, died several years ago. He was divorced from his wife, whose whereabout were unknown at the time of the girl's death.

POLITICAL POT-PIE

By IRA

Governor Merriam, given the edge over Democrat Olson for the state gubernatorial post, this week swung into action. Merriam, who has recently shelled out with several Negro appointments, looms as a real menace to the strong Democratic bodies of Negro districts. Basing his fight on a down the "Ham and Eggs" plan, the Governor has shown clearly how the Thirty Dollar a Week dream would lead to state bankruptcy. We fear, Culbert Olson's little step child (Ham and Eggs plan, will commit patricide.

At an enthusiastic meeting held in the offices of the California Eagle on October 11th, the newly organized Eastside Woman's Republican Association began its intensive campaign for civic betterment and advancement in the community, State and Nation.

The officers are: Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, Chairman, Mrs. Anna Mabry, Secretary; Mrs. Doris Penlan, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. Artis, Treasurer; Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Advisor.

The business of the meeting was the report of the Constitution and By-Laws Chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth St. Charles Edwards.

The Association will sponsor a mass meeting which will be announced in the near future.

Its membership includs three members of the Republican County Central Committee: Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass and Mrs. Anna Guess.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Endorsements of Dr. Walter Scott Franklin for Lieutenant-Governor, and pledges of active support, were received at Franklin headquarters here today from all four of his opponents in the G. O. P. Primary election, it was announced by Robert L. Smith, Northern California campaign manager.

"We deeply appreciate the hearty and unqualified endorsements from James Rolph, III, Senator Jerrold Seawell, Senator Ed Tickle and Senator Roy Nielsen," Smith declared. "All the more so, it should be emphasized, because these are not mere gestures of good sportsmanship on the part of losers toward a winner. The men who sought the nomination Dr. Franklin won are sensitive of their responsibility as prominent Californians to do their utmost to help elect a Lieutenant-Governor who is pledged to fight for their principles of Amercanism in government and in business and to fight the radical principles advocated by his opponent." The Republicans anyway, are dealing clean politics this time.

Organizing for an aggressive campaign against Proposition No. 13, which would abolish the constitutional safeguard requiring a two-thirds vote on bond issues, the State Association Against the Garrison Bond Act today announced appointment of a statewide committee to combat the proposal.

Farm groups, veterans' organizations, taxpayers' associations, womens' clubs, private enterprise and public ownership projects are all represented in the directorate of the association formed to fight No. 13.

"California's public debt, if we include our share of the federal debt now totals $3,661,000,000. If that stupendous total is divided by 900,000—the number of common property taxpayers in California, whose property must stand back of all public borrowings—the mortgage already standing against every piece of real estate in the state averages more than $4,000.

"Under such circumstances, we can ill afford to make it easier to get into debt by repealing our two-thirds vote requirement and permitting the issuance of public bonds by a bare majority of those going to the polls. Proposition No. 13 would plunge us into squandermania and place new mortgages against our homes and farms when we desperately need relief from taxes and debt, instead of increases. This spendthrift proposal should be buried under an overwhelming "No" vote on election day."

Think it over, boys.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson, sturdy champion of progressive causes, has unqualifiedly endorsed Philip Bancroft for United States Senator. The Senator, in urging election of the nominee as his colleague from California in the Senate, declared Bancroft was a true Progressive throughout the fight to free California from the grip of the Southern Pacific machine, and that he has remained true always to progressive causes, with "character above reproach", saying what he believes "without equivocation."

Following is the recent statement of Senator Johnson:

"I'm for Philip Bancroft for United States Senator. I am for him because he has honesty, integrity, ability, and above all, courage. In plain unvarnished language he has told the people just where he stands and why. You may not agree with all he says, but he leaves you with the highest respect for his opinions and with glowing admiration for his candor and forthrightness."

Tying in with President Roosevelt's proclamation of the week of October 9, as Fire Prevention Week, the Federal Housing Administration is calling attention to the opportunities under its Title I, Property Improvement Program, for property owners to correct faulty construction and other fire hazards, according to W. G. Bingham, District Director, Southern California.

Thrifty Drug Robbery Foiled

Burglary of the Thrifty Drug store at 43rd and Central avenue was averted Saturday morning by a burglar alarm.

An unknown maurader, according to the Newton police, cut a hole in the roof and descended to the interior of the store on a heavy wire. When he attempted to get into the rear room, however, an alarm went off. Breaking through the transom, the intruder left, minus any spoils.

THE CARNATION BRIDGE CLUB held their last three metings at the home of Mmes. A. G. Miller, 932 East 41st Pl., A. Minor, 2072 W. 30th St., and D. Young in Paloma St.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, October 15, in the home of Mrs. A. B. Davis, 4611 S. San Pedro. Mrs. A. Miner is president and Mrs. A. Davis reporter.

THE PIONEER CLUB NUMBER ONE will have its regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Johnson, 834 East 28th St., Tuesday, October 18 at eight o'clock in the evening. A good program is promised with Mrs. Anita Conway as speaker. Mrs. Eliza Warner is president, Mrs. Laura Young, recording secretary, and Mrs. N. J. Warner, corresponding secretary.

Young Democrats to Host Party in Open House

Tomorrow evening at 8 p. m., Southside Young Democrats, charter members of the Young Democrats of California, are hosts to all Democrats of the 62nd Assembly district, and their friends in an open house affair in the new Democratic headquarters at 4255 S. Central avenue.

The committee of arrangements will be composed of Mrs. Merd ith Hatcher, Miss Beulah Terry, Albert Patrick, Mike Tesney, Cecil M. Intyre, and Walter Hopson.

The new headquarters will be the official residence of the Southside Young Democrats, it was announced. A secretary will be placed there to attend to all young Democratic business and forces employed for the furtherance of an intense drive for 1000 members, it was further stated.

WEDNESDAY MEETING

At the regular evening meeting next Wednesday in the new headquarters, the Young Democrats will launch a program to assist the faculty and students of Jefferson High Schol to more fully meet the needs of the young people of this district." A report and discussion will be employed on the subjects: "How Young Democracy can assist in betting the curriculum to meet the needs of the graduates in their collegiate and practical careers," to be reported by Percy Williams. "How Young Democracy can assist in building the P.-T. A. at Jefferson High School," by Miss Beulah Terry; "How can Young Democracy aid in securing additional N. Y. A. appropriations for Jefferson High Jefferson High School," by Mrs. Merdith Hatcher; "Young Democracy should assist in the establishment of an American Student Union section at Jefferson High School," by Wendell Green.

The entire administration and factulty and student body of the high school will be invited to attend the meeting.

'Yes' Vote on Propositions 3, 4 is Urged

Business, Labor and Club organizations throughout the state have endorsed a "Yes" vote on traffic safety measures in Proposition 3 and 4 in next month's election. Eight statewide groups, eight chambers of commerce and ten regional associations have gone on record in favor of the measures.

Proposition 3 would prohibit use of gasoline and motor vehicle tax moneys for any purposes other than street and highway construction, maintenance and policing. Through Proposition 4, the various legislative units dealing with traffic would be grouped together under the State Highway Commission. These units are now scattered among various departments.

"Long range planning for highways, which is so necessary in California, requires State Highway Commissioners who hold over during various changes in administration, as would be provided by the combined terms of Propositions 3 and 4 in next month's election," J. H. Yetter, publisher and agriculturalist, recently pointed out. Reduction in highway acidents, he said, has been effected in other states by coordinated highway projects. In California such procedure has been impossible because danger of diversion of traffic funds has made finances uncertain, and frequent changes in membership of the State Highway Commission have hampered administration.

A "Yes" vote on Propositions 3 and 4 would correct these evils, Yetter declared.

Columbia, S. C. Negroes Rush to Register for Vote

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 13. (ANP)—An unprecedented rush of Negroes to register for the general election and Richland county jury duty was reported Monday and Tuesday at the registration office in the county court house. This activity was thought to be due to the formation of a complete Republican state ticket and the party battle cry of "register!"

An official said he had "never seen the likes of it." Most of those who registered were women. Registration also qualifies one for jury duty in the circuit and county courts.

GOLDEN WEST REALTY BOARD ORGANIZED

An organization of Los Angeles colored real estate brokers known as the Golden West Rally Board has been formed and reports a membership of twenty-eight persons. The board met in the 28th St. Branch YMCA Wednesday morning at 8:30 and will meet regularly at that hour each Wednesday. J. Whitly is chairman, office at 54th and Central, Jack Gilmore, Elks Bldg., asssitant secretary.

Bolger Won't Be Jammed With Mayor

Efforts to put Jim Bolger, vice-president of the Board of Public Works and long time friend of the Community Press, behind the political "eight ball" by forcing a public fight early this wek between the young Commissioner and Mayor Fletcher Bowron were quickly upset by Bolger himself.

Mayor Borwon, who has repeatedly announced he means to judge each commiossioner on his record of public service, has not indicated whether he will accept Commissioner Bolger's resignation which was tendered in compliance with his request.

In his resignation smiling Jimmy made public for the first time his reason for withholding action until he was granted an "eye to eye" conference with the new Mayor Commissioner Bolger who served a short time as a member of the Board of Public Works outsmarted political manipulators who were attempting to jam with Mayor Bowron in the following manner:

"Honorable Fletcher Bowron
Mayor
City of Los Angeles,
California

My dear Mayor Bowron:

In hereby tendering my resignation as a member of the Board of Public Works, acceptazle at your pleasure, it is my earnest desire to make clear to you it has never been my purpose to hinder you in the trying task before you.

I have, as you know, in two previous letters, sought a personal interview, with you to place before you certain matters of importance to your Administration as well as to me personally.

In your note of yesterday you make it evident that the resignation I now hand ou in good grace must be in your hands in advance to that personal conference.

Since that is your wish, I have no hesitancy in submitting my resignation from a public trust I have never betrayed.

You not only have my resignation, but my sincere hope, as a citizen of Los Angeles, that your Administraiton as Mayor will be successful and result in great good for our city.

Cordially,
JIM BOLGER,
Vice-President, Board of Public Works.

Library Book Club Inaugurates New Policy

It has been decided that the Vernon Library Book Club, auxiliary organization to the Eastside Vernon Branch Library, shall be made into a community project this year by inviting various organizations and clubs to plan and execute the programs each month. Each program committee is expected to plan an interesting and enthusiastic as well as informative program, contributing its own talent and bringing its own special following to the library on these occasions. This was anounced by Miss Miriam Matthews head of the branch.

The first program of the fall season will be sponsored by the U. S. C. Literary Club, headed by Osie Walton who will preside at the meeting to be held Friday evening, October 21, at 8 o'clock in the library club rooms, 4504 South Central avenue. Sarah Collins, Inez Hamilton, Charles Ray, Alvia Shaw and Bill Stevens are the club members who will review the following list of fall favorites: Taylor Caldwell's "Dynasty of Death," Laura Krey's "And Tell of Time," Carleton Beals' "Glass Houses," Jonathan Daniels' "A Southerner Discovers the South," Carl Crow's "Master Kung" and Upton Sinclair's "Little Steel."

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Extra Session for Political Study Club is Scheduled

The members of the Women's Political Study Club are putting forth every effort to make this year's convention the finest in its history. There will be good speakers, timely subjects, and inspiring music. The public is cordially invited to all sessions.

Those of special interest to the public, however, will be the banquet on Thursday evening, October 20 at 8:00 o'clock, and the sessions on Friday, October 21.

A special feature this year, will be an evening session Friday, which is an answer to the request of many who are unable to attend the daily meetings.

New Trial Denied 3 Convicted in College Robbery

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 13. ANP-The doors of the State penitentiary were brought a step closer to the three men convicted in the sensational Shorter College robbery case this week when a new trial for Defendants William Mable Burns, Roma Ollison and Haywood Duckworth was denied by Judge Fulk in First Division Circuit Court. The men stand convicted of robbing Rev. O. Sherman of the college teachers' payroll, after a dramatic holdup in which Rev. Sherman, shot through the neck by one of his assailants, chased them through the streets until he fell.

Later, police, on a surprise tip, nabbed one of their men, who under close questioning implicated the others. Judge Fulk allowed defense lawyers 45 days to file a bill of exceptions and deferred sentence pending an appeal to State Supreme Court, with bond set at $2,500 each. The jury fixed punishment for the trio at ten years each in the penitentiary.

Jesse Owens Sued for Income Tax

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 13. (ANP)—Uncle Sam accomplished Wednesday what few athletes have been able to do in catching up with Jesse Owens. A federal tax lien was filed against the star sprinter for $746.50 in back income taxes and penalties for 1936, based on an income for the year of approximately $20.000.

Davis Succeeds Monroe N. Work

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Oct. 13. (ANP)—Ralph N. Davis has succeeded Monroe N. Work as director of the Department of Records and Research at Tuskegee Institute. Dr. Work, famous as a sociologist and editor of the Negro year book voluntarily requested retirement having reached the required number of years in service as well as age. It is understood that Dr. Work will utilize his freedom for routine responsibility to engage more fully into research here

Davis has been for many years assistant to Dr. Work. He returned to Tuskegee this fall after studying 18 months in graduate study at the University of Chicago where he is completing work for his doctorate. His thesis is based upon study of the Negro newspaper.

Lt. Benj. O. Davis at Tuskegee

Lt. Davis comes from Fort Banning, Ga., where he has been stationed since his graduation from the U. S. Military Academy.

Baking Powder Co. Employs 4th Negro Salesman

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 13 (ANP)—The Rumford Baking Powder Co. of this city has just employed its fourth Negro salesman it was announced this week.

Charles R. Wilson of Chicago is the new salesman. Wilson is a former student of Creighton U. Omaha. He is from St. Louis, Mo. and a graduate of Sumner High School married and the father of a three year old son. In addition to business training in College, Wilson has had experience as Catering Manager of Poro College and the Grand Hotel in Chicago.

Wilson will work out of Memphis, his district extending as far South as Florida.

In 1932, Randall L. Tyus and Ramon S. Scruggs, both Fisk University graduates, were the first Negroes employed as salesmen by the Rumford Company. In 1935, Paul D. Morton, graduate of Virginia Union University, was taken on. Tyus, now working in the Chicago Area, and Morton, working the Mississippi territory, are still on the job. Scruggs resigned three years ago to take up "Y" work in Detroit. Associated with Tyus in the Chicago work is Mrs. Mattie L. Handy, food expert, who has been in the employ of the Rumford Company for more than ten years.

Louisiana Faces Shortage of Labor in Sugar Cane Fields

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13. (By Richard H. Thomas for ANP)—As the sugar cane industry approaches its harvesting season, speculation as to the wage scale of laborers is the paramount question. Already "recruiters" are going from plantation to plantation seeking cane cutters, from which they receive a dollar a head for each worker they get to the cane fields.

No decisions have been given by the Agricultural Administration with regard to hearings held in various parts of the state to fix a definite price for unskilled sugar cane cutters. Last year unskilled labor worked fourteen hours a day and received from 90 cents to a $1.00; women received 60 cents to 90 cents for the same time.

Representatives of the Louisiana Farmers Union and other civic agencies testified at hearings held by the AAA, that living conditions of sugar cane harvesters were far below normal as a result of low wages. They further asked that the working hours be reduced to the eight-hour system and that they be paid in cash rather than script.

Because the number of workers living on sugar plantations is insufficient to harvest the crop, each day the cane trucks go as far as 15 miles from the plantation to nearby towns and villages to gather workers. Exposed to the cold weather while riding to and from work in open trucks and the damp cold in which they work, together with ill-nourished bodies that are results of unbalanced diets, the horror of their situation can only be remedied with an increased wage.

Already it is reported that workers will be paid by the number of tons they cut a day. The rate, said to be 60 cents per ton is much too low to allow for comfortable living, it was pointed out.

RAILROAD CLATTER
By CHARLES L. UPTON

The big labor quarrel has finally boiled down to a personal issue between Wm. Green of the American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis of the CIO both of these big shot labor leaders are now on the spot and a real showdown may be the result. Lewis publicly announces that he will resign if Green will. Both Lewis and Green are two great labor leaders but the way the two factions keep fighting one another, will never do labor as a whole any good.

Birthday Greetings

Many happy returns to the following readers who celebrate their birthdays during the month of October: Alfred Goodson and Albert Goodson, G.W. Henderson and H. J. Mingleton. Congratulations.

Southern Pacific Dining Car Employees May Strike; Refuse To Take 15 Per Cent Cut

Standing on the ground they have gained through constant negotiations with the Southern Pacific Railroad, the joint council of Dining Car employees of the AF of L. from its Chicago offices last week requested the National Mediation Board to stay a 15 per cent cut in wages of their members, according to Ishmael P. Flory, secretary-treasurer of the Council. The railroad owners last week served the wage cut notice on the Union to take effect October 1. The Dining Car Employees Union are affiliated with the Hotel and Restaurant Employees International Alliance and Bartenders League of America, which is now one of the three largest unions affiliated with the AF of L. If the question is not settled in the Mediation Board, the Union will issue strike ballots, Flory said. The present threatened wage cut does not take in the Pullman Porters at the present time but may eventually reach their organization if successful with the R. R Employees. The railroads, having played the first hand in this serious game of bread and meat by serving notice, evidently mean business and intend to see some sort of a show down from the Board. It is thought, however, that should the Board fail to settle the issue before the railroads will be tied up. President Roosevelt will intervene. Clarence B. Johnson was well aware of this move on the part of the big railroad magnates many months in advance and had the foresight to prepare his organization with a strong war chest before taking up his post in Washington, having turned over the leadership of the cooks and waiters to his president, Douglas Devaughn, who was a close student of the labor leaders for the past several years. Also not to be forgotten among the present labor leaders on the Coast and rapidly forging to the front is John E. Hargrove, president of the Union Pacific Dining Car Employee, Local 582. Lovice Howell and Andrew J. Smith all a fine bunch of boys with a bright future ahead of them in the field of labor.

Delegate Meetings of Brotherhod Well Attended

The delegates meetings held last week at the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters' headquarters were all well attended and many instructive things were learned by those who attended. W. B. Holland brought back a clear and concise report and took great pains to explain new rules and future set-up of the Brotherhood.

International Vice-Pres. of Women's Auxiliary Makes Report

Mrs. R. J. Murray, recently elected National Vice-President of the Women's Auxiliary and delegate to the National Convention of Women's Economic Council, made her report to a large body Monday night. Every lady who attended expressed a keen and renewed desire to fall in line with the new program outlined at the convention. An oyster supper was planned for the 27th of October and the ladies are planning a busy winter season for the Brotherhood headquarters. All porters are earnestly requested to ask their wives to join the Auxiliary as soon as possible.

C. C. Bruce Still on the Job

Although many reports have been circulated to the effect that C. C. Bruce, veteran of the Pullman service, has retired, at a late hour this week he was still on the job. However, it was verified that he had made application for retirement and would step down as soon as his papers are returned.

Otto Johnson Still Undercover

Still enjoying his sweet honeymoon. Otto Johnson was hard to find in railroad circles and the old haunts last week. A most diligent search by Clatter's reporters failed to uncover hide or hair of him and it is thought he has suddenly acquired the habits of a ground hog.

Bill Asbury Puts on Heavy Underwear

A Clatter reporter brought in the report that Bill Asbury was seen on Fifth Street purchasing his long winter underwear. Asbury operates to Chicago.

Good Health is Man's Most Valuable Asset!

"If all the medicines in the world were dumped into the sea, mankind would be a great deal better off, and the fish a great deal worse off".—Oliver Wendell Holmes—(famous American philosopher and physician).

How long will men continue to search for magic medicines to free the human body of diseases? When will they realize that blood health and cell health is bodily health, and that food will purify or poison, depending on the kind used? Why endanger voor health with pills and drugs when nature has provided what you need? Proper food, not medicine, will furnish your body with the necessary vitamins, proteins and minerals that go to make up proper glandolar functions, rich blood, strong muscles, active bowels, vitality and long life.

It's time to wake up! The average person knows less about his body and its requirements than he knows about anything else, but everyone knows the first law of replenishment. If we don't eat, we die; if we eat improperly, we die slowly. Thousands are turning yearly to natural foods. That is the reason that the Jones Famous Grain Mill stores (nature headquarters) were created. Here, at last, it is possible to obtain natural foods that supply the needed vitamins and minerals to starved and diseased bodies.

The Jones Grain Mill is one of the first stores of its kind in the West. It was started in 1925 and has since grown into an institution, comprising several stores, bakery, mills and mail order house. Our list of daily and weekly consumers includes hundreds of thousands of people who have found that it is possible to eat their way back to health and build up amazingly new vitality with these pure and delicious natural foods and delicacies of every kind imaginable.

For the convenience of our customers, we have published a catalog, endeavoring to present and list, along with prices, health foods and beverages for the every need of those seeking health the natural way. We have made a complete study in practical dietetics and we feel that our foods and those manufactured by eminent and recognized health doctors, of which we are representatives, will meet the needs of everyone suffering from the effects of wrong eating and that each of these foods may be depended upon to be exactly what it is represented to be and to do what it is expected to accomplish.

Outdoor Life to Aid Sale of Xmas Seals

The Assistance Auxiliary of the Outdor Life and Health Association is helping the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association prepare for the annual sale of Christmas Seals, it was learned this week.

A group including Mrs. Fannie Williams, Mrs. Leonard Stovall, Mrs. Josephine Brown, Mrs. Edward Atkinson, Sr., Mrs. Jefferson Fowler, Mrs. Alice Cunningham and Mrs. Seth Edith Lee, spent several hours at the tuberculosis association's headquarters Monday folding sheets of Seals.

The Seals are sold each year to raise funds to carry on the fight against tuberculosis in the city of Los Angeles. The program of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association includes tuberculin testing of children in junior and senior high schools; follow up of children who have positive reactions to the test; distribution of literature on the nature, cause prevention and treatment of tuberculosis; rehabilitation of former patients; and an educational program.

The educational program includes the showing of motion pictures such as "Let My People Live" an all-Negro talking film that is available through the association.

Anthology of Negro Poetry to Be Published Nov. 21st

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. (ANP)—Henry Harrison, poetry publisher has announced that "Negro Voices", an anthology of contemporary verse, will be published on November 21st. This book, edited by Beatrice M. Murphy, and illustrated by Clifton Thompson Hill, both of Washington, contains 204 poems by 83 poets representing 22 states, the District of Columbia and England.

Miss Murphy reports that poems were submitted by 179 poets from 30 states and from far away as Ireland. Washington, D. C., leads in the number of contributors to the anthology with 16. New York State is second with 11 poets and Louisiana third with 10. California is represented by 9, Illinois by 6, Ohio 4; Georgia, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and Texas by 3 each; Michigan, Missouri and Virginia by 2 each; and Mississippi, Maryland, Alabama, Arizona, New Jersey, Nebraska, Tennessee, Indiana, West Virginia and England by 1 each.

"Since the appearance of Countee Cullen's 'Caroling Dusk' in 1927", writes Miss Murphy in her foreword to this anthology, "no significant collection of Negro poetry has appeared. It is timely, therefore, to bring the status of the Negro in the field of poetry up to date. Then, too, all previous anthologies of Negro poetry have been curiously alike. We know exactly what names would be found inside. This book serves two purposes; it gives the reader new poems by his old favorites, and presents a number of new poets.

"The role of the Negro writer is a difficult one. Only in exceptional cases does he find a guiding hand to help him reach the heights. For the most part his efforts are met by a callous indifference. The mediums for publication within his own group are almost nil. I think this book gives irrefutable evidence that the Negro is singing even more lustily than before. If this anthology goes no further than to convince the American public of the great potentialities within our race, and that the Negro is continuing to make his contribution to American culture, then it has been well worth the effort."

Name H. U. Dean to Journal's Staff

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 13. (ANP)—Bishop S. L. Greene of the AME Church this week announced that Dean Mayes of the School of Religion, Howard University, has been appointed on the editorial and managerial staff of Christendom, internationally famed church review. Publishers of Christendom recently donated it outright to the North America Section of the proposed World Council of Churches.

Seattle Girl Gets Boost from College

SEATTLE, Oct. 13.—The world does grow better and better day by day!

The story of the cooperation extended by a college principal and his entire school to the theatrical career of a 17-year-old colored girl was told here recently.

This girl is Phyllis Marshall, niece of Mrs. Lillian Payne of this city. Phyllis is in the fifth form at Runnymede college, and the principle of the school has ordered a special time table arranged for her so that she may sing each evening at the Silver Slipper Night club, where she also leads an orchestra.

Phyllis broke into the limelight in 1937 when she scored an immediate success as a singer over the Star Fresh Air Fund Broadcast.

Now at night, the young lady is a glittering star of Seattle's Gay White Way, and by day, a hard-working Runnymede student.

Unique Testing Service Benefits Purchasers of Electric Ranges in L. A.

Each Blue Ribbon electric range on display at nearly 250 electric stores throughout Los Angeles is thoroughly tested—for three hours—by the Bureau of Power and Light before it is installed in the home. This service according to a spokesman for the Bureau, is unique. "Nowhere in the entire country," he declared, "is the purchaser of an electric range so protected against inferior or defective appliances as are users of electric service on Bureau power lines."

The Bureau maintains three Test Depots in Los Angeles which render not only a testing service, but also delivery and installation services.

When a housewife buys an electric range, the model she chooses is shipped from fresh stock by an electric range distributor direct to one of the Bureau test depots. Here it is carefully inspected and tested by expert workmen, and then delivered to the home and installed by the Bureau. In most other cities in the United States, the cost of installation is assumed by the purchaser, the delivery is made by the electric dealer, and there is no testing service which benefits the purchaser, it was explained. Too, the Los Angeles family has the additional advantage of low municipal electric rates made possible by low-cost Boulder Dam power.

Blue Ribbon ranges now featured by electric dealers may be purchased on easy EHFA terms for as little as 5% down and only $2.96 per month payable with water or electric bill. Further information can be obtained by telephoning your city-owned Bureau of Power and Light. Michigan 4211, Station 2644.

TODAY

By CHARLES EDWARDS

Negro Radio, Stage, and Screen, Stars are your BEST entertainment. That's the sign I would put up all over the country if I were in Will Hayes place, in the motion picture industry. There's no doubt about it that for real serious moments in a 60 minute feature Louise. Beavers would play the part. For hilarious laughter in a good comedy give us Stepin Fetchit. A good musical would not be complete without America's leading Negro star, the one whom I have selected to pay tribute to TODAY, a man who has made the world recognize his race on the silver screen, in the nation's million dollar industry. Liberal, and generious cannot describe the free hearted man that our (No. 1) star, Bill Robinson is. Many times he contracts for shows just so he will have money to donate to some worthy cause. Not very long ago I visited the star's home (picture No. 1) located in the heart of the Negro population on Los Angeles beautiful West Side. A visit that I shall get permission to take some of Los Angeles promising youngsters. You will be greeted by the charming Mrs. Fannie Robinson. (picture No. 2) wife of "Bill" nothing luxurious, nothing extravagant, just a typical American home where Bill's many frineds may visit him and help to make the remaining years of his life as cheerful as the first 60. (picture No. 3) Bill enjoys a game of pool in the bright little play room that sits apart from the house, with Wm. Bottoms, dietitian ofr the heavyweight Champion of the World, Joe Louis, Bill's idol, and Virgil M. Morrow, leading Negro electrician. When friends come over such as Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harvey, shown in (picture No. 4) it is to Bill's delight that they bring Frank Harvey, jr. so that he will have an excuse to get down on the floor and have a good time with Frank, and Mickey, Bill's dog. (picture No. 6) A hand painted drawing of Bill at the age of 9. (picture No. 7) the Bill Robinson of TO-DAY. (picture No. 8) The $13.00 shoes that never miss a performance, the shoes that have brought the great Bill to the top of the world, more then 10 times the cost of the shoes have been paid for half soles of the finest mahogany. (picture No. 9) the one man that holds more honorary police badges than any other celebrity. (No 10) In his bed room he looks at the picture of his favorite musician. And (No. 11) Mrs. Robinson prepares for bed. Many thanks to Bill Robinson for a grand day and we want him to know that the Negro race wish him much success and happiness, and may he continue to hold the record for another 60 years.

Golden State

Following its policy of constant and sound progress, and in keeping with the present program of expansion, the olden State Mutual Life Insurance Company attained another goal this week when it received a formal permit from the California Insurance Commissioner to issue Certificates of Advancement amounting to $100,000. The anouncement came from the office of the company's Secretary-Treasurer, Norman O. Houston, who was very jubiliant over the achievement.

"It means that we may proceed with our plans to convert the company into a mutual legal reserve insurer, whereas, heretofore, we have operated on the stipulated premium plan, maintaining full legal reserves. Furthermore, satisfying the legal reserve requirements of California is tantamount to meeting any other state's requirements, because this state's insurance laws are so strict." Mr. Houston remarked in commenting on the permit.

He stated that Golden State Mutual could continue its program of expansion to other states and pointd to the new service as added evidence of progress and sound policies.

The Certificate of Advancement will be issued in units of Ten Dollars ($10) each and will earn interest amounting to 4 per cent the first year and not less than 5 per cent thereafter. The company, also, received authority to refund Certificates of Contribution Membership which were given in the company's beginning with the new issues.

Members of the company will have preference in subscribing to these securities. Upon completion of the present plan of development, the company will have an excess of $250,000 surplus, which will render it one of the most strongly entrenched companies in the country, regardless of size.

BAPTISTS TO BEGIN STATE-WIDE 'KINGDOM DRIVE' IN AREA MEETS

INSPIRATIONAL AREA MEETINGS SEEK TO QUICKEN INTEREST IN AND SANDARDIZE WORK OF DENOMINATION IN CHURCHES OF STATE

The Western Baptist State Convention, Rev. C. H. Hampton, president, will begin next week a series of inspirational area meetings in a "Kingdom Drive" which will seek to quicken interest in and standardize the work of the denomination in the local churches of the state. The fields in which special emphasis will be placed are Christian education, evangelism, stewardship, missions and convention program. This will be accomplished by a "Flying Squadron" of ministers in the Southern California division.

Afternoon and evening meetings will be held with the following churches as centers: October 18, Ventura; October 19, Venice; October 20, Trinity, Los Angeles; October 21, Second, Los Angeles; October 26, San Bernardino; October 27, Alhambra; October 28, Long Beach; November 2, Indio; November 3, Blythe and November 4, Brawley. Churches in the immediate vicinity of these centers are required to attend the sessions. Efforts will be made to have entire congregations led by their pastors and lay leaders to be present at each session. Key men have been appointed to make local arrangements.

A very special sermon will be delivered at the Adventist church 40th Place and Wadsworth Ave., Sunday night at 8 p. m., when the pastor presents "Are we sure that the Bible is God's word?"—and he will illustrate this stirring discourse using many of the finest screen pictures possible to secure. The Sabbath (Saturday) services begin at 9:25 with the Sabbath school session and at 11 a.m. the pastor will preach. This week he will answer the question given to him "Are we saved by deeds or by faith?"

Rev. E. E. Lightner, pastor of the Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church at Vernon and Hooper avenues will speak on: "The Church in the World" at the eleven o'clock services Sunday morning. At 7:30, there will be a mass meeting with "World Peace" as the central theme. Services will be held in the main auditorium of the church which has been re-opened following extensive repairs. In the very near future, a two-week service will celebrate this re-opening along with the twenty-third year of the pastorate of Rev. Lightner.

Wesley Chapel M. E. Church's pastor, Rev. E. W. Rakestraw will preach from the subject, "A Job For Everybody" Sunday morning. In the evening, there will be a union service of Wesley and the First A. M. E. church. Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, pastor of First A. M. E. will speak and the choir of that church will render the evening's music.

Elder M. W. Gray, LL. D., evangelist and pastor of the Church of God in Christ in San Diego, formerly of New York, is conducting a tent revival at 3220 South Central avenue.

Rev. T. T. Addison, minister of the Goodwill Missionary Baptist Church, 1545 East 23rd St. will preach the fourth in his series of sermons on the "Holy Spirit" Sunday from the subject, "The Holy Spirit Sanctifies and the Holy Spirit Inspires." A Bible Institute for ministers and Christian workers will open in the church soon. Classes will be offered in Bible geography, archeology, history, English, rhetoric, composition, spelling, reading, and writing. Further information may be secured by calling Rev. Addison at Adams 3487.

The following junior chorus will render a musical festival Sunday, October 16, at three o'clock in the Progressive Baptist Church, 1201 East Vernon ave. Mt. Zion, New Hope, St. Paul, Corner Stone Baptist Churches, and the Bethel Church of Christ. Mrs. C. R. Finley is sponsor and Rev. R. B. Porter, pastor.

The intial services of the Ebenzer Mission at 25th and Compton drew capacity audiences all day according to the reports of Rev. F. Cameron, pastor, and A. M. Featherson, assistant. Services will continue every night and all day Sunday.

Two messages--of great spiritual import--are in store for the congregation of Friendship Baptist and the many friends of the church for this Sunday morning's and evening's service. The Rev. W. D. Carter, pastor to Friendship Baptist church will occupy the pulpit to deliver a sermon at the 11 o'clock morning service from the subject "The Christian's Ample Supply". The evening service will feature the sermon: "Who Are You?"

For the past week a splendid program of religious education has been in operation at the church; and a noteworthy assembly has gathered for each of the sessions.

Instructors for the religious education activities include such well-known divines and professional men as the Reverends: W. R. Carter, E. W. Moore, J. L. Caston, J. M. Riddle, and Attorney Ralph Merriam.

Attend Friendship Baptist Church for spiritual and intellectual advancement.

Thursday, Oct. 20, 7:30 p. m.: CME church night. Dr. Cleaves, pastor, will speak and his choir will sing.

Friday, Oct. 21, 7:30 p. m.: Dr. L. M. Curtis of the Macedonia Baptist church and his choir will be our guests. Dr. Curtis will bring the message.

Sunday, Oct. 23: 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Special services.

Monday, Oct. 24, 7:30 p. m.: An evening with Bethlehem Baptist church, Rev. A. Moten, pastor. Rev. Moten will preach and his choir will sing.

Tuesday, Oct. 25: An evening with the Congregational churches. Dr. Paul A. Davies, Dr. Samuel H. Hitchcock and others will bring greetings and their choirs will sing.

Wednesday, Oct. 26: An evening with social welfare agencies. A special musical program.

Thursday, Oct. 27: Banquet.

Friday, Oct. 28: An evening with the Christian churches, their pastors and choirs. Rev. A. W. Jacobs, Rev. M. F. Mitchell, Rev. Baxter S. Duke.

Sunday, Oct. 30, 11 a. m.: Speaker to be announced. Special music. 3:00 p. m.: Union Usher Board. 7:30 p. m.: An evening with our own choir, directed by Mrs. C. D. Frederick.

You are cordially invited to worship with us and be a part of all these services.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text cites Paul's words to the Thessalonians: "God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him."

A Scriptural selection in the Lesson Sermon includes the verses from Peter's first epistle: "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy."

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, state: "Like our Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being." "If Truth is overcoming error in your daily walk and conversation, you can finally say, 'I have fought a good fight. . . I have kept the faith,' because you are a better man."

Hall Johnson's Choral Group to Meet at Jeff Hi

Each Friday at Jefferson Evening High School an opportunity is given to those wishing to join a mixed chorus, to get unusual mous for musical productions both training for Hall Johnson, fain New York and Los Angeles, is devoting three hours every Friday to directing this group. Special Vespers at Hamilton M. E.

At 4 p. m. Sunday, October 16, Mrs. Mabel Williams and James Brown, both of whom are blind, will be presented in a Vesper service, at Hamilton M.E. church, E. 18th street and Naomi avenue. Mrs. Williams and Mr. Brown, though handicapped by blindness, are very capable and efficient, and will present a program of music and literary numbers which will not only be revealing but helpful. The Usher Board holds its its annual tea at the home of Mrs. Odessa Hudson, 3447 McKinley ave., Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16, from 3:30 to 7:30 p. m. At 7:30 p. m. the States of Florida, Kentucky and Tennessee, will be represented by a program from the former citizens of these states.

Negro Clergyman Honored By White Baptists

BOSTON, Oct. 13. (ANP)—Last week, for the first time in the history of the Boston South Baptist Association (white), a colored man, Rev. W. S. Ravenell was named Moderator of a group that comprises 23 churches and hundreds of delegates, all of whom except one, are white. Rev. Ravenell is also a director of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention (white).

Announcement of his election as Moderator was made at the association's annual session at Ebenezer Baptist church, attended by 282 delegates. The Rev. A. DeWitt Paul, incumbent Moderator, presided. For years Ebenezer has been the only colored church in the association and Rev. Ravenell's election to the highest regional post climaxes many years of activity with the body.

Hold Final Rites for Emile Bagneris

Emile L. Bagneris, of 811 E. 31st stret, one of the most active members of the East side's Hamilton M. E. Church, died suddenly at his home, October 4. Mr. Bagneris was considered one of the most faithful and dependable members of the church. He was a member of the usher board and the men's chorus.

The deceased church worker was born in Franklin, La., and had lived here for 16 years. For more than 40 years he worked at his trade of a carpenter. Rev. S. M. Beane, pastor of Hamilton, presided at the final services last Saturday in the church chapel of Angelus Funeral Home. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

His survivors include his widow, Mrs. Pennie L. Bagneris, a number of children, grandchildren, grandchildren and other relatives.

Philly Y Changes Banking System

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 13. (ANP)—Making the race's money do "double duty" was effected here this week when the Christian Street YMCA began depositing its funds in the Citizens and Southern Bank and Trust Company, Philadelphia's only race-operated and owned banking institution.

Formerly, all the nine branches of the city deposited their monies with the Central Association which, in turn, used central City Banks, but at the suggestion of Herbert T. Miller, executive secretary of the Christian Street Branch, it was recently ruled that neighborhood banks may be used by each branch.

Last Rites for 4 Conducted at Angelus

The funeral of Willis Lindsey, 2034 E. 117th stret, was held from the church chapel of Angelus Funeral Home last Friday, following his death at the General hospital, October 4. He had made his home in Los Angeles for 32 years, coming here from his native home, La Grange, Texas.

The deceased leaves two sons, two sisters, one is Mrs. Bertie Brown of 1514 West 36th street, and a brohter, James Lindsey of this city. Rev. S. M. Beane conducted the last rites and burial was in Evergreen cemetery under direction of the Angelus Funeral Home.

Last rites for Walter M. Goodwin, 1648 W. 36th place, who passed away at the Methodist hospital October 4, were observed in the church chapel of Angelus Funeral Home last Saturday morning, with Rev. H. B. Hawes, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, officiating.

The deceased had lived here for 26 years, and was born in Macon, Miss. Interment was in Rosedale cemetery.

Among the survivors is a daughter, Mrs. Mabel Collins, with whom Mr. Goodwin made his home.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mariah Reece were held at Shiloh Baptist church, directed by the Angelus Funeral Home, Tuesday afternon, with interment in Lincoln Memorial Park.

The deceased was a native of Thompson, Ga., and had made her home in Los Angeles for the past 15 years. She died last Friday at her late residence, 1735 51st street. A husband, Augustus Reece, and several sons survive.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Minnie Gaylord, who died at her home, 1543 East 47th street, October 4, are being made by the Angelus uneral Home.

Mrs. Gaylord had come from Tulsa, Oklahoma, and was visiting one of her daughters and a son, Walter Gaylord, here. She was born in Athens, Georgia

E. E. P. Class at Independent Becomes Popular

The class in Community Problems under the Emergency Educational Program in connection with the Los Angeles City Board of Education held at People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma, is rapidly becoming one of the popular classes in the educational program of the church recently instituted by the minister, Rev. Clayton D. Russell, according to claims made by officials of the Church today.

Taught by Le Roy S. Hart, the course deals with conditions affecting individuals and families in their respective communities.

The classes are held through the week in the evenings, beginning at 6:30, and are free to the public.

CARLYLE SCOTT, director of the male chorus in "Run Little Chillun" which will be featured in the all men's concert at Second Baptist Church Sunday, will appear with his aggregation. (See story)

Bomb Explodes in Church; Newly Plastered

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 13. (ANP)—A mystery bomb, exploding in the lobby of Missionary Baptist church at 4:55 Sunday morning, wrecked two doors, tore a hole in the floor and knocked off recently applied plaster. No reason has been uncovered for the blast.

Present in the building at the time were Abraham Jones, custodian, and his sister, Mrs. Roxie Burns, who live in the basement. They were unhurt. The bomb very small, had evidently been dropped into a sheet metal mail box outside the door with a 2 by 6 inch opening.

The congregation took over the church July 31 and three weeks before the bombing plastered and painted the auditorium.

Rev. Cleaves Back at Phillips Temple

Rev. Lane C. Cleaves, pastor of Phillips Temple C. M. E. Church here, was returned to his post by the California Annual Conference last week which closed its session in Phoenix, Arizona under the supervision of Bishop Charles Henry Phillips of Cleveland, Ohio. Rev. E. N. Smith was appointed presiding elder of the Los Angeles District.

The 1939 session of the conference will be held in Berkeley, California.

A concert presenting various men's singing groups will be held at the Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith avenue, Sunday aftrenoon, Oct. 16, at four o'clock under the auspices of the Second Baptist choir, of which Mozelle T. Outley is director and Luvenia H. Dones, organist. Outstanding among the groups to be efatured is the Federal Male Chorus from the production, "Run Little Chillun." The chorus of forty voices is directed by Carlyle Scott.

Stokes' Hallelujah Quartette, a male octette directed by Florence Cadrez, Avalon Christian Church male quartette, St. Paul Baptist Church male quartette will also appear. Other quartettes will include the Phillips' Temple C. M. E. Church group, the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company aggregation, the Second Baptist Baby Male quartet.

Samuel Brown, for several years organist at the People's Independent Church of Christ, and now music teacher at Jefferson High Schol will be at the console of the Moeller organ. Clarence Muse, radio and screen artist and director of "Run Little Chillun," will make the presentations.

Guests will be received by hostesses working with the following: Mmes. Henrieta H. Chiles, Madie J. Funchess, and Ella Traeye-Hampton.

SECOND BAPT. ANNIVERSARY

The seventeenth anniversary celebration of the pastorate of Dr. T. L. Griffith of the Second Baptist Church closed last Sunday with a week's services culminating in a number of felicitations and presentations.

Dr. W. D. Carter preached the morning sermon and Dr. E. W. More filled the pulpit in the evening. The boards of the church presented Dr. Griffith with a 17 jewel watch.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Prof. Linder to Speak at Jeff Hi

Prof. Eugene Linder, who has recently returned to the United States, after a stay of considerable length abroad, will be presented in an address at the Thomas Jefferson High School evening session Friday, commencing at 7 p. m.

Explaining latest world political developments, Prof. Linder will speak on "His Personal Experiences in Nazi Germany, Czechoslovakia".

Lutherans Urge Negro Missions in Southern States

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13. (ANP)—Establishing of Negro missions in strategic centers in the South was recommended Thursday by a special commission to the 11th biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Enlargement of the work of the board of American missions and a study with United Lutheran pastors in the South were also recommended by the commission, which held the work was too heavy to be carried on by the establishment of a Lutheran church among Southern Negroes.

Socialized Medicine is Sermon Topic

"The People's Side of Socialized Medicine" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning at eleven o'clock at St. Philip's Episcopal Church, 28th Street and Stanford Avenue. Father Moore, Vicar of the congregation, made this announcmeent recently in connection with the observance of St. Luke's Day.

St. Luke, physician and Biblical writer, suffered martyrdom for the Christian Cause, and it is customary in the Episcopal Church to observe these special days with special services. Sunday, October 16 is the Sunday nearest St. Luke's Day, and St. Philip's Church will observe the day with fitting services.

Father Moore feels that the people have a side in any proposed plan of sociologic, social, socialized, or State medicine of which we have heard much recently. He purposes to enlighten his congregation on the whole subject, and make a proposal to his people. Special invitations have been sent physicians, dentists, nurses, pharmacists, and social workers to attend the service.

Realty Exchange Seeks to Oust Man from Home

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13. (ANP)—A suit was filed in Circuit Court here this week, seeking to enjoin Joseph L. McLemore, prominent local attorney, from continuing to reside in his home in St. Louis' N. Market street, which he purchased last year.

The suit alleged McLemore's residence there is in violation of the restrictions in the deed to the property and the suit was filed by officers of the St. Louis Real Eseate Exchange, named as trustees to enforce the restrictions. The petition alleges that the restrictions, drawn in 1923, for 20 years, prohibit selling or renting the property to Negroes. It states the property was sold to McLemore through other parties, in October, 1937.

THANKS, SUBSCRIBERS:

Your response to our collectors is very much appreciated by the management of the EAGLE. Many persons are still in arrears however, and we solicit the consideration of all. Be fair to yourself by paying promptly as it takes money to carry on. Help us to help you. Thanks!

Need of Social Security Nos. is Cited

Difficulties of placing persons in even temporary jobs who do not have social security numbers was cited by the Urban League's employment secretary this week, who urged that all employable persons whether working or not secure such numbers. Office of the Social Security Board is at 11th and Hill streets, and social security numbers can be secured there any day except Saturday.

Persons eligible for National Youth Administration Project employment are urged to register at the local office of the administration, 1206 S. Santee street. Such persons should secure in advance of registration identification cards and numbers from the California State Employment Service at 11th and Hill stretes. Information about NYA projects can be obtained from the office of the Urban League, also, at 2502 S. Central avenue.

Many persons who do not keep their changes of address and phone numbers up to date at employment offices where they are registered often lose possible employment, it was pointed out this week by the employment secretary of the Urban League. Workers seeking employment were advised that employment offices should always have the latest address and phone number of the applicant on file, in order to ensure their being reached when employment is available.

By GORDON HANCOCK for ANP

'Gloomy Dean' Glad to Get Back to America; Treated Better in Germany Than in England; Visited Czechs Thinking for Ourselves

(By Gordon Hancock for ANP)

The United States is a great country and blessed are they who understand it. After two months of travel and study it is a source of genuine satisfaction to breathe again the air of these United States. My travels took me through Central Europe and through the countries armed and arming for war. Little Czechoslavakia was most imposing as it girded itself to fight Germany. Her soldiers are reputed to be among the best in Europe and although she cannot match Germany in numbers, in courage and equipment she can. Great Britain and France are ready to betray Czechoslavakia just as they did Ethiopia and herein lies the tragedy of Europe and the world. When the umpire gets "rotten" the game is a farce; and that is what is happening in Europe. Heretofore Great Britian has been the arbiter of international disputes and somehow she has won the confidence of the world and this gives her great power in international matters. But today Great Britain and not Germany is the menace to the peace of the world. Great Britain is always ready to make concessions which cost her nothing but moral prestige. She is always ready to come to "terms" which leave her with a wide hegemony. So long as her borders are intact she is ready to appease Hitler and Mussolini and is quite willing to cede territory —of some smaller nation. It is strange that when the Kaiser called a treaty "a scrap of paper" he was howled down by the world. Yet Great Britain's and France's treaties are mere "scraps of paper." The British Empire is tottering and the spineless diplomacy of the present is hastening rather than postponing the dreadful day of its doom. Strangely enough we were treated most kindly in Germany and the least kindly in England. Hitler in his "Mein Kampf" speaks disparagingly of the Negro; yet in Austria and Germany our treatment was most cordial from every point of view. In England much is said about the equality of man yet the treatment closely approximates that of the south.

When I study race relations in Germany and England and note the difference in their treatment of the Negro, I am reminded of an incident that happened in my boyhood in a little South Carolina village. It was on a cold November day while sitting by the fire in the rear of a store that I overheard a conversation between the two clerks who had leisure by reason of the rainy weather. While the two clerks were gossiping, a Negro passed the store front. One of the clerks expressed how he disliked the said Negro and wanted nothing to do with him otherwise he might "crack his head". He held that the Negro was contemptible. He further said that if he met the Negro on the street the Negro would have to step aside and let him pass otherwise he would pounce on him.

The other clerk, a Mr. McSwain spoke up in defense of the Negro and said he saw no reason why a Negro should give a white man all the street. On the other hand he said that all he wanted of the Negro was half of the street for the other half belonged to the Negro. The clerks argued heatedly with the first clerk saying that he liked "good niggers" but hated the bad ones.

Finally Mr. McSwain spoke up and said, "I don't want you to misunderstand me, Tom, I don't care as much for niggers as I care for dogs, but I will treat them right." That conversation has followed me down through the years and the riper my experience the more I am convinced that those two clerks represent two schools of thought as they obtain among the whites of the world.—One school for sentimental reasons will select certain Negroes to treat right while utterly hostile to all others. Another school tries to be just and fair in a mechanical way.

These two schools are represented in Germany and England today. In Germany the Negro is outlawed as a man but they treat him as a man; in England ever so much is said about "equality" etc., but the treatment of the treatment of the Negro is far from ideal.

I am convinced that the center of this racialism that proscribes the Negro is in England. History shows that England is the only one of the colonizing nations that religiously forbids its colonists from intermarrying with the natives. This leaves very strained relations between colonists and natives and breeds hatreds that spread throughout the world. Germany or Britain?

Seth B. Ray Back from Realty Meet

By SETH B. RAY

Broker - 2302 Griffith Avenue

(Seth B. Ray attends the Los Angeles Realty Board Convention which opened in San Bernardino, California.)

On October 5, 1938, leaving Los Angeles Wednesday morning at 8:15 a. m., arriving in San Bernardino in time for the opening session, it was my greatest pleasure to be in the hall of 1100 members of the various boards.

Many discussions were brought up relative to the handling of properties and disposing of them in a satisfactory business manner. The information that I received was of much importance to me.

There are many complications in real estate transactions that make it imperative for the holding of these conventions in order that we be prepared to take correct actions in such transactions. It is imperative that we study our business. Therefore, at the close of this session I returned to Los Angeles with wholesome business information.

The Third Day Session

Leaving Los Angeles at 7:40 a. m. on the Grand Canyon Limited and arriving in San Bernardino at 10:05 a. m. for the opening session for that day the discussion was for the good of the future development of the city, county and state. This gave me faith and courage and hopes for the welfare of our people and to have great hope in the home-loving ones of this community. I am embraced with great courage to organize in my business the high ideals for which a successful business is operated.

My friends you can rest assured that I am alert to the keenness of all matters to bring about a good business and fair dealing. My office you can rely upon for service, fidelity, and honest dealing.

The convention closed Friday, October 7, 1938 and I stayed in San Bernardino until 6:15 p. m., boarding the Navaho of the Santa Fe, for Los Angeles by way of Riverside, Fullerton and Pomona and traveling through these fertile fields I drew vivid pictures of hope and prosperity for the people to accomplish my hope and own beautiful homes and ranches in and nearby Los Angeles which many prices at this time are very reasonable.

May I at this time have a parting word with you. All be honest with all your dealings and you surely will make money.

May we consider the power of organization and work to one high ideal and with this in mind, do our best for the good of the people.

CHATTER AND . SOME NEWS

By HELEN F. CHAPPELL

Society Editor

October's bright hard blue weather ushers in a round of club and social activity which bids to make this season one of the busiest ever. With the children quite resigned to school and letters announcing the safe arrival of Eastbound eds and co-eds, the breathing spell gives time to plan programs of the various clubs' fiscal year.

Mention of co-eds brings to mind that Rose Marie King, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. Curtis King, 9418 Zamora Avenue, entertained last Thursday for Sedalia, North Carolina where she will enter the Palmer Memorial Institute . . . Just before leaving, she was entertained by Mary Lou and Barbara Jean Whittaker in their home at 9511 Zamora . . . Her mother and dad, together with Lois and Carlita Bowdan andlittle Kenny Taylor accompanied Rose Marie to the station . . . We're wishing her loads of success in the South and a lots of new friends.

Charity and social welfare organizations are gauging their respective activities for an abundant preping of funds for dissemination of Thanksgiving and Yuletide joy. Naturally, the social clubs are looking to Hallowe'en and gobblins . . . the Daffodil Girls are planning a pre-Hallowe'en Barn Dance for October 22 in East 50th street.

*OCTOBER ROMANCES*s

. . . Romance we have always with us, and cool October nights has not lessened the interest in the coming marriage of Marjorie Shields, pretty post-debutante daughter of Mrs. Doshia Brown, to Dewey Samuel Brooks on October 30. Among the pre-nuptial affairs for which invitations have been issued in honor of Miss Shields is the shower in the home of Miss Orleia Ennis at 4173 Ascot Avenue, Sunday afternoon, October 23.

Another romance will be welded in the marriage of Garth Adams and Miss Constance E. Scott on the afternoon of the twenty-third of October. Constance, the daughter of the James Scotts in West 35th St., is a member of the Modernistics Club and a Manual Arts grad of the class of '37. The groom-elect is the son of Mrs. Le Pearle T. Adams and brother of Neile Adams who weds Connie Robinson in 1939. Garth is a L. A. grad and represented his school with free hand architectural drawings at the annual County Fair some seasons ago. He is also former advisor of the L. A. Hi-Y . . . and in the employ of Southern Pacific Railway.

Congratulations are past due for the Walter B. Smiths (Sydnetta Dones who're parents of a healty specimen of masculinity named Walter Preston Smith. The babe and mother have been home from the Doctors' Hospital on East Jefferson since October 1.

So glad to hear that Luvenia Harper-Dones is rapidly recovering at the Good Samaritan Hospital where she underwent an operation last week. Mrs. Dones is organist at Second Baptist church and quite a figure in music circles.

Vivian Osborne-Marsh of Berkeley's in town looking as smart as ever . . . Mrs. Essie White's heading the Las Amigas club again. Coordinating council chairmen met in Jefferson High Tuesday at 1:30 to select committee members . . . Allr oads are leading North for the Cal.-U. C. L. A game this week-end . . . Rush affairs are history and new co-eds look relieved.

WE SHALL HAVE MUSIC

Fall's the time for it . . . Next Sunday (October 16) the George Carver Club is presenting Leslie Browne, tenor in the auditorium of First A. M. E. Church at Eighth and Towne Avenue . . . Ernestine Jones-Wade's friends, fans, and admirers are reserving November 8 as a "must" date when the young soprano will be presented in concert at Second Baptist Church. Lucille Blaychetti will accompany her . . . Marion Anderson's on the Philharmonic concert season program again this winetr.

The sparkle that comes with informal cocktail parties delighted the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCauley last week-end when they honored Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Jones of Dallas, Texas in their South Hudson Street home. Those bidden included Messrs. and Mmes. Morris Moody, Joe Taylor, Roi E. Howard, Norman Armstrong, and the Misses Bertha and Doris Austin.

I am very grateful for the note from the Girls Friends Social Club expressing appreciation for the way club news is handled and saying that Santa will remember it . . . and many thanks to the C. U. C.s for the unexpected token received Sunday. Gosh, you don't know how it bolsters the sails to receive flowers . . . just when you're convinced that "there ain't no good in work nohow" . . . Thanks a million.

FIFTY NURSES RECEIVED AT PRETTY TEA HOSTED BY NEWLY ORGANIZED CHAPTER OF NATIONAL NURSES' SORORITY

The beautiful residence of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hardiman at 768 East 52nd place, was the setting for a fall tea introducing members of the Delta chapter, Chi Eta Phi Sorority of Nurses, Sunday afternoon beginning at half after four o'clock and continuing until seven.

The chapter is a graduate one recently receiving its charter from the national organization and Sunday's affair was exclusively for graduate nurses of Los Angeles County.

Approximately fifty nurses were received by Dr. and Mrs. Hardiman, Miss Ferrol Bobo, basileus (president) of the sorority; Miss Arlayne Hall, vice-president; and Miss Evelyn Delaney, recording secretary. Mrs. Hardiman wore rose lace over shimmering satin; Miss Bobo, pink taffetta; Miss Hall, blue lace over satin; and Miss Dulaney blue taffeta.

Pouring tea were Misses Ruby Wiggins in black velvet and Corrine Fleming in navy blue crepe. Misses Wiggins and Fleming are corresponding secretary and treasurer respectively. Other officers and members include Misses Clyde McCollum, Melrose Jones, Mariam M. Willingham, Louise Smith, and Corrine Howell. All wore afternoon dress and gardenias in their coiffeurs.

Interesting Program Entertain Guests

Guests to the pretty affair were entertained with an interesting program which featured Miss Sara Johnson, an undergraduate nurse, in a solo; the Nelson sisters in a piano duet and an informal greeting and address by Miss Bobo, "Nursing Education, A New Environment"; and introduction of the hostesses and guests. Miss Vera Wysinger, associate member, was mistress of ceremonies. She wore a gown of black velvet.

A number of greetings were received by the neophytes, among them a floral tribute from Miss Doris Jefferson of the L.A. County Hospital and telegraphic congratulations from Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Founded At Freedman's

The national organization was founded at Freedman's Hospital Nurses Home in 1932 and was incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia on May 1, 1934. Its name denotes character, education and friendship and the paramount purpose of the organization is the encouragement of higher education of its affiliates. The sorority has been active in a number of health and charity activities and was awarded a certificate of merit by the National Negro Health movement for achievement in the observation of National Negro Health Week.

Local Head Well Qualified

Miss Ferrol Bobo who heads the local chapter has been cited by her colleagues as one of the best qualified persons for the position by reason of her activity as a member of the California State Nurses Association, the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, the local Phys-Art-Lit-Mor Study club of which she is literature chairman. Miss Bobo begins her senior year at the University of Southern California next semester for her academic degree.

IMPROVING

MRS. LUVENIA HARPER-DONES, well known organist, who is reported improving at the Good Samaritan Hospital where she underwent an operation last week.

Seek Support of Negro Beauticians

CHICAGO, Oct. 13. (ANP)—The Illinois Association of Beauty Culture Schools, (white) let down their color bars this week and again invited their "colored friends," the owners and managers of beauty culture schools, to join their "School Owners' Association."

It was recalled that three years ago colored operators were denied membership in the white association and were told to join their own organization. This action was protested by the colored beauticians at the meeting, held in Springfield under direction of Supt. Swartz (white). Mrs. Marjorie Stewart Joyner, Walker College official and president of the colored beauticians' national body, appealed to the committee at Springfield to give just recognition to the colored operators, but the white association would not admit them as members.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

Mrs. Frances H. McAdams, sister of the late Kid Herman, wishes to express fro the cooperation of local citizens in acquainting her with the details of his recent death and arrnaging the details of burial. Special thanks to Mr. Ralph Gibbs, Jessie Graves, and Mrs. C. A. Bass.

Kappa Alpha Psi Buys Home at Kansas Univ.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13. (ANP)—Seeking to provide adequate living quarters for Negro students in the leading universities, the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity has bought the second chapter house within a year, it is announced in the October number of the Kappa Alpha Psi Journal, official organ of the Greek letter society.

The new House is in Lawrence, Kansas. seat of Kansas Universiyt, while the house bought last year is located in Urbana, Ill., at the University of Illinois.

Impossibility of Negro students renting in the better sections near the respective universities led the fraternity to buy these two buildings outright, and to renovate them for the benefit of its members.

Equipped with modern facilities and arrangements to encourage studying, the houses are supervised by alumni members of the fraternity. Social affairs are chaperoned and the house at Kansas University also has a resident "house mother", according to the article.

LOS ANGELES AND PASADENA SOCIETY

By GEORGE GARNER

Fallen leaves . . . come now to dapple my pathway with gold and red and yellow-brown hue . . . and I find that fall in Southern California can mean as much, for all its detachment, as did that beloved time of year in the far off city of my birth . . . these are reminiscences . . . of sighing wind and creaking bough, of acrid, leaf-smoked ways, of forgotten, scraggly flower beads and grass grown faded brown . . . forgotten too; the laughing summer voices of children . . . put aside the while they go schoolward into the crisp morning air . . . there was the cold, grey look that the lake wore; and the greyer, colder sky from whence a sun, grown burnished yellow, sent futile shafts of heat . . . October got under way there to mean three things . . . ofttime the first flurry of snow, Hallowe'en . . . and the brilliant middle Ages splendor that marked the opening of the Chicago Civic Opera . . . within that sky-reaching mass of architectural perfection that loomed out from the sweep of Wacker Drive and the jewel box glitter of fashionable Boul Mich. . . . these are but reminiscences . . . for now . . . a California wind warms, at noon, the coolness of the morning . . . and though it is the season for such things . . . there are no trees that shed to show a twisted limb or bough stary and jagged against the morning sky . . . nor softly blurred in the thickening blue dusk . . . somewhere in the boundless expense of this vibrant, lusty land there are resounding the wild cries and shouts of the lustier "rodeo" . . . and far, along and across the oily motion of the Bay at night, "Andrea Chenier" has opened to an audience of impeccable cosmopolites . . . for fall is the season of even more marked swiftness in the change of California's tempo of living.

I cannot say . . . nor give the degree of my pleasure to observe the splendid glow and return of vigor to that interesting personality . . . Mrs. Nellie V. Connor . . . visiting her this Sunday past . . . in the company of a party of friends . . . I found her radiantly returned to good health.

Mrs. Jessie Gillespie Herndon, recognized social leader of Atlanta, Georgia and a familiar Chicago summer colonist, has chosen to visit momentarily amid the infectious clime of our Southland . . . Mrs. Herndon will stay on at the Westside home of her niece, Mrs. Oscar Price.

And pasteboards are in circulation . . . to announce . . . and bid one to the concert wherein Second Baptist Church's choir will present the well-known soprano artiste, Mme. Ernestine Jones Wade . . . Tuesday evening the eighth of the month next to come . . . will find our legion music lover in attendance . . . for this will undoubtedly be an outstanding musical event of the pre-holiday season.

Mrs. Betty Hill and the energetic members of her committee . . . The Woman's Political Study Club . . . are in the midst of great plans . . . attendant upon the group's forthcoming confab to be held in Los Angeles shortly.

A never ceasing source of pleasantry . . . each early fall season . . . is the return of Mrs. Estelle Long, well-known resident of Houston, Texas; to the Southland . . . Mrs. Long's periodic trips to California are occasioned by the convening of the Christian Science Association . . . of which body she is a member . . . Mrs. Walter E. Carter, daughter of Mrs. Baptiste; will be Mrs. Long's hostess during her stay here . . . having placed her handsome Sunset avenue residence at the charming visitor's disposal.

At Miss Cruikshank's delightful high tea . . . held Friday in her Pasadena Vernon avenue home were: Mmes. Mina Miller, O. E. Taylor, Abbie Pyle, Sophie Barnett, Mary Edwards, Madge Lawson, Josephine Mack, Alhambra; Corinne B. Hicks, M. S. Howhtorne, Delia Young, E. L. Gaines Addie Small . . . all bidden to Miss Cruikshank's delightful home for the occasion . . . guests entered to be escorted immediately to an upper chamber where punch was served . . . tea was served on individual trays with an accompanying corsage . . . yellow and white chrysanthemums were massed in profusion throughout the house . . . Miss Cruikshank is especially noted for her lavish entertainment.

PROCESSION SOUTHLANDIA

At the impressive services Sunday morning at the Scott M. E. Church, Pasadena . . . Mmes. Anna Baptiste, Estelle Long, Houston, Texas; Walter E. Carter . . . the latter in a becoming green ensemble with silver fox . . . the entire Callier family . . . Mrs. Russell Grant, Mrs. Wilbur St. Claire, Mmes. Lula Walton and Elizabeth Johnson . . . attending the evening session . . . Mmes. Gertrude Wiggins and Ruby Morton . . . N. A. A. C. P. COMMENTS

October 8, 1938

Mr. Thomas L. Griffith, Jr.,
President
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People,
1105 East Vernon Avenue,
Los Angeles, California.
My Dear Mr. Griffith:

I am aware that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sponsored the Gavagan-Wagner Van Nuys Anti-Lynching Bill which was filibustered out of existence in the Senate.

I trust that you are also aware that I worked for and voted for the passage of this Bill. You are quite right in saying that a tremendous struggle will ensue upon the introduction of this Bill, or another one like it. As far as the House of Representatives is concerned, I feel sure that here, once again, you will find the sentiment predominately in favor of such legislation. The Senate does not, however, present a very favorable picture.

Be assured that I shall continue my fight as I did in the last session of Congress.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) BYRON N. SCOTT.
Congressman 18th District.

Mr. Thos. L. Griffith, Jr.,
President,
1105 East Vernon Ave,
Los Angeles, Calif.
My dear Mr. Griffith

Acknowledgment is made of your letter of October 5th, and needless to say I will do everything I can to cooperate with my Colleague, the Honorable Thomas F. Ford, who introduced a bill of this nature at the last session of Congress.

You may be assured I shall give my very serious thought to this legislation.

Thanking you for your interest, I am
Very cordially yours,
(Signed)
CHARLES KRAMER
Member of Congress,
13th District

October 8, 1938

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People,
Gentlemen:

I have your letter of the eighth in which you request me to state my stand on the lynching or rather anti-lynching bill.

I will state that I am absolutely opposed to all discrimination against any minority groups. I shall do everything in my power to assist in the passing of such worthy legislation. You can depend on me.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed)
LEE E. GAYER

October 10, 1938

Thomas L. Griffith, Jr.,
President
Nat'l Ass'n for Advancement of Colored People,
1105 E. Vernon Ave.,
Los Angeles, Cal.
Dear Mr. Griffith

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 5th relative to the Anti-Lynching Bill. Certainly I would be for the Anti-Lynching Bill, and I think that any reasonable man would be, for it is my belief that no right-thinking person could believe in lynching.

If you have followed my campaign for Congress, you will find that I have made one of the main issues the retention of the Constitution of the United States, and under this Constitution every individual is entitled to a free and fair trial. I have made a great point, and I think a most important one, of individual liberty--a point against class legislation. All of these are extremely important, and if we are going to maintain a government under the American form, we have got to maintain these things.

Hoping that this answers your question fairly and squarely, and that I may have your support, I am,

Yours sincerely,
(Signed)
L. M. FORD.

FAILED TO LEARN CAUSE OF KID'S DEATH

Guild and were arranged by the People's Funeral Home. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Herman was 56 years old, having been born June 12, 1882 in Atchison, Kansas. He had lived in Los Angeles 18 years and had been following motion picture work for 17 years. At the time of his death, his residence was 810 E. 46th street.

Widowed before coming to California, he is survived by but one known relative, a sister, Mrs. Frances McAdams of St. Paul.

The home of Mrs. Mamie Modwell was the setting for a linen wedding shower for Miss Jessie Reed, bride-elect of Charlse McDaniel, on Sunday, October 9. Mrs. H. S. Pierson, Mr. (Mattie Carter) was joint hosetss with Mrs. Modwell.

Miss Reed, a recent graduate of Los Angeles County General Hospital, was attired in a lovely fall creation of wine and was the recipient of a number of gifts. Mrs. Lottie Frisco presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Modwell poured tea while guests were received by Mrs. Pierson. Among the guests were Mr. Reed and Mrs. Thelma Johnson, parents of the honoree.

Dennis Allen Again Heads San Diego's Races Society

SAN DIEGO. (By Mrs. E. B. Wesley)—Dennis Allen, prominent member of San Diego's Negro colony, was re-elected to the presidency of the San Diego Race Relations society, a widely interracial group, listing among its sponsors some of the most prominent men in this section of the State.

The election, which was held at a very recent meeting of the Board of Directors, also saw the election of the flolowing supplementary officers to Mr. Allen:

Dr. Max L. Sterne, first vice-president; Gertrude Jari, second vice-president, and Dr. Elizabeth Pelsma, corresponding secretary. Re-elected were Mrs. Mildred Prendergast, secretary, and Dr. Wilma Carmody, treasurer. The society's next open meeting will be held Oct. 30 at 7:30 p. m. in Central Christian church.

Dr. J. H. McRiley, one of Pasadena's outstanding physicians, is vacationing in San Diego for a few days, guest at the Simmons Hotel. Miss Katheryne Rice, prominent society girl of Berkeley, was a visitor in the city a few days last week, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ellen Brooks, and her friend, Miss Lucille Leftridge. Mrs. L. H. Owens, wife of Rev. Owens of Bethel AME church, was a week-end guest of her family at the parsonage. Mrs. Owens is principal of the Dunbar High School in Imperial, and must spend most of her time there.

Mrs. E. B. Johnson, mother of Mrs. Mayola Johnson-Curl, vocalist, and of the late Pearl Johnson Clark, is visiting friends in Los Angeles and Pasadena, indefinitely. Mrs. Johnson is seeking a much needed rest after months of anxious nursing and care of her daughter, who died here recently.

James Jackson, young son of Mrs. M. C. Jackson, religious leader of Kansas City, has been placed in school here and is in the care of the Rev. Owens.

Friday Forum

The Friday Evening Forum, with Miss Lorraine Van Lowe as president, re-opened on Oct. 7 at Bethel Baptist church. The subject of the first series "World Affairs-Where Are We Today", began with a discussion of "The World in Retrospect", which was illustrated with motion pictures, filmed by A. Seaman Davis, principal speaker.

New Club Organizes

The "Just's-Mere" is the name of a recently organized social club with the following officers: Regie Duncan, president; Thelma Anderson, vice; Virginia Clark, secretary; Theo. Dunlap, treas.; Miller Kemp, entertainment chairman; Octavia Payne, music director; O. T. McWilliams, sgt.-at-arms; Luville Leftridge, reporter.

The second and fourth Friday nights of each month have been set aside for meetings. Miss Anderson was hostess last Friday night with Miss Rice of Berkeley as guest. Bridge was the evening's past-time.

The Best Yet Club, Edward G. Rollins, president, was the guest of Miss Ora Dimry Saturday night, Oct. 8, at her home on Greely avenue.

The "Hobo" party, given by the Woodmen Camp No. 3, Mrs. Ellen Stroy commander, on Monday night at the Sheppherd Cafe on Imperial avenue, was a source of much amusement. Mesdamse Irene Sheppherd, Mamie Lewis, and Rosa Baker, committee on arrangements, were gratified with the success of the party.

Negro History

The class in Negro History, with Miss Octavia Payne as instructor, is studying African institutions and background, under the following topics: government, king, sacrifice, interesting customs, equality, methods of instruction, marriage, polygamy, morals, religion, missionaries, etc. Classes are held Wednesday of each week from 1:30 to 3:30 at the Girl Reserve auditorium of the Clay Street YMCA.

Mrs. Penunizio, one of the supervisors of adult education, spoke very interestingly to the class last Wednesday afternoon. A memorial program for James Weldon Johnson will be held Oct. 12.

Wins County Fair Prizes

Robert Raphael, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Raphael of 16th street, who entered several of his products in the open classes of the San Diego County Fair at Del Mar last week, carried off a number of prizes which were: two firsts for Silver King Pigeons, two seconds and a third in the same dviision; first for a Chinese young brown gander, second for a Chinese gander and second for an Africa goose.

It will be remembered that as a member of the Memorial Junior Hi 4-H club last year Robert was the winner of several prizes for his poultry exhibits. Robert has ambitions to become a physician.

Among the many friends who attended the funeral of Mrs. Lula McKinley, former San Diegan, who met a tragic death in Los Angeles last week were Mr. and Mrs. Casey Jackson, Mrs. F. C. Calvert and Rev. L. H. Owens, who was a guest soloist.

Jitterbug Contest Winners

On Wednesday night, October 5, at the Coliseum a "Jitterbug" contest was held among twenty-one couples, seven of whom were colored and represented the following places of business: Five couples from the Creole Palace, one couple from the C. A. C. Cleaners and one couple from Camerons Cafe. Cecil Daniels and Clarence Campbell won the first prize of $20.00 for the all colored review and the grand prize of $30.00 over the entire group. On Friday night at the Speckles theatre the aforementioned winners also won the contest which was held there. This was an all-colored contest and the music was furnished by Al Parks and his band from the Creole Palace.

A delghitful dinner was given in honor of the winners by the operators of Cameron's Cafe. Aside from the guests of honor others present were Dorothy Daniels, June Dickens, Buster Coleman, Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Ragsdale and Mrs. Campbell.

We are hoping these young folk will win bigger and better contests in the future.

Cameron's Cafe sponsored Cecil and Clarence.

Churches

"Looking Forward" was the subject of the sermon delivered last Sunday morning before the Bethel AME church congregation by the pastor, Rev. L. H. Owens. Other services throughout the day were impressive.

A conference for the purpose of reorganizing the various departments of the church is being called one night this week. A full program has been scheduled for this year.

Calvary Baptist Church

Sunday school at 9:30 was under the direction of the Supt., Mrs. Lonella Roberts. Plans are being made for a Halowe'en party for the primary department.

Morning worship was at 11 a. m. Rev. J. L. Branham delivered the message. Music was furnished by the Junior and senior choirs under the direction of Mr. William Webb.

BYPU at 4 p. m. Mr. R. W. Lipscomb, president.

Evening worship at 5:30 p. m. The Senior choir furnished the music and Rev. Branham again occupied the pulpit.

There were several visitors present throughout the day.

Church of God in Christ

Sunday School opened at 9:30 a. m. with Mrs. Grace Spencer in charge.

Preaching at 11:30 a. m., Rev. Jackson; YPWW at 6:30, Miss Myrtle Pressley and Miss Katra Tucker in chare. Evening services at 8 p. m. Rev. Jackson again occupied the pulpit.

Bethune Club of San Bernardino has Dinner Dance

SAN BERNARDINO (By Madelyn Cooke)—The Mary Bethune Club entertained friends Monday night at a dinner dance which was a success. Dining and dancing filled the evening of pleasure. The affair took place at the Masonic hall, at Eighth and Perris Street. Prisident of the club is Mrs. Alberta Lee and Secretary, Mrs. Florence Knight.

San Francisco Youth is Spanish Hero

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13—Luchelle McDaniels, a San Francisco boy, has been scored for bravery and outstanding heroism on the Spanish Loyalist Front. According to news received here from William Pickens, official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who returned last week from Spain where he got a first hand glimpse of the fighting there, McDaniels, single-handedly drove back a whole company of Italian troops in a battle just outside of Barcelona.

Using thirty-odd grenades, McDaniels held back the invading army until the Loyalist reinforcements arrived.

In the fray he got only one bullet in his left thigh, an explosive shell that broke into three parts, but without serious damage to him, Pickens reported.

Two Bay Citians Pursue Degrees in Dixie Colleges

SAN FRANCISCO. (By Anna Foster)—Two Bay Citians have left their native heath and are pursuing higher education in the Southland. Miss Myrtle Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson, has entered her senior year at Prairie View College in Texas. She is majoring in Public School Music.

At Houston College, in Austin, Texas, Miss Dolores Sims of Oakland is now enrolled.

Walter A. White, clerk in the Quarter Master's Department at Manilla, sailed for his home on October 1. While here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. T Wilson on Sutter street.

Doubly a pioneer citizen in that she was a native, born in old Sacramento, Mrs. Frances Tyrrel, died here September 24. Mourning with the deceased's family are the following fraternal orders:

Naomi Chapter, No. 2, OES, Heroines of Jericho, S. M. T. branch of the UBF, St. Bernard Guild, branch of the Masonic Order, Yerba Buena Council No. 270, of the A. O. F., Household of Ruth No. 253 of the G. U. O. of O. F., Past Chief Ass'n of Oakland Circle, Daughter of Isis, Auxiliary of the American Legion.

Since 1894, Mrs. Tyrrel had been a member of the Third Baptist church.

Mrs. Adah Edwards has departed for a tour of the U. S., via the Northern route.

Social Activity for Navy Planned in Long Beach

By KATHERINE HOWARD

LONG BEACH. — Social activities for the Navy set are in full swing here in this Coast town. Mr. and Mrs. George Booie of 1028 East 12th street, entertained at dinner recently, honoring Mr. and Mrs. S. Dock, Mr. and Mrs. A. Barkly of the U. S. S. Quincy, Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones of the U. S. S. Chicago, Harry Burrus of the U. S. S. Vincennes, Mr. and Mrs. C. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Hand and daughter and son, Darline and Leo.

Mrs. R. B. White entertained with a get-to-gather Sunday at her home, 1225 California avenue.

Mrs. Rose Willy of Los Angeles, who has been on the sick list for some time, was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Howard.

Persons having news for this column may communicate with the reporter at 1028 East 12th street.

The T. E. Social club met on Thursday afternoon at 917 East Tenth street. Miss Pearl Norris was hostess. Plans were made for a Holloween Barn Party to be given at 1203 California avenue, on Oct. 29. Bridge was played following business and prizes awarded to Mrs. Nettie Holt and Miss Shirley Graves. Unfortunately a member was lost, Mrs. Malinda Cohn having left for her home in Fort Worth, Texas.

Miss J. Graves gave a surprise party for Mrs. Cohnn's farewell which topped a most enjoyable evening.

Mrs. H. Herron of Calexico, spent several days with Mrs. M. Marks and was entertained by a luncheon given by Mrs. Howard.

Wife of Former Bakersfield Pastor Succumbs

BAKERSFIELD, (By G. A. Jackson)—Bakersfield was grieved at the news this week of the death of Mrs. Emma Handy, wife of the firmer pastor of Cain A. M. E. Church, Rev. Roy Handy. She died at Reno, Nevada where the Rev. Handy has a charge. Circumstances of her passing, however, were unknown at press time.

MISCELLANY

Invaluable aid to the Cain A. M. E. Church is being rendered by the Lend A Hand club, which met in its regular session at the home of Mrs. Henry Houston. Plans were advanced for the year's work.

The Recreation Project, under the leadership of Miss Leona Little and Hugh Lowry enjoyed a party last Friday afternoon with the kiddies.

The Senior Mission Society of the Mt. Zion Baptist church gave a surprise party for the Pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Green. This being their wedding anniversary many useful gifts were extended.

Mrs. Mary Lee Flakes, after many months at her mother's bedside, has returned and renewed her activity with church work.

Olive Branch Temple No. 26, S. M. T. welcomes back their secretary, Mrs. Marie Ellis Fambro after a brief vacation in the East. Mrs. G. A. Jackson, writer of this column, is spending the week-end with a friend, Mrs. J. J. Johnson of Los Angeles.

RIVERSIDE

The regular meeting of the Teasing Toppers' club was held at the home of Mrs. Bereal on Park avenue last Saturday with Vice-President Georgia Franklin presiding.

One of the chief features of the meeting were sugestions for Thanksgiving baskets which will be distributed to the poor and needy.

Elsinore Church's Sunday School Plans Big Benefit

By ANNA LOUISE THOMAS

Saint Paul's Sunday School is giving a Hallowe'en entertainment at lover's Store, featuring the San Bernardino quartet and other members for the benefit of the Sunday School on Oct. 26.

The superintendent of the Sunday School gave a contest for her primary children. Frank Dresser and Henry Brown tied in first prize and Max Dresser and Billy Brown tied in second prize.

Alfred Houston, Mrs. Cordelia Robinson and grandchildren, Misses La Verne and Blarline Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bramblett and Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Welch, are beginning to frequent the McDonald courts.

Maurice Hunter of Oakland, has returned home after a restful stay at the Elsinore Inn. Mrs. Matty Bisbe and Mrs. Dora Sterling of San Diego have also returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Neil of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Draper and a party of four friends were guests at the Reeves. Mrs. Lelie Ford of Los Angeles has been the guests of Mrs. Eula Reeves and her son, Cornell Butler for the past week.

OAKLAND, Oct. 13. — Mrs. Helen Leftridge, daughter ruler of the Evergreen Temple, 157, I. B. P. O. E. of W., of Seattle, has taken up residence here for the winter, stopping with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Al Leavy. Failing health was given by Mrs. Leftridge as the reason for the transfer of her residence. She expects to return to her home in Seattle in the spring.

Announce Engagement of Daughter of S. M. Pastor

SANTA MONICA, (By Willie Louise Gilmore),—On last Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brown, Jr., gathered 8 popular young couples of the Bay City to celebrate the 21st birthday anniversary of Miss Daisy LeLand Quinn, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Alfred K. Quinn.

Coming as an added surprise was the announcement of her forthcomig marriage to Le Vert M. Payne of this city.

At midnight a delicious buffet supper prepared by the honoree's mother was served. A beautiful birthday cake designed by, and a gift from Mrs. Edna Wilkins Brunson foretold the good news by means of tiny scrolls attatched to the 21 candles.

Both are very popular among the younger set. Mr. Payne is the president of Santa Monica's exclusive "Royal Twelve Club."

Miss Quinn is very active in social and religious activities of the city and is an officer in the Hi Tri Girls Club.

Their marriage which will be solomnized on Jan. 8, with the bride's father officiating will be the incentive for many social affairs.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul White, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Tippins, Mr and Mrs. Ward Afner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brown, Jr., Miss Helen Brantley, Miss Phyliss Quinn, Lloyd Courtney, and Frank Barnes.

A lovely birthday dinner was given on Saturday evening by Miss Doris Austin, honoring the birthdays of Mrs. Silas Tippins, Mrs. Horace Milon, Mr. Lamar Graham and Mr. Silas White. The table was beautifully laid, the centerpiece being an array of Autumn fruits. Those enjoying the deliciously prepared dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Silas Tippins, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Milon, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gordon of Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Winston, Mr. and Mrs. Silas White, Miss Doris Austin, the hostess and Mr. Lamar Graham.

Honoring Miss Christine Payne, who is to wed John Moore on Oct. 16th, Mrs. Aileen Lewis entertained with a kitchen shower, Oct. 2, at her home, 1528½ 17th Street. The living room was beautifully decorated with asters. The evening was spent playing bridge. A delicious repast was served by the hostess, followed by the bride-to-be opening her gifts. Guests included members of "Les Unique" Club, Mesdames Mary J. Halloway, Burdette Linly, Kath Afner, Juliette McReynolds, Lela Brown, and Hazel Tippins.

The Royal 12'ers held a call meeting at the home of Robt. Brown, Tues. evening, Oct. 5, with all members present. The Club was pleased to learn that two former members, Ward Afner and Elmo Logan are to rejoin completing the list of 12.

THE GUMSHOERS

La Monica's who's who . . . . Lloyd Courtney was born on a bleak Jan. morn at Houston, Tex. in 1913. Six years later the Courtneys moved to L. A. bringing little Courtney along. Here he started his elementary education at 20th Street School and La Fayette Jr. Hi. In 1928 he started his athletic career basketball and track was his favorite. Lloyd tells us the reason he is so good in track, is while back in Texas he used to chase Jack-Rabbits. In '31 he attended Compton J. C. then Fresno State College for a year. His highest ambition is to become an athletic instructor. . . .his favorite actor is Clarke Gable. . . he is not planning marriage and has a diversified personality . . .Flash! Mr. and Mrs. Wharton are proud parents of a baby girl . . .Yeah we were surprised to learn of Ella Mae Warren's marriage . . .Remember when we predicted L. Maxwel's wedding for Dec. well we were wrong it happened last month. . . .From what Marlene Davis says concerning her trip to Texas and if what she says is true the lad is a killer-diller . . . so six of the Jolly 13 members have pledged to reshape for the Royal 12 formal, Nov. 12th . . . Flash again . . . wee is the word for waist lines. It is not easy, figure well everything is wrong, but unless one has that hour glass While visiting Earl Tucker we were amazed to see that he has a complete gym outfit, dumbbells et al . . .Fan mail Deah Snoopum: Please settle this argument for us. Who is the greatest Negro athlete to attend Samohi . . .as far back as I can remember there were six with the late Nat Rucker heading the list, he once clocked a 9.5 seconds in the 100 yard dash . . .Lan Bonita "Red" Carter and Geo. Sims were the best grid men . . . Ralph Tucker and Bob Ware excelled in Basketball . . .after more playing Lee Lender will be added to this list . . .This column isn't written for criticism as a few readers would have you believe. When a person deserves credit, he is sure to get it . . . Things we can't forget . . .When Booker "Torso" Allen got a little high and lost a pair of shoes at the La Monica . . .Geo. Simms sang "Cutie Curbstone" at a Royal 12 meeting and Elmo Logan gave a talk on love. Carl Brooks is having wifey trouble . . .Helen Brantley some times thought to be S. M.'s best dressed woman was a theft victim, who stole her outfit she was to model in A.K.A. fashion show ? ? Remember to be careful you auto drivers, school has started.

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons

Gain in Health and Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak— the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and smarts and burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right safe harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to the kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed. But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland—a grand kidney stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptons of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffy eyes, moist palms and nervousness.

State of California } ss
County of Los Angeles }

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Charlotta A. Bass, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and say that she is the publisher of the California Eagle and that the following is, to the best of her knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

Business Manager, Charlotta A. Bass 4075 S. Central Ave., L. A., Calif.

2. That the owners: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and address of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)

Charlotta A. Bass, 697 E. 52nd Place, Los Angeles, Calif.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)

None.

That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by her.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE

J. CULLEN FENTRESS' GAB STUFF

THIS PIECE has to do with a young man who goes under the handle of Kenny Washington, oftimes called "The General". "The General" denotes the "master mind", we surmise. Anyway, Kenny plays quite a bit of football for El Bruin, the University of California brother who took up residence in Los Angeles.

We saw El Bruin stand up on his hind legs and claw the dickens out of a University of Washington Huskie last Saturday in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Brother Bruin surprised some 30,000 onlookers as he took to pieces a pre-season favorite to cop the coast grid crown.

Aided and abetted by 10 brothers, "The General" Brum crossed the northwestern invader's last stripe twice. It marked the first time since the two camps began hostilities back in 1932 that Brother Bruin showed any efficiency in adding anything but goose-eggs. This time Brother Bruin added up the staggering total of 13.

This number "13" also happens to be the private property of "The General", as he sports the numerals on his jersey.

We were so impressed by the way "The General" generaled his brothers and out-generaled the favorites that we herewith get out on a limb and proceed to lay a prediction on the line, to-wit: Don't be too surprised if come New Year's Day one of the two teams that makes up the Rose Bowl extravaganza in Pasadena happens to be Brother Bruin from the University of California at Los Angeles.

Such a statement will probably get us laughed right out of reader-interest but we have had hunches before. They turned out to be just what "the doctor ordered". We realize this hunch business is a matter of guess-work mostly, but after seeing El Bruin to his number with favored Huskie, we have a helluva lot more respect for said Bruin and what he may accomplish before this season is over.

"General" Washington, now that he has a rousing gang of line-busters, pass-snaggers, etc., to follow his orders, finds his strategy working to the other side's dismay. Of course, "The General" does some of the dirty work, too. That probably is one reason why he is getting results.

The first time El Bruin showed his wares to the public this season in an engagement with the Hawkeyes of University of Iowa, we saw "The General" pull a stunt that gave us a hint as to the cause of his effectiveness. Taking the ball down to the Iowa's 2-yard marker, approximately, "The General", instead of taking the pigskin overhimself he gave it to a fellow Bruin. Yes, "The General" cooperates to the nth degree.

The second Bruin marker Saturday emphasizes what we mean. Following a long and steady march toward the Huskies' goal line as the second half opened, the play was so keen and rivalry so intense that one of the Huskies got a little out-of-line with a Bruin brother. "The General" didn't change his line of attack at all and, following a penalty for unnecessary roughness on the part of said Huskie, "The General" boomed right over this same Huskie, the while getting closer and closer to the Huskie goal. On the second try "The General" went over—over this Huskie who got out-of-line unnecessarily.

It seemed to us, that this series of plays, called by "The General", made up the most significant piece of headwork we saw all afternoon, not forgetting the heralded lateral, Montgomery to "The General", that netted the first score.

"The General" seemed to want to impress upon the offending Huskie the futility of losing one's head in the heat of comeback, resorting to unnecessary measures. And the best way to drive that fact home, was to keep booming over that Huskie—showing that after all, it was still a sport—played by sports.

THE LAUNDRY-MAN

Dear Folks: I am writing this from Elsinore, where my doctor ordered me to go after I taken the Hiccups from laughing so hard at the VICE EXPOSE put forward by the Sentinel editor last week. You see, the reason I laughed so hard, was because unwittingly he exposed hisself instead of exposing Vice, as he intended.

I supose he was in a hurry to get his article out in time for press, and forgot all about the deductive method of reasoning which Mr. Sherlock Holmes invented to solve mysteries. According to his article, he says he signed a two-column editorial on August 1st, 1935, attacking the Shaw Administration. (He don't say that he wrote it, so he must have got some body else to throw the brick.)

Immediately, says he "The Administration struck back quick and vicious." Markets, bath-houses, furniture stores, and drug-stores were advised to "lay off his paper. Then some City Department Head called him on the phone—so he claims — and said "YOU WILL HAVE TO GET IN LINE, otherwise we are going to take all your advertising away from you."

Right away, like any good politician, the Editor hurries up town to see Joe Shaw, the reputed head of the Invisible Empire. He says that Joe laid down the Law to him, and closed by saying, "And if you ever mention this to anybody I'll break your g-d — neck."

The Sentinel editor closes his article at, this point without telling us what HE said to Joe. However, since from the letter part of 1935 his paper has had nearly all of the super-market and drug-store advertising corralled, reasoning deductively, he must have answered some what as follows:

"OKEY, Mates Joe! I see You Mean Business, so Let's Get Together."

"Satchel Paige Signed Up By The New York Giants"

No, this headline is not a true one. So far, it exists only as an idea in the brain of the writer, but it CAN be made a LIVING REALTY by sober thought, and intelligent co-operation on the part of Negro base-ball fans in our large Eastern cities.

In Satchel Paige, "Turkey" Stearns, "Male" Suttles, and others, we have some of the greatest base-ball athletes who ever drew on a soiked shoe. We know they are top-notchers, we applaude their ability; yet we fail to make the slightest constructive effort to place them in their proper sphere—Big League Base-ball. IMPOSSIBLE, you say! It can't be done.

Nevertheless, I assert that IT CAN be achieved. The Time is now ripe, opportunity beckons. Never before in the history of this country have Negro athletes been allowed greater freedom to display their wares than at present. In college foot-ball, track teams, and prize-fighting, our athletes stand on the top-most rung. Big League baseball is the only gate left uncrashed.

If the Negro base-ball fans of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, and Chicago, would band together and boycott the Big League games for even two months next season (voicing their reasons through their colored newspapers the meanwhile,) the Big League owners would quickly Sit Up and Take Notice. Why?

Because, figuring an average attendance of only 6,000 colored fans per week in each of these nine large cities would give a conservative total of 54,000 colored fans per week at 50 cents per head. In hard money, that would mean a loss of around $27,000.00 per week, $108,000.00 per month, $432,000.00 per season. And if any one thinks that a Big Business Corporation like Organized Baseball is going to let a little thing like Color-prejudice rob their coffers of close to a half a million dollars per year, he or she is just plain crazy.

The psychological moment is here. This is the time for our group to unite as One Man and smash the Big League Barrier for our out-standing base-ball athletes. Heretofore, our custom has been to sit around and wait for the white man to create a place for, and develop our Stars. Then we gather around and acclaim him or her Great because the white man said so. Let's reverse this slavish procedure. And henceforth chose and elevate those whom we wish to honor, ourselves, without white dictation.

By LILLIAN JONES

Sketch Subject: EMILIO ALCOVA—Master Plumber.

EMILIO ALCOVA started working at ten years of age as an apprentice in the mill department of the Finlay Bros. & Waymouth Trading Co., in his hometown, San Juan, Puerto Rico. Today, 35 years later, he's in Los Angeles, California, and a master plumber license (in fact, a series of them) hangs on his wall. The story of the years between these points is one of a boy who dreamed of independence from time-clocks and bosses, and a man who achieved that end by virtue of hard work and tenacity.

When Alcova left San Juan in 1911 to go to Tuskegee Institute he carried in his pocket a letter from the head of Finlay Bros. & Waymouth Trading Co. commending his "diligence and good behavior" and recommending him as "one of the firm's best mechanics and carpenters". He came to Tuskegee to learn mechanical engineering, but on discvoering they had no course of that kind, he made a second choice—plumbing. He stayed at Tuskegee five and a half years. During the summers he worked to earn money for tuition and expenses.

His first summer at Tuskegee, with ten dollars borrowed from Dr. G. W. Carver, Alcova went to Birmingham to look for work. He secured a job with the Birmingham Railway Light and Power Co., as a fitter and mechanic. After his first time there they kept the job open for him as long as he was at Tuskegee.

One year while at Tuskegee he was sent to Camp Hill, Alabama, to supervise the installation of a deep-well pump in connection with the water system of the Southern Industrial Institute for white youth. So satisfactorily did he do this job that the principal of the institute wrote him a commendatory letter. Alcova was only 22 years old at the time.

After finishing Tuskegee, he stayed in Birmingham for some time, working at his old trade of carpenter and cabinet-maker. He came north during the war to Milltown, Ohio, where an agency had secured him a job as re-inspector of shells in a factory manufacturing ammunition for the Canadian government. After a year in Milltown he went to Chicago. There he worked in the Chicago-Northwestern Railway's yards for the Pullman Company, as a plumber, steamfitter and carpenter on Pullman coaches. This work included installation and repair of steam-plumbing, mechanical repairs, and cabinet work.

In 1922 the Pullman Company sent Alcova out to the Pacific Coast to work in their car-building shops in Los Angeles. While still with the Pullman Company he managed to secure plumbing work on the side. It wasn't long before the plumbing work was sufficient to enable him to leave the job with the Pullman Company and go into it full-time.

Alcova will tell you that being a plumber is no simple thing. In the first place it's hard work. He wonders if this is the reason that young people today don't seem to be very interested in becoming plumbers, in spite of the fact that it pays well. Next, there is the business of progressing from a "journeyman" plumber to a "master" plumber. A plumber first has to put in a few years as a journeyman under the direction of a master plumber. Then, if he can pass an examination and afford sixyt-five dollars each year for state, city and county license fees, he can secure a master plumber's license. A master plumber can accept plumbing contracts and generally works for himself, while a journeyman has always to work for someone else.

Alcova's work is not confined to any one community or neighborhood. He works all over town, and is as much at home in establishments on Wilshire Blvd., as on S. Central Avenue. And you can be sure that his own home has the very best plumbing. As his charming little wife, Anna Alcova says: "The plumbing is the best thing in the house".

Alcova doesn't guarantee that you'll become a millionaire, even well-to-do, as a plumber. But if you are not afraid of hard work, have some mechanical ability, and are interested in a trade which will provide a comfortable living—then you should certainly consider plumbing.

Teacher Tells Psychology of the Working Class

By GRACE FISHER

The time has come when scientific planning in our economic society is a requirement. The masses must stand on both feet as far as thinking is concerned. The final result of such a plan is a higher standard of living and more leisure time. Fortunately for one time in history, mankind has the opportunity of cultivating and enriching life. Scientific planning means few hours of work and more hours of individual developement. Education then is to play an important part in the existence of the future society.

For recreation there is a multiplicity of turns. Some are constructive and others destructive to the individual. The problem is to engineer the people into the phase that builds, develops and integrates, to the extent that the human race may reach a higher state of development.

It is one problem to have civilization and another to use the civilization for social good. It is the same situation found in invention of any sort. After an idea has been conceived the inventor is presented with the problem of application, which is just as much of a problem as the original idea. The fundamental problem is that there are too many people who constitute about ten percent of the population who can't eat the hay and will not let the horse eat it! These people store and monopolize the greater portion of the wealth even though it is impossible for them or their families to utilize all they have accumulated. The remainder of the society are of a gullible sort, for the most part, waiting for orders from superiors. They are glad to believe that knowledge of society is not their mission to investigate.

The masses do not realize that in spite of our most democratic constitution law is operated for the protection of a few. The George Farley case is a typical example of the operation of the law. A man may maintain his home only as long as his income lasts. After years of sacrifice a few months of unemployment may cause an individual to loose all he has.

For many years the sociologists have found that crime is, for the most part the result of economic reasons. In our own city we find the greatest frequency of gambling dens in the districts where the lowest economic status prevail. If the head of a family is earning $55 per month from the W. P. A. and is unable to find additional employment to complete his budget, it would not be inhuman to find him taking a chance in a gambling den.

With scientific planning we may hope to reduce crime to the point of extinction. Large scale robbery will not be a legal accomplishment. In fact robbery of any sort will be considered a crime. The greatest robbery of all is that of thought. The individual who is robbed of the privilege of thinking whether forcefully or otherwise is unfortunate. Capitalism deprives the population of this opportunity primarily through propaganda, unless it has developed to a high degree of facism, like Hitler developed in Germany. To be robbed and willfully so is the order of our present system.

Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at Jefferson Evening High School these problems are discussed. In the Job Ethics or Vocational Physchology class in Room 128 on Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m., and on Friday Evening in Room 108 from 7 to 9 p. m. Classes are free. It is one opportunity for the working population to learn to think and develop.

Shanghaied into Slavery at 15

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Oct. 13. (ANP)—Lee Moore, 96, who was shanghaied from Argentina at the age of 15 and sold into slavery in West Virginia, became an American citizen last week.

"When a man's going on 97, it's time for him to settle down," he said. "I do my own cooking. Maybe that's why I keep so well."

During the Civil War, Lee was a body servant to his master, a confederate officer.

Reduce Car Speed and Save Gasoline, Auto Club Advises

The old adage "Haste Makes Waste" is particularly true in operating an automobile.

Hasty driving and wasting gasoline are running-mates on the highway, points out the Automobile Club of Southern California, noting that motorists can lessen hazards to life and limb and save dollars by slower speeds.

10 miles per hour—18.7 miles per gallon.
20 miles per hour—18.9 miles per gallon.
30 miles per hour—18. miles per gallon.
40 miles per hour—16.4 miles per gallon.
50 miles per hour—14.6 miles per gallon.
60 miles per hour—12.6 miles per gallon.
70 miles per hour—10.6 miles per gallon.
80 miles per hour—8.6 miles per gallon.

Nola

(To Miss Nola Turner)

Tell me dearie while I listen,
Whose hands made your black locks glisten?
Thanks, let's have a Coca Cola
While I introduce my Nola.

Just a modest little lady,
With a past that isn't shady,
Not the type who gossips freely
Nor a "busy-body", really.

She sits in her booth all day,
Briskly combing kinks away.
Nimble fingers shaping curling
Irons clicking smoke a-quirling.

Turning out heads by the dozens
Sisters, mothers, daughters, cousins.
Five, ten, twenty, maybe thirty
Some are smelly, some are dirty

I tried Grace, Joyce and Viola,
They can't hold a light for Nola
'Tis her artistic creation, that has won your admiration.

One of the greatest all colored shows ever to be presented on the West Coast opens a week's engagement at the Orpheum Theatre starting Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Its the forecast of another heat wave—"Harlem's Jitterbug Jamboree" starring the 4 Hot Shots with their inimitable comedy and dancing. Radcliffe and Rogers, two clever boys with an amazing amount of talent and versatility. Both boys are established as well as being accomplished pianists. In addition they both sing and their act is well rounded comedy and musical presentation.

Others in the show will include a name girl singer and the jitterbug champions of the world. Eight jivin' rythm-mad alligators.

For the musical background of the "Jamboree" Les Hite and his orchestra will do the honors as well as presenting several of his own musical specialties in the famous Les Hite manner.

The current show at the Orpheum has a line-up of eastern headline vaudeville acts headed by Miss Terry Howard, and the twin screen bill has the first Los Angeles showing of "Mr. Wong, Detective" starring Boris Karloff and the second feature is "Rich Man, Poor Girl" co-starring Robert Young and Ruth Russey.

'River King' Aired at New Time

"Fiery Cargo" this weeks chapter of "The River King" popular Federal Theatre Radio Division adventure serial, reaches listeners at the new hour of 4:30 P. M. and starting today will be aired over KHJ and the Mutual Don Lee Network on Wednesday instead of Saturday.

An exciting steamboat race between New Orleans and Louisville, marked by a smashing series of events including boiler explosions and a raging fire, highlights today's chapter of "The River King".

The half hour episode finds Bart Colby again championing the "under dog" and in a thrilling final scene justice and romance triumph.

Patrick MacGeehan plays the River King, with Robert Cummins, Kent Wallace, Martin Ashe porting roles.

Bojangles Robinson Taps on Paramount Stage this Week

Bill Robinson, often referred to as the 'bojangles of Harlem', for many years has been recognized as one o fthe cleverest and most capable dancers. Figuring prominently in stage and screen productions Bill holds a unique position in the entertainment world. On stage this week, in addition to his popular dance routines, he will introduce a number of new dances including one which he will do in a production number with the Fanchonettes.

On the screen "King of Alcatraz" holds promise of giving audiences many exciting minutes. Those appearing in the capable cast include Lloyd Nolan, Gail Patrick, J. Carrol Naish, Porter Hall, Robert Preston and Virginia Dabney. Robert Florey directed this Paramount Picture.

The story centers about Steve Murkil who makes a sensational break from Alcatraz and assisted by his gang escapes to sea on a tramp steamer. The crew is overpowered and the boat taken over by the gang for their own use. Many exciting minutes and events occur while the battle of brain and brawn goes on with a thrilling climax topping the story.

The Fanchon and Marco stage-show starring Bill Robinson also features the San Dac Trio noted for their acrobatic skill and the Randall Sisters, a singing trio from the South. The Fanchonettes and Rube Wolf and His Orchestra round out the program.

Dude Ranch 2 New Films is Site of

For the first time in the history of the colored film industry, an all colored talking picture is being filmed on a colored location. Hollywood productions photographing "Bronze Buckaroo" and "Harlem on the Range" starring Herbert Jeffrey on Murray's Dude Ranch in Victorville, California. This is the only colored Dude Ranch in America.

N. B. Murray and his wife, Leila, purchased it ten years ago. But it was not until 1936 when the dude ranch vogue started that they converted the place into a Guest Ranch. Various celebrities including Joe Louis and Henry Armstrong are frequent visitors.

Executives of Hollywood Productions, Spencer Williams, Jr., Richard C. Kahn and F. E. Miller decided at a recent confab that Murray's Ranch would be ideal as a film location due to its natural scenic beauty and the fact that it was operated by Negroes. The horses used in the "Bronze Buckaroo" and "Harlem on the Prarie" are part of the livestock of Murray's ranch.

A troupe of forty people are living at the ranch and enjoying a holiday after a day's work. It is only two hours drive from Los Angeles and has become a "movie city." Cameras, sound-trucks, prop and grip men, make up and dressing rooms are seen everywhere. Cowboys are either riding or strolling with huge six guns strapped to their legs. Principal factor giving credence to the film is centered around Negro ranches, is that it is actually being made on a ranch owned by the Race. Mrs. Liela Murray, an official in the Elks is well-known nationally. She attend the Elks' convention each year.

FELLOWSHIP LEAGUE TO HEAR MRS. REED

The Los Angeles Fellowship Legaue will present Mrs. Lydia Reed of Newton Street Station who will discuss "Juvenile Delinquency" on Sunday, October 16, at the YMCA, 28th and Paloma streets. Miss Dorothy Williams and John Williams will furnish music for the session.

COUNCIL TO OBSERVE YOUTH NIGHT

Youth night will be observed by the South Central Coordinating Council next Wednesday evening at its meeting in the Nevin Street School at eight o'clock. Representatives of various youth organizations are urged to attend and report on their year's activities.

Outstanding Radio Discovery

MYSTERY CONTROL being operated by young enthusiast. It changes stations of radio operating in other rooms, without any connections.

When radio was first conceived, the thought of listening to a program several miles away with no connections whatever, other than synchronized vibrations, the general public wondered. Later, when with the turning of a dial, programs of the world were brought to the home, people thought the apex of progress was reached.

REVOLUTIONARY

Now a revolutionary contribution to radio efficiency and usefulness has been perfected.

"Just imagine," said Albert Williams, sales supervisor of Eastern at 45th and Central avenue, "walking about the house with a cabinet no larger than an ordinary cigar box, turning a dial similar to the one on a telephone, and then hearing your radio in another room change programs at your will. And that is not all. Although this little mystery box is not connected in any way with the radio itself, one can, from another room, while upstairs or downstairs, through walls, when in the front or backyard, change the radio to play louder, softer, or turn it off in its entirety."

FEW ON MARKET AS YET

Mr. Williams emphasized the fact that but few of the merchants have as yet received these models with which to make demonstrations. He continued, "We are fortunate in having these remarkable Philcos on display at our local Eastern. People are awed when standing at 50 feet or more away from the radio itself when with the flicking of a dial that they hold in their hand, not connected in any way, the radio changes programs or volume. Many say it is far more thrilling than in the attending of a first line, paid performance.."

Mr. Williams further stated that because of the shortage of these models, orders were being filled in rotation.

Nina Mae McKinney Busy in Million $'s 'Gang Smashers'

By HARRY LEVETTE

Declaring that she was "very happy" to star for the first time in a Class-A all colored cast picture depicting modern Negro life, Nina Mae McKinney avidly plunged into her work in "Gang Smashers" at Million Dollar Studio last Tuesday. The beautiful young artist, who skyrocketed to fame in MGM's "Hallelujah" in 1929, is cast as a female detective who camouflages her work by entertaining in a New York cabaret.

The story was written by Ralph Cooper, general manager of the company and star in "Bargain with Bullets" and "The Duke is Tops". Immediately upon Miss McKinney's arrival in New York from Australia, he hastened to give her her first offer for picture work in Hollywood. It is a noteworthy fact that Million Dollar Studio only a year and a half old, has built a more versatile character for her portrayal than MGM, or Warner Bros. old established, and vastly captalized corporations. As she arranged her expensive array of gowns in her dressing room, she remarked to Leo C. Popkin, Director, and Art Brooks, Supervisor of production, that she intended to show her gratitude by turning out the finest performance of her career.

A few little differences such as naturally arise in studio work have all been ironed out, statements hold and the little star expressed regrets that a local correspondent made a "mountain out of a molehill" in an article in an Eastern paper. Instead of any neglect or mistreatment she declares that to the contrary she has received the finest of courtesy and cooperation. She is in line for a number of other features for Million Dollar upon completion of this one.

Conservatory Pianists Give Fine Program

A full house greted the young pianists, Phyllis Kelson and John Brown, Jr., in the season's first musical, Sunday at the Gray Musart. Phyllis Kelson played the Hayden Concerto in D major with technical clarity, verve and brilliance, making a tone poem of the slow movement where she demonstrated her ability to interpret the poetic side of her art. She was warmly applauded.

John Brown played the Pierne Concerto in C minor. This powerful number calling for strength, brilliance and rhythmic precision fared well at the hands of this young pianist. He plays with power, precision and ease. His tone is warm and resonant. He was greeted with thunderous applause and was recalled for an encore.

Many prominent pianists of both races were present and praised the work of these two young pianists. Prof. Gray, assisted at the second piano.

Johnson. Mrs. Blanche Uarles was guest for a week and Miss Griffith with Miss Augus Freeman are there for an indefinite stay.

REVIEW
By JOHN KINLOCH

Picture—"Blind Alibi"
Place, Bill Robinson (today only)
Players—Richard Dix, Whitney Bourne

RKO's B-picture director, Lew Landers, has turned out another neat, well-paced little melodrama. This one, it is predicted, will start a cycle of dog-pictures.

Ingeniously titled the film deals with the "blind-man's bluff" in which Richard Dix indulges in order to perform high clas thievery. Not that Mr. Dix is a villain He is busy hunting the damaging letters that would ruin his brother-in-law's political career.

The film has a snappy tempo, although it is obvious that there has been considerable skimping from the production end. The novel plot--what with Ace, the wonder dog, becoming more important than hero and heroine--aids in capturing the interest of ye blase movie-goer.

There is considerable suspense in the climatic passages, and Richard Dix offers another quiet, tolerable performance. Dix, who rose to fame as part of a co-starring team with Irene Dunne, has now been far out-distanced by that young lady.

Picture—"Straight, Place and Show"
Place—Loew's State
Players—Ritz Brothers

Either you do or you don't. Either you like the Ritz brothers or you don't. I do.

The mad men from Brooklyn romp through this race-track yarn with all the delirious hysteria of a Russian patriot. The plot, really, is pretty insipid: but then it's only an excuse for the Ritz brothers anyway.

The boys operate a pony-riding show for small children. One day they get a tip from "Lucky" somebody, play the wrong horse and clean up a fortune--three thousand dollars. The winning horse "Playboy" becomes a household god on whose nose several subsequent wagers bite the dust. In a too involved to explain, the boys winding up owners of the noble steed. Here it is discovered that the animal, considered a race-track special, is actually a first class jumper. There are many trials and tribulations before "Playboy" finally "emerges victorious" in the big race.

The Ritz antics are loonier than ever. To raise "Playboy's" entrance fee, Harry Ritz impersonates the great wrestler "Running Deer". The match between this gentlemen "the Terrible Turk" is one of the film high-lights. Harry wins--immediately after the lights went out and Al borrowed a hammer.

Also represented in the film is Richard Arlen. The former Paramount white-haired boy has kept in cinema swim very well. His role, however, is lifeless and not very impressive. Ethel Merman displays her usual vigor in the rendition of songs not in the hit class. Bad photography, too.

Unreserved Seats on Sale at Mayan

Good news for those who have tried to get reserved seats for the popular "Run, Little Chillun" was announced today when it was revealed that more than 500 unreserved seats are on sale at the Mayan Theatre box office after 7 p. m.

Owing to the tremendous acclaim given the Hall Johnson Negro folk play, it is now entering its 13th week with a smash attendance of more that 60,000. Clarence Muse, noted actor, directs the players. The drama is produced jointly by the Federal Theatres and Music Projects.

The O and No. 10 cars will stop directly in front of the rink. Parents who accompany their youngsters may spend a pleasant afternon in the park close by where mootr obats and a merry-g-round are available. The parties attract enthusists from all over the Southland and affords fun on rainy days as well as sunny ones.

Giants Beat White Kings in 10 Innings in Loop Opener

From the time Chief of Police James E. Davis pitched the first ball, officially opening the 1938-39 Winter League baseball until the end of the first half of a thrilling tenth inning when the Royal Giants broke their 3-3 tie with the White Kings, last Sunday's diamond premiere was the greatest in eighteen years.

A crowd estimated at 5,500 that had rushed in to nearly fill White Sox Park, following the colorful street parade, were not only impressed with the opening ceremonies, but were entertained as never before at the start of any previous Winter League season. Movie stars, celebrities, and famous folks from all walks of life, joining in all the festivities and pleasure of the occasion.

Manager Vernon Green's Royal Giants, known in the Negro National League as the Washington Elites, presented the most powerful, well-balanced machine that has come to the coast in four years, but they met tough opposition in Casey Campbell's revamped and thoroughly reorganized White Kings.

Drafted from the Major and Minor Leagues, the white players started off by copping two runs before the Giants got going. It was a pitcher's duel with the famous "Schoolboy" Griffin" the "Bob Feller" of Negro baseball, facing Lindell one of the New York Yankees best hurlers. Griffin struck out ten men: Lindell six, both pitchers getting excellent support from their teammates.

LITTLE WORLD SERIES

Next Sunday a classic is on tap in the shape of a "Little World Series" doubleheader between the Giants, pennant winners of the Negro National League, and Jas. Newton's Detroit Stars, flag bearers of the Negro American League. "Pepper Basse", also known as "Rocking Chair Basse", will make his coast debut on the Stars, and Jimmy Derricks will return after two great seasons in eastern fields. Others in the line-up will be Morris, Dunn, Roosevelt Davis, Thomas, Miller, Flennoy and "Red" Davis. On the Giant roster will be Capt. Felton, Snow, Hughes, Williams, Suttles, Wright, Somers, Porter, Morris, Mackey, and "Schoolboy" Griffin who will face Bassett in the opening game. The first game starts at 1:30 P. M.

FIRST BASEMAN

No, you're not seeing pink elephants. The photo is a familiar one of a familiar figure to the boxing branch of the sporting world, Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing champion.

But Joe, temporarily retired from the rigors of the ring, has turned his talents to softball and with his Brown Bombers, an all-star nine from Detroit invaded the city Monday night.

Louis fans will be guests of Bill Botoms, famed dietician, now attending to the nourishment of the champ, at a dance tonight in the Elks' hall. Louis and his Detroit ball players will positively be present.

Local Softball Stars Bombed By Joe's Team

A return engagement of the sensational Brown Bomber softball team, led by its owner and first baseman, Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion of the world, was clamored for by almost 10,000 fans who witnessed the Bombers' triumph over the local Commerce Finance nine at Wrigley Field Monday night.

Thus with an 8-1 victory to their credit over the local squad that had held an unofficial West Coast championship, the Bombers will play two weeks hence, date as yet not set, at the Loyola Stadium. Should they emerge victorious a second time, an unofficial national softball championship will be theirs.

In Monday night's game, Louis, completely recovered from the recent injury to his right leg, suffered when he slid into home in an Eastern game, held down the first base during the entire nine innings. In addition he scored one hit out of four times at bat.

The Bombers are a squad of fast, spectacular and comic players. The white team was certainly no match for them. After permitting their hosts one score in the first inning, the Bombers held them in tight rein for the remainder of the evening.

Lewis to Drop Weight for Bout

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 13. (CNA)—John Henry Lewis, world light-heavyweight champion, will have to sweat off nine pounds to get down to a trim 175 for his title defense against Al Gainer, at New Haven Oct. 14.

Before Gus Greenlee, Lewis manager, signed for the fight last week, the boxer assured him that he could make the weight with little difficulty. This is the second match for the two fighters, Lewis outpointing Gainer in a non-title bout two years ago.

Bulldogs Taste Second Defeat

Ross Snyder's Bulldogs' Eastside playground football team, suffered another defeat last Sunday, this a 6-0 score in a practice tilt with the highly touted Spaulding outfit.

Although the Spauldings gained the largest total yards, the Bulldogs, fighting tenaciously, stopped every scoring threat until the final moments of play.

A crowd almost equalling that which turned out for the Winter League ball games across the way at White Sox Park, jockeyed for places of vantage on the sidelines. The Bulldogs are coached by "Tiger" Manson, former All-American in the colored loop, from Wilberforce.

Sunday's starting line-up was:

Williams	LER	Poindexter
McGowan	LR	Spears
McGowan	LTR	Lytle
Wyatt	LGR	Creecy
Warren	C
Scales	LH
Deane	Q	Scott F

Subs: Harrison, E: Amos and James, G; Sweney, H.

Officials: Alexander, Referee; Miller, Umpire.

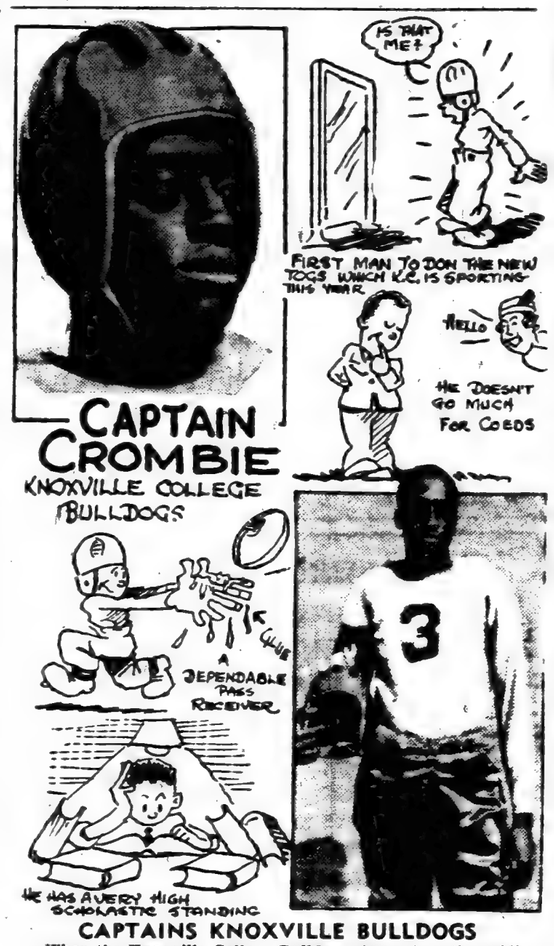
CALIFORNIA EAGLE SPORTS

BRUIN ROOTERS CONFIDENT AS TEAM GOES NORTH TO PLAY BEARS

By ALMENA DAVIS

Almost a wholesale exodus of football fans to the northland is on tap for this week-end when the UCLA Bruins move into the Berkeley stadium to engage their big brothers, the California Bears, in mortal combat.

Followers of El Bruin, grown more loyal to the "darker blue and gold" since the advent of Kenny Washington and Woodrow Strode, Uclan sepia gridders, are expected to swell the ranks of student rooters by 100 strong at the most important game, save one, on the Westwood schedule.



U. C. L. A. enters the fray on a longer end of the stick than was handed it by the experts preceding last week's game with Washington, and California is by no means near liable to upset as were the Huskies. In fact, the records precedence, and all the tools of logic are strictly on the Bear side. El Bruin should emerge a battered and bruised cubbie indeed, from sixty minutes of helter skelter about the Berkeley greensward if normal procedure is followed at all.

Nonetheless, Cubbie and his camp followers say, "They've got it to do".

That much-talked about but heretofore little put-into-practice aerial offense of the local team, featuring the Pacific Coast's most discussed player, Kenny Washington, has been promised by the Westwood sage, Bill Spaulding. Washington, alternating at half and fullback, will doubtless be used more on the offensive than in the last exhibition, surer as he is of his position.

Practice sessions this week also took up the end-around play that failed utterly to click against Washington Saturday. On them, Strode, streamlined right end, shifts over to extreme left end, preparatory to receiving a pass and galloping across the goal line. The play is a dead-ringer if the pass shooters, Chuck Fenenbock and Washington, should learn to judge distance more accurately.

California will have no element of color on its squad as the hopes from that quarter went a' glimmering when Charles Russell member of the Rambler team last year, failed to register for es this fall.

CAPTAINS KNOXVILLE BULLDOGS

When the Knoxville College Bulldogs step out on the gridiron Saturday to meet LeMoyne, and give the first football parade of the season before the hometown fans, John Crombie, introduced above will lead the K. Ceans as captain.

Captain Crombie is playing his fourth year at end for the Bulldogs. He is a day student, living within the city of Knoxville. Before his college grid career, he stared at an end position for the highly touted Austin High Panthers.

Matt A. Henson Federal Airing

Matthew A. Henson, the courageous Negro explorer who accompanied Admiral Peary on his famous North Pole expedition in 1908, is honored on today's "Turning Points In Famous Lives" presentation.

Federal Theatre Radio Division players dramatize Henson's meeting with Peary in 1888 and the quarter hour KRKD program, to be aired at 11 a. m. traces the expedition that began on July 6, 1908 in the "Roosevelt" and ended triumphantly when Henson, Admiral Peary and four Eskimos stumbled upon the Pole.

Lester Wilkins plays the title role, and Clinton Murdock, Robert Davidson, Norman MacDonald and Charles Barnes are also prominently cast. Raymond Gross narrates the Amos Reese script.

Crouch Stops Levinson in 4 Rounds

With heavyweight champion of the world Joe Louis and an ever increasing number of his supporters looking on, Georgie Crouch kayoed Sol Levinson from Denver, in four rounds at the Olympic Tuesday night.

The "Cobra" had his foe on the canvas three times. The end of the second found Levinson on the floor, the bell saving him from a kayo. Sol was on the floor the second time in the fourth when Referee Mushy Callahan raised Crouch's duke in token of a TKO.

It was a smashing win for the "Cobra" who has compiled a string of sensational wins at the Olympic in recent months. His win tabs him definitely as a threat to Baby Arzimendi and other top-flight lightweights in the nation.

Next week the Olympic features a double main event with Sonny Boy Walker hooking up with Texas Jack Dallas and Jimmy McDaniels meeting Louie Flyer.

Tiger Eleven Set to Battle Kentucky State

Fine Tiger Eleven Set to Battle Kentucky State—Social Events Planned

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 13. — Lincoln University campus is agog with excitement as preparations go apace to entertain a record crowd, anticipated to take part in the Annual Homecoming celebration here, October 29.

The Lincoln Homecoming has grown until now it ranks second in the Middle West only to the Tuskegee - Wilberforce game at Chicago as a major sepia classic. Last year visitors were noted not only from every section of Missouri, but from six other states including Oklahoma, Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas, and Nebraska.

This year's team is potentially the best in some time. The crowd will see such stars in action as Ross Pearly, the great triple threat, who will be playing his last Homecoming game; and

NOT EASILY BOTTLED UP

Junior college opposition to Pasadena Jaysee's determined bid for gridiron supremacy, has finally "got hep" to the necessity of bottling up JACK ROBINSON, photoed above executing one of his famous forward passes, in order to get anywhere near the victory stand.

In last Friday night's game with Taft, Jackie, the most brilliant quarterback produced at the Crown City school in many a moon, was bottled up on the running plays, but managed to throw two passes that resulted in two of the school's four touchdowns.

Paced by Jackie and a sepia right end, answering to the name of Bartlett, the Bulldogs as yet are undefeated. It was on a pass to Bartlett from Robinson that one of the PJC touchdowns was scored.

Substitute players of color for Pasadena were Wright and Floyd, the latter a product of Jefferson High school in Los Angeles.

Johnny Wynne's Grid Play Inspires Praise

Capable of playing "on any football team in the business right now, varcity or frosh" was the estimate of Johnny Wynne's talents, advanced by Avrum Stroll, sport reporter for the Oakland Tribune, after watching Wynne, a member of the U. C. L. A. frosh squad in action against the California Bear first seasoners two weeks ago at Berkeley.

"He was the outstanding blocker on the field and he made fully half of the Bruin tackles," Stroll writes in his story of the frosh game, which ended 14-6 in the Bear favor.

Wynne, a former Manual Arts High school player, is being tried at the fullback position by the Bruin freshman coach, and plays it sixty minutes by virtue of his performance this season, he is virtually assured of a post on the Bruin Varsity next season.

"Bullet" Hyatt, flashy open field runner. The line is strong with such stalwarts as "Flip Plummer, All Mid-West end; Sneed and Cawthorne, tackle, and Hughes, guard.

As the Homecoming opponents the Lincoln Tigers will engage the powerful Kentucky State College Thoroughbreds, 1937 national inter-collegiate football champions. Kentucky State has one of the best-drilled teams in Colored circles and is noted for its famous aerial circus.

BATTLE WITH BALLOTS

Political campaigns were designed to be used as clearing houses, to check on men and issues. During a "campaign" we let these men tell us about themselves. Then we allow others to place long, wordy amendments on the ballot which we are supposed to study, but never do.

Finally voting day rolls around. It finds us armed to the teeth, not to battle with ballots for our citizenship rights in city, state and national congress, but to wage bitter word battles against one another.

And when an election becomes past history, men are rewarded with high salaried offices, paid from your taxes; amendments become laws by which you are governed—WHERE ARE YOU?

Voters and fellow citizens, let us realize that we are living in one of the world's greatest metropolises and that as citizens some fifty thousand strong it is our first duty to decide that taxation without representation is as tyrannical today as it was in 1776. However, when our rights are infringed upon because we fail to use the ballot to battle for them, we fail in doing our duty not only to ourselves but also to our posterity.

WE'LL BE SEEING YOU

Seldom do we have a friend at court on any of our so-called Civil Service commissions. Over a period of years we have had occasion to scrutinize some examinations held by the County Civil Service Commission. In many instances, Negroes make high grades in the standard written work. But then, there is something we call the "oral", in which applicants appear in person before the commission. Here the Negro, like the chicken, gets it in the neck—he is cut off.

If those who are responsible for this unfair procedure think that Negroes are not wise to this sort of thing, they are mistaken. We know that we can't see you, Mr. Commissioner, at the BALLOT-BOX, but we can see those who are responsible for your presence on the commission. So, until the next time, we'll be seeing you!

"HAVE NEGROES NO RIGHT?

"We Southerners are going to have to face the question of whether Negroes are to have any rights at all. Social equality is not the question here. Juryman G. F. Porter did not demand social equality at the court house. He merely asked for equality before the law. You can call that courage, if you like, or you may call it poor judgment. But before you call it either, put yourself in his shoes. Certainly no coward would have done what he did or faced what he faced.

"The law is plain. The law has plainly been outraged. Beyond that the course of justice in Dallas County is seriously threatened. You noticed that when Judge Sarah Hughes discharged Porter (following the assult) she also discharged all other jurors remaining on the panel. There was a reason for that.

"No Negro defendant convicted by men taken from this jury for the week need have any cause to fear. If he has a lawyer worth 30c a month, that lawyer can take his case to the Supreme Court of the United States and get that defendant's conviction reversed for violation of the Constitution of the United States.

"Either we give the Negro a fair show in the courthouse or else every conviction of a Negro in this county is voidable upon appeal to the federal jurisdiction."—Dallas Morning Post.

"END OF THE DEPRESSION

"Soon this depression will come to an end. There is no reason to believe otherwise. And when we find things are back to normal once more, few of us will know why. Of contributory causes, there will be plenty. But the main cause can easily be overlooked.

"In surveying our past economic history, one can readily detect a relation between our national standard of living and our national philosophy. The process goes something like this. When the farmers are reaping good crops and getting good prices for them; when labor is drawing satisfactory wages; when the federal government is living within its income and has surplus to spare; and when it is easy to borrow money, for almost any purpose, it does not require much force to make us carefree.

"As a nation, we become extravagant and make commitments of various sorts that are beyond our means, individually and collectively. In this easy-going atmosphere, our efforts, both mental and physical, become less constructive and efficient. We prepare the way for trouble in the future.

"During hard times, the process is just the reverse. For the past few years we have been doing some serious thinking. The laborer and the wage-earner have been more inclined to give their employer his money's worth. Pennies are watched where formerly dollars were thrown away. Prudence is the order of the day.

"In a primitive society such conduct would bring its own reward. And it will in our more complex civilization, also. All of us are still engaged in the act of making a living. The Indians eked theirs out of the streams and woods. We produce ours mostly by machinery. However, the same principles apply to both methods. Neither will be productive without diligent application of honest labor. When the depression is all over, our recovery will be ascribed to a variety of reasons. Some will lay it to a certain monetary policy, or to a changed foreign situation. Others will point to a new industry or to the revival of an old one. But at the bottom of each will lie the fact that the nation was sobered during the distressing period of atonement, and hard work was restored as a coefficient of material progress. It is taking us a little longer this time than usual, but we contrived to make the earlier joy-ride as long as possible. What else can we expect?"

DIZZY FIGURES

Dizzy figures in terms of which promoters of the "30-Warrants-Every-Thursday" scheme are dreaming were disclosed today by a little simple arithmetic.

If 1,000,000 of the 1,350,000 people in California over fifty receive the warrants, 1,560,000,000 must be issued the first year.

Since the warrants would be eight inches long, that would be the equivalent of 12,480,000,000 inches, or 109,060 miles of warrants, more than four times the distance around the world.

Now, since the scheme calls for the 1,560,000,000 to remain a fixed figure, each to be turned over every week for 52 weeks, the turnover would be 81,120,000,000 warrants yearly.

DISARMING FOR PEACE

Europe's war fever has lessened—but not its armaments race. Even though Prime Minister Chamberlain brought home from Munich what he termed a peace pact, he shows little faith in it. Among his first words to Parliament, on his return, was the declaration that Britain's rearmament drive would continue unabated. He may have suspected that Hitler's pipe of peace was tamped with dynamite. But amid the unrelenting thunder of munitions plants is again heard the voice of the world's common people clamoring for peace, and pleas for world disarmament are cautiously voiced by officials in Washington. But with the course of events in the world's clouded future seemingly at the mercy of trigger-action psychopaths, the likelihood of disarmament by anyone, anywhere, becomes increasingly remote. The United States proposed it in 1921-1922, and acted upon it. Other powers agreed, but only we tore up the battleships. Who believes there is more honor among nations today than then?

KEEP POSTED ON IMPOSTS!

President Roosevelt announced a few days ago that he is planning legislation to junk the Interstate Commerce Commission with a new Department of Transportation. The possible demise of that commission in favor of a body with drastic powers over policy and practice on the landways and airways has already aroused concern. Whether or not a new agency, with a big stick, can banish traffic ailments on land and air, its scope would embrace only a part of the transportation problem, as the motoring public knows. Mr. and Mrs. Motorist have been, and are still, waging a stiff fight against diversion of highway funds—lush pickings for spendthrift legislative budgets. Highway imposts yielded more than one billion dollars last year, of which commercial transport machines contributed over one-fourth, though comprising but a fraction of vehicle traffic. Motorists are right in demanding a full return on the innumerable levies they pay. "It would be as preposterous to tax sugar to build roads as to tax gasoline to run government!" states Loyal M. Graham, author of the first gasoline tax bill ever passed. America's motoring millions second the motion!

A CCC FOR THE AGED?

This is a nation of youth, and the tempo of its life, like the tempo of its industries, moves at a frenetic pace, crowding out the old, making way for the new. And so the aged, too, have been crowded out to make way for the young. America is paying the price of her neglect in the fantastic but flourishing pension schemes which are rallying millions under their rosy banners. But if America is forgetful, she is not heartless. A just solution can be found. A possible first step may lie in the direction proposed a few days ago by Rep. Mead of New York that a counterpart of the successful CCC might be established for unemployed men between 45 and 60. At all events, pensions or the dole are bitter bread to the many men in this age group who are at the peak of mental fitness and eager for work. As long as they are dislocated from employment, states will continue to be threatened with the dislocation of their financial structure, as one script-tease after another rallies the support of the indigent aged.

Guest Editorial

THE DAILY PRESS

"The recent announcement by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that plans are already under way for a new campaign for the enactment of a federal anti-lynching law by the next Congress is welcome news to a majority of the American people.

Obviously, such a decision was to be expected. To have taken any other position was to submit cravenly to the will of the small handful of Senators who perpetrated the shameful undemocratic filibuster.

Public opinion rallied to the support of this legislation during the last session, as never before. Now that it has been demonstrated to the American people tha the states wherein lynchings are perpetrated do not prosecute or punish the mob murderers and that the Federal Government is powerless to act, public opinion demands the enactment of a federal law to curb and punish the mobs, and to wipe out for all time this, the foulest blot on American civilization.

"But the number of lynchings has been greatly decreased?" Yes! But the evil is still present. The tradition that men may be lynched with impunity still remains. The threat of lynchings and mob violence still holds a community sanction in many sections.

"But the filibusterers will filibuster once more?" There is only one answer to this: The Cloture Rule. It is only necessary that the Senators who favor the bill vote in favor of the Cloture Rule, as a barrier against the repetition of the protracted filibuster of the last session. Remember that the overwhelming majority in the House and Senate favor this federal law.

The Interracial Review is convinced that the Catholic Press of America which is supporting this legislation should urge the adoption of the Cloture Rule to block the filibuster and insure the early passage of this needed legislation.

There can be no armistice for lynching and mob violence. Lynching Must go!"

—THE INTERRACIAL REVIEW

occasions, when a "Negro History" class was considered, contention and disagreement grew so that the entire idea was abandoned. Black students have burned to hear their heroes immortalized along with Washington, Lincoln, and Roosevelt. But black students have been wise enough to perceive that a historical accounting independent of the general American history could reflect but little glory. Great Negroes already have been recognized—the question many wished to have answered was this, "Who among our great Negroes also are great Americans?" Obviously, a special Negro class cannot answer this query.

But, friends, an incessant bickering on the behalf of a distant, abstract victory is of very little practical use. That is, we may argue for general recognition 'til blue in the face, but find ourselves lost if some sort of actual progress is not made. Therefore, let us consider the Jefferson "Negro History" class a wedge with which to open the great portals of general recognition. Oftimes, we become obsessed with the ultimate triumph and forget the essential, preliminary success. In the military texts of our fighting world, it is shown that skillful minor stabs and well-timed skirmishes are the actual basis of major victory

With a campaign for appropriate understanding of the black man's historical position, we find the "enemy" in neither law, words, or men. There is no statute which we must strike from the law books. There is no key man in the educational system offering ruthless opposition. The enemy is greater than any of these. The enemy, friends, is the psychology of a human mind.

Let's not fool ourselves; this is the most vital factor in any crusade. When Hitler forced a combination of the world's greatest war machines into submission, his victory was psychological. England and France gave in because their people had not been subjected to a propaganda office—a Joseph Goebbels. Had Britain and France been psychologically stirred to the point of devil-may-care recklessness of the Germans, contemporary history would be greatly altered. The power of psychology was best illustrated, however, when the Czechs forced Hitler to ignore his time limit ultimatum and convoke another conference. Get the picture! Weak Czechoslovakia performed the miracle which powerful Britain and France feared to attempt. Why was this possible? Because of the intense hatred, developed through the years, which Czechs felt for their Aryan neighbor. Hate, friends—a phenomenon of the human mind.

Thus, in our battle for historic recognition, we fight another phenomenon of the mind—indifference. Texts, literature, movies, plays—all media have ignored the Negro as an important contributor to the nation's culture. There is hardly a single military, cultural, or economic development since the beginning of our country which has not been influenced by the Negro. A creative study of mathematics in the United States was sired by Benjamin Bannicker, one of the constructors of Washington, D. C. Editorial journalism was fathered by Douglass—and so on down the line. Yet these achievements have been ignored. The Negro, in so far as the nation in general is concerned, has remained a porter. This tremendous misconception — entirely psychological, or mental, cannot be hurdled with one leap. Today no general text book can be written which reflects the Negro's proper position in relation to our whole national development. We must propagandize for this a little longer.

Therefore welcome the Jefferson "Negro History" class! We do not pretend that it is our goal. However, it may well become the first strategic movement in a great educational battle within the state. The establishment of this class reflects, at least, some susnicion on the part of educational leaders that the Negro, historically, is being gypped.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE SUMMING UP

Dear Editor:

Just a few lines to let you known how you stand in my way of summing up things in our district, known as the 62nd Assembly.

First, may I say when the highest of the high in the spiritual realm of thought seizes a human being, it means "taos" for said person lest he or she adheres to the ethics of the same.

I have found by my travels in said state of the Infinite many supporting equations in philosophy for a real New Deal in Religion and politics, whereas if the same was to be turned adrift at this hour in the church and chambers of the state, it would free many evil-mongers, who have not as yet repented before the altar of the world.

Now, there be many of the evil-monger type in our district, who are at present the idols of their respective assemblages, but if they were put under the examination of Truth, they would not receive an average of fifty percent in their efficiency as true leaders.

I can name said group in our district.

You, yourself, are a woman who has had to scuffle painfully for your knowledge of your surroundings, and you do, at this time, symbolize a picture similar to Daniel in the Lion's Den, and a cub among said group of beasts seems to be getting much glory out of his attack on women's sufferage.

Yours truly,
GEORGE PHILLIPS,
Philosopher

MAKE HAY

Dear Editor:

In March 1938 I wrote to the Honorable Governor Merriam asking him to appoint a colored judge. He answered on April 1, saying there were no vacancies here and in the future, if there was one, he would consider it.

A committee should call on him with Assemblyman Gus Hawkins before the election. If he loses, we will be too late and if he wins, it may be another story. The people of our race should flood his desk with letters. I say, let us make hay while the sun shines.

A white friend of mine uptown showed me Mr. Scott's card and asked me if the Eagle was the best colored paper in which to advertise. Of course, I told him yes.

Sincerely,
CHARLES D. WHERRY

TRULY WONDERFUL

Dear Editor:

You have a wonderful paper. I received results from the first ad I put in.

Yours gratefully,

THIS BOY, John Kinloch, your newscaster, is yet in his 'teens, believe it or not. When he was a lad of six, a friend of the family, while trimming the tiny nails, remarked that his hands were well-shaped. He quickly replied, "This is the first time anyone ever raved over me!"

At the present, Negro labor, as a group finds itself in an identical position. This is the first time anyone has raved over it."

Last week the American Federation of labor pledged itself to fight for the preservation of the civil and political rights of colored people, while in session at Houston, Texas.

This development, on the face of almost blanket recognition on the part of rival CIO organizations, heralds a new day for the Negro's labor status. Without drawing any conclusions as to which group is best, we hail these indications that white labor has recognized the existence of black working men.

For years the AF of L, unchallenged in its national labor leadership, has chosen to ignore eight million workers. Any designs upon permanent industrial peace which excluded so vast a body, of course, were doomed from the outset. Prejudice and intolerance exhibited in many instances served as the most powerful weapon against labor itself. Barred from union, black workers, during the world war, wrecked scores of great strikes through intervention as scab-labor. Even this, however, did not bring about a general conception of shortsightedness in the elimination of Afro-Americans from unions ranks.

Nor do we hold that the Nation taken definite stands in favor of equal participation of all races at that time, the allegiance of black labor, now so vitally, important to it, would not be threatened. In order to sustain temporary unity, the A. F. of L. forfeited possibility of far reaching economic gains on a national scale, and laid ground-work for the present Lewis insurrection. It should have been perfectly clear that a group composed ninety-five per cent of working masses could not be ignored in any permanent labor consideration. Equally self-evident was the fact that such an unsound, vacillating policy could result only in future rebellion.

Had the central administration takn definit stands in favor of qual participation of all races at that time, the allegiance of black labor, now so vitally important to it, would not be threatened. In order to sustain temporary unity, the A. F. of L. forfeited possibility of far-reaching economic gains on a national scale, and laid groundwork for the present Lewis insurrection. It should have ben perfectly clear that a group composed to ninety-five per cent of working masses could not be ignored in any permanent labor consideration. Equally self-evident was the fact that such an unsound, vacillating policy would result only in future rebellion.

Recognition of the black man, today, may be a little late. If alleged communistic and violent influences within the C.I.O. affect Negro workers, the A. F. of L. must condemn only itself. And once again the truth of an old, hackneyed proverb is proven,—"a stitch in time saves nine."

But we do not consider the Afro-American blameless in the execution of his own economic stagnation. While certainly in no position to effect widespread operation of great industrial enterprises, Negroes have not nearly grasped the advantages open to them in retail and wholesale fields. I have thought recently that too much energy is dissipated in campaigns of "Don't Spend Where You Can't Work" and too little directed into the construction of our own business enterprises. The only sure method of achieving justice for Negro working masses is economic self-suficiency. If we are able to support ourselves in a business sense, no longer will we be forced to beg of another man's store. There is no doubt that the operator of enterprises in the Negro neighborhood should cooperate with local employment demands, but we should never mistake this temporary end for the ultimate goal of independent race ownership.

If you wish to understand the previous state of Jews in Germany, the prejudice, the unfairness of their lives; if you wish to know France-British lack of conscience; if you seek information anent Italian and Russian secret police; if you wish a recital of collective intolerance of the outside world — read the staunch American periodical.

The effort expended by United States' publications in tracking down foreign injustice is truly monumental. The tireless investigation of corruption in the nations of the world make the American press a sort of museum of international horror.

Of hand, one would surely consider a country so consci-

FAUSTINA JOHNSON, CIVIC LEADER, MENDS

Mrs. Faustina Johnson who is still confined to the Genera. Hospital with a broken leg wishes to thank her many friends who have called to see her and sent her such beautiful cards and although she is flat on her back she is still carrying on. Mrs. Johnson has been named on the Democratic State Central Committee, appointment made by Sheridan Downey, Nominee for U. S. Senate. Mrs. Johnson is also the official representative for the Los Angeles County Council Against the Single tax and wishes to reach every organization on the Eastside to bring them the message that is so improtant to every voter and especiallv the small home owners. Any organization wishing a speaker for this will please call Jefferson 2635.

2 Bandits Terrorize Community

A series of hold-ups and robberies by "couple" burgulars peppered the Eastside this week and provided the biggest activity for Newton Street police, who have had "everything under control" in that section for the past two weeks

Biggest "haul" was "lifted" from a white sailor, bound for a good time in the lower Central Avenue section Robert M Drover, the sailor, told Newton Street police that he confided, to a "lady" the whereabouts of his bankroll, consisting of 13 crisp new ten dollar bills.

Said "lady", after accepting six dollars from Drover, compensation for services renderd, informed her "boy friend", who relieved the side pocket of Drover's car of the roll.

Police arrested Miss Betty Broons and Barker Henderson of 904½ E. 41st place on Dover's complaint and booked them on grand theft charges. There is a possibility that a violation of the liquor law may be hung on Henderson as he allegedly sold drinks at 25 cents each to callers at the 41st place address. The arrested duo gave ages and occupations as 43-year old butler and 23 year old maid.

BLANKET USED

Undercover of a blanket, Emil Kohlbeck, white machine operator of 1050½ Orme avenue, was slugged and robbed of $48.00 by a trio of two women and one man. Kohlbeck told police that he was driving North on Long Beach about 3:15 a. m. Saturday when two women called him from a doorway at 4017 Long Beach avenue.

He said he got out of the car and inquired of the two what they wanted. They invited him in and just as he got inside the door, a blanket was thrown over his head. A man, whom the victim had observed as he stepped

COUNTY CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION MEETS TO SIFT JIM CROW CHARGES

Editorial in EAGLE Gets Action as Supervisor McDonough Calls

Result of an editorial appearing in last week's EAGLE, Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough yesterday called a special meeting of the County Civil Service Commission to sift charges. Local Negro leaders were called to the confab.

The editorial (appearing elsewhere on this page) was read by Supervisor McDonough. It charged discrimination in the oral tests. The Commission denied full responsibility for alleged bias and pointed to Departmental heads as probable "guilty parties."

Supervisor McDonough protested the fairness of his administration in interracial matters and demanded that any asserted discriminaton cease.

Mrs. C. A. Bass, EAGLE editor, stated that "negroes do not want favors in the allotment of Civil Service appointments—they demand only fairness!"

Prominent leaders present included Mrs. Vada Summerville, publisher, Mrs. Betty Hill, executive secretary of the Republican Study Clubs, and a committee from that organization, Norman O. Houston, Golden State Mutual executive, and Mrs. Jessie Terry.

DREW SWIFT ACTION

(Editorial in last wek's Eagle)

Seldom do we have a friend at court on any of our so-caled Civil Service commissions. Over a period of years we have had occasion to scrutinize some examinations held by the County Civil Service Commission. In many instances, Negroes make high grades in the standard written work. But then, there is something we call the "oral", in which applicants appear in person before the commission. Here the Negro, like the chicken, gets it in the nack—he is cut off. . .

NAACP SEEKS ACTION BY GOV. OF LOUISIANA IN '38's 6TH LYNCHING

Sixth Lynching of Year Proves Need of Federal Law, Declares NAACP; Secretary Reminds La. Senator of Anti-Lynch Bill Filibuster in January

NEW YORK, October 20.—Governor Richard W. Leche of Louisiana, was confronted today with his own telegram on lynching sent last January to the Senate, and was asked by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to "use all powers of the state to apprehend and punish" the lynchers of 19-year-old Tommie Williams.

Walter White, Association secretary, wired the governor, quoting the latter's telegram of January 13, 1938, and asking him to take action. The NAACP also telegraphed Senator Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, reminding him that he had talked for six days against the anti-lynching bill during the filibuster last January, and citing the Ruston lynching as proving the need of a federal law to stop lynching.

Williams was hanged and shot by a mob in Ruston, La. last Thursday in the sixth lynching of the year. In order to whip up the lynching spirit, Williams was accused of criminally attacking one or two white girls and murdering a white man. After the lynching, it was admitted that the boy did not commit a sex offense. He is said to have beaten a girl nad to have killed the man.

There is no proof that Williams was guilty. He had not been arrested and charged with murder. The mob carried on a man hunt for two days and finally cornered Williams in a smokehouse. He was hanged and shot while Sheriff Bryan Thigpen stood nearby it was reported.

A. P. ACCOUNT

Press reports said Sheriff Thigpen tried to stop the mob, but the Associated Press account hinted strongly of collusion between the sheriff and the mob when it declared:

"Finally it was agreed that the mob would march the Negro through the woods and surrender him to officers on a side road. But when he reached the road, the sheriff said, he heard shots."

Relatives of the girl whom Williams is said to have beaten are reported as having pleaded with the mob not to harm the boy.

Investigation Blasts Newton Street

Complete demolition of the city's vice investigation division hit the Eastside late Tuesday evening as the Newton Street Vice Squad, object of dissention for the past year, was rent asunder and the principles scattered figuratively speaking, to the four winds.

Among 53 vice officers transferred to the "sticks", or outlying districts of Los Angeles, were Lieutenant Sidney Sweenam, Irish head of the Newton Squad, and Richmond Dunn, colored officer, working under Sweetnam.

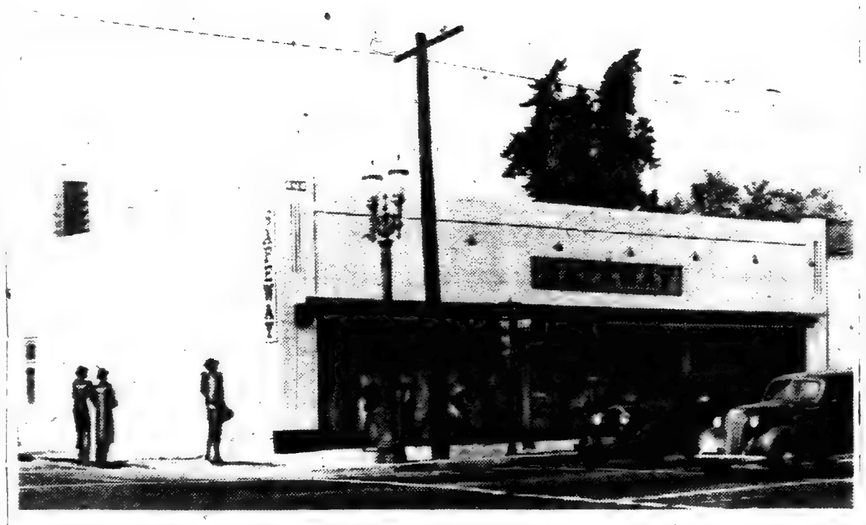
Sweenam was transferred to the Univresity Station patrol division as a uniformed lieutenant. Dunn was shifted to the Central police station and detailed to the uniformed traffic division.

SET-UP CHANGED

As announcement of the transfer were made public, Chief of Police James E. Davis issued an order to de-centralize the former vice set-up. The order became effective immediately.

Separate vice divisions in each of the city's 15 units are created and responsibility for vice conditions and investigations placed directly upon the individual division commanders.

Thus a Newton Street Division commander, as yet, unnamed, will hold vice squads, assigned to the Newton street station, accountable for the vice activity therein. Herefore localized vice divisions were accountable only to the Central Station.



Administers 1st Aid, Then Drinks Iodine

The "doctor" became the "patient" in a sucide attempt last Friday night as Richard C. Stevens, 30-year-old sandblaster, drained the contents of an iodine bottle, which he, a few minutes earlier, had applied to scratches on the hand of his wief.

Newton Street police and ambulance, were called to the 20th street address by Mrs. Clarisa Stevens and Stevens was removed to the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital and thence to the General where he is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Stevens told officers that Stevens had been despondent for sometime over drinking and marihuana smoking habits. In some unexplained manner, he had scratched her on the hand and had just finished painting the scratches with iodine when he turned the bottle up and drank the poison.

Business Women Hold Confab in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20—Negro business women have seize dthe bull of recession by the horns and in so doing have gotten a jump on the men—in the matter of formulation of a definite program to offset the effects o the economic plight among Negroes.

Setting forth the first week in May for the inauguration of a Negro Business Women's Week, marked a decided highlight in the program last Saturday and Sunday, of the third annual convention of the National Association of Business Women's Clubs. Sessions were held at the Southwest-Belmont branch of the YWCA.

The action set a precedent for a national movement to rehabilitate colored business and establish confidence of colored merchants and professional practitioners in their chosen field, and the confidence of the public supporting them.

Presiding over the sessions was Mrs. Bertha Perry Rhodes, national president of the body, and founder of the local chapter.

WILBERFORCE UNIVERSITY HOLDS MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR L. A. GIRL

RYLVA EASTER

WILBERFORCE, Oct. 20—At 10 o'clock a. m. Friday, October 7, the students, faculty and employees of Wilberforce University payed respect to one of their beloved students, Rylva Norrine Easter, who was fatally injured in the wreck of the "Californian" thirty miles east of Nilan, Calif., on September 20.

The audience gathered in Galloway auditorium while gentle strains from the piano were rendered by Miss Elnora Davis, instructor in the College of Liberal Arts. The group of young women taking part in this program honoring Miss Easter were led on the stage by Miss Georgia M. Teal, Dean of Women of Wilberforce University and Professor Lenora Carrington Lane, Director of the Department of Elementary Education, in which department Miss Easter was enrolled. All were attired in dark dresses and wore white flowers.

Three of Miss Easter's schoolmates, Doris Brown, Mildred White and Constance Weller, opened the service with the song, "O Dry Those Tears". This number was followed by various tributes from representatives of every department in the University with which Miss Easter was associated. Dean Teal, in behalf of the Administration, voiced the sentiment of the entire University when she said, "Our group shares with her family the sorrow of her passing."

FROST ON A FLOWER

The words of Prof. Lenora Carrington Lane brought tears to the eyes of many when she likened the death of Miss Easter to an untimely frost upon a sweet and lovely flower."

While the entire Elementary Teacher's Training Department stood with reverently bowed heads the following tribute was paid to Miss Easter by Miss Gladys Cassel, another of her classmates. "She was a young woman of fine character and high ideals. Wilberforce was proud to have had her. Our sorrow is made less poignant by a pleasant memory."

Representing the student body, Miss Rhetta Jean Boswell, who also comes from Los Angeles, California, and who was a close friend of Miss Easter, read May Doney's poem, "Comfort."

Last spring before Miss Easter returned home, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority of which she was a member, honored her by electing her "Dean of Pledges".

In reminiscing over the experiences that took place while Miss Easter was a student here, Miss Wetonah Barker, representing the AKA sorority described her fellow classmate and sorority as modest, retiring, yet, who, because of her sincere honesty, made a bevy of friends. For Alpha Kappa Alpha, Miss Barker impressively rendered the farewell.—"Soror Easter we shall never forget you. Some day we shall meet. Now, we bid you adieu." While the AKA hymn was being played members of the sorority stood with bowed heads.

DID YOU KNOW—

White members of St. George's Methodist Episcopal in Philadelphia (1787) wanted to segregate the Negro membership to a part of the church. Absalom Jones and others choosing not to be insulted organized the Free African Society. In time this Society became affiliated with the Protestant Episcopal church. From this developed St. Thomas's Episcopal Church which opened for service July 17, 1794; and Absalom Jones became the first Negro rector in the U. S.

ADMIT INSURANCE HEAD TO TEXAS U. GRADUATE SCHOOL

Its First Time in History That Negro has Been Admitted as Regular Student; Insurance District Mgr. Takes Business Psychology, Salesmanship

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 20. (ANP)—For the first time in the history of the University of Texas, a Negro has been admitted as a regular student. He is George L. Allen, district manager of the Excelsior Life Insurance Co., who last week started taking Business Psychology and Salesmanship in the graduate school.

Allen, a graduate of Xavier university, New Orleans enrolled in the course by telephone. His race did not enter into the conversation, possibly because it was not believed by officials that a colored student would attempt to enroll.

But when he presented himself with the proper credentials for admission to the first class, he was told by an astounded secretary that "there must be some mistake." The course was "confined to white people," the official said, and Allen was referred to Prof. C. P. Brewer, director.

The insurance manager told the professor he had followed the regular procedure in applying for admission and that his fees had been sent by cashier's check. He had also received his cards of admission, he stated, and could not see where any mistake had been made.

"Al right, tear the first ticket off and give it to the gentleman at the door and take a seat in the classroom," Prof. Brewer said. Mr. Allen has since been attending regular sessions of the class without trouble.

His acceptance as a student is being looked upon as a significant victory. The Texas Interracial commission for four years has been working for legislation to provide scholarships for graduate students in schools outside the state. It is believed Mr. Allen's acceptance will either cause the speedy passage of such legislation or throw open the doors of the university to Negro graduate students generally.

Court Upholds Use of 'Nigger'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 20 (ANP)—In a 5-0 decision handed down by Associate Justice Davenport Davison, writing finis to a liberal action suit brought by B. C. Franklin against the Tulsa World publishing company, the state supreme court today advanced the opinion that the term "nigger" may be used without reflection or insult.

The court hold that no term is libelous unless it tends to lower a person in opinion of men whose standard of opinion the court can properly recognize, or tend to cause them to entertain an ill opinion on him. The term "nigger" was classed "as a nickname" with such common terms as "Chink", Yankee," or "Wop".

Dallas Sheriff Protects New Negro Juror

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 20.—Police protection is being given W. I. Dickson, 46, a colored shoe repairman who was summoned for jury duty here October 10. Mr. Dickson was the first Negro to be called since the brutal assault September 28, upon Dr. G. F. Porter, president of Wiley junior college, and a prospective juror, who was thrown down the courthouse steps by two white hoodlums, when he refused to be "excused" from serving at the suggestion of court officials.

Mr. Dickson and James Childs, also colored, wrote registered letters to Sheriff Smoot Schmid informing him they had been called for jury service and desired protection. They got it, but Childs took his day's fee and left.

White jurors glared at Dickson and mutterings were heard, but the sheriff quieted everything down. Dickson, who lives at 2109 Allen, said he wanted to serve on a jury and see how courts work. He paid no attention to the glares.

Thurgood Marshall, NAACP attorney, who is here investigating the Porter case, had no comment to make except to say that the investigation is proceeding according to plan.

Missouri Pacific has Negro Representative

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 20 (ANP)—Blazing a trail for other railroads to follow, the Missouri Pacific lines have hired a Negro passenger representative to look after the comforts and conveniences of colored travellers.

This representative, Bruce Shropshire of Little Rock, travels over the road to see that Negroes receive courteous treatment. If he finds conditions are not what they should be, he reports them to the general passenger office which makes adjustments. Mr. Shropshire also contacts prospective customers for travel and visits meetings and conventions over Arkansas and Louisiana in the interest of the railroad.

INTERRACIAL NOTES

By ABLYNE LOCKHART

Dr. George Johnson, colored member State Board of Education, born in San Bernardino, aimed at the moon and hit it in attaining the highest degree conferred on any law student. First he received his A. B. degree in anthropology and public speaking and an L.L.B. degree in law. Many law students do not go any further; but Dr. Johnson struggled diligently for the degree of Doctor of Science of Jurisprudence. Specializing in taxes, he graduated with honors and received the Sheffield-Sanborn Scholarship. It is very interesting to note that only four students have received a J. S. D. degree in the history of the University of California at Berkeley and Dr. Johnson is the fourth.

The American Association of Law rates the Berkeley Law School third. Its rating will probably be raised this year due to the fact that Professor C. H. Traynor, to whom Dr. Johnson is the assistant in the office of the State Board of Equalization, has just returned from a year spent in intensive research work in Washington, D. C. While there he held the position of Consulting Expert to Secretary of the Treasury, Henry P. Morgenthau Jr. Professor Traynor is not only on the Boalt Hall law school faculty here, but is head of the legal department of the State Board of Equalization." Dr. Johnson and Professor Traynor's offices are found in the law school.

"As a legal adviser to the State Board of Equalization," George Johnson commented, "I know that a number of taxes are administered in California. They are sales tax, use tax, gasoline tax, use fuel tax, motor vehicle transportation tax, taxes incident to the liquor control act, and in addition the board has an appellate jurisdiction of the personal net income tax, and the bank and corporation franchise tax. Since 1933 it has the duty of assessing the property of all the large public utilities of the state."

Dr. Johnson reiterated, "Tough legal problems arise out of the assessment of public utility property, review of taxes that are assessed under the bank and corporation and franchise tax act. Most of the work is done in the appellate court. Many of the controversies are straightened out before they ever get to the Court. Some of the cases because of the nature of them start in the Supreme Court. The lagal staff gets together every ten days in Sacramento."

He says, "I have been on the Board three years, and I have received three promotions as the result of Civil Service Examinations. I worked as Junior partner with Attorney Walter Gordon from '29 to '33."

Golden State Mutual Official Outlines Phenomenal Progress of Co. at Fall Rally

"Today, October 15, is more memorable than any other day since July 23, 1925, when Golden State Mutual received its authorization to operate in the state of California", stated Norman O. Houston, Secretary-Treasurer of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company in an address outlining the phenomenal progress of the company Saturday, October 15, at the annual luncheon rally meeting of its Southern California employees.

The foregoing statement was occasioned by the first official announcement to employees of the company's receipt of a permit to issue $100,000 in Certificates of Advancement which is a step to enable the company to become a mutual legal reserve insurer, whereas it has operated, heretofore, as a stipulated premium company with full legal reserves maintained. Significant, also, is the fact that the permit which was issued by the California Insurance Commissioner marks the first time in the state that an institution operating on a voluntary mutual reserve basis has been granted such authority. The Certificates will be issued in units of $10 with a minimum of five units to each purchaser, and will pay interest at four percent (4%) the first year and not less than five percent (5%) in subsequent years. Interest will be paid semi-annually. Organization for distribution of the Certificates in Southern California will be in charge of A. J. Williams, manager of the Los Angeles District office.

BUSINESS BACKGROUND GIVEN

In tracing the growth of the business, Mr. Houston briefly pointed to the beginning of the business thirteen years ago with a fund of $17,500 and 600 policyholders, and emphasized that the employees in Southern California alone represented more than one-sixth of the number of original policyholders. Increasing opportunities for advancement and creation of new positions was shown in the constant sound growth of the company. Among the very salient examples given were: The fact that Golden State Mutual is outstanding in the nation in the amount of dividends paid to policyholders in comparison with other Negro companies, and that upon completion of the present financing plan made by issuance of the initial series of Certificates of Advancement, the surplus of the company will be in excess of $130,000.

RALLIES IN CHICAGO, OAKLAND

Simultaneously with the rally held here, George A. Beavers, jr., Vice-President and Director of Agencies, conducted a similar one in the newly established Illinois district centralized in Chicago, while William Nickerson, Jr., President-Manager, headed the rally of the Northern California District in Oakland.

The luncheons were preceded in each instance with a sales congress considering the company problems in the morning. In Los Angeles, an informal party in the agents' assembly room of the district office entertained the clerical staff and visiting agents from outlying areas with the local agency staff as hosts.

FALL CONTEST LAUNCHED

The luncheons, also, launched the annual fall drive known as the Football Contest in which agency staffs compete in reaching the year's income goal.

E. J. Johnson, Director and Assistant Secretary, delivered the "kick-off" talk here while A. J. Williams presented individual demonstrations by the various agency staffs and the clerical force.

Mobilize 197 Volunteers for Chest's Army of Mercy

Reports received from the Exposition district Community Chest headquarters are to the effect that more than 197 volunteer workers, including 31 majors, 112 captains and 54 lieutenants, have signed up so far, and hundreds of additional workers are being mobilized for the chest's army of mercy, according to Mrs. Abraham Lehr, district chairman.

Although solicitations for the district will not officially start until after the final instructions meeting tentatively set for Oct. 20, at the St. Vincent's school, Adams and Flower streets, at 2 p. m., volunteers are being completely organized to start their canvass immediately following the meeting.

The chairman reported that she is confident that her workers would produce the additional 20 per cent increase needed this year to carry on the excellent work of the Community Chest's eighty-eight welfare agencies serving the chest area.

48 SQUARE MILES

Upon the success of their efforts will depend the support of these agencies devoted to serving the needy and unfortunate throughout the 488 square miles of territory by the Community Chest.

The chest agencies are divided into four general classes: (1) family welfare; (2) child care; (3) health; (4) group work, a character building service.

"We are issuing an appeal for all to increase their subscriptions by at least twenty per cent," Mrs. Lehr said, "in order that many thousands of persons in the city, especially children, who at present are deprived of health and other services, may be properly cared for.

"Our survey showed that the lack of money and understaffing of agencies was largely responsible for the neglect of hundreds of worthy cases. We are appealing to the public to subscribe generously to the forthcoming annual chest campaign so that these conditions may be eliminated".

MEDICOS TO DO POSTGRADUATE WORK

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 20.—The above is a partial group of staff physicians at Flint-Goodridge Hospital of Dillard University who are taking post graduate courses in Tuberculosis and Syphilis. The group will meet weekly, October through May, for lectures, demonstrations and discussions on the latest developments in the diagnosis and treatment of the two insidious diseases. Physicians who take the courses are given free serological service, diagnostic x-ray service and drugs for the treatment of their private patients.

The courses are under the direction of Dr. J. H. Musser, head of the Department of Medicine at Tulane University Medical school, Chairman of the Advisory Board of Flint-Goodridge hospital and a member of the Council on Medical Education and Iospitals of the American Medical Association. Other instructors are teachers in the Tulane University Schools of Medicine. The physicians seated left to right are: Dr. N. R. Davidson, Dr. J. H. Murray, Dr. A. W. Brazier, Dr. R. E. Fullilove, Jr., Dr. T. D. Hayes, Dr. C. H. D. Bowers, and Dr. J. A. Sherrod.

Standing in the rear in white uniforms are Flint-Goodridge's three resident physicians, Dr. J. M. Epps, Dr. A. M. Thompson and Dr. R. S. McGhee.

Opportunity Editor Warns Against Anti-Semitism

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—A warning against any appearance of anti-Semitism among Negroes is voiced in the October issue of OPPORTUNITY, Journal of Negro life, by Elmer Anderson Carter, its editor.

"There is evidence that here in America an acceleration of anti-Semitism through organized groups is taking place and racial antagonisms long thought dormant are coming to life," Mr. Carter says. "The propaganda of these groups has even been disseminated among Negroes, some of whom have unwittingly become the instruments of those who would destroy the Negro as well as the Jew. It is, to say the least, unfortunate, for it reveals a pathetic shortsightedness on the part of Negroes who should know better.

"The Negro press and Negro organizations have a solemn duty to perform in utilizing every resource at their command to halt this brazen attempt to enlist Negro participation in the spread of a philosophy which would retard the Negro's progress immeasurably and ultimately condemn him to re-enslavement."

HITLER COMPARES

Continuing, Mr. Carter points out that "the protest of the liberals of America against the conquest of Ethiopia brought from Mussolini a sarcastic suggestion that the United Statse would be in a better position to criticize fascist Italy if Negro citizens were not lynched by barbaric mobs. And Herr Hitler has more than once in interviews favorably compared his racial concepts with the historic treatment which America, in a large section of the country, has accorded its Negroes.

"The German Fuehrer rightly feels that the doctrine of Aryan supremacy is not without approval in certain democracies, including America, which profess to be shocked by the measures that he has taken to make that doctrine effective. The events in Europe which recently have stunned the civilized world are the logical outcome of a philosophy which exalts one race and by inference debases all others. It must be apparent to every intelligent person that such a philosophy, based on the utter disregard of human personality, will generate racial and national oppression and inevitably lead to the proscription of any group which may be made the scapegoat for economic or political failure. Yesterday it was the Jew, today--the Czechs, tomorrow--Heaven only knows."

3 Scottsboro Boys Denied Pardons

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 20.—After hearing arguments for and against the release of Andy Wright, Charlie Weems, and Clarence Norris, three of the youths convicted in the Scottsboro case, the Alabama pardon board this week denied petition for their freedom. Maurice Shapiro, New York lawyer, pleaded for the boys and former Sen. Thomas Heflin gave the opposing argument.

Heflin objected to the written arguments which the board had requested and said: "If this board pardons these Negroes, its members won't be safe in their own homes." He said he had journeyed all the way from his home in Lafayette to oppose the boys' pleas, and told reporters he would make a speech "every chance I get to oppose the release of the Scottsboro defendants".

Must Work for Happiness in Marriage, Claim

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 20—"Happiness must be worked for in marriage just as in other walks of life," declared Dr. Paul Popenoe, Director of the Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles, as he spoke before Dillard students last week.

"Marital happiness", asserted Dr. Popenoe, "depends upon a balance of three factors--attitude toward marriage, wise choice of a mate, and possession of certain technical information. By preserving this balance marriage can become the greatest source of happiness in human experience."

F. H. A. Bars Negro Home Builders

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20—Complaint that the Federal Housing Administration is making it difficult for Negro home buyers or builders to secure F. H. A. guarantees of mortgages unless the homes are to be in a strictly jim crow Negro district was lodged here this week with Stewart McDonald, FHA director, by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP letter, signed by Roy Wilkins, assistant secretary, said the association had received numerous complaints from over the country indicating that the FHA was assisting local banks and financ companies in jim crowing Negroes.

A New York contractor complained that he had been turned down at first on a housing development for Negroes when he had stated the district already was 30 per cent Negro. The FHA is said to have felt that this area was "too white" to have a Negro settlement started in it. Later his plan was approved.

Individual Negroes who have the money and the steady employment to finance homes are being turned down on FHA mortgages, the NAACP said, if their homes are to be outside what is considered locally as the "Negro district."

Liberia Turns Thumbs Down on Wholesale Immigration

MONROVIA, Liberia, Oct. 20.—President Edwin Barclay has informally requested Lester Walton the American Minister at Monrovia to advise the United States government that while the Liberian government looks with favor on the settling of American Negroes in the African republic, present day conditions will not permit immigration on a large scale. Less than 400 families could be yearly integrated into Liberian life without severely dislocating its economic and social structure.

The report was also emphatically denied that a Liberian official during a visit this year to the United States approved of a "back to Africa movement". Any immigration plan would first have to receive the sanction of the Liberian government, it was pointed out. Assuming that the newcomers would be agriculturalist, before their arrival the Liberian government would consider it a duty to allocate land and provide housing facilities. Age, good health and the possession of a specific amount of funds would be essential requisites for entrance into Liberia. Apart from agriculturists, there are opportunities afforded in Liberia for trained artisans, missionary physicians and nurses, teachers and also business men with some capital and experience.

Edgar Brown is Arrested as Charwomen Riot

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (ANP)— Charged with "disorderly conduct," Edgar Brown, head of the United Government employes, was arrested Wednesday as 20,000 women, a majority of them colored, staged a mild riot for 2,000 applications for jobs as federal charwomen. The jobs, which pay $1,080 yearly, are at present nonexistent.

The stampede reached such proportions that the civil service commission suspended distribution of applications after 1,000 had been served, several were injured. Traffic had to be detoured.

Brown was arrested at the height of the trouble by Policeman D. H. Mayo, white, on orders of Capt. Oscar Letterman. Mayo said Brown resisted him when he tried to move the crowd. He posted a $25 bond and after denying the charge asked for a police court hearing.

Fresh Air Needed in Car and Garage, Automobile Club of So. Calif. Warns

With the approach of chilly mornings and evenings, don't obey the impulse to roll up all the windows in your automobile, warns the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. When the temperature drops, the danger of carbon monoxide poisoning from motor exhaust goes up.

Small amounts of gas may leak through the floorboard from faulty connections and if all the windows are closed the fumes may be deadly. It is wise and a life-saving precaution to have the entire exhaust system checked for possible leaks.

Always open the garage doors when running the motor of the car, is another word of caution. A dangerous amount of carbon monoxide gas is created in a few moments. Drowsiness, headache and nausea are symptoms but the poisonous fumes act so quickly that one is overcome without warning.

Radio Station Censors Abe Lincoln's Speech; Radical

GARY, Ind., Oct. 20. (ANP)—Some of the statements in the 1865 inaugural address of President Abraham Lincoln are "too radical" to be repeated today according to officials of local radio station.

This decision was made when a song written by Earl Robinson, New York composer, came before the officials. It was to have been sung Tuesday night by the chorus of the Paul Robeson branch of the Young Communist league as part of a broadcast featuring Jack Kling, white state secretary of the league.

The words of the song, taken directly from Lincoln's speech and set to music by Robinson, were:

"This country with its institutions belongs to the people who inhabit it.

"This country with its constitution belongs to those who live in it.

Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it.

The radio officials censored the last statement, claiming Lincoln's statement might be "misunderstood" and pointing out "that speech was made in 1865 and things are different now."

RAILROAD CLATTER

By CHARLES L. UPTON

EVERY PORTER A REPORTER

That old age pension plan of Thirty Bucks a week has certainly been the means of a lot of fine dreams during the past few months. Funny if it would pass. The hitch comes in after it has passed will we get it? Both old and young people might vote for it but one thing the young ones have against it is they are having a hard time now competing with these old men and their gals. And they feel when the old blades have thirty bucks every week to throw away, they won't have a chance with them.

Some so called open minds should be closed for repairs.

Birthday Greetings

Local Red Caps Elated Over Victory; Now Subject to Railway Labor Act

Local red caps hailed with joy at the recent decision handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission that red caps who carry baggage at railway stations are employees and as such are subject to provisions of the railway labor act. The Commission in its decision of the case ordered that: The work defined as that of an employee or subordinate official in order of this Commission now in effect be, and it is hereby amended and interpreted so as to include the work of persons designated by terms such as red caps, station attendents station porters, parcel porters, ushers, chief ushers and captains whose duties consist of or include the carrying of passengers' hand baggage and otherwise assisting pasengers at stations and other places on carriers' premises and equipment in cities of over 100,000 population based on the 1930 census whether such persons receive a stated compensation or are entirely dependent on tips this brings the persons performing such work within the term employee as used in the fifth paragraph of section 1 of the Railway Labor Act as amended.

Robt. J. Landry, president of the local union of Red Caps stated that the decision culminates two years of legal and organization work by the International Brotherhood of Red Caps. Landry was somewhat worried however, over too much jubilation by his men until the final steps of obtaining the certification from the National Mediation Board as the collective bargaining agency for the 12,000 red caps all over the country, even though this seemed a certainty from the decision that was handed down. A general stampede of non union red caps at the S. P. station was on in earnest on the strength of the ruling and a hundred per cent union organization was gradually becomig a reality among them.

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 20, (ANP)—Willie B. McShan was exonerated by a jury Tuesday on a directed verdict of the murder of Thomas A. Owens, white, special agent of the Central of Georgia railroad. This is one of the few times in this area when a Negro charged with murdering an officer has been acquitted.

The Judge ordered the verdict of not guilty on the ground there was no evidence showing McShan fired the shot that killed Owens during a gun battle on a railroad slag car, Sept. 11. At that time Special Agent William A. Johnson, jr., was wounded and Orange Smith, a companion, was slain. McShan was slightly wounded.

Plan To Rob Pool Room Is Frustrated

That "there's many a slip betwixt the cup and the lip" is one bit of poetic truth that Vernon Clark, James M. Herod and Jean Lyons, a trio of would-be burglars, learned to their sorrow.

Clark, 22, of 680½ E. 42nd street, Lyons, 22 of 1113 E. 47th street, and Herod, 23, of 912 E. 46th street, were arrested Wednesday before noon by Newton Street police just as they completed plans for burglarizing a pool hall at 4304 S. Central avenue.

The trio were overheard planning the act, which had alreday been prepared for by removal of a bar from the rear window of the building, by Dod McGull, 656 E. 40th place. McGull informed police.

Vivian Marsh to Speak to Alliance

Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh, state director of Negro affairs, NYA, will be the speaker for the monthly meeting of the Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance next Monday morning at eleven o'clock at the 28th Street YMCA. Her talk will be based on information on the activity of the federal government. The meeting is open to the public.

Election of officers will be held and all ministers in good standing are eligible to vote.

L. A. Urban League Cites Job Figures

Figures released by the Employment Division of the Los Angeles Urban League this week disclosed that of 140 men and 174 women seeking employment at the League's office during September, 81 placements were made. Of htese 21 were single positions in domestic service. 1 "A-1" domestic service couple, 19 day workers, 1 stenographer, 2 full time and 1 part time apartment house janitors, 6 porters in retail and other businesses, 17 general laborers(window washer, house cleaners, etc) and two chaueffers.

"Analysis of registrations" pointed out Mrs. Naomi Hooker, employment secretary, "shows that occupations of men registrants with our bureau are more varied than those of women. We have between 40 and 50 different occupatioanl classifications among the men, while those of the women are limited almost exclusively to domestic and personal service, and office work." It was urged that women in various skilled occupations and in the professions register with the League's Employment Bureau, open daily except Saturday 9 to 12 a. m. at 2502 S. Central Avenue.

Say California Guinea Pig of Crack-pot Political Theorists

Men and women of every political affiliation yesterday were urged by the Non-Partisan Committee of California to join the fight to prevent the state from becoming "the crack-pot center of the United States."

In outlining "the situation confronting California," the committee, in its general appeal, declared:

"We are not interested in politics or politicians, but we are interested, and we earnestly ask that you interest yourself, in this State's grave political situation."

"Due to circumstances for which you are not to blame, but for which you may become partly responsible, California is well on its way to become the crack pot center of the United States.

FIGHT ON

"The battle against Epic radical socialism and its attendant ills was won in 1934 only because our intelligent citizenry became aroused. But the victory in 1934 did not win the war; the fight has been going steadily on.

"We have become the happy hunting ground of the political charlatan, the crank, and the opportunist.

"Every half-baked political theorist, every hare-brained pseudo-economist, every stareyed radical agitator, every get-rich-quick-faker, regards this State as his Promised Land.

"California, in short, is the favorite guinea pig of every loose brained social, economic or political experimentist in the country.

"And right now our people are in danger of becoming the sacrificial goat of any greedy, gullible, or deluded minority whose miseries, cupidities, or susceptibilities can be preyed upon by ambitious, irresponsible, or cunning leaders.

Chicago to Stage 'Milk Holiday' in Big Job Fight

CHICAGO, Oct. 13. (ANP) In an effort to force dairies to hire Negro milk wagon drivers, the entire Southside of Chicago has been asked by the Chicago Council of Negro organizations to declare a "milk holiday" Saturday by buying from colored drivers or refusing to make purchases from companies that will not hire Negroes. Approximately 58,000 quarts of milk are sold daily in the colored section.

Appeals to the public to make the holiday effective were made in various churches Sunday and through the local press.

Thus far most of the dairies have refused to hire Negro drivers. The milk holiday is the first of a series of observances against the companies.

Parson Sabbath's Flock Takes Over Air-Lanes Tonite

Parson Sabbath's flock is admonished to "eat only food of righteousness" in this evening's stirring "Shout Hallelujah" musical presentation, Federal Theatre Radio Division's popular broadcast now reaches KFWB and Cal. Radio System listeners from 6:45 to 7 p. m.

"De Lion Roars" is the title of Otis Barnard's amusing tale which dramatizes, in Parson Sabbath's inimitable fashion, the biblical story of the Man of God who came from Judah to Bethel to chide Jereboam for the offering of incense to heathen Gods.

Favorites in "Shout Hallelujah," hailed by southland listeners as the "Green Pastures of radio" are Lester Wilkins, Charles Hawkins, Earl Hall, William Gordon and Josephine Burke.

Conduct Rites for Maggie Burdett

Final services for Mrs. Maggie Burdett, 1601 E. Santa Barbara, who succumbed at General hospital last Saturday, were conducted by Rev. F. M. Mitchell in the church chapel of Angelus Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

The deceased was born in Edward, Miss., and had made Los Angeles her home for the past 16 years. A son, William Goldsby, and a grandson, both of this city survive.

TO-DAY

By CHARLES EDWARDS

A lot of thought is cast on the Negro and his Church. A conversation with one of another Race finds the questions flying at you such as; are the colored people religiously inclined or do they attend the church because it is the one thing they have complete control of? (in other words as James H. Allen would say, a place to speak their piece.) In my attending many Negro churches I find this to be true. It is really interesting to view a church from the other side of the Pulpit. The Negro people as a whole have got to get wise to themselves, in regard to their churches. Now the same thing may take place in a number of other Races but at present we are concerned with the advancement of the Negro. I find that there are a number of Negro ministers who use the one thing that has been the foundation of the World, the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, as a racket. Recently I stood around a large auditorium and listened to the self blowing boasting remarks of what is now a leading politician, the many lies he spoke. I looked around at the cheap ministers who had for a small hand out sold their people, lured them into this Auditorium. This fellow I call a modern streamlined crook. Then I find the Fanatic who stages a Run Little Chillun for his congregation. It's like going to see a new kind of a stage show and really funny. Then there is the modern Educational Religious minister who trys his very best to keep up with the progress of the world-to-day. I find that there is one who is wise to the fact that the Negro and his Church plays the most important part in the advancement of the Race, for it is in the church that the colored race is controled, and with the Mighty Hand of God and a wise and well educated minister that we can go forward and live.

Some of my best friends are ministers that can be classed together with the Church that I have selected to pay tribute to today, but they are only few. From time to time I shall bring them to you on this page. Today we have with us the People's Independent Church of Christ" not a place to make a show, not a place to congregate on Sunday, and close the rest of the week. But a church that well lives up to the standad and the motto set before it by the late founder, Rev. N. P. Greggs. "Mine House Shall Be An House of Prayer", "We Specializes in Helpfulness", "The Church that Serves" are three things that the Peoples Independent Church must fill every year throughout the year.

A program so heavy that if it were put in pounds and placed on the S. S. Normandie (world's largest ship) it possibly would sink, and that's no joke. A church with a membership of nearly over 5000, and a roll of more theatrical celebrities than any other in the west, the leaders of this great institution are constantly busy, keeping tab on every member. The pastor attending a well known California College. Keeping up with the progress of the world, so that he may bring it back to his people on Sunday. Hardely anything slips his eye, even to a good motion picture that would be of advancement to his race.

This church has under its wings a dental clinic, taking care of the teeth of persons of all Races; a commissary, serving many who are in need, in charge of Mrs. Hubert; employment department, giving jobs to dozens weekly, the charming Miss Gwendolyn Valentine in charge; then there is the lovely old ladies who although have gone along in years, they play a major hand in helping to present your soul to God, each one of them a dear loving mother to all; then there are those men who stand behind the minister in aid to put over every successful venture. Training youngsters from the ground up is only part of the job for Miss Valentine, whose promotion to Mrs. Prahter's department as Alter Boy is every Sunday school boy's ambition.

Handling the finances for the carrying on of the church's heavy program is a group of honest leading Negro citizens, Issah Robinson, Gilbert Lindsey, Al Robinson, Blackwell and Mr. Porter, Trustees.

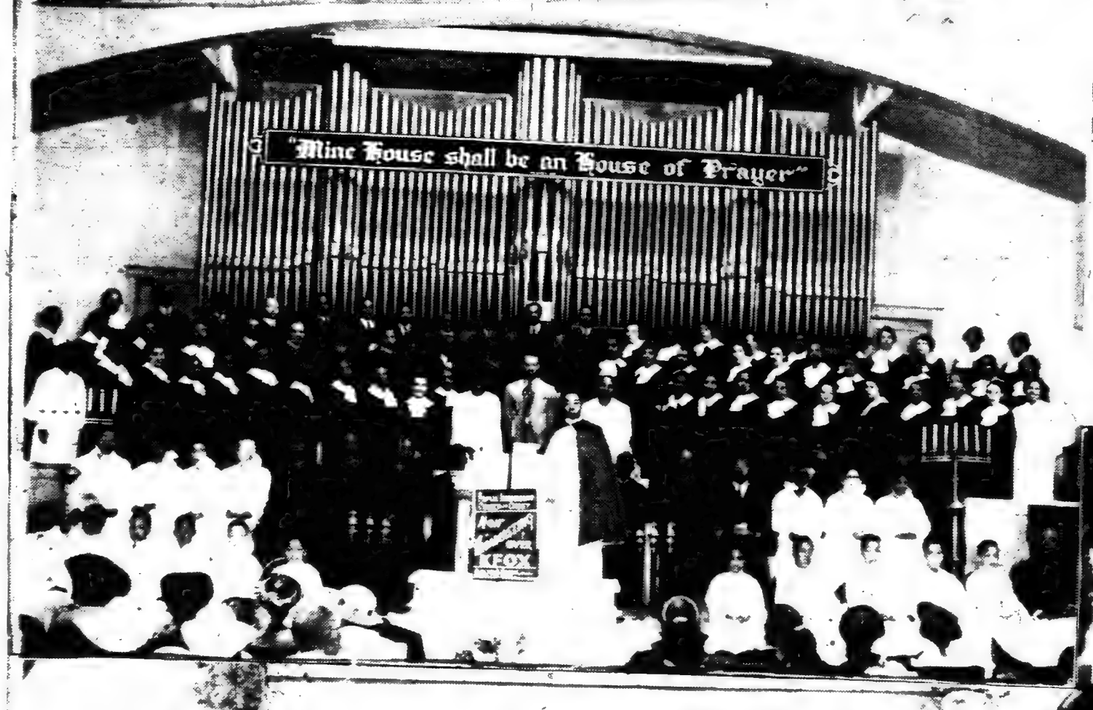
A grand smile greets you to the 1000 seat church by the charming usheretts.

A major radio broadcast every Sunday morning from station KFOX, sponsored by a leading Negro business firm, the Angelus Funeral Home, goes to the many sick and shut ins in Los Angeles and neighboring towns from the Pulpet of the church.

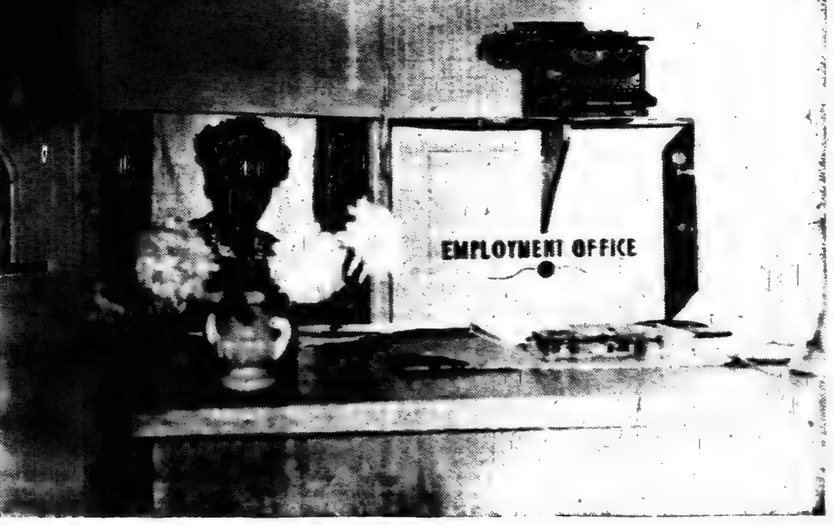
Free banquest are held on Thursday nights where friends may get together. A birthday party for one of the popular little ladies of the church, little Winada Arlene Chapman was on the entertainment list of the church.

Many Sundays finds the famed Bill Robinson making a donation to some worthy purpose of the church where he is a member. Every day of the week is a most interesting day spent in the Peoples Independent Church, where you may be a member of any church and still receive an open arm welcome from all of its many members.

So you see I have presented facts to you today, together with actual pictures of what the Negro Church should be, and I am in hopes that some day the colored people will get wise to the fact that they must investigate the local minister and find his purpose, find his views of life. We should even force our ministers to forget church denominations, forget politics, forget old fashioned yelling, and study Race problems, study the things that will inable him to instruct his people on the modern world, as compared to the world which our Lord created 3000 years ago, force them to come together and thrash out things that will benefit you nad your children today, force them to open the church every other day in the week, and use the building for something that will lead us onward and upward—until they do this we can consider some of the places we call the church, nothing.



Let us watch the progress of the Independent Church and go forward, thank you Independent for an example and a motto to place before the American Negro. You are the tops in yourself I understand that you are holding your 23rd Convocation this month, I wish you much success and hope that you may see 23 hundred more, and incidently to the general public I am not a member of the Peoples Independent Church of Christ, I am a Roman Catholic.



NNC to Meet Friday Night at Wesley ME

The committee of high school teachers and executives, with Miss Gertrude G. Brainerd of Woodrow Wilson High school, as chairman who have been writing a course of study on the history of the American Negro, which is to be used in all of the senior high schools of the city, met Tuesday evening, October 18, in the dining room of the Thomas Jefferson High School.

The conference, which was conducted as a dinner meeting, offered an opportunity for an informal meeting and exchange of frank opinions by schol represetatives and people of the community.

The committee of school representatives who were present included: Mrs. Gertrude Addison, Miss Gertrude Brainerd Miss A. Johnson, Miss Sharp, Miss Howly, Mrs. Whitaker, Miss Stevenson and Mr. C. A. Dickison.

Members of the community who were invited to be present were: Miss M. Matthews, Mrs. Z. Duke, Mrs. C. A. Bass, Mrs. J. Terry, Floyd Covington, George Garner and Louise Tenette.

Card of Thanks

In loving memory of our father-in-law, we express our deepest appreciation to the many friends of the late Orestes Murphy, pioneer citizen, during illness and death.

The deceased parted this life Sept. 30th, and was buried from Conner-Johnson Mortuary, Oct. 6th.

MR. A. A. GRAVES, son-in-law.

Chillun Continue to Run at Mayan

Another extension has been announced for the sensational run of "Run, Little Chillun", Hall Johnson's Negro folk drama that has packed audiences into the FTP Mayan Theatre for 14 record breaking weeks.

Originally scheduled to close October 29, the Negro drama now will continue until the last of November. So phenomenal has been the success of this Federal Theatre production that pleas for reservations have been stacked high in the Mayan box office, audiences have bought standing room, and ticket scalpers have sold seats for as high as five dollars.

"Run, Little Chillun" is a realistic portrayal of the deep South Negro, his ideals, his hopes and fears, and his religious ecstasies.

ST. PHILIP'S CHURCH TO OBSERVE 13TH ANNIVERSARY OF FOUNDING

J. HENRY EDWARDS OF NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT, WILL BE ANNIVERSARY SPEAKER; IS FORMER ANGELENO

Saint Philip's Episcopal church, 28th street and Stanford avenue, will observe the 13th anniversary of its founding and the 10th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the present church building during the week of November 6-11.

Rev. J. Henry Edwards of New Haven, Conneticut, formerly of Los Angeles, will preach the anniversary sermon. He has distinguished himself as the only Negro to enter the Episcopal priesthood from the west. In the evening, an organ recital will be presented supported by the St. Philip's choir.

The anniversary dinner will be held at St. John's Parish House, Adams Blvd. and Figueroa, and will feature the bishop of the Los Angeles Diocese as the principal speaker.

Young people of the church will present a play during the celebration under the direction of one of the Ben Bard players. The observance will begin with the 8 a. m. services on Sunday, November 6.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil." These words from Ecclesiastes are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Probation after Death" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

Among the Bible passages in the Lesson-Sermon is this verse from James: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him." These words of Peter are also included: "Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; . . . And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. . . . Humble yourselves therefore unto the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time: casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "Imperfect mortals grasp the ultimate of spiritual perfection slowly; but to begin aright and to continue the strife of demonstrating the great problem of being, is doing much."

The choir of Bethel A. M. E. church will present its annual autumn musical Sunday afternoon at 3:30 with Mesdames Leona Collier and Artie Mae Kinsberry as sponsors. The concert will feature visiting choirs and soloists. Choirs scheduled to appear are Phillips Temple C. M. E., Seventh Day Adventist, and McCoy Memorial Baptist.

Continuing the celebration of the re-opening of the main auditorium and the observance of the 23rd anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. E. E. Lightner, Rev. L. C. Cleaves of the C. M. E. church and the choir will be the guests of Lincoln Memorial Congregational church this Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

Friday evening, Rev. L. M. Curtis and his choir will be the guests and Sunday evening the church's deacon board will sponsor the services. Rev. Lightner will fill the pulpit Sunday morning.

"Is Religion Getting To Be A Racket?" is the subject of Rev. W. L. Strauther at Morning Star Baptist Church Sunday morning. "Not So Hot" is the subject in the evening. He will also report on the National Baptist Convention which will be held here next September.

Services will be conducted at the Seventh Day Adventist church at 40th Place and Wadsworth avenue by Elder O. O. Burnstine Sunday, Oct. 23.

At First AME Zion Church, Pico Blvd. and Paloma St., Rev. Walter R. Lovell, pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. on "New Goals for a New Conference Year". This is the first message by Pastor Lovell since his re-appointment for the 4th year to the historic church at "Pico and Paloma". The chorus choir will sing, augmented by the men's chorus, which has proved very popular in recent weeks. Dr. Lovell will preach at 6:45 p. m. on "Hell on Ice", based on the popular book of the same title by Commander Ellsberg.

Following a two week's vacation, the senior choir of People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma, Rev. Clayton D. Russell, minister, returned to their usual places in the regular services last Sunday.

New favorites of listeners-in were heard on the broadcast over KFOX for the sick and shut-ins, sponsored by the Angelus Funeral Home, by the popular group under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew.

During their absence the N. P. Greggs Gospel choir, directed by William Gillespie, rendered service both over the air and at the morning worship of the church.

Sunday, October 23, is men's day at Wesley Chapel. An elaborate program has been planned for the day. At 11 a. m. Dr. E. W. Moore of Pasadena will be the speaker. A men's chorus of 40 voices under the direction of J. B. Jones will furnish the music. Earnest Whitman of radio and screen fame and Clyde Maddox, will be guest soloists. Guest of honor will be Bill Robinson.

At 3:30 p. m. Rev. L. C. Cleaves will speak and his choir will furnish the music. Mayor Fletcher Bowron has been invited to speak. At 7:30 p. m., the service will be in the form of a "State Rally" with a musical number and speakers from various states. Included on the program will be a band directed by Prof. La Blanc.

The Western Baptist convention is holding its area inspirational service at two o'clock Friday afternoon at Second Baptist. At eight o'clock, Rev. Charles Hampton, moderator, will preach. Sunday morning a visiting pastor from West Los Angeles will preach and in the evening, the Boosters will hold their fifth anniversary services.

The Pacific Baptist Association of which Rev. Moten is moderator will convene at Bethlehem Baptist church beginning Monday night, October 24, featuring a pre-convention chorus of fifty voices with Mrs. O. Houston as director. The association will close at three o'clock in the afternoon of October 31.

Rev. J. Lyle Caston was the speaker for the Baptist Ministers' Union at its weekly meeting Tuesday. Dr. Caston is president of the group. Dr. A. C. Capers will speak next Sunday.

The annual report of the Phillips' Temple CME church showed that $9,000 was raised during the conference year under the leadership of Rev. L. C. Cleaves, pastor. Rev. Cleaves was returned to the charge last week by the California conference. Among innovations since his coming to the parish are the addition of Tuesday noonday services and the securing of Mr. Walker of the Hall Johnson choir as director of music.

Boys of the McCoy Memorial Baptist church will be in charge of the services both Sunday morning and evening on October 23. Rev. J.H. Eldridge, pastor, announced this week.

Rev. S. M. Beane, pastor of Hamilton M. E. church, East 18th street and Naomi avenue, will deliver his Sunday morning sermon from the subject, "Green Lights" which will be the second in the series from the subject, "The Semaphore." At 7:30, citizens from the states of Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, and Missouri will present a program which promises to be both interesting and informative.

Mrs. Carrie E. White of the Chicago Conference of the AME church will preach Sunday at both the eleven o'clock and 7:30 services of the People's United Church of Christ, Wilmington Avenue at East 105th street, according to an announcement by the pastor, Rev. T. F. Jones.

Avalon to Feature Hall Johnson Males at Musical

The sixteenth monthly musical of the music department of the Avalon Christian Church will present the Hall Johnson Male Octet at four o'clock Sunday afternoon in the church auditorium at 43rd street and Avalon Blvd. The song fest is being held at four instead of the regular hour of eight because the group is a part of the chorus featured in the current Hall Johnson production "Run, Little Chillun" playing at the Mayan nightly.

Hall Johnson, himself, will direct the group and Professor Jester Hairston will read some of his original compositions.

Immediately following the musical, persons attending will be guests of the department at a fellowship tea in the social hall. Mrs. Zelma Watson-Duke heads the department.

Harvey Backs Powers' Move at Munich

Martin L. Harvey, former president and present secretary of the Christian Youth Council of North America, who sails from Vancouver, B. C. next Saturday on a world tour as a representative of that body approved the recent action of European powers at Munich which sanctioned the partition of Czechoslavakia by Hitler. Mr. Harvey speaking at a youth forum Friday evening, October 11, pointed out that anything delaying war was to be commended because "anything can happen in a year or month or even a week to change the course of events and no one knows just what intervention Destiny will make."

The forum which was held in the auditorium of the First A. M. E. Zion Church at Pico and Paloma attracted a representative interracial group of young people from both the collegiate and industrial world. Just what Christian youth and the church should do in the matter of economic betterment, vocational choices, and interracial relations was the center of the discussion.

During the stay in Southern California (October 9 to 16), Mr. Harvey was guest speaker for numerous groups and institutions interested in youth attitudes and conditions. Among them the Epworth Leagues of Southern California, Chapman College, the Los Angeles Christian Youth Council for which he conducted a city-wide forum Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Episcopal church at Eighth and Hope Streets; the People's Independent Church of Christ, Scott M. E. church, Pasadena; First A. M. E. Zion church where he was guest speaker Sunday morning; and Wesley Chapel M. E. Epworth League.

The Christian youth leader's world tour will climax in India where he will attend the World Missionary Conference and will be followed by a lecture itinerant in various universities and colleges around the world. He will return to America by March 1, 1939.

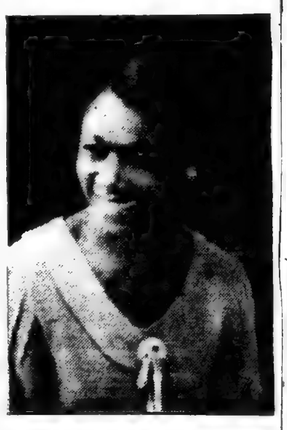
Rev. Cleaves is Anniversary Speaker at Lincoln Tonight



Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, Vernon and Hooper Avenues, continues its celebration of the re-opening of its auditorium, and the observance of the 23rd Anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. E. E. Lightner. This evening (Thursday) Dr. L. C. Cleaves of the C. M. E. Church and his good congregation will be guests.

Friday evening, Rev. L. M. Curtis of the Macedonia Baptist church, will bring the message and his choir will furnish the music.

Sunday the pastor will bring the message at 11 a. m. using as his subject: "God's Marching Orders". At 7:30 p. m. the service will be sponsored by the Deacon Board. There will be "Echoes from the Association Meeting" held last week at Manhattan Beach. Mrs. A. R. Moseley, Mr. Beacher Zebbs and the pastor were our delegates. Among the musical numbers given in connection with this service will be an instrumental number by Miss Estelle Wilson.

Monday evening Rev. A. Moten of the Bethlehem Baptist church will be guest speaker and his choir will render the music. Tuesday evening is dedicated to an evening with the Congregational Churches. Drs. Paul A. Davies of the Western Knoll church, Samuel Hitchcock of the Pilgrim Church, W. I. Newman of the Bethany-Rawson church, and their respective choirs will be guests. Wednesday evening 8 p. m. the AME Zion, the Presbyterian and the Episcopal churches, Drs. Lovell, Hawes, and Father Moore, pastors together with their choirs will be in charge of the services. Thursday evening, Oct. 27, at 7:30 p. m. the Anniversary banquet will be held. Friday evening, Oct. 28, an evening with the Christian Churches, Rev. M. F. Mitchell, Rev. Baxter Duke, and Rev. A. W. Jacobs, will be guests, with their choirs.

The observance will close with the services Sunday, Oct. 30. Dr. Raymond C. Brooks, D. D., formerly a member of the faculty of Pomona College, now president of the Cumnock School of Los Angeles, will be speaker at the 11 o'clock hour. At 3 p. m. the Union Usher Board will be guests in the annual services of the Usher Board and at 7:30 p. m. there will be a musical program by the choir. Every one is cordially invited to attend any or all these services.

New 'Radio Preacher' Wins Conversions on the Air

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (C)—Another "Radio Preacher" is looming large on Harlem's spiritual horizon and is winning souls on the air. Bishop R. C. Lawson, pastor of the Refuge Church of Christ of the Apostolic Faith, 56 West 133d street, in the heart of the "slums", has nearly 5,000 members, and goes on the air twice weekly, Sunday at 9:45 p. m. and Monday morning at 9 a. m. over WBNX. These broadcasts bring in huge stacks of fan mail, and recently a white woman in North Carolina was converted over the air.

Sunday night services find the main auditorium of the church, which seats 1,000 filled to overflowing, the basement rooms packed and large crowds stand in the street where they hear the services over a loudspeaker. Bishop Lawson, a dynamic preacher with a powerful voice, brings a message of every day living to his flock. He teaches thrift, business and work. He includes this practical training with his spiritual teachings.

Looking over the audience a visitor sees some professional and business men and women, while the majority of the eager faces are those of plain working people. The wide-eyed, neurotic, and fanatical type is obviously not a part of the following of this leader.

Bishop Lawson explains his success by saying that he "preaches the world of God, in that I teach people how best to live every day. None of my people go hungry, or get sick without attention, or have to beg money to bury their dead. We help those who are in need, but we also teach them how to be self-supporting."

To support this practical conception, there is a sewing room for women, where every phase of sewing is taught at the church, including power machine work. There is a print shop, where all the literature of the church is printed; there is a grocery store, beauty parlor, a funeral home and life insurance protection. All building, repairing and renovating and even skilled work is done by members of the church, who are given standard wages.

There are four choirs in the Harlem church, two of which sing on Sunday nights. An orchestra also plays during the services, although there is a $10,000 pipe organ in the church. The theme song of the church as it goes on the air is "Cheer the Weary Traveler". Expenses of the broadcasts are donated by listeners from all sections. Special messages are sent out over the ether waves to shut-ins and those who are unable to attend services.

Plans for enlarging the church have begun with the acquiring of the property in the rear, where there is now a low-cost cafeteria owned by the church. This will be torn down and a regular addition to the church built.

There is a school in connection with the church program, the Industrial Union Institute and Training School of Southern Pines, N. C., where children are boarded and taught for $4 per week. Students from 6 to 16 are taken in for training.

Boosters' Fifth Anniversary

The Boosters club of Second Baptist church will celebrate their fifth aniversary Sunday evening, October 23, at 7:45 p. m. with a very entertaining program featuring the Rev. E. H. Booker, evangelist of Ohio, as guest speaker. As the supportive program affords an opportunity to hear some of the city's most outstanding musicians, the public is urged to come early in order to hear what the club has accomplished. Lloyd Johnson, chairman of the committee says, "To miss this program means to miss a real treat". Mrs. Vassie D. Reese is president of the club.

WHEN KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES YOU TO GET UP NIGHTS

When Bladder is Irritated
When Passage is Difficult
When Backache Bothers

Flush Poisonous Waste and Acid from Kidneys

GAIN IN HEALTH

If you aren't feeling just right—are nervous—have dizzy spells and occasional backache—study your kidneys and learn more about yourself.

Through the delicate filters of the kidneys, acid and poisonous waste are drawn from the blood and discharged from the body thru the bladder—sometimes these filters become clogged with poisonous waste and kidneys do not function properly—they need a good cleaning.

One reliable medicine, highly efficient and inexpensive is GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—you can't go wrong on this grand medicine for it has been helping people for 50 years—to correct their aches and pains and to banish uric acid conditions, the aggravation of sciatica, neuritis, neuralgia, lumbago and rheumatism.

So if you have such symptoms of Kidney trouble as bachache, nervousness, getting up two or three times during the night—scanty, burning or smarting passage—leg cramps—moist palms or puffy eyes get a 35 cent package of this grand and harmless diuretic at any modern drug-store—it starts the first day on its errand of helpfulness.

Editorial Comment

The first definite move to study the Negro in the drama of American life was made last Tuesday evening when an interracial group, representing a cross-section in the various educational walks of life, sat down to dinner at Jefferson High school. This group, setting out to accomplish a long neglected educational chore, was headed by Miss Gertrude Brainard. It is believed by many that such a course, properly pursued, will place the Negro in the right light before the American public, as well as awaken in him greater self-respect.

MORAL REARMAMENT

Dr. Juiji G. Kasai, member of the house of representatives of the Japanese imperial Diet, was principal speaker at the Royal Palms Hotel last Saturday afternoon.

Those who heard Dr. Kasai and other eminent speakers on World Affairs were guests of the Oxford Group, whose local leader is George L. Eastman, who presided.

The little Japanese member of his country's official family believes that Prime Minister Chamberlain made a serious blunder in the Czechoslovak crisis for both the welfare of Europe and the British empire.

Dr. Kasai speaks beautiful English which made his descriptions of Hague and Warsaw conferences vivid and interesting, but perhaps the greatest point stressed by the Japanese diplomat was the world's great need for "moral rearmament."

CLEAN-UP

Mayor Bowron's clean-up movement took on more serious an aspect this week as important political figures were indicted on various charges. Such a movement can only be welcomed by conscientious citizens.

However, it is interesting to note that several former "Bowron-backers" have now become shy of the man. It is quite true that many supported him through no desire to see our city cleaned, but only for petty revenge against the Shaw administration.. In fact, the Bowron camp was composed of such widely different types of men that lack of unity now visible in the ranks is thoroughly understandable.

The new mayor has indicated on several occasions that an era of "civic sanitation" awaits. Now, the predicament of the former Bowronite, petty politician, publisher, or grafter, who finds the bugaboo he has raised about to swallow him, is humorous. There are many who, at present, ardently seek the nearest exit in relation to their seats within the Bowron band-wagon.

CLEAN-UP AGAIN

"To rehabilitate human beings, first rehabilitate their surroundings." This is as true a statement as we will run into. The Roosevelt administration, despite its many legislative and executive boners, has recognized this important factor. and. instituted. tremendous slum-clearance projects throughout the nation.

Mayor Bowron was elected on the ground that he would effect something like a moral renaissance. Certainly this is impossible on the Eastside until some efforts are made to "clean-up" the area's outward physical condition.

Several of the side-streets running perpendicular from Central Avenue are so dark that they present hazardous thoroughfares even for canine traffic. Elimination of the extensive "alley" system is greatly needed, since the little streets are seldom paved and serve only as a glorified dump-yards. From Vernon to Forty-first on Central, supposedly the heart of town, is among our districts most shameful areas. Garbage and waste may be seen all along at any time of day.

Yes, Mr. Mayor, there are many ways in which to "clean-up"!

ROBERTS NEGRO-WING G.O.P LEADER

It was revealed from reliable sources this week that the Honorable Frederick M. Roberts is the Republican leader for Negroes ordained by the State G.O.P. powers.

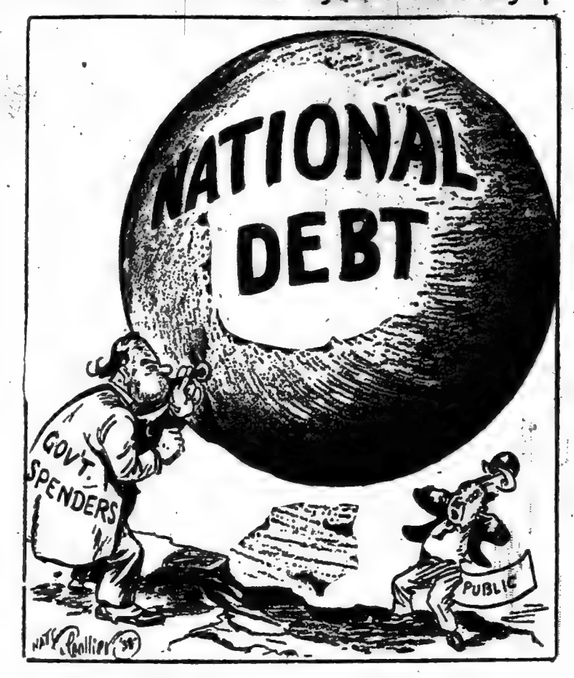
The selection is a good one. However, let us point out that no political ring-master, no matter how learned in the art of political strategy, can function effectively without funds and authority equal to his duties.

Leaders of other districts are given fine lay-outs, offices — all the countless aids of modern party work. Mr. Roberts has found none of these. Often, many citizens of a district are employed in clerical positions during a campaign. .There has been no such development here. A voting block fifty-thousand strong cannot be ignored in this fashion with any hope for success.

CAMPBELL FOR CONGRESS!

William D. Campbell, young Republican aspirant for the Congressional post from the fourteenth district, is a logical choice for Negro voters. He has exhibited in all public services an ability to judge men, not race or creed. His capability as one of the city's leading attorneys is unquestionable.. His. brilliant war record and many years of service in Washington, D. C., are most powerful endorsements.

Certain it is that the district has wearied of rubber-stamp representation by the Democratic incumbent. As Campbell campaign literature pointed out, "We can buy a rubber-stamp at the five-and-ten!"



The prompt action which an editorial appearing in the EAGLE last week brought from Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough is a true indication of the official's interest and "the power of the press."

It was a charge of discrimination in the workings of the County Civil Service Commission. Yesterday a special meeting was called by Supervisor McDonough and the Commission heard statements from leading Negro citizens. Many instances of bias were pointed out.

However, the chief and most important result of the meeting was the fact that all Negro spokesmen joined in a lambest against "favors." It was held that Negroes should not be given jobs if their rating did not warrant them. Under the present set-up, it is sometimes necessary for "string-yanking" by prominent persons in order that Negro applicants receive their just employment.

Supervisor McDonough's quick action testifies to a new spirit among local politicians. The Negro, they realize, is a voting-power not to be trifled with. Fine work, Supervisor!

NEWS ITEM: National Debt Reaches New All Time High, and Still Going Up.

THE WORLD THIS WEEK

By ROBERT PATTERSON

THEY WANT REAL JOBS

All is not lost when 25,000 people riot for a handful of jobs! If any proof were needed that Relief is not what great numbers of jobless Americans want, this incident in the nation's capital offers it. Civil service commissioners posted notices that jobs were available for charwomen in Federal office buildings. By three o'clock in the morning, some 3000 applicants had arrived. bringing blankets, pillows and chairs. Within a few hours their numbers had swelled to rioting mobs more than eight times that size. Vast numbers of the unemployed undoubtedly have affixed themselves, barnacle-fashion, to the relief rolls, but there is another great body of Americans determined to survive, at all costs, without benefit of government bounty. These are the ones who crave and who will fight for legitimate jobs even though it means arising by the dawn's early light. These are the ones for whom employment must be found before they mutter, "What's the use?", and wearily surrender to defeat.

PILOTS OF THE FLEETS

It may be a small world, but America's share of it is so large, possibly one-half the nation does not know what the other half looks like. Many city-dwellers still think of the farmer as a man who handles nothing but a pitchfork and sports a thatched white beard on his chin. The white collar worker thinks of the truck driver as a burly mountain of beef able to break a bull's back with one hand, but on that score a recently completed government survey has upset the apple-cart. From its study of the nation's motor transport workers emerges c sharp candid camera close-up of the average commercial vehicle driver. Instead of being a hefty roustabout, he weighs only 165.4 lbs., and has a height of 5 ft., 8 inches. Instead of being a fly-by-night adventurer, he has had 13.8 years and 250,000 miles of actual driving experience behind him to assure competence and dependability. He is a family man, likes to read, and dig in the garden even as you and I. This survey thoroughly shatters a popular myth, but who objects to that? We're getting to know what the rest of us Americans really look like!

"PEACE IN OUR TIME"

Arab terrorists attack the City of Bethlehem, rout the British from several quarters, sandbag barricades are hastily thrown up and, in retaliation, Royal Air Force planes and the famous "Ladies from Hell" of the Black Watch, bomb and machine-gun the sacred city. Arab hate against Britain's attempt to slice Palestine into three parts has now fanned out into wide-spread rebellion. Caught between the fury of the fiercely zealous followers of Allah and cries of betrayal from the Jews—to whom Britain promised a national home in Palestine 20 years ago—John Bull is again primed to do what he did in the Czechoslovak crisis: bow to superior force and beat a hasty retreat. "Peace in our time" was the hope of the Munich conference, but bombs bursting in Bethlehem, and the tramp of infantry and the rumble of mechanized land forces in assault on South China, are leading many to believe that statement was a typographical error.

Guest Editorial

There seems to be a mad rush to get under the protecting wings of the new city administration by men who professed confidence in former Mayor Frank L. Shaw. But the writer cannot help but blush with shame for the perfidy and tactics used by a contemporary (namely the Sentinel) in its issue of October 8.

Therein its publisher proceeded to lambast the former administration and alleged that they had brought pressure to bear upon him in an effort to keep him from telling all he knew of their nefarious practices.

Certainly it is a reflection on the intelligence of the reading public for a man who is supposed to mold public opinion and whose papper is suposed to be a Sentinel of our group, always watching out for the best interest of our people to have the unmitigated gall now to tell them that all the things he has said in defense of the former mayor were forced on him.

As a matter of fact the reading public knows full well the Shaw administration had plenty of enemies men who would stoop to any thing in order to put his administration in a bad light. Committees were formed, investigations promulgated and yet Mr. Washington maintains there was no one to whom he could go that could help in his alleged fight to protect the good name of the district he is supposed to represent.

We all know that there was plenty to whom he could have gone, who would have been glad to receive his cooperation and information had he the intestinal fortitude to stand by his so-called convictions.

It is just such illustrations as this that is making the citizens of our community question the honesty of the editorial policies of the newspaper they read. Certainly one can have little respect for a man who professes to know things detrimental to his people, and has an outlet to express his opinions, to let the folk he professes to represent down because the men he was supposed to attack resented his allegations.

Just what can we hope from the younger generation when men in a position of trust start sniveling the minute some one takes exception to their expressed opinions. Then to have the consumate nerve to drag in the names of reputable business men, and allege that they, too were parties in his alleged reprehensible acts is carrying the thing just too far for a red-blooded American to stomach.

Certainly Mr. Washington has placed his advertisers in a questionable position when he maintains that they too were threatened and had advised him to go along with a group whom he maintains was even worse than Hitler or Mussolini.

Many fine, upstanding men and women openly and sincerely supported Frak L. Shaw in his efforts to beat the Recall and to question their integrity is a reflection on the entire case.

The writer of this article has known Fletcher Bowron nearly ten years, and has respected the man for what he is. We supported Shaw for reelection and ran his advertisements during the Recall, yet editorially we could not conscientiously attack his adversary because we knew that whoever won, the city would not suffer. At this time we wish to reiterate that the only thing the Neighborhood News has to sell is its advertising and news columns. Our Editorial policy and column will continue as in the past, a medium of expressing our opinions and this column is not for sale. And we can say here and now that no pressure was brought on us by the former administration to express opinions in this column favorable to their campaign or practices.

If a man figures that he is going to get anywhere by admitting that he played false to his trust, he has another guess coming. Mayor Bowron is not surrounding himself with job-seekers, nor political castoffs. What he wants is men with courage of their convictions and he intends to get that class of men if he has to draft them to the service.

If our people expect to receive the respect and consideration they so justly deserve from the present administration, they are going to have to put forward leaders representative of the people and with enough intelligence and honesty to stand four-square for their convictions and the district they represent.

Our contemporary should have followed the example set by that Great Emancipator Abraham Lincoln, when he declared that "He Would Stand With Any Man As Long As He Was Right, But Part With Him When He Goes Wrong.

In short the Sentinel Editorial is unsportsmanlike, unfair, and above all, ill-timed. To kick a man when he is down is repulsive, to say the least. Former Mayor Shaw has proved himself on numerous occasions a friend of our people. The sportsmanship in our district has never before been questioned and there is no doubt but what these latest attacks will be held in contempt by all thinking people. To indicate that such attacks are beneath the dignity of an answer is not correct. The man being attacked is down, has no chance to defend himself and it is up to us to let Mr. Washington and his kind know definitely we do not appreciate the stigma he has placed upon us.

BUYER'S GUIDE by Clarence Peacock

This week, from October 10 to the 15th, is National Retail Grocery Week. During the week thousands of the independent and the chain grocery stores have taken this opportunity to build up good-will for their business and to increase their sales by advertising over the radio and in the newspapers throughout the country.

There is probably no other type of retailing effort today in which the Negro businessman faces more complete and drastic competition than the retailing of grocery products. It was in this field that the chain system of retailing first achieved real success bringing with it the economics of scientific management and large scale operation. In spite of this fact, however more Colored people are engaged in the retailing of groceries in the United States than in the retailing of any other type of consumer merchandise.

There are 6,364 Negro owned and operated grocery stores throughout the country. They reported total annual sales amounting to $13,621,000 or an average of $2,140 per store. These stores give employment to over 15,000 Negroes, their total payroll amounts to $545.000 a year.

How many of these 6.364 Colored retail stores took advantage of this opportunity to create interest in their business by advertising their prducts in our papers Here was a chance for Negro businessmen to spread constructive propaganda of a sort that will increase their sales and build up good-will for future business.

In Harlem there are 1,200 retail grocery stores that serve the 260.000 Colored people in that section. At least half of these retail stores are units of seven or eight chains and of the others not over 50 are owned and operated by Negroes. What is true of Harlem is relatively true of every city where there is considerable Negro population.

Colored youths need education and training that will lead them into those channels of business where they can meet and compete on an equal footing with all other Americans. They must be taught not only to use their hands but they must sharpen their wits and advance their thinking so as to meet the shifting requirements of a changing world. Fortunately a new generation is rising ,a generation more articulate., more aggressive and more conscious of its economic rights, a generation that will fight collectively for the opening of these doors that have been closed to them.

Letters To The Editor

ATTENTION TEXAS

Dear Editor:

This will acknowledge your very nice letter of October 8, in regards to my letter of 9-4-38, as to placing in the hands of the demanding reading public in the city of Galveston the celebrated California Eagle, the West's Greatest Negro Newspaper with a background of 59 years of dependable service to the Nation.

With the able support of my good friend, Mr. H. L. Law, a feature writer, with a sensible editorial background, producing forcible columns that justify a space in any reader's scrap book I think that we will be able to place the Eagle in the homes of every reader in the city of Galveston. Mr. Law has promised me his sincere and enthusiastic support with this venture.

We have aroused the interest of hundreds of citizens, and collected any number of pictures that will be of value to your city circulation as these people have relatives that are residents of California, and anxious to receive a copy of the Eagle and learn what it is all about.

With best wishes,
I am very truly yours,
ISREAL SMITH

P. S. I am herewith enclosing a few names and addresses of persons that were formerly residents of this city, now in Los Angeles:

Gillard Wilson, Mrs. Ruby Herbert, Mrs. Dora Wells, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mrs. Olean Lewis. Mrs. James Salsbury, Mrs. S. F. Davy, Lessier Armstrom, Louis Hunt, Jr., Miss Mable Arceneaux, Mrs. Inez Cade. Pauline Mayers, Miss Naomi Spiller, Elizabeth Brooks, Edith Fields, Mrs. Princella Jefferson, Mr. Rob't Lee Dykes, Mrs. Bertha Williams, Atty. Curtis Taylor, Mable Holmes, Connie Williams, and Lonnie Rigs, J. C. Johnson, Miss Helen Boon, Mr. Ralph Pender, Mr. Don Roby.

PRISON CHAPLAIN'S PLIGHT

Dear Editor:

As a reader of the Eagle, and knowing you are interested in our group whatever their condition or circumstances, I thought if I could get you and your great paper interested in the following, we could render a very needy aid to those whose condition cannot help themselves.

A pastor who serves as chaplin at San Quentin prison visited from the prison where he had sat for 3 hours, trying to comfort, console, and prepare to meet his maker, and accompany him to the scaffold.

It's a trying ordeal and the Chaplin was near a wreck. I had always thought a Chaplin to these prisons received a salary. They pay their own expenses and don't receive a cent compensation. He told me there was about 600 Negroes in San Quentin and 90 per cent didn't have any money and oft time they would ask him for stamp money as they wanted to write relatives and friends and they could not do so on account the prison only issued one sheet of paper, one envelope and one stamp once a month. And the Chaplin on each visit is showing his meager means to help these helpless creatures.

There are very few churches in California that pays a pastor hardly enough to live on and their should be some way arranged to pay the Chaplin to San Quentin expenses and enough to give stationary and stamps to the prisoner that has need of them. I will suggest the Churches take the lead and raise a penny collection once a month to create a fund for this worthy charity and lift the burden from this Chaplin for he is unable to bear. He does these things from the heart's sympathy and at a great sacrifice. I am going to do my bit in seeing the Chaplin has the little I can contribute.

Hoping you can spare a little of your busy life to help this worthy cause along, and a little space in your splendid paper that reaches so many homes not knowing as I did, but will gladly help. I am,

Yours, Respectfully,
Wm. Henderson,
2097 Bush street,
San Francisco, Calif.

SAGACIOUS SAYINGS

The turning of the white people black, as a result of melanin, and black people white, from leucodermia seems to be an effort of nature to harmonize both races. Many falks claim that the first folks were black. If that is true, very few races of today are afflicted with a desire to resume the color of their primitive forefparents."—Wendall P. Dabney, editor The Cincinnati Union.

"Our people need cultural training more than they do college education."—Wendell P. Dabney.

By HELEN F. CHAPPELL

Society Editor

There's nothing like the fall to set fancy on a rampage pursued by wonderment about what friends in other climes are doing . . . Nothing to equal it except the breathless joy derived from the unexpected appearance of one who knows the answers to all the wonderments because he's just from the scene of things memory is wont to thrive in . . . and brings the past to the present at a swift pace with such a verve that one is certain that distance is really the essence of human relationships. Tuesday night after the fights, Billie Smallwood, young newspaper fellow of some ten years on the same staff, brought news of Dee Cee, New York and Pennsylvania friends to these eager ears and news that he'll bask in California sunshine until the Yuletide season or thereabout. Meanwhile the trusty portable will be in use . . . telling the East what we're doing out here . . . Here's hoping your copy is always late, Billy. Honest.

. . . . Then there were several precious hours of sitting at the feet, figuratively speaking, of Martin L. Harvey, former president and present secretary of the Christian Youth Council of North America, recaling events that have transpired during a two year friendship and considering forthcoming results of his trip around the world on which he sets sail out of the harbor of Vancouver, B. C., next Saturday. . It's a lecture and conference tour, the latter to be concentrated in India, which will keep him from American shores until the first of next March . . . Some people have all the luck or is it all the pluck?

EN RAPPORT:

This chill creeping in between the sun rays, firelight, and quiet evenings has erstwhile party planners turning thought to deeper things — books, music, charity functions . . . with a healthy sprinkling of post-football soirees to balance the diet. Friday evening at eight, the first book club program of the season will be in charge of the Literary Club of U. S. C. with Ossie Walton, president, in charge. Reviewers: Co-eds Sarah Colins and Inez Hamilton; eds Charles Ray and Alva Shaw. Sunday afternoon at exactly half after the hour of three, the George Carverites headed by William Timms presents Leslie Browne, young silver-toned tenor, in concert in the auditorium of Eighth and Towne Avenue church.

Those who took the trip north last week-end to see U. C. L. A. trounced are anything but low in spirits . . . echoes of good times in places sundry—like the Deltas breakfast at Linden Y and partying in Slim Jenkins' Cafe. Los Angeles was represented by Edythe and Gwendolyn Jones, Josie Crawford, Roberta Brown, Nancy Harris, Adelaide Glodden, Jewel Watson, Wendell Green, Leon Coleman, Bob Green, Percy Williams, Emily Mason, Alfred Darby, Roland Bell, Edward Burch, Lloyd Courtney, the Emmett Ashfords (Wila Gene Forte) . . . You'll probably be safe in betting your best Sunday boots that they ably and ambly represented ye Angel City, too . . . in more ways than one.

Among the recent birthday parties that were really surprises to the honorees were those complimenting Mrs. E. Birdie Smith and Mrs. Florence Carter. The former party was planned by a thoughtful husband and sister; the latter by member of the Fidelity unit of the Outdoor Life and Health Association of which Mrs. Carter is president . . . Gifts adequately expressed "many happy returns."

Had the pleasure Sunday of meteing Jo Gaines, personable lass of Denver, Colorado who's here attending Los Angeles City College and destined to make friends hand over fist . . . because of her very sweet smile.

FALL MODES:

The way these ladies are "togging" really shows up your summer of what's left over from last fall's wardrobe and sends you straight down town for a new bonnet or a bright scarf . . . Doesn't it? For instance . . . there was the predominantly green plaid donned by pretty Ella Wood last Friday evening for the forum at Pico and Paloma . . . with it dubonnet accessories and her own dashing personality. El's here from St. Louis attending Chapman College . . . and loving it . . . has a twin sister that visited here this summer.

Saturday's Golden State Mutual luncheon was a veritable fashion parade: Mrs. Norman C. Houston in black crepe featuring the semipetal neckline emphasized with three strands of pearls and a hat veiled in the new mode—hugging the surface of the brim and falling in a brief streamer; Mrs. E. J. Johnson in black, too, with a tiny black hat of the Schiaparelli doll variety revealing a wealth of black upturned curls; Mrs. Helen B. Hodge in a navy blue tailored suit with turquoise blouse and wine accessories . . . the hat a becoming off-face autumn version; Virgil Johnson in a black wool cape over wine dress and black hat; Grace Williams in a close fitting black felt hat; Thelma Scott in a Stetson boasting a stove pipe crown with a three quarter band of wine and green; Mrs. H. H. Towles in fall green, the hat, a doll one, did things for her red tresses while the dress clinched its style in a gold zipper toppea with a novelty gold piece; Verna Branch in a distinctive chapeaux with crown shirred and pinched to a generous point and smart upturned brim drew more than one admiring glance . . . enough of what the ladies are wearing and enough of this and that, but it couldn't be complete without mention of the adorable little hat bedecked with a vari-colored plume of the right size worn by Mrs. Hazel Whittaker at church Sunday, and the chic subdued check of slate and Oxford grey worn by architect Jimmy Garrot's cousin, a Miss Lawrence (I think) at the same services. S'long.

STYLE CHATS

For our Style Chat this week . . . we present to you a timely comment on glasses and beauty from a contemporary:

"You can engage the services of the best eye specialist in the world but if you go to an optician who is careless about fitting the frames you can let yourself in for plenty of trouble." It means physical discomfort which will lead you to squinting and frowning--and that's no attribute to any woman's beauty. Here are some of the common faults . . .

A nose piece that has a way of rambling about giving a bias slant to the vision; bows that spread or don't snuggle back of the ears, and general ill fitting that gives you the owl-eyed look. Your glasses like your hat should be bought for you. Seek an optician who is up to date. He will show you many different styles of frames and cut of lenses. Discard those old tortoise shells for new and nifty understudies.

Frameless specs are inconspicuous, a joy to the woman who comes reluctantly to the realization that the old eyes aren't what they used to be and must have help. The pince-nez is usually more attractive when unbound.

Yes, they do break easily, but have your case at hand, be a good girl put the glasses in it when they are not in use. Pink tortoise shell is new. It is a faint flesh color and there's no reason why any woman shouldn't use it. Furthermore, it gives protection to the lenses, a boon for the confirmed breaker.

Lenses come in many forms, affecting favorably the features of the face. Deep ones with a low bridge make the long nose appear shorter. No round lenses and heavy frames should be worn by the round-faced lady; the high bridge adds length and an air of confidence to the face.

When the nose is short and broad, you should wear rimless glasses with deep squarish lenses and a high bridge . . . Glasses can really do something for you and disprove the quip about men not making passes at the ladies who must wear them.

That's thirty for ton

Race Actress is 'Lady of Day' Choice on Coast Radio Hit

Ruby Elzy, who is currently featured in the Federal Theatre production, "Run, Little Chillun", was chosen the "Lady of the Day" on last Monday's presentation of outstanding women selected for an interview by KEHE, Hearst West Coast radio network.

This distinction is shared by noted women residents and visitors in Hollywood, some of whom have achieved world-wide fame, as a regular daily feature conducted by George Jay, official interviewer for the network.

Mr. Jay introduced Miss Elzy to the radio audience as "an artist possessing the rare combination of singing and acting."

With the naturalness that is so typical of her art, Miss Elzy responded to the interview in a cultured, clear-cut description of her career from the time she was discovered back in Pontotoc, Mississippi, by Dr. C. C. McCracken, of Ohio State University, and given a scholarship to that institution, to her participation in the famed Gershwin folk poera, "Porgy and Bess".

A tribute was paid to the Negro race by Mr. Jay in his estimation of it as a rare source of entertainment value.

Clerk at Golden State Rushed to General Hospital

Mrs. Theodosia Hampton-Washington, clerk in the Los Angeles District office of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company and president of the city-wide Inter-Club Council of the YWCA, was rushed to the General Hospital Monday evening following an illness of several days in her home on East 41st street.

Her condition was reported improved at press time (Wednesday). Mrs. Washington is the very recent bride of Howard Washington, employee of Warner Bros. Studios and is very popular in club circles. She is the daughter of Mrs. Hattie Hampton on West 29th street and the sister of Rev. Charles Hampton, president of the Western Baptist Association who resides in San Diego.

The charming and fascinating little lady, Mrs. Birdie Smith, has returned home after a year's vacation in New York City to be welcomed enthusiastically by daughter-in-law, son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ed. Smith, Mrs. La Vera Irving, respectively and a host of friends.

Frozen Fruit Punch
(Serves 6-8)

2 cups sugar
1½ cups water
1 small bunch mint, chopped
3 cups weak tea (or ginger ale)
½ cup lemon juice
2 cups orange juice

Boil sugar, water and mint together for 5 minutes. Chill, add remaining ingredients, strain and freeze.

Lima and Celery Salad

2 cups cooked, dried Limas
1 cup diced celery
½ green pepper, minced
½ cup French dressing

Mix ingredients an hour or more before serving. To serve, arrange on lettuce leaves. Place a spoonful of mayonnaise on top and sprinkle mayonnaise with minced green pepper.

Whole-Meal Macaroni Dish

Easy to prepare, wholesome and inexpensive.

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 can tomato soup
1 cup grated cheese
Salt and pepper

Boil macaroni in plenty of boiling, salted water till tender. Drain. Melt butter in saucepan and add the cooked macaroni. Heat well and add the milk. Cook macaroni in butter and milk until about dry. Add tomato soup and cheese. Heat until cheese is well melted, stirring till flavors blend. Serve hot.

Note: Spaghetti, elbows, sea shells or other shapes of the macaroni family may be substituted for macaroni in this recipe.

Ripe Grape Conserve

4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
Grated lemon rind
¼ cup lemon juice
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
½ lb. seeded raisins
1 cup finely chopped nut meats
½ bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, stem and crush well about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes. Add ¾ cup water, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, 30 minutes. Remove seeds and skins by sieving. If desired, chop or grind skins and add to pulp. Grate rind and squeeze juice from 2 lemons.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Add lemon rind and juice, raisins, and nut meats, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot conserve at once. Makes about 12 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Chocolate Mint Rennet-Custard

1 pkg. chocolate rennet powder
1 pint milk
⅔ cup chocolate syrup
½ cup marshmallow topping
Few drops peppermint flavoring

Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. Then chill in refrigerator. When ready to serve, mix marshmallow topping, chocolate syrup, and a few drops of peppermint flavoring together thoroughly. Put on top of each rennet-custard and serve at once.

Social Ice Breakers

Here are new recipes for party success! Peg Chow and Telka (you play both on the same board) are scoring a double header success in parlor sport circles. BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

I have just come back from a flying trip to Chicago and I simply must tell you about it. The word "flying" is used literally because I flew up on a Chicago and Southern Airlines plane and was met at the Chicago airport by an enthusiastic group of friends, among them Mrs. Marjorie Stewart Joyner, president of the National Beauty Culturists League, Inc., who presented me with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The purpose of the trip, of course, was to attend the convention of the National Beauty Culturists League the week of September 2. Besides the excitement of the plane ride (I must confess it was my first time in the air and I was a bit nervous at first), there was a parade and a series of dances and other social gatherings along with the serious work of the convention.

The convention, itself, was a tremendous success. The National Beauty Culturists League has been a powerful influence in the upbuilding of the industry. Its purposes, you know, are to encourage continued improvement of methods of treating the hair, scalp and skin; to gather and distribute scientific information regarding the care of the hair, and to establish Race relations between individual hair dressers and various systems of hairdressing throughout the country.

More than three hundred licensed beauticians, owners, proprietors and managers attended the convention. There were fifty booths representing the local and larger beauty shops. There were demonstrations and lectures for the thousands of spectators on the progress and newest innovations in Race beauty culture.

I am terribly enthusiastic about all this because I think our own system of beauty culture is of utmost importance. To be truly successful in the field of cosmetology we must have our own methods, our own make-up and cosmetics, made especially for our types of skin and colorings, and manufactured expressly to suit our varying needs. Such marvelous strides have been taken in this direction that I am delighted. The plane ride was just the beginning of my excitement. I am still thrilled to death.

What are your beauty problems? Write Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Foundation, Room 607—511 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Luncheon, Dancing Party Entertain G.S.M. Employes

Significant skits that brought gales of laughter, lively and popular music, and a delectable luncheon followed by an dancing party in the evening delighted Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company officials and employees Saturday, October 15, at the annual "kick-off" in the popular football contest.

The luncheon was held in the 28th Street Branch YMCA and attended by approximately 150 persons. It was characterized by a two part program; The first climaxing in a formal address by the Secretary-Treasurer, Norman O. Houston; and the second in a series of skits presented by the clerical staff and various agency groups of Southern California, Pasadena, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, El Centro, etc. Skits were based primarily on the football contest using prize fight and world event analogies.

Especially entertaining was the pseudo radio broadcast featuring "Professor Quiz" presented by the clerical staff representatives. Grace Williams, Emily Troy, Genieve Neale, Thelma Duncan, Ruby McKnight, and ended in a humerous parody of "Tisket-A-Tasket" with Mrs. Ruth Towles at the piano. J. S. Oliver and M. Liggins, the latter of San Diego also rendered piano numbers during the course of the luncheon A. J. Williams led the group in sinigng.

In the evening, an informal dancing party hosted by the agency staff of Los Angeles was held in the assembly room of the local district offices.

Young Demos Plan for Holiday

In response to the party's call for funds, the Southside Young Democrats are staging a benefit dance on October 29 at the Veterans' Stadium, 2515 So. Central Avenue, it was announced this week.

Mrs. Meredith Hatcher, chairman of entertainment, assisted by Misses Oleaver Taylor, Naomi Goodloe and Ernest Bendy are in charge of the "Jitterbug" contest for which a prize will be given. An award will also be given the person wearing the most unusual costume. Music for the dance will be rendered by Bass Morgan, formerly of Cab Calloway's Band, and his Swing band.

Birthday Party Honors Spouse; Six Guests

William Sneed complimented his wife, Mrs. Fannie Mae Sneed with a birthday party in their home at 1545½ East 21st street last week. Six guests enjoyed an informal evening and repast.

THE FIDELITY UNIT of the Outdoor Life and Health Association surprised their president, Mrs. Florence Carter with a birthday party last Monday night, Oct. 10 at the residence of Mrs. Lucy Burdett, 1244 N. Commonwealth, Hollywood. A program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Grace Johnson who was mistress of ceremonies.

NATIONAL NEGRO CONGRESS TO MEET HERE

Pros and cons of "socialized medicine" is the subject programmed for discussion at the meeting of the Los Angeles Council of the National Negro Congress on October 21st, at 8 p. m. The meeting, which will be held at Wesley M. E. Center, 1029 E. Vernon Avenue, is one in a series sponsored recently by the local Congress group on vital social questions.

Announcement in July of a proposed National Health Program susidized by the Federal government, has revived debate long current in medical circles of the value of such state-supported medical facilities for people unable to pay private physicians.

Speaking at the Congress'meeting will be Dr. Clifford Gordon, and Dr. N. Curtis King, both of whom have stated that they will emphasize how the proposed National Health Program will affect Negro doctors and patients.

LOS ANGELES AND PASADENA SOCIETY

Community Chest to Present Dances, Films in Pasadena

Quite a large attendance of Pasadenans and residents of nerabycommuiities will attend the especially prepared program to be presented, free of charge, in the auditorium of the Abraham Lincoln School, Lincoln Avenue and Peoria street, Pasadena. A double film feature, a speaker and bevy of Mexican dancers who will interpret the native dances of Mexico, South America and spain—all this is on the bill for the Community Chest program, scheduled for Friday evening, October 28th at 7:00 o'clock.

The program is part of the social welfare work being carried on as a pat of the 18th Annual Community Chest campaign in Pasadena November 1-10. These fields of activity include child child caring, health, youth training and family welfare as well as care of the aged.

$270,000 is the goal for this campaign and this represents the minimum amount required to adequately carry on work in the 30 Chest agencies during 1939.

More than 1500 volunteer workers headed by Ron Stever, Mrs. Fred S. Markham, Hammond G. Nash, Mrs. William B. Munro, Edward C. Harwood, Mrs. Donald C. McCoy, William P. Welsh, Dwight E. Keider, Robert W. Campbell, Leon Delbridge, A. J. Hay, Reginald Johnson and Kenyon Reynolds, are giving of their time and effort to make the campaign a success.

The public is cordially invited to attend the mammoth entertainment on Friday night — planned to be one of the most outstanding throughout the Chest campaign.

Sunday Services at Friendship to Be Impressive

Preaching at both morning and evening services, the Reverend W. D. Carter, eminent pastor to Pasadena's Friendship Baptist Church, Dayton Stret and Delacey avenue, will bring to his congregation two messages of stirring spiritual importance. Services begin promptly at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., Sunday, October 23—an on every Sunday.

Messrs. Fletcher Smith and Barney Durham, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of the Sunday School announce that the 9:30 Church Sunday School is attracting more and more of the youth as well as the adult life of Pasadena

The recent Week of Religious Education Study proved successful in many ways. With an average daily attendance of one hundred or more persons, a more progressive method of teaching will be exercised by every department as a result of the splendid of imparting knowledge to teachers and group leaders. Special thanks were given to Messrs. Dr. E. W. Moore, Dr. Riddle, Dr. W. R. Carte, Dr. W. H. M. Dickerson and Attorney Ralph Merriam for giving of their time and energy for the success of the confeence.

Scott M.E. Fall Festival to Be Gala Occasion

With such well known personalities as Louise Beavers, Bill (Bojangles) Robinson and fistiana's Joe Louis scheduled to appear during the Thursday night, October 20 opening of the three night Fall Festival of the Scott M. E. Churcvh, Pasadena awaits a truly gala occasion.

Friday night will feature a ive kV BdepL club Jabberwock with competitive dramatic skits; while on Saturday night, the famous Pasadena Junior College" Bulldog" band and a skating rodeo have been planned to delight the public.

Also on Thursday night will be featured a full-length presentation of the dramatic film "Imitations of Life".

Sponsors of the three-night Festival are the Omicron Gammas. Scene of each evening's event will be held in the Community Recreational Center of the Church at 55 Mary Street.

First AME Church has Splendid Program Sunday

In keeping with the custom established at Pasadena's First A. M. E. Church, North Vernon Avenue and Kensington Place, a splendid worship program is being offered for this Sunday to Southland church goers.

Services will commence with the Sunday School at 9:30 of which Walter Worrill is superintendent and classes for all age groups are included in the curriculum. Reverend E. M. Scott, adult class instructor will hold his class in the main sanctuary of the Church.

"A Womanly Woman" will be the subject of the message that the Reverend J. M. Brown, pastor to First A. M. E., will bring to a highly interested congregation during the morning 11:00 worship. Dr J. H. McRiley, director of the Senior Choir has prepared special music for the day — the celebration of "Young Ladies Day" at First A. M. E. Members of the Young Women's Missionary Society are sponsoring the services; and adults and parents are espe- pəssnoɹ ɹəp ol pəsn ʌɹɐɹ

At 3:00 p. m. the Strikland Sacred Orchestra will be featured; and at 7:45 p. m. a fine guest speaker together with inspiring gospel music and the well-known Arnold Sisters, will serve to round out a spiritual profram full of worth for Pasadena and Los Angeles church goers.

FAIRER, LIGHTER COMPLEXION

QUICKLY—the "flaking-off" action of Black and White Bleaching Cream goes right to work on outer skin—and soon you, too, will be helped toward that fairer, lighter complexion that you admire so much in other people.

This fine cream is not only a bleach to "flake off" dull, darker outer skin. It is a skin beautifier as well—helping to remove "clogged-pore" bumps (blackheads) of the surface skin. Black and White Bleaching Cream acts as an antiseptic dressing for acne pimples due to external causes and for the relief of soreness and itching discomfort of minor parasitic skin irritations.

Today—get Black and White Bleaching Cream. Use it according to directions—and let its prompt special action help give you a complexion that is thrilling and lighter-looking in tone. Be sure to demand Black and White Bleaching Cream. Large opal jar, 50c. Medium size, 30c. Trial size, 10c.

Pioneer Californian, Amos D. Dyson, Dead; Hold Rites

SAN DIEGO. (By Mrs. E. B. Dudley)—Shortly before press time, word reached your correspondent of the death of Amos D. Dyson, pioneer Californian, well known citizen. Circumstances of his death were not learned before press time. Arrangements for burial are in the hands of the local Tate Funeral Home.

Mr. Dyson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edna Dyson, Bernice, Anna Marie, and Amos, Jr., children living in San Diego, Mrs. Ruby D. Jackson, daughter living in Florida ,Rev. W. M. Dyson of San Diego and James Dyson of Florida.

79TH MILESTONE

Surrounded by 28 relatives, among them grandchildren, great grandchildren and great, great grandchildren, Mrs. Sophia Pessley, long time resident of San Diego, celebrated her 79th birthday anniversary last Sunday with a dinner and family reunion at her home, 3228 Franklin avenue. Many tokens of love and appreciation for the near-octogenarian were in evidence.

With the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Olive and four of Mrs. Pressley's grandchildren from Los Angeles, all of the 28 relatives reside in San Diego.

LEAGUE BROADCAST

On Wednesday evening over KFSD, the Women's Civic League presented a very entertaining broadcast, consisting of an address by Mrs. J. E. Craft, president, several selections by the Glee club, directed by Miss Octavia Payne, and two or three numbers by the Sunshine Chorus of the Church of God in Christ, in charge of Miss Katra Tucker.

MISCELLANY

Mrs. M. Cobb is a visitor from Texas, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Roxie Richardson. H. Davie, a recent arrival from Washington, D. C. for permanent residence in San Diego, is finding this city to his liking. Mr. Davie, the brother of Mrs. A. McPherson, was ill when he came here a few weeks ago, is somewhat improved. Dr. and Mrs. Stovall of Los Angeles were week end guests, stopping at the Simmons Hotel. Mrs. Beulah Taylor, L. A. beauty culturist, is in the city for a few days. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lulu Long, 919 Sigsby street. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are frequent visitors in the city from Del Mar. Clarence Jones former resident of this city, returned early this week from Los Angeles where he has lived for the past two years.

Rev. L. H. Owens, pastor of the Bethel AME church, was the principal speaker on the P.-T. A. program Tuesday afternoon at Logan Heights school. Rev. Owens spoke on "Child Development". The Industrial Girls' club is opening a membership drive in the form of a dinner on Oct. 27.

The Negro History class, Miss Octavia Payne, instructor, presented a most interesting James Weldon Johnson Memorial program at its meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Clay Street Y. W. C. A. auditorium. The Boys' Band has been re-organized by Albert Parks, who presented his boys in a concert at Logan Chapel a short time ago. Plans are being made for a second appearance.

SOCIETY

A surprise birthday dinner party was given by Elder James A. Jackson in celebration of the birthday of his wife, Mrs. Cora Jackson, at the parsonage of the Church of God in Christ Saturday night. An impromptu program with Mrs. L. Denny, mistress of ceremonies, was rendered.

The elaborate dinner was prepared by Elder Jackson and served with the assistance of Mesdames Letha Freeman, Grace Spencer, S. Thompson, Lulu Denny and Mrs. Wilson.

CHURCHES

Announcement was made at the morning services of the Bethel AME church that an effort will be made to secure a corner lot for the proposed new church building. Lots that were donated will be returned with all taxes paid, it was stated, as in the terms of the agreement.

Services were thoroughly inspiring with the Rev. Owens preaching from the subject: "The Vow of the Nazarene", in the morning, and "Thirty Minutes with the Most Discouraging Book in the Bible" in the evening. Converts and uniters with the church were led by Mrs. Broyles Haig, who is ill at the home of a friend, but was received into the church. Mrs. Ethel Allison of Tulsa, Okla. united with the church, and Miss Ruth Allen, church pianist, was converted.

Quarterly meeting will be held Sunday with Rev. H. Francis McClure presiding elder.

Calvary Baptist
J. L. Branham, Pastor

Sunday School opened at 9:30 a. m. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Rev. J. L. Branham delivered the morning message and the senior choir furnished very appropriate music under the direction of Mr. William Webb.

On next Sunday installation services will be held, Rev. C. H. Hampton, preaching.

Church of God in Christ

Rev. James A. Jackson occupied the pulpit both morning and evening at the Church of God in Christ.

THE SICK

The Sunshine club reports the sick for the week: at the General Hospital: Mrs. M. Davis, Mrs Lewis; at Vauclain Home: Mrs. Ruth McClelland, Mrs. Rosa Mae Armstrong, Mrs. Mae Echols, Johnson, Mrs. Bessie Andrews, Eloise Hopkins, Georgia Bell, Dan Gatlin, Benny Luckey, and Theo. Steele; at home, improving: Mrs. Frances Wilson, Mrs. Minnie Coleman and Mrs. Broyles Haig.

San Bernardino Youngster has Birthday Party

SAN BERNARDINO, (By Nelson Patterson)—The activities of the very young citizens of San Berdoo were in the spotlight this week what with young Donald Alves celebrating his fifth birthday at a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. McCormack Alves.

24 friends of Master Alves enjoyed the occasion with him, plus several special guests from outside the city, namely his great-grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Williams, Queen Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Cay Jackson and son, Langston Coulter and Larney Jones, all of Los Angeles, and cousins from Riverside.

The establishment of a nursery school by Mrs. Elizabeth Looper in her home on Valley Truck Farm was greeted by an enrollment of 32 tots from three to five years of age. Inter-racial in its scope, much interest is being shown in the Spanish children and mothers.

According to the staff the school is open for daily inspection.

MISCELLANY

The Brotherhood, composed of representatives of churches in Riverside, Redlands, and San Bernardino, met at the local St. Mark's Baptist church, the Rev. C. H. Gordon pastor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Looper and party, Mrs. Mary Green, Mrs. Ruth G. Patterson and Allen Littles, motored to Los Angeles to see the hit Federal play, "Run, Little Chillun." While there they were the guests of the play's author, Hall Johnson.

Probe Conditions of Race in Fresno

FRESNO. (By M. L. Milligan)—An investigation of the economic condition of Negroes in the California area is being carried on by the Westside Civic League of Fresno, it was learned this week with the assignment of Given Tests, Ted Jones and your correspondent to survey Visalia and Hanford last week.

WILMINGTON WOMAN HELD FOR FATAL STABBING OF TORMENTOR

WILMINGTON, Oct. 20—(Special to the Eagle)—Enraged because of suspicions that the woman with whom he is alleged to have been keeping company was unfaithful to him, and being in a drunken frenzy, Edwin O. Johnson, truck driver for 23 years, ran amuck but got the worst of it as he was stabbed to death by Mrs. Margaret Floyd in her home at 1010 East L. Street, Wilmington, last Friday night, after he allegedly had beaten her unmercifully. This was revealed at the coroner's inquest held in Los Angeles last Tuesday morning.

Testimony brought out that Johnson had begun a quarrel with the woman while visiting in her home and then started beating her. Breaking away from his infuriated grasp, she went into the bathroom to wash away the blood stains from her face where he again struck here a vicious blow, she said.

THREATENS WOMAN

In the meantime, Johnson left the house. Returning later, he told Mrs. Floyd's daughter that he was going to kill her mother. The woman had gone into the bedroom and Johnson went in and began his attack upon her again, witnesses claimed. When he is said to have knocked her down on the bed, he staggered, and the woman stabbed him with a knife she had with her. The keen blade punctured the lung, causing hemorrhage of the heart from which Johnson died almost immediately.

According to the police, the woman says she stabbed him with a butcher knife, laid it on the table, and someone removed it before they arrived. But the testimony showed that a short knife unlike the one described by the woman, was found near the body.

A coroner's jury found the deceased came to his death by homicide and Mrs. Floyd was held to answer. She was unable to be present at the inquest, and is confined to the hospital suffering from the severe injuries Johnson is alleged to have inflicted upon her.

Johnson was born in Jersey City, N. J., and has made his home in California for the past 32 years. He had been separated from his wife, Mrs. Octavia Johnson, for three years. His mother, Mrs. Aurora Wallace, lives at 1384 E. 33rd Street in Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Angelus Funeral Home, and the final services will be held the latter part of the week.

Station Wagon Popularity Increases

The many types of outdoor activity enjoyed almost the year 'round in Southern California and Arizona have created an unusual need for certain types of automobile equipment. One of the best examples of this is an increasing demand for the station wagon, a unit which has the beauty of a passenger car and the utility of a commercial car. Sales of Ford V-8 station wagons have increased annually in recent years, which is contrary to automobile sales in general. A 1938 model Ford V-8 station wagon is pictured above as picnickers pause on a mountain road.

Riverside Women Hike 12 Miles at $1.00 per Mile

RIVERSIDE, (By Frances Williams)—Creating a sensation in these parts your correspondent and Mrs. Matilda Williams hiked two blocks beyond the Santa Fe Station in San Bernardino, a distance of 12 miles, in three hours last Saturday to win prizes of $1.00 per mile.

Motorists were sidetracked, men at work on the highway leaned on their shovels as the girls went by age and rheumatic pains fanned to sleep. The time was considered very good, just about one mile per fifteen minutes.

Mrs. Helen (Gordon) Truda became the wife of T. Dickerson Oct. 2, in a quiet ceremony in the presence of her mother and intimate friends at the parsonage of Allen Chapel A. M. E. church it was learned this week.

Two newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson, are at home at 2623, to their friends. The wedding ceremony was performed in September at the Church of God in Christ.

SICK LIST

Mrs. Hattie Martin is suffering with muscular rheumatism. Mother Mays is somewhat improved. Mrs. Wilson has been returned to her home, but is still very ill.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 20 — Mrs. Maggie Butler is in th County Hospital suffering from dangerous cuts about the body, inflicted by a razor in the hand of her husband, Edward Butler. The cutting climaxed a family argument in Dick Wiley's beer garden.

Angelenos Week-end in Palm Springs

Mrs. Louise Cook, prominent Los Angeles social and Christian worker spent the week-end at Palm Springs with the following guests: Mrs. Grace Comeaux Johnson, socialite; Mrs. Lucy Burdette, pioneer resident of Hollywood; John Wesley Wilson, jr., Belmont High student, the little Misses Essie Hearing, Marjorie Eleanor and Master Lawrence Johnson, children of Mrs. Grace Johnson.

The stay was spent in taking pictures and hiking through Palm Canyon. Mrs. Cook is a former resident of Palm Springs and introduce her guests to the historical backgrounds of the various points of interest in the village. She purchased a winter cottage there in 1926 and, also, invested in two beautiful residences in San Bernardino. She is widely known in missionary circles throughout the state.

Move La Cienega CCC Camp to San Pablo Dam

ELSINORE. (By Anna Louise Thomas)—La Cienega CCC Camp was recently moved to San Pablo Dam, near Richmond. Friends of the boys who live in Elsinore want to say that they will miss them very much and wish them success and many new friends in their new surrounding.

Mrs. Julia Taylor and Miss Elizabeth Harris, Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mitchell and son Jimmy, Santa Monica, Mrs. Fred Mitchell, Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, L. A., Mrs. Pinkey Carson, Venice, Mr. Charles Johnson, Venice, were all visitors at Hendricks. Rev. and Mrs. Cleaves, Rev. and Mrs. Holden spent a few days at Martinez Courts.

Santa Monica Couple Joined in Holy Wedlock at 1st AME

SANTA MONICA. (By Willie Louise Gilmore)—Miss Christine Pegues and John Alton Moore were married Sunday afternoon in a quiet ceremony at the First AME church with Rev. A. K. Quinn officiating. The family and close friends witnessed the ceremony, followed by a lovely reception at the Masonic Hall which was attended by many well wishing friends. The bride was modestly gowned in white taffeta.

Rev. Quinn, and his wife were feted Thursday evening at the Church with an elaborate reception. The fashionably gowned hostesses were Mesdames Daisy Clay, Vera White, Allye Cook, Geneva Tidwell and Beulah Reed.

The pews which were arranged in bowl effect was enhanced by the artistic floral setting of Dahlias and Chrysanthemums. Those enjoying the affair were members and friends whom Rev. and Mrs. Quinn have made throughout the past two years. The theme for the evening was "Gratitude". W. E. Bandy, sr. was master of ceremonies. Speakers representing various church auxiliaries were: Messrs O. G. Williams, Donald Brunson, W. H. Carter, Vernon Brunson, R. L. Tidwell and Mrs. Beulah Reed. Vocal solos by Mrs. Gertrude Norton and Miss Marion Silvey. Mrs. Etta V. Moxley brought greetings from the W. C. B. club. Mr. C. E. A. Brunson, Sr. brought same from the First Baptist church of Venice, Calif. Guests of honor were Presiding Elder F. A. Harris and wife, Rev. Chas. Duvall of Venice and Rev. and Mrs. J. C. White of Bethel A. M. E. church, L. A.

Mrs. C. E. White made the presentation to the honorees from Mrs. Mary Dixon which was gratefully accepted. A short response was made by Rev. Quinn emphasizing his motto: "Let Brotherly Love Continue. Be Not Forgetful to Entertain Strangers For Thereby Some Have Entertained Angels Unawares".

Oakland Matron Killed in Traffic

OAKLAND, Oct. 13. — En route to mid-week prayer service at the Cooper A. M. E. Zion church, 849 Union street, this city, Mrs. Eva Clayborne, 908 Center avenue, well known throughout the state, was killed instantly when she was struck by an automobile at the corner of Cypress and 8th streets, Wednesday night of last week. Funeral services were held early this week.

Prominent in local church circles, the deceased woman is survived by a ssiter, Mrs. Alice Lay, of this city, a son, Elmer Clayborne, living in Sacramento, and a brother, Jefefrson E. Wilson of Garnett, Kansas.

Californians Up Wiley Enrollment

WACO, Tex., Oct. 20—Eight per cent of the students at Wiley College are from the State of California, it was learned today from the Registrar's Office. Only Texas and Louisiana have larger percentages of students than California.

Los Angeles leads California cities in representation and is fourth in number, following three Texas cities, Houston, Dallas and Forth Worth.

The Los Angeles Wiley club was commended in the report for movements furthering the development of and interest in Wiley College. The annual University of Southern California-Wiley debate was listed as one of the outstanding events of the year.

League O.K.'s Merriam and Franklin

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20—Indorsement of Governor Merriam and Dr. Walter Scott Franklin for Lieutenant Governor was voted last night by the League of Negro Voters of Santa Clara County, according to Theodore Moss, president. The league met in San Jose and discussed the progress of the Republican campaign with evident enthusiasm and conviction of victory.

Moss, who is Grand Master of Prince Hall Masons in California, is making an organizing tour of the State. After the San Jose meeting he spent some days in the Bay cities.

This week he turns southward and will devote his activities to Los Angeles, Riverside and Imperial counties.

Royal 12 Club

The weekly meeting was held at the home of Bill Linly, Oct. 11, with all members present. All are arduously working for the fourth annual formal to be given in November.

The Gumshoers . . .

Well here's ole Findum and Co. again . . . Christine's marriage to John Moore was truly a memorable event; 'tis said they will honeymoon in 'Frisco . . . Flash Hear ye, read ye . . . the week's most amusing, and luscious tidbit . . . lost, strayed or stolen a pair of socially prominent matrons, please return, generous rewards . . . Signed: Two Lonesome Husbands . . . Polkie tells us of his and Althea's swell-legant trip to Lil' ole New York . . . The Count and Countess barely escaped serious injuries Sunday when their car crashed into a truck on 14th and Michigan . . . The Count must have had his rabbit foot along . . . Our friend Courtney and Gladys Cook motored north last Thursday to see the UCLA-California football game, yeah I know what you're thinking . . . That there may be a romance in the offing, but don't quote us as saying it . . . Many Jolly 13 members took us to task, but I managed to explain . . . This Burg was honored Sunday by Joe Louis and his Brown Bombers, the population turned out en masse to see the game, sorry the home team were the victors . . . Our friend Don B. sported a cut away and our book says strictly morning wear tsk, tsk . . . The no. one problem child laid it in the groove with a tux dating back to the gay '90's . . . Next on docket is a straw polling of which you consider S. M.'s most popular club, hand in your choice to James Ware or yours truly . . . With cooperation there'll be much fun.

THANKS, SUBSCRIBERS!

Your response to our collectors is very much appreciated by the management of the EAGLE. Many persons are still in arrears however, and we solicit the consideration of all. Be fair to yourself by paying promptly as it takes money to carry on. Help us to help you. Thanks!

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons
Gain in Health and Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak— the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and smarts and burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right safe harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to the kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed. But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland—a grand kidney stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptons of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffy eyes, moist palms and nervousness.

A. Hartly Jones Founds $50,000 Reserve Corporation.

By LEROY S. HART

Probably the most significan business ever attempted by Negroes in California, and at the same time the most needed in this community, was launched this week by A. Hartley Jones, prominent figure in local business and financial circles for many years when final papers of incorporation were received for a new company to be known as the General Reserve Corporation, capitalized at $50,000.

Recognized as one of the most capable business executives of the race in the west, Mr. Jones began his career in Los Angeles 16 years ago when he organized the Sphinx Tea and Coffee Company. Within two years he built up the enterprise to an annual sales volume of over $25,000.

In the fall of 1923, Dr. Wilbur C. Gordon, outstanding local physician, sought the assistance of Mr. Jones in the organization of some form of loan company to relieve the real estate condition in Negro districts of Los Angeles. With his characteristic frankness and analytical alertness, advised Dr. Gordon that the only form of organization that could be put over at that time by the race here was a building-loan association.

As a result of the suggestion, Mr. Jones became one of the organizers of the Liberty-Building-Loan Association, and was made secretary-manager of the company, holding that position for 12 years. To him goes the major credit for the extraordinary growth of the Association to a $350,000 institution during the first five years of operation.

In 1925 when William Nickerson, Jr., and Norman O. Houston were planning the organization of a life insurance company in Los Angeles, they sought the advice of this rising young business executive. The dream of the promoters was realized, and Mr. Jones became an organizer of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, and for the first two years of its operation was its business counsellor.

In 1933 two prominent citizens attempted the organization of an insurance company through the means of a holding company. After several months of effort without success, Mr. Jones was called in, and the Douglas Mutual Life Insurance Company opened its doors for business. Jones was elected President, and held the position for two years.

One of this remarkable business leader's most notable achievements was during the four years he guided the destiny of Golden West Lodge of Elks as its Exalted Ruler. He was elected to this important office shortly after the erection of the order's $100,000 home. During his administration the lodge paid off nearly $20,000 of the indebtedness on the building, its furnishings and equipment, at the same time strengthening the treasury and increasing the membership during the worst period of the depression.

As a fitting climax to a brilliant career that for nearly two decades has been the guiding influence in business and financial interests of the Negro in Los Angeles, the keen insight of Mr. Jones into the business needs of the community now gives us General Reserve Corporation, an institution designed to stimulate and fortify Negro business in Los Angeles.

The corporation will train young men and women on its staff in the various branches of business management and administration in order that Negro business in this community might have a much needed administrative service.

The new company further plans to furnish financial backing to meritorius businesses in the form of short and long-term loans so that such business might expand or meet their obligations and remain open. Arrangements are also being made by the corporation to handle a $100,000 fund to be loaned on real estate first mortgages in Negro districts.

General Reserve Corporation will begin the erection of its modern, attractive general offices on Central Avenue at 50th street within a few weeks. The building has been designed by Paul R. Williams, eminent architect. Temporary offices of the organization are located at E. J. Porter's real estate office, 4608 Central avenue.

Quinn Seems Surewinner in Assessor Race

With a basis of 250.947 votes received in the primary election, the John R. Quinn-for-Assessor forces are busily in adding enough to this number to insure final election of Quinn in November.

The primary figures show that John R. Quinn received about 60 per cent more votes than his nearest opponent and that the Quinn vote was greater than the total vote of the eight others who were candidates besides Quinn and the runner up.

Since the re-opening of the Quinn headquarters at 1031 So. Broadway in Los Angeles, reports from over the county indicate that the Quinn vote today would be fully 100,000 greater than in the primary and that Quinn will surely win the November finals.

Although there has been an attempt to inject partisan politics into the office of County Assessor, a position which is strictly non-partisan, trained politics observers feel that the voters will continue to select a man for the office whose experience qualifies him to do the work rather than a less able "party man."

According to Quinn headquarters the plan of final campaign is to acquaint the voters with Quinn's outstanding qualifications for the office of Assessor and point out that his experience and record of public service is such as to merit an unusually large vote of confidence.

Eagle Correspondent Proves Age Old Adage, "It Pays To Advertise"

There has arisen in the minds of some sales managers a doubt as to the effectiveness of the Colored Newspaper advertising and whether appropriations for advertising should be curtailed in this particular medium.

That there has been a decline in the efficiency of mediocre advertising is not true. It is the only way an advertiser can get in direct contact with the colored population is to advertise in the colored newspapers. The average advertiser knows—advertising returns cost more ni 1933 than in 1928. This was due in part, to a certain loss of confidence on the part of the general public in advertising claims, but in a larger measure to the fall in the National income from around ninety Billions of dollars in 1928 to about fifty Billions in 1933. Because of the accompanying reduction in advertising volume, publishers were unable to reduce advertising rates and stay in business. Any sales manager who reads the CALIFORNIA EAGLE knows that we have volume and he is getting the best rate possible.

The situation has since been rectified to a certain extent partly by the improvement of business in 1938 and by the devaluation of the dollar. It has taken some time for this to work through, as we all know. While establishing a cheaper dollar it will have the net effect of cutting the price of newspapers thereby increasing circulation. This has increased the buying power for our advertisers by reaching a greater number of the colored people.

Whether advertising costs will climb to the dizzy heights they reached in 1920 is difficult for me to say. But it may be safely forecast that, barring some unexpected crash or National Calamity, the rates for radio advertising costs i nall merchandise over this recovery perjod, and believe me business is recovering —that is why we may look forward to a rising rather than a falling market. Wages have gone up, paper prices, etc., and most publishers have already withdrawn rate quotations so whatever rate increase they decide upon can be quickly put into effect. That is the policy of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE—we hae to do this to avoid opearating at a loss. When the rates for radio advertising go up—higher radio rates will drive the advertisers back to the newspapers (the few that have left the newsapapers). The general public want to see what they are going to buy—an illustration of a bedroom or a lamp or a suit or dress—advertising is an art from an honest bent of the American people, things that are not worth advertising are not worth selling. It is the only way to let the people know what you have to sell. People judge the concern by the way they advertise and what they advertise.

The concensus of opinion seems to be that advertising in general whether institutional or directly for the purpose of increasing immediate sales — is legitiamte selling expense and should be considered in every concern budget. Even when advertising is run purely for the purpose of propoganda its object is to maintain favorable conditions for selling—we the California Eagle find it much easier to sell advertising by approaching the problem from the interest of you the advertiser rather than as the publishers—Let us lay the foundation for a new and better relationship for you among the thousands of colored people in and around Los Angeles.

The colored people spend about fifty millions of dollars each year in Los Angelesalone— of course they want to know who their friends are and where they are welcome—by the colored seeing your space in the columns of our newspaper— The California Eagle, it will let them KNOW that you want their business and have appreciated their business in the past.

LONG DISTANCE PLANNING OF ADVERTISING

The prospects of rising advertisining costs suggests that plans should be laid as far ahead as possible and contracts placed for as long as a term as possible. This kind of planning will save you a advertiser, a great deal of money. Even the ultraconservative bulletin of one of the largest banking houses in the country, predicts an end to the period of contraction and a steady rise in business. So there is ample authority for increasing advertising appropriations, quite aside from the fact that it will take more money to do the same advertising job.

Many concerns are reinvesting the extra profits. Let me give you an illustration. A clothing store owner, who doubled the amount of advertising for 1938 over 1937, said: The new confidence instilled into the general public has made them spend more money. Most all businesses are getting new life. Well, we have estimated just about how much this new set-up will mean in profit, and we are taking half the anticipated profit and plowing it right back into advertising. During the depression all the most successful businesses were able to run along on the momentum of past advertising. Whereas most concerns are talking about holding to their "ESTABLISHED" policy of basing next years appropriation for advertising on last years sales, but, this wise Executive cooly estimated the company's probable profits and decide to invest in advertising.

Another sales Executive stated that he would recommend a "3 YEAR POLICY" to his directors, instead of the usual one year plan. He will ask his directors to agree upon a total to be expended for advertising for 1939, 1940, and 1941. Then he intends to spend 50-percent in 1939-40 and 20 percent in 1941. This business man has justified his recommendations on the prediction of one of the worlds Captains of Industry that this country will enjoy unprecedented prosperity for ten long years to come. Money spent to attract new customers in 1939 and 1940 will be spent wisely, because the customers thus attracted will be on the job bringing in new customers in 1941 and 1942. It may not be practical for every business to set-up a three year policy. But I believe it is a plan worth considering. It can always be changed if necessary.

Advertising CONSISTENTLY used, gives the firm a better control of the sales outlets, makes it easier to secure and hold a higher type of salesman, gives tangible value to his trademarks (if he has any) and trade names which can be carried on a balance sheet, and most important of all, assures him of a higher percentage of REPEATS . . . REPEAT BUSINESS IS WHAT ALL BUSINESSES WANT. Since the profit in any business hinges directly on satisfied customers who COME BACK, this item alone is enough to justify a definite and continuous advertising program. But it can not be too emphatically stated that to be successful in a large degree advertising MUST be thoughtfully planned, and ably executed.

Nearly every advertising failure can be traced to the failure of the advertiser to appreciate these vital essentials. The advetising graveyard is filled with concerns who have "TRIED" advertising. They have set aside a sum of money for an advertising campaign. In our language, "They Have Taken a Shot At Advertising", and missed. The successful do not take "Shots" at advertising, but those who make advertising part of their sales program. They have kept on consistently advertising year in and year out, increasing their appropriation as their business permitted, and holding fast to the one idea.

Advertising is a plant of very slow growth, just as any goodwill building campaign must necessarily be a matter of years rather than months. It is quite unreasonable to suppose that you or any other advertiser can spend a few hundred dollars (let alone forty or fifty dollars) for advertising and expect an immediate increase in sales. The average business man will spend twenty or thirty dollars (a great deal less at times) for advertising and expect people to knock each other down getting into his store and if that does not happen he has the nerve to say that advertising does not pay and the particular medium that he advertised in is NO GOOD, because he does not get results. While in some cases this has been accomplished, it is the exception rather than the general rule. Advertising is a means of short-cutting the building of good-will and must be considered as such. Advertising permits a business to do in a few years what formerly took many years. Advertising is no Aladdin's lamp, that you can rub with a little money and secure the impossible. Consequently, when you decide to advertise, it is better to postpone advertising unless you are willing and able to "FOLLOW THROUGH". Take my advice. "TAKING A SHOT", at advertising is unfair to advertising and unfair to your business. Lay out a definite three-year program (even if you have to take less space per issue) with the thought in mind that you want all the colored business that you can get, and appropriate enough money to do the job right. BELIEVE ME MY FRIEND THAT IS THE ONLY WAY THAT YOU CAN GET IT . . . . Let them know you want their business.

Next week I shall give you a basis for advertising APPROPRIATION.

"Brickbat" Slayer Sentenced

Facing a possible death penalty for the murder of white Mrs. Edna Worden and her 12-year-old daughter, Marguerite, Howard Green, 18-year-old transient, was sentenced Monday to from five years to life in San uentin after a jury in Superior Court Arthur Crum's court convicted him on burglary and aassault charges.

The charges grew out of a brickbat assault upon Mrs. Zoe Damerell, 1026 Ingraham street, who testified she awoke from sleep with a deep gash in her head and saw a broken brick on her bed. Jewelry and $15 had been stolen, Mrs. Damerell said.

Green, arrested in Chicago with Robert Nixon, 18, is to go on trial October 24 before Superior Judge Frank M. Smith, accused of the brickbat murder of Mrs. Worden and her daughter, found beaten to death in their apartment here April 4, 1937.

Nixon also is accused in the Worden murders, but is awaiting the death penalty in Chicago for the brickbat slaying of a nurse there.

Appreciation

Dear Editor:

The Los Angeles Negro History Study Club wishes to express its appreciation to Mrs. press its appreciation to Mrs. C. A. Bass, Editor of the California Eagle, for her plea for more concern and interest in Negro History by the general public and the Negro in particular.

The timely comment in her column, "On the Sidewalk" in the Eagle issue of October 13, is a good example of the concern and interest for which she is pleading. However, Negro History is a matter of recorded facts although interpretations are given upon which we may differ. And only when the terpretations or comments are made are we disseminating Negro history as it should be done.

The Association for the study of Negro Life and History of which the Los Angeles Negro History Study Club is affiliated has set forth under the capable leadership of our most eminent Historian, Dr. Carter G. Woodson, principles of procedure which, if followed, will go far in bringing about the objective unbiased study of the cultural sought—the promotion of an economic and social life of Negroes. This promotion on the part of the Los Angeles Negro History Study Club includes the earnest collection, the sincere study, and the impartial presentation of information concerning the Negro. This promotion makes necessary inquiry about the qualifications of those who would teach Negro History as to both study, and temperament and attitude. It is along these lines of promotion that we wish to present information related to that given out by Mrs. Bass, and to inquire into the selection of an instructor in Negro History.

We believe the Negro in Los Angeles will be more pleased if it is more generally known that Misses Edith Keyser, Pauline Slater, Marjorie Bright, Mrs. Zenola Reeves and Messrs. Samuel Brown, Herron Ward, and Arthur Prince—all members of our group are qualified along with Mrs. Whittaker to teach in High Schools in Los Angeles.

Within the last three years the Adult Education Program, upon the recommendation of W. A. Easter, State Supervisor and the endorsement of E. Manfred Evans, Supervisor of Adult Education in Los Angeles, has offered classes in Negro History. These classes were taught by Professor Landsdowne, now holding the chair of Languages at Lincoln University and Mr. LeRoy Hart, well known for his scholarship and research in Negro History now teaches classes in this subject at 96th Street Evening High school.

We agree that the history of the Negro in America should be intergrated into American History but we do not believe this intergration can be made by either teacher or student who has not made American Negro History their major study. This opinion was emphasized when some years ago a survey was made of our outstanding institutions to determine persons capable of giving courses in Negro History. The result of this survey showed that we had outstanding scholars on various faculties who had distinguished themselves as being able to offer courses in Negro History.

Since 1922 systematic research has been carried on by the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History and courses in Negro History have been organized in many of our colleges and universities.

Since a precedent is about to be set in offering Negro History to students at Jefferson High School, we feel that the instructor should be one specially qualified and selected from an eligible list established by a competitive examination. In this way only do we feel that the desired results from a college course in Negro History can be attained.

Further discusion of this matter will be continued as a part of our regular study on Thursday, October 20, 1:30 p. m. at the McKinley Jr. High School, 4404 McKinley Avenue. Interested persons are invited.

Sincerely yours,
Archie Hairston, Pres.
J. L. Davis, Secretary.

ence-stricken over the tyranny of others, without domestic error. One would surely believe that the United States, of all nations, is the most blameless. The very thought that so pious a commonwealth could permit persecution of a minority would shock us into disbelief.

But, in front of us here, are two dispatches. The first from Dallas, Texas — "Riled over being tossed from civil district court where he was on vigil ter, 55-year-old educator, threatened last week to demand a U. S. probe of civil liberties in Dallas by the LaFollete senatoial committee.

The juror was overpowered by two unknown white men, hustled to the front door of the court house and thrown down the steps. His right arm was injured."

The second comes to us from Muskogee, Oklahoma and reads, "White schools in this city will be denied the benefits of a $500,000 bond issue, recently voted by citizens of the State, until a public hearing is held here to determine the legality of selling and issuing bonds for public school improvement for whites only, while using tax monies coming fom white and Negro-owned properties.

The hearing resulted from an injunction filed in the circuit court here September 15 by Charles A. Chandler on behalf of Willie Eva Simmons, against the local board of education, the city, and the mayor."

This Oklahoma and Texas could not be part of conscientious America—democratic America that ruthlessly discloses the sins of Messrs. Hitler, Stalin, and Mussolini! But, then, we find these two legitimate states of the nation. In fact, great states in cultural and economic achievement.

Then, isn't it strange that the United States, with such glowing instances of domestic intolerence, must expend all powers of condemnation against foreign governments? Our State Department vigorously protests proposed Semitic persecution in Italy, and remains silent concerning these local transgressions.

Vast sympathy focused by the American public upon Jewish minorities six thousand miles distant—across ocean and continents — somehow cannot be induced to identical matters on home.

An American juryman, qualified legally, intellectually, and economically to serve his rightful duties, has been uncermoniously ejected from a courtroom by the seat of his pants. Isn't this enough to wreak the old fashioned American ire against tyranny? Doesn't this, at least, compare with injustice abroad?

And when we learn that one group of citizen is taxed to supply benefits intended exclusively for another, doesn't the information merit our slightest attention? Or is it that American intolerance is on a higher keel than foreign brands? Is the one revolting and the other commendable? The general attitude of the nation reflects such a sentiment.

We of the United States see fit to criticize Europe incessantly, yet we fail to respect the biblical injunction, "Let him without sin first cast a stone!"

Mussolini himself has advised us to forget denunciations of fascism and apply ourselves diligently in a campaign to make democracy work. No matter how tart, this is sound counsel.

Perhaps our failure lies in a general misconception of the thing "democracy." We all recognize that a vital pillar of the entire theory is "liberty." We are aware, in a vague way, that there can be no democracy without liberty. But our idea of freedom is often a very restricted one. If John Doe, personally, is allowed to vote, gather in an assemblage, speak and read what he wants, he concludes that America is liberated. Yet, in Germany there is a gentleman by the name of Adolph Hitler who possesses the same privileges, but that nation certainly is far from a cradle of liberty. The test of democracy, then, is not whether one person or some people are free, but whether all are equally so. In the city of Los Angeles, the average citizen, with sufficient funds, may purchase a home in the most exclusive section and live in it. In fact, this is considered a very simple and fundamental right. However, let Mr. Average Citizen apply a coating of brown-paint to himself, and he will perceive that the privilege of inhabiting his own property will be removed—legally removed. With the same cultural and economic background, a change of skin-texture will deny him this supposedly basic democratic right. Mr. Average Citizen will realize that liberty, in its true sense, does not exist here.

Democracy, friends, is gained in direct proportion as we consider, not our own, but the rights of others.

the grocery department easily accessible to the shopper. Merchandise is conveniently and logically arranged to make the location of each item on the day's shopping list as easy as possible. Wide aisles and handy baskets permit customers of the new Safeway to wait on themselves, leisurely or hurriedly, according to their individual desires. Of course, for those who prefer to be waited upon, there is a crew of well-trained courteous employes to cater to their wants. These men are also ready to take care of child shoppers in the new store.

MODEL MEAT CASES

The meat department of the Safeway food center is equipped with modern refrigerated meat cases. These cases embody the latest developments in humidity and temperature control, and enable the market man to keep each cut in perfect condition for delivery to the customer. Slicing machines, scales and other mechanical equipment in this department are of the most accurate kind obtainable.

Customers in the fruit and vegetable department will find a wide selection of quality produce displayed on sanitary tables. In addition to making the green goods available for easy inspection by the customer, the stands are constructed to keep perishable merchandise in the finest possible condition.

In all, the new Safeway store is a marvel of beauty and efficiency. Here, under one roof, you will be able to fill all your food needs. Here, you will get quality in every department. Here, you will always find low prices and courteous service.

When you step into the new Safeway at 4077 Avalon boulevard, a smiling crew of Safeway men will be there to greet you. At the head of this group of efficient merchandiseers is M. F. Goodwin store manager. In charge of the meat department is A. W. Otto.

Mr. Goodwin, the grocery manager is a veteran Safeway man, having joined the Safeway family in 1924. He comes to the new store from the Safeway at Jefferson and Normandie, where he has been for the past twelve years.

Mr. Otto, the market manager, is a meat cutter of wide experience, and has been in the meat department of Safeway since 1921. He comes to the new Safeway from one of the markets in Glendale.

"We are happy to open this beautiful new store," Mr. Goodwin stated yesterday. "We are anxious to meet the food buyers of this neighborhood and demonstrate to them the value of Safeway smiling service, Safeway high quality, and Safeway economy prices. We invite everyone in the southwest part of Los Angeles to join with us in our grand opening celebration this week end."

The crew at the new store is aided and guided by an experienced district manager, Walter Cole, who started with Safeway as a market salesman more than fifteen years ago and has worked his way up by the regular Safeway route from salesman to manager to supervisor to district manager.

GAGGING ON GNATS

Dear Editor:

It appears to be strange or peculiar, why we should gag at a gnat and swallow a camel, to please big business men.

Ham and Egg Warrants are to have one 2 cent stamp added to each; each week for 52 weeks, which will be a 12 month period. The amount of stamps for each warrant will amount to $1.04 each year.

Banks do not want to pay $1.04 for each warrant, no more so than we will care to do so at a loss to us as an individual.

But the state will gain a large amount of revenue. It seems to me as though this state or any other state will make a gain in revenue in millions of dollars each year.

Suppose it would cost the state 50 per cent, to have warrants printed and distributed, we realize that is impossible, for the expense to be so great.

But we may realize; the only way to find out the amount of profit or loss will be, is to put over $36 each week.

We may need the same amount or more to aid us to keep out of the poor house 20 years from this day. Have a heart, for humanitarian reasons if not for any other. Be a human being to benefit others, lift others while you climb the ladder of fame and prosperity.

We know the condition we are in now, but not the condition or circumstances we may meet 5, 10, or more years from today. Why kill the goose which has laid the golden egg in its old age, to suffer in misery and starve.

You may publish this to the world, because we do not know how great the profit will be to others, than ourselves.

Respectfully submitted by

Elk Organizer Succumbs; was Active

William Shelton, pioneer Angeleno, successful barber and real estate broker, died at his late residence, 1104 E. 21st street Thursday of last week. Mr. Shelton organized Golden West Lodge No. 86 of which he was the first exalted ruler and has been a member of the Masonic Lodge for twenty years. He was also a member of the Foresters.

Funeral services were held on Monday from the chapel of the Conner-Johnson Co. with Rev. T. L. Griffith and Rev. S. M. Beane officiating. The obituary was read by Mrs. Sallie Richardson. Mr. Shelton is survived by policewoman, a sister-in-law, Mrs. his wife, Mrs. Lucille Shelton Tribble and a number of other relatives and friends.

A number of resolutions were read at the pioneer's last rites among them one from the Masonic Lodge No. 18 which follows:

RESOLUTIONS

To William H. Shelten, a member Angel City Masonic Lodge No. 18 F. & A. M. since September 1918, 20 years and one month of faithful Masonic service.

Whereas, The great and supreme Ruler of the universe has by his infinite wisdom removed from among us one of our worthy and esteemed fellow laborers, William H. Shelten; and, whereas the long and intimate relation held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties in this organization makes it eminently befitting that we record our appreciation of him, therefore.

Resolved that the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in the aid of our organization by service, contributions, and counsel will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved: that the sudden removla of such a life from among our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the members and friend of this organization, and will prove a serious loss to this community and the public.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased we express our hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well;

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this organization, a copy printed in the local paper forwarded to the bereaved family.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE

VOL. 59—NO. 28 Los Angeles, California, Thursday, October 20, 1938

J. CULLEN FENTRESS' GAB STUFF

WE READ a piece in the paper the other day that warmed our "insides". It told the story of how one school refused to play another a game of football because there was a little matter of two Negroes who would have played if the game had taken place according to schedule.

Santa Barbara State College was the school that broke off athletic relations with Texas School of Mines because the latter objected to Larry Pickens and Melvin Dennis, the two Negroes, playing on the California team.

The Santa Barbara State coach, Spud Harder, took the stand that if Pickens and Dennis did not play neither would the nine other regulars. He was backed up by the athletic board.

Thinking that a possible change in locale would make a difference, Santa Barbara sought to have the game staged in Santa Barbara rather than El Paso. Even with 75 per cent (25 per cent more than usual) of the gate as "bait", the Texans still refused. Santa Barbara even went so far as to suggest neutral ground—Douglas, Ariz. Still, Texas School of Mines refused to "bite".

Advance publicity reached the Texas school lauding the grid ability of Pickens, an end, and Dennis, a tackle, both of whom have played brilliant ball so far this season. The Texans couldn't stomach the idea of playing a team that played boys because of ability, deciding no game at all to be a better bet.

We've often wondered just what schools, such as Texas School of Mines, hoped to accomplish by permitting such travesties on sportsmanship. In most of these cases, we are of the opinion that if it was left up to the athletes on these southern teams, they would relish an opportunity to play against teams that sported Negro stars, not because they are Negroes but because of the thrill of man-to-man competition, a type of competition that knows no color.

We're reminded, in this respect of what Southern Methodist gridders had to say at the end of last season about Kenny Washington, University of California at Los Angeles' great back. SMU, also a Texas school, was unanimous in naming Kenny on their all-opponents' eleven. A little bit more of the SMU attitude might prove a much needed tonic for several other sports besides football. Big league baseball, for instance. If big league baseball wants an antidote for the doldrums, something it is badly in need of, it may be found in the crowds that have been going out to White Sox Park here to view the national pastime as played by Negro professionals versus white professionals.

Schools, it seems to us, miss their function when by order or example they teach students unfairness and injustice, whether it be on football field or classroom. Students today are the workers and professionals of tomorrow who will come in contact with all humankind. A narrow attitude, sewed today, may well limit the needed and necessary broad viewpoints of tomorrow.

The need today is, more principles like those of the students and authorities of Santa Barbara State, and less like those of Texas School of Mines!

Predictions: Because we refuse to believe UCLA's Kenny Washington and Co. are out of the coast conference picture, we are picking the Bruins to top Idaho this week-end . . . Bruins are still a threat to any of the leaders . . . a consistent long distance punter would back up this observation . . .

DID YOU KNOW—

October 16, 1859, John Brown with nineteen assistants, five of whom were Negroes, captured the arsenal at Harper's Ferry.

THE LAUNDRY-MAN

HOWDY, everybody! Looking around among my belongings trying to straighten up things after returning from my vacation the other day, I ran across a forgotten bundle of hand-laundry. So before trying to rustle up any new business I'm going to hang it out on the line.

We hear a great deal of talk nowadays about closer co-operation between the members of our group. Our newspapers stress it, our ministers shout it from the pulpits, our soap-box orators spout it on street corners, and in barber shops. We are continuously reminded that we should trade with one another. An incident which took place a few weeks ago however, convinced me that we also need numerous lectures upon the subject "How to treat Co-operators when they try to Co-operate".

One night some weeks ago I happened to visit a lady who was ill. Her mother, with whom she lived, had gone to visit a neighboring church. Shortly after I had arrived, the sick lady asked me if I would go to a drug store and get her some medicine. I agreed, and she told me to get a certain brand of cold-tablets, and a small bottle of Coca Cola Syrup of the kind that is generally used at soda-fountains.

I went to a certain drug-store on the avenue operated by one of our group and placed the order. The store, by the way is one that I spend regularly at least fifteen dollars per month with. The pharmacist said to me "I can give you the pills. They will cost you thirty-five cents. But I can't give you the syrup." I asked him if they had run out of the syrup. He said no, they had it, but they just didn't sell it that way. It was for fountain use only. I told him I was willing to pay whatever price he demanded for a small half-ounce bottle of the stuff, but he said "Nothing Doing".

I walked out somewhat riled under the collar and went to a white drug store near-by. I told the white clerk what I wanted. He said to me "Sure, I'll fix you up." He took a small bottle over to the girl at the soda counter and had her fill it with the Coca Cola syrup, while he wrapped up the pills. When he handed me the package I asked him what I owed him. "Thirty-five cents for the pills, and ten cents for the syrup. Call again," he said cheerfully.

I had originally planned to moralize on this incident, but on second thought, I think it would be wasted time on my part. The story speaks for itself. Yes, I am still trading at that colored drug store; but I have to give myself a stiff dose of race pride at the door each time, before I can muster strength to enter.

Sketch Subject: MAUDELLE—African Dancer and Model.

By LILLIAN JONES

Maudelle has been a dancer all her life. She dances as naturally as most people talk. Even as a youngster in her native Newark, New Jersey, when required to contribute to school "exercises", it never occurred to her to recite a pretty little poem. For her, it was much easier to dance.

There are many kinds of dancers—those of the old, classic ballet school, those of the modern dance groups, and all the in-between variations of these two extremes. Maudelle's dancing, although grounded on a good foundation of modern technique, is uniquely her own. For she has gone back to primitive Africa for her inspiration. Nevertheless, she has not been content to transplant in identically the African dances. The primitive movements, the patterns and the spirit—even the drums—are there. But the ideas she creates from this basic inspiration are her own, drawn from the life around her.

It is her dream to re-create through the medium of the African dance, the heritage of racial dignity lost to the Negroes through their century-old experience of slavery and oppression.

When one considers that her youth was darkened by the contraction of infantile paralysis—for a long time even to WALK was an achievement; that almost nowhere did she find any sympathy for what she wanted to do; that the necessary training in dance technique had to be paid for by hre own efforts, Maudelle's present success is certainly a tribute to the integrity of her purpose.

A long apprenticeship and training in the native dances of the Egyptians, the Balinese, the Moroccans, the Cuban Negroes, the native Africans—even in ballet—preceded her acquisition of training in modern dance methods.

Five years ago, hearing of the growth of the dance movement in Southern California, and its development in the direction of newer and freer methods, she came to Los Angeles. She studied a number of the new methods, Wigman with Ethel Cotton; Mendsendeick with Mme. Taylor. For a time she was at the Gray Conservatory. From Lester Horton, with whose group she worked for two years, she received definite encouragement to develop her own ideas and methods—free from dominance of "systems". So proficient a dancer did she become that her tuition at many of these studios was earned by demonstrating dances to new students.

The suggestion of a friend that she try modeling has led to the development of her second profession. She has posed regularly at the Otis Art Institute, the Stendahl Galleries, and Los Angeles Junior College. Nicolai Fechin, famous Russian artist, has done her in an ancient Egyptian pose. A head of her, sculptured by Mulitza Yurieva at Otis, is reproduced in the Institute's Year Book. She is now considered one of the best models in Southern California.

As much as she enjoys modeling, Maudelle's heart is in her dancing. Numerous appearances before select groups, clubs, and occasional stage appearances have created a sympathetic audience for her dancing, particularly in Santa Barbara where she has recently spent some time modeling for local artists and continuing her studies. There, November 4 and 5 at the "Lobrero Little Theatre", 914 Santa Barbara street, Maudelle will give her first full-length recital.

Although she considers concert work necessary and valuable to her development, Maudelle will never consider a successful concert career alone the achievement of her aims. She wants more than anything else to teach the people themselves to dance. It is their lives, their frustrations and their hopes, that her own work expresses so vividly. But, she believes, that it is only by the participation of the people in the dance, that the dignity, the power of the African dance, can serve its real purpose as a medium of expression for the darker peoples of the world.

LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

By MIRIAM MATTHEWS

History is being made so rapidly these days that noted authors are constantly being forced to bring out new editions to keep their readers up-to-date. In spite of this, they are almost out-of-date before they have been off the press a week, yet they are valuable for the important historical background they furnish the reader who is interested in knowing the reasons for world unrest and conflict.

John Gunther presents in his fifth edition of "Inside Europe" a portrait gallery of European dictators and statesmen who are tackling the vital problems of a war-scared continent, showing that accidents of personality play a great role in history. The book begins with Hitler, then makes a grand tour around him showing the influence of Hitler's Germany on every other European country. There are new chapters on the Civil War in Spain, the notable neutral countries, Neville Chamberlain, the Mediterranean crisis and other important European situations.

An English journalist, Philip Gibbs, author of "Ordeal in England", also presents a survey of the kaleidoscopic European scene in "Across the Frontiers", taking up many of the special problems facing the world today. Among them is the tragic problem of the Jewish race in a new era of persecution, the decline of Christian idealism, the League of Nations and its failure to fulfill the hopes of the idealists, and the retreat of Democracy before the driving efficiency of autocratic powers. It is a book of extraordinary appeal for those vitally interested in the international scene.

Concentrating on just one problem in her book, "Refugees: Anarchy or Organization?", Dorothy Thompson gives a brief but adequate summary of the present day refugee problem and a demand for international action. She points out that the world today is a place of unrest and agitation and millions of people wandering around aimlessly, battering at every conceivable door, being passed from frontier to frontier, will certainly do nothing to restore world order. The author suggests several practical solutions and indicates how the refugees may be converted into definite assets if proper cooperation is secured.

Among the important new editions are also K. S. Latourette's "The Development of Japan"; Sir Bernard Pares' "A History of Russia"; and W. B. Munro's "The Governments of Europe." The first book shows that extensive changes were made to bring the reader more nearly up-to-date on the Far East. The author of the second book made a trip to the USSR to investigate, at first hand, Russian developments since 1917, linking up Russia with her neighbors to determine her part in the general history of Europe and the world. The third book describes the organization and methods of government in the major and minor European countries with a supplementary chapter on the Government of Japan which has borrowed many of its principal features from Europe.

Crossroads

Error and truth oft seem confused,
Misleading signals glare.
Strong men, while bent on going straight,
Are ushered to despair.

I've wandered down this nameless street,
Where sign posts are obscure.
The arrow points to happiness
A small voice says, "detour"

Oh God, bold watchman of the night,
And sovereign of our wake.
Do point with thine unerring hand
The one safe road to take.

Psychology of the Working Class . .

By GRACE FISHER-ATKINS

FORUM at Jefferson Evening School every Friday evening from 7 to 9 p. m. offers a golden opportunity for the working people to establish an appreciation of general working conditions throughout the world today. Eugene Linder, the forum leader and teacher, comes to us well prepared to convey first hand information. Mr. Linder lived in Germany and has studied for many years the working conditions in Europe, Asia and the United States. Unfortunately his presence at Jefferson is only for a limited length of time. It may be possible however if the public will exhibit a general request for his maintenance at Jefferson we may have the benefit, for a longer time, of his unique leadership. Let us see that he does not leave Jefferson district until the majority of us have absorbed some of the valuable information he has to offer.

One of the most important problems under discussion for the past three weeks has been the inner intentions of Adolph erican workers? Hitler's peace-Hitler. How does this effect Amful success with Chamberlin's assistance means that fascism is growing. That means that the working class is to 'take it and like it.' It means that the working class is to continue to struggle in the midst of plenty. It is the one step to place the people in a helpless condition. This condition does not only affect Germany and neighboring countries but also the entire world.

Mr. Linder points out the means by which Hitler baffles the people. One method is to publicize false happenings in the American labor movement which the people believe. Frightening stories are not unfamiliar to the American public. Just last week in my class in vocational psychology at Jefferson Evening School discussion was moved concerning the Scottsboro boys. One of the more naive students remarked that "Oh but, they are communists, they say." So frightened had this particular student been made of the name "Communist" that in spite of the valuable contribution the I. L. D. had made, it was considered of no value if any member of the Communist party was involved.

These misunderstandings are frequent among the working group. Many of the groups think the activities of Hitler are fitting and proper simply because they are not familiar with the facts of the case.

Marie Antonette is a picture which should stimulate the working class, for the reason that it involves the story of the French revolution. It seems incredible that in spite of historical evolution there is little change in the fundamental faculties of government.

The philosophy 'that the poor are always with us' need not have reference to economic conditions yet many workers believe in this predestined concept. From common reason there will always be various degrees of abilities among human beings, from the lowest to the highest, but in a world of plenty does it seem rational to believe that anyone need be without the necessities of life!

REVIEW

Lauretta Butler' Annual Breivities, Friday at the Lincoln, was the top theatrical event of the week. Mrs. Butler is nationally known as a master showman and an uncannily expert trainer of juvenile talent. Her annual shows have become a tradition in Los Angeles. The 1938 entrant is one of her finest.

There is something unique in the performance of Mrs. Butler's young pupils. Ottern, there is evident everything else but a professional finish. Not infrequently little voices crack at strategic points. Bad training? No . .Smart show business. Professionals are a dime a dozen. Sleek uninspired performances can be viewed at any vaudeville house But the stuff supplied through "the Brevities" is far bette.. We see children. We see them excited and anxious and natural. We can easily perceive that this is a big moment in each little trouper's life. So we laugh and forget ourselves. Grow hysterical at the obvious sigh of relief when little Miss Whatsit completes her number. What fun! We aren't looking at inspid little automatoms with calculated dimpled smiles—this is real and enjoyable. This is a show!

The list of performes is as studded with real talent as it is long. Entertainers include Beverly Evins, Loraine Long and Beverly Thomas, Sherill Luke, Dan Ellen Mabry, Pauline James, Harriet Flowers Lonita Watkins, Jacquelin Freeze, Ethel Miller, Avonne Jackson, Walter Smith and Fred Watkins, June Brooks, Melba Young, Marvis Mitchell, Doris Randolph, Murial Harris, Sylvia Perry, Billye Fae Lewis, Beatrice Smith, Barbara Gay, Jean Bryant, Joyce Davis, Luddie Burrell, Lois Lyons, Grace Ann Jeter, Myrna Watson, Leola Jacobs, Edward Stewart, Camm King, Brandon Bowlin, Myrna and Nellie Young, Carol Best, Gloria Thomas, Willa May and Louise Price, Bettye Ann Smith, Georgia Mae and Norma Jean Walls, Patsy May, baby from "Our Gang Comdeies", Diane King, Jacqueline Freeze, Beverly Best, Jack Thompson, June Brooks, Harold and Alfalfa Switzer, "Our Gang," Syvia Perry, Elaine Ruching, Calvert Brothers, Celia Banks, Murial Harris, Ruth Brown, and Melba Young and Delita Curtis.

The show was produced and directed by M. Luaretta Butler, assisted by Florenz Bordeaux. Dance directors were the Mitchell Sisters—Helen, and Nettie; while costumes were the handiwork of Eulaie Lyons and Helen Street. Box office was handled by A. Hartley Jones.

Floyd Ray in Swing Battle on Para Stage

"The Arkansas Traveler" opening today at the Paramount Theater stars Bob Burns in a new kind of role, provides him with a new leading lady and gives him plenty of opportunity to get in an abundance of those native witticisms which have made him famous.

Playing the part of a nobleman of the road, hobo to some and traveler to others, Burns pauses a moment in his wanderings to help a lady in distress only to get hopelessly involved in the affairs of a small town family. He finds himself playing cupid, editing a newspaper and generally mixed up in the town's affairs to the extent of disrupting a corrupt political machine. Reports are that this is Burn's best.

Burns has a firm supporting cast in "Arkansas Traveler" which includes Fay Bainter, Jean Parker, John Beal, Irvin S. Cobb, Porter Hall and Dickie Moore. Alfred Santell directed this Paramount production which was produced by George Arthur.

On the stage Fanchon and Marco present the timely stageshow "The Battle of Swing". Offering the last word in the current craze of swing dances and music the program features the outstanding sepia orchestra of Floyd Ray together with Joe Alexander and Ivy, Vern and Von. A special attraction will be the competition between six black and tan champion swing dance teams. Highlighting the stageshow are the six Danwills, hailed as the most sensational act on the stage today. On the same program is Betty Atkinson, the attractive baton swinging drum majorette. The Fanchonette and numerous other acts round out the offering.

WANTED: Bert Williams Character by FTP

Applications are in order out at Federal Theatre Project, Venice and Western, for a man to impersonate the character of "Bert Williams" in the forthcoming cavalcade of vaudeville, "Two A-Day" which opens at Hollywood Playhouse October 29.

The production will depict the history of vaudeville from Tony Pastors' era to its decline just after the crash of Wall Street in 1929.

Especial care in the selection of "Bert Williams" is being exercised by authors Gene Stone and Jack Robinson because of the significance of his place in vaudeville and the esteem with which he is held both by the acting profession and the American public.

Applicants are instructed to ask for Gene Stone at the reception desk in the administration building of Federal Theatres Project.

Dates Set for Regional Youth Meets

Regional conferences of northern and southern California groups will be held in Oakland and San Francisco on November 13 and on November 26, a state youth committee conference will be conducted in Los Angeles under the direction of the Southside Youth Coordinating Committee, it was announced this week. The announcement was made by representatives who attended the special committee meeting of young people's organizations of California held in Berkeley last week-end.

The purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans for the state conference of Negro youth organizations for the purpose of outlining a program of action. The three point plan for action advanced by the group included housing, civil liberties, and employment.

Representatives were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin S. Johnson, San Francisco County, Mr. and Mrs. Zack Williams, and Miss Thelma Johnson, Alameda County, Misses Henrietta Harris and Olga Jane Lewis, San Jose; Thomas Brown, Oakland, Miss Jewel Watson, Percy Wiiams, Wendel Green of Los Angeles.

'Run, Little Chillun' Heads for All-Time Theatre Mark

Pacing ahead of all other productions in local theatres, "Run, Little Chillun", the sensational Federal Theatre Project's Negro Unit folk drama by Hall Johnson, currently showing at the Mayan Theatre, seems likely to win an all-time theatrical marathon for Los Angeles. as attendance records hover around the 100 thousandeth mark, it was revealed this week.

With its closing date having been extended twice through popular demand, "Run, Little Chillun" had another "non-stop" sign registered at the box office this week and FTP executives announced that it would continue until November 20.

The production attracted national notice when protest over its commercial tie-up with Federal for a San Francisco showing was registered by Actors Equity and referred to Washington where a decision, still pending, may set a precedent for future tie-ups with private producers.

150 PLAYERS

The entire cast of 150 colored players is being showered with honors by press and public alike for their sincere portrayal of this dramatic effort that comes from the pen of a Negro, Hall Johnson.

Modest, unassuming Mr. Johnson, has been content to give most of the laurels for the success of the play to the cast. He is seldom seen near the theatre.

Johnson declared this week that the Federal production of "Run, Little Chillun" is much more elaborate and colorful than its premiere showing in New York where it played 126 performances in the Lyric Theatre.

DIFFERENT

He did state, however, that the present interpretation is different from the original in that a much more serious aspect was given to the Deep South drama by the New York cast.

"New York audience are entirely different in taste from Los Angeles audiences," declared Johnson," and I think it very fortunate for the Negro Unit here that its discernment of this fact was sufficient to create a version of such wide public appeal."

Featured players whose performances have rated outstanding notices are: Jess Lee Brooks, Alfred Grant, Ruby Elzy, Florence O'Brien, Eugene Henderson, Cleo Desmond, Roy Glenn, Myrtle Anderson, Janet Collins, Darby Jones and the 80 voiced chorus of Carlyle Scott's Federal Music Project singers.

'Jitterbugs' in Spotlight at Orpheum

The "Dance Battle of the Century" . . .The Lambeth Walk vs The Jitterbugs . . .and they'll be "cuttin' up the rug" and "getting in the groove" this week at the Orpheum Theatre where "Harlem's Jitterbug Jamboree" holds the stage spotlight.

One of the best all-colored shows ever seen in years, Manager Sherrill Cohen has gotten together one of the greatest aggregation of sepia stars that makes for bang-up honest to-goodness enterainment.

Les Hite and his famous radio and recording orchestra will swing out in the well known Hite manner and the roster of acts will include Radcliffe and Rogers, two boys that have headlined in leading theatres from coast to coast . . .Both boys are extremely versatile and talented and are among the high spots in the footlight presentation.

Ted Waldham and Company will provide laughs and the 4 Hot Shots, one of the best dancing acts in the business will garner their accustomed rounds of applause.

A special feature of the show will be the Lambeth Walk vs. Jitterbugs contest which will provide plenty of laughs and thrills besides giving the customers the chances of choosing their style of dancing for the coming season.

Two comedy picture hits will be on the screen. Laurel and Hardy in 'Blockheads", and "The Affairs of Annabel" starring Jack Oakie and Lucille Ball.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The theatre, recently featuring Stepin Fetchit, is becoming known over the nation as a mecca for the "tops" in Negro entertainers. It is also recalled that the Red-Hot Peters Sisters, now taking London by storm, rolled up a several weeks engagement there.

Jockey Club Cafe Installs New Feature

"As usual, we're first with the latest," was the observation made by Ralph Gibbs, the genial proprietor of Gibb's Jockey Club Cafe, 43rd and Central, when interviewed by an Eagle representative this week.

The Jockey Club has just installed a new, modern "Frialator" the only one of it's kind on the Eastside, and it is so arranged that one may fry several articles at the same time without the flavor of one food being absorbed by another.

This unique kitchen utensil has the heat units, (a gass burner inside a steel tube) in the center of the frying oil, thereby allowing the sediment from cooking to drop to the bottom of the container, while the article to be cooked is suspended in a basket from the top.

At no time, with this process, does the food touch metal, save when it is suspended in the basket in the frying oil, and with this sanitary process, the most delicious, crisp, golden brown of their natural sealed in flavors. foods are produced, retaining all ou absolutely cannot receive burned sediment and black carbon specks in a FRIALATOR nor have the taste of one food imparted to another.

Mr. Gibbs also stated that now all of his foods are ben g prepared in this manner and is receiving the most hearty approval of the seven hundred patrons who throng his establishment daily.

"Nothing is to good for the patrons of Gibb's Jockey Club Cafe", said Mr. Gibbs, "and it is the fact that we have always been first with the latest hygenic and scientific methods in preparing our food that has won us our large clientle."

"This week we are featuring Fried Shrimp on Toast with Cabbage slaw, also Fried Oysters on Toast, with Cabbage Slaw, and Boy oh Boy, are they good. Adv.

Hit After Hit at the Rosebud

Starting with "Snow White and the Seven Dwrafs" which opens a 3 day run starting Sunday at 12 noon the Rosebud Theatre offers its patrons some of the screen's biggest hits. For the full week. On Wed. and Thurs. the two time acadamy award winner, Louise Rainer will be seen in "Toy Wife" a very unusual and entertaining picture with a southern atmosphere as the background. "Toy Wife" also features some interesting Colored personalities in the person of Theresa Harris, Clarence Muse and Clinton Rosemond. An equally good second feature with Loretta Young in "3 Blind Mice" and Keno round out the bill. Patrons at the Rosebud will find both of these top rank film fare.

The week is completed with the Friday and Saturday showing of Rob't Montgomery and Virginia Bruce in "Yellow Jack" plus the new western star Roy Rogers in "Under Western Stars", really an unusual type of western picture. A special treat on Friday night is the Amateur Jitterbug Jamboree Contest which will have its first presentation. The Rosebud promises a fine array of talented dancers which they have lined-up for the pleasing entertainment of their patrons. A good time should be had by all.

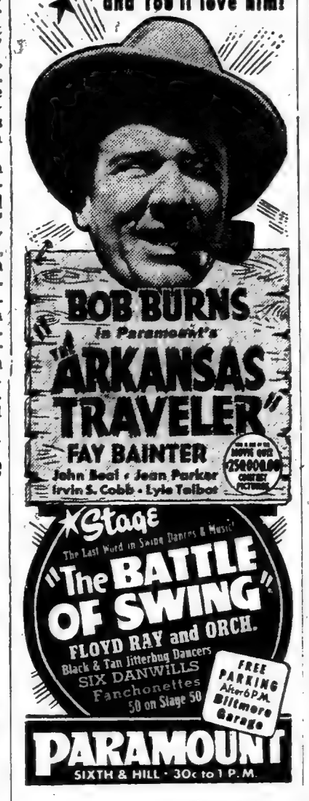
Rosamond Johnson, Todd Duncan Included in Gershwin Memorial

By LOU LAYNE

George Gershwin, whose musical compositions bear the unmistakable stamp of Americanism, was influenced to large degree by the Negro idiom That is incontrovertible fact. It is only natural, therefore, that in a collection of tributes to that great composer whose untimely demise shocked the nation little more than a year ago, that flavor should be preserved.



This was only too evident to Merle Armitage, California impresario, to whose care was entrusted the editing of an impressive memorial to Gershwin in the form of a volume of tributes written by the virtuoso-composer's close friends and associates; for when the book was published last Tuesday ("George Gershwin," Longmans, Gren and Company, $5), it included the names of J. Rosamond Johnson, one of the foremost of our exponents of that Negro idiom, and Todd Duncan, whose remarkable singing voice and historionic ability have won for him world-wide acclaim as a true interpreter of that music.

Johnson and Duncan, (both of whom are, incidentally, outstanding members of the Negro Actors Guild of America) were closely allied with Gershwin, principally through the Geshwin-Heywad folk-opea "Pogy and Bess," and it is mainly of that association they have written.

WOODROW STRODE OUT OF BRUIN LINE-UP FOR IDAHO TILT

UCLA's Star End Injured in Scrimmage; Strode Will Be Ready for Stanford Indian, It is Believed; California Bears' Blocking a Standout, Says Star

(Exclusive to the EAGLE)

UCLA will face the University of Idaho in Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum Saturday afternoon minus the 200-pound bulwark that is Woodrow Strode, it was learned exclusively by the EAGLE today.

Strode was injured Monday afternoon in the scrimmage session that followed the Bruins' return from Berkeley where they lost to their elder bothers, the California Bears, 20-7.

A flying cleat cut the big fellow's left shin bone, inflicting a wound to the bone and about four inches long, necessitating five stitches.

The cut is healing rapidly and the Uclans' star right ender is feeling no ill effects, but Westwood medical officials reputedly were of the opinion that the rick of infection must not be run. Strode doubtless will be ready for the Bruins' meeting with Stanford the following week-end. Meanwhile, Bob Cress, white sophomore substitute, will have the task of stopping up the right flank to the Vandals on Saturday afternoon.

COMMENDS BEAR BLOCKING

Strode arrived home early Sunday morning after remaining in Northern California for Saturday night's post- game festivities. His running mate, Kenny Washington, vouched for by his uncle, a Los Angeles police officer, Roscoe Washington, was permitted to remain over the week-end.

Strode had no comment on the game to make, other than to commend the excellent blocking of the Bear team.

"They looked like a machine, mowing through a row o fcorn", he said, shaking his head admiringly.

STARS SHINE

Westwood's "sepia duo" dispite the general ineffectiveness of the remainder of the team, lived up to advance predictions. In Strode's performance, the defense especially, there was no flaw to be found. He played possibly better that he has all season. Daily paper accounts claimed that Washington was hot and cold. Statistics showed, however, that whenever the slithery-hipped youth had half the best wishes of his mates, he came through in top-notch style.

The California "civil war" was boomed by the Press as a duel between Washington and Vic Bottari, California's star halfback. Alternating at left half and full back, calling signals in a few moments of the last quarter, Washington with the exception of three fumbles, more than matched tricks with Cal's All-American candidate. Given the ball 13 times, he gathered 64 yards to Bottari's 20 in 92. Taking into consideration times failed to gain and yardage lost, Washington's average of 4.4 stood up to Bottari's 4.6.

The crowd expected one of Kenny's snake-hipping runs and the loose-jointed former Lincoln high flash did not disappoint. In the third quarter, which was scoreless, he tight-roped the sidelines for 33 yards and might have gone on had he not collided with his own interference on Cal's 48 yard line.

PASSING THE SAME

U. C. L. A.'s aerial service was no better and no worse than in any of the preceding games. The Washington-to-Strode combination was tried only once and Strode was tackled from behind, and dropped the apple. Before that, Fenenbock tried one to the tall linesman but it was broken up.

Out of 15 tries, Washington's passes only connected four times, good for a total of 48 yards. The trouble obviously lay in the blocking.

In the first quarter, the Bears tried to march down right end, which is Strode's territory, but Mr. Strode had different ideas about it. He blocked each attempt spilling Bottari for three-and five yard losses.

It was inspiring to watch the big Brown Bruin work. On the second play of the game. Bottari elected to run around right end, flanked by three teammates. Strode flung his 6ft., 3in. frame in the quartet's path, spilling them all.

After running up on such determined opposition, the Bears decided it couldn't be done and commenced to hit left end where the going was comparatively easier.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE SPORTS

Cornell Veterans Mainstay of Big Red Team

This group of veterans, all of them members of last year's successful Big Red team, is the nucleus of Coach Carl Snavely's 1938 eleven. They will be ably supported by a capable group of sophomore stars.

City College Takes on Pasadena J.C.

Junior college football will be will be treated to a double-deck of chocolate ice cream, "figuratively speaking, tomorrow night when the Los Angeles City College eleven faces the uncreated Pasadena Junior College grid squad under the lights of the Rose Bowl.

That means that the City College's colored flash, Balfour Gland, will have to share the spotlight with the Bulldog's star of the same hue, Jackie Robinson. Both lads are the outstanding men at their positions in the Coast Junior College circuit. Both are the key men, the sparkplugs, the ignition, the gas, the well nigh everything of their respective teams.

Gland, a product of Jim Blewett of Manual Arts High schol, sparked the Cubs to a 13-6 victory over the San Francisco Rams last Friday night on the local turf. All-Southern California end in 1937 Gland should triple the honors this year. He set his team in position for both scores against the highly touted Rams.

In the opening quarter, Frisco's Johnnie Verducci caught a punt and was tackled by Gland on the Ram 25-yard line. As the Cub end pulled Verducci under, an unidentified Rammer clipped Gland. Whereupon he was handed the ball, marched it down to the 11 yard line, from which it eventually was carried over.

On a second down of the third quarter, Gland snagged a long pass from Hoisch of the Cubs on the six-yard line. On the next play the score was made.

ROBINSON STARS

Robinson played his usual part in the Bulldog's victory over Visalia J. C. Jimmie Floyd, who with a youth named Wright are the other colored members of the Pasadena team, set the fans wild with a 60-yard dash to the goal line.

Syracuse Star Back Shines on East Grid

An Eastern Kenny Washington, when it comes to passing, was the discovery made Saturday afternoon at Syracuse, N. Y., of Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, Syracuse's 160-pound half back, who threw three touchdown passes in the last nine minutes of play, enabling his school to administer to Cornell University its first defeat of the season, 19 to 17.

Fans had an opportunity to witness the great Cornell All-American end, Brud Holland, in action against the All-American possibility in a year or so, Singh, mistaken for a Hindu in the National Press last season, but in reality the son of a Harlem physician.

As Holland and Singh performed in upper New York colored stars were dotting the grid heavens all over the Nation. Ed Bell's educated toe aided Minnesota to win out over the Michigan Wolverines, 7-6. Fred Smith, Iowa University left end, saw action as the Hawkeyes licked Chicago, 27-14. Bennie Jefferson, star halfback for Northwestern, almost threw his arm out of joint, unsuccessfully trying to break the scoreless tie to which Ohio State held the Wildcats.

A tie to was the best Indiana could do against Nebraska, dispite the activities at left end of Archie Harris and Ed Williams, New York U. safety man, was in there as Hofstra held his aggregation to a 6-6 close.

East Beckons to 'Cobra' of Coast's Rings

Managers of Georgie Crouch, the "Cobra" of coast rings, phoned the EAGLE sports department this week and said the "Cobra" was heading East after one more appearance at the Olympic.

Crouch, who has defeated the who is in the midst of a sensabest lightweights on the coast and tional ring campaign, will have five bouts in the East against that section's best glove-throwers.

2 Negroes Aid in Boston Win

Lincoln Upset; Held to Tie

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—A fast, clever, Philander-Smith Team somewhat upset the sport dope today when it held the Lincoln Tigers to a 6-6 tie. The Philander-Smith boys showed themselves to be a very, wide awake team when early in the initial quarter Johnson, left halfback, intercepted a bullet-like pass thrown by Thurman of the Tigers and raced 50 yards, for the touchdown which was sufficient to cause the game t oend in a tie.

Two institutions for higher education of the Negro were established before the Civil War, Lincoln University in Pennsylvania (1854) and Wilberforce in Ohio

Giants Beat Stars, 5-2; Play Kings

Before 6,000 excited fans the Royal Giants eked out a 5-2 win over the Detroit Stars last Sunday at White Sox Park.

Although the strong Santa Paula Merchants, all major leaguers were to have had their opener with the Giants this Sunday, the clamor of the fans for a return game necessitated bringing the White Kings and the Giants face to face again. That 3 to 3 deadlock up until the ninth inning week before last caused many to believe the Kings can beat the Giants next time. Thoroughly prepared they have Lindall, hero of the last tilt, Gonzales who won the night-cap, Lee Stine, coast leaguer, and Schafer, also a major leaguer as pitchers hoping to stem the onslaught of "School Boy Griffith, Porter, and Morris Capt. Snow's best Giant hurlers. The rest of the team will include Alingto, McDonald, Mesner, Ryan, Berkowitz, Herman and West. In the Giants line-up will be Hughes, William, Wright, Buttles, West, Somera, Snow and Mackey.

Three home runs last Sunday by Basset Williams and West; 9 strike-outs by Derrick and 3 by Morris were highlights.

Big Boy Bray 'Ill and Unavailable'

Big Boy Bray, one of the Coast's leading heavyweights, was listed as ill and unavailable by the State Athletic Commission bulletin, dating from October 15. Suffering from an injured eloow, Bray, the report said, will be out for sixty days.

Eugene Sorral, well known Central Avenue sportsman, and Bray's manager, was suspended indefinitely by the Commission for "investigation".

Money Isn't All, Says Bruin Rooter

BERKELEY, Oct. 20. (Special to the Eagle)—They accredited this "Bright Saying" to one of Uncle Sam's ebony-hued sailors, sitting in the midst of UCLA's rooters at the California-Bruin battle here last Saturday.

The going was getting tougher for the Cubbies from the South when said sailor arose on a commisserating note:

"Come on, Kenny and Strode, ol' boys, don't be downhearted!

"If we lose the first quarter, even if we lose the second quarter, why even if we lose our last quarter—what of it?

"MONEY ISN'T EVERYTHING".

Young Flowers KO's Kid Manuel

NOGALES, Sonoar Mex., Oct. 20—Young Tiger Flowers, newly crowned welterweight champion of Sonora, knocked out, Kid Manuel, veteran welter from Birmingham, in the second round of a scheduled eight round bout Friday night. Flowers, who has never lost a fight in a local ring, outclassed his opponent from the start, scoring three konckdowns in the first round, and finishing his adversary in two minutes and thirty seconds of the second. Flowers weighed 142 pounds and Manuel, 147.

Jackie (Boby Face) Vaquero, the Hollywood Lothario, was awarded an unpopular decision over Johnny Berlenbach, of Brooklyn. The rust-colored, hazel eyed boy, who reputedly trains on big black cigars, and the stuff that made Milwaukee famous, was treated to a boxing lesson, in four of the six rounds of an exciting bout. The Californian weighed 147 and Berlenbach, 141 pounds. The decision was booed.

"THIRTY DOLLARS Every Thursday!"

These four words have become the pivot of national concern within the past few months. We learn that other states look upon them with increasing fear and respect.

But objections of our great economists cannot equal the hysterical faith placed in this measure by thousands of old people. "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday" has become the phrase-beloved of California oldsters. No recitation of shortsightedness or inconsistency in the proposal shakes them from an indomitable determination that it become a part of state law. Backers of the idea have managed to dupe thousands into a mistaken belief that a mythical, permanent security may be obtained by correctly marking the figure "X" on the November ballot.

Instant adoption of the proposal by several political candidates is a true indication of the type of men seeking our highest offices. Olson, Patterson, and Downey, leading democratic candidates, repeatedly proclaim their unbounded affection for the Ham and Eggs plan. Since the measure can be decided only through a general election, will never come up in any law-making body, and cannot be affected in any way by the friendship of these men, we are forced to conclude that they enjoy a game of America's favorite pastime—political football.

The fact that this idea has become almost religion with its aged advocates makes attempts at intelligent argument somehow futile. Certainly, we recognize that the proposal is something vitally personal to oldsters. It is the seeming realization of a lifetime's struggles. It is the movie-happy-ending. The pot of Gold at Rainbow's end. How glibly the measure explains away obvious difficulties! How ingeniously it avoids the basic laws of national economy! It is a Heaven-sent miracle! Surely anyone so foul as to question it could not call himself a humanitarian and must evidently fail in love for his fellowmen.

But let us examine the plan. Exactly what are its provisions? In short, how will it affect you and me? First, the term "thirty dollars a week" is incorrect. There will be no DOLLARS—only state vouchers for that amount.

The state government will manufacture slips of paper and hope, wistfully that business men will accept the simple statement that they are "just as good as" United States currency. For each week in which this eastwhile money remains in the hands of its recipient, there will be a two cen tax. That is, the hypothetical thirty dollars will decrease in value weekly at the rate of sixty cents.

Statisticians have calculated that we now have in our state eight hundred and eleven thousand persons qualified for the pensions; not counting those who may qualify by quitting whatever jobs they now hold. So one million two hundred and sixty-five, one hundred and fifty thousand thousand dollars worth of warrants will be paid out annually. Also there will be printed a considerable number of 2-cent stamps—52 stamps for each and every $1.00 warrant, which will be a total of sixty-five billion, eight hundred and ninety-nine million, three hundred and twenty thousand stamps.

As Upton Sinclair, one-time Epic backer, pointed out in his recent "Liberty" magazine article "the law will require the people of California to lick sixty-five billion stamps in the course of a year, close to two hundred million stamps every day, eight million per hour. Roughly speaking, every adult Californian is going to have to average two stamps per hour of th day or night." unquote. So while the state is paying out one billion, two hundred and seventy-five million, one-hundred-and sixty thousand dollars in warrants, it will be taking in one billion, three hundred and sixteen million, five hundred and sixty-six thousand dollars for stamps.

No one is forced to accept the paper slips as actual currency. No banker, no butcher, no baker. The lone "goat", it appears, will be the state employe. Half his salary will be paid in warrants. Really, this means a fifty per cent pay cut. It a man has agreed to con-

Killer of Five Women Confesses 6th Victim as Chair Looms

CHICAGO, Oct. 27—(Special to the California Eagle)—A career fo crime that could be stopped "only by death" will be halted by just that tomorrow when Thomas Nixon, juvenile murderer of six women, goes to the electric chair of Joliet Prison.

17 years old, Nixon, owner of many aliases and with a police record in almost every city of any size between here and Los Angeles, will be executed for the murder of Mrs. Florence Johnson, white, Chicago nurse.

In addition to the brick-bat slaying of Mrs. Johnson, he confessed to the killing of two other women here in Chicago and two women and a child in Los Angeles, all of them white.

Nixon's final confession came last Friday, with his electrocution a week-off. He told police that he killed, by his usual procedure, smashing in the victim's skull with a brick, Mrs. Rose Valdez, 20, in Los Angeles on March 2, 1937. He described minutely the details of the gruesome murder and from that description, police gave credence to his calm. Los Angeles police are holding and trying 18-year-old Howard Green as an accomplice of Nixon in the Los Angeles murders, especially that of Mrs. Edna Worden and her 12 year old daughter on April 4, 1937, to which Nixon had confessed.

INCURABLE

able criminal by a priest in the

Nixon was termned an incurable criminal by a priest in the Louisiana parish where he was born and spent his early childhood.

"Only death can stop his career of crime," the priest wrote upon learning of Nixon's arrest.

Nixon was arrested here in Cricago with Green in April of this year. Because Los Angeles laws do not permit the capital punishment of juveniles, he was kept in Chicago, whose laws have no such scruples, and tried for the Chicago killings. There is a possibility that Green, whose trial for the murder of Mrs. Worden is underway may be sent back to Chicago to face trial for implication in the Chicago murders, if the penalty in Los Angeles is not severe enough.

KEHE UNFAIR

The announcer for station KEHE at the Georgie Crouch-Nat Garrison fight Tuesday was guilty of several misstatements. The calculations of leading sport writers are at distinct variance with his. Rounds given by him to Garrison have been recognized pretty generally as the property of one Georgie Crouch.

However, his statements concerning "poor sportsmanship" of Negro fans is most to be regretted. His comments led radio audiences to believe that Negroes alone doubted a decision since labelledd "raw" by thousands. The ether-waves should not be converted into hate-waves.

NAB FRESNO MURDER SUSPECT HERE

Notified that Kenny Godman, 26 year old truck driver of 1332 E. 20th street was wanted in Fresno for murder, Newton street police arrested him yesterday and turned him over to authorities, who after checking the complaint, will start the man on his way to Central California.

MARSHALL DENTON, JR.

"EXCELSIOR"

By IDELL A. BATEMAN

Marshall Denton Jr. of this city received this week his credentials from the State Bar Association notifying him to the effect that having passed the State Board, he is now a full fledged attorney-at-law with all the rights of practice in the State of California.

This notice appearing about an ordinary student achieving his goal would excite the general well wishes of the public with a passing interest that he might succeed. This, however, is not a notice of the usual kind about an ordinary citizen. Packed into those few words is a whole life so full of sacrifice and dogged determination that not to tell the story would be to rob the reader of a great deal of inspiration attendant upon such a life.

Marshall comes of one of the old families of Los Angeles, the large family of Marshall Denton. He received his schooling here, a graduate of the Polytechnic High school. For a short while he attended U. S. C. with the idea of studying dentistry but had

Winners of 'Sweeps' to Marry

"All good things comes to him who waits" proved no empty poetic prophecy to Mrs. Josie Llewellyn, 43 year old housemaid, and Ted J. Edwards, 45 year old plasterer. Wednesday Mrs. Llewellyn and Edwards were notified that they had won $150,000 on an Irish Sweepsstakes ticket when "Contrevant" thoroughbred, subject of the ducat, romped home first in the Casarwitch stakes at Newmarket, England.

The money brings double happiness to the hard-working couple, for released from financial worries they will marry.

Mrs. Llewellyn, living on the Eastside at 354 E. Jefferson boulevard and Edwards, a resident of het Temple Street district at 234 N. Bonnie Brae avenue, "have been friends a long time but never thought much about marrying because she had her old mother and I had my daughter to take care of. But now—gee . ."

Those were Edwards' words. Mrs. Llewellyn could not be reached for a statement. Her mother, Mrs. Maris Douglass, 80 year old pioneer Californian, however, radiated happiness for her. Edwards 9 year old daughter, Betty Mae was allowed to stay home from school to celebrate the happy event.

CHURCH TO BE AIDED

Edwards' church will get a substantial sum from the Sweeps' "earnings". After that donation he plans to fix his teeth and see what the doctors can do about his rheumatism.

Since learing that he had drawn a starting horse last Friday, Edwards told reporters he had not been able to work, not

MOB HALTS TRAFFIC, STONES, RUNS NEGROES OFF CITY'S STREETS

Highway Patrolmen Use Tear Gas in Three-Day Reign of Terror

SMYRNA, Ga., Oct. 27. (By James H. Boykin for ANP)—A mob of 500 angry white people burned a two-story elementary school house in a three-day reign of terror here last week.

The uprising was an outgrowth of the double murder the previous Saturday night of a white woman and her aged father and the beating of the dead woman's son.

News of the murder came to light Monday morning when Cecil Pauls, nine year old son of the dead woman, regained consciousness and made his way to a neighbor's house.

Willie Russell, whom the lad said beat to death his mother and her father with an axe-handle, knocked him unconscious when he sought to intervene.

RUSSELL ATTACKED BY COUPLE

Tuesday afternoon Atlanta and Fulton county police reported that Willie Drew Russell had confessed the crime.

He said he went to the victim's house about eleven o'clock Saturday night drunk to collect a $5 debt. The aged victim hit him with a walking stick and the woman struck him with a baseball bat.

Police listed the dead woman as Mrs. Christine Camp, 26, and her father as George Pauls, 66, Cobb county old age pensioner.

Russell was arrested about 10 o'clock Monday morning on a construction job in Grove Park.

MOB FORMS AT NOON

The mob began organizing about noon. The first rioting occurred Monday evening and night when a gang of 500 white people set fire to the two story colored school house and burned it to ashes.

The mob became enraged because state officials refused to remove Russell from the Fulton county jail and turn him over to Cobb county officials.

HALT TRAFFIC

Violence broke loose again Tuesday night when a rejuvenated band of white Georgians invaded the colored section storming houses with rocks and stones.

While one group of gangsters was searching street cars, another section of the gang was stoning and chasing colored people from downtown streets.

For the first time I saw Negroes willing to get off the sidewalks on their knees, with hats off, every time a white man passed by.

There must have been more than 20 Negroes victimized Monday night alone. The mob was reported dispensed late Tuesday night when State Highway Patrolmen appeared on the scene and founght with tear gas.

Baby Strangled to Death

At 1:30 a. m. last Wednesday Mrs. Harriet Robinson, 633 E. 48th street, looked down at 3 months old Helen asleep beside her left shoulder and the babe was dreaming peacefully.

At 7:45 a. m., however, when Mrs. Robinson awoke, she said the child was cold and stiff beside her, dead and rigor mortis already set in.

Newton street ambulance doctors, who were called, said the child was strangled by the umbilical cord.

Vote Campbell!

There are several reasons accounting for the solid Negro backing of William D. Campbell, congressional candidate in the 14th district. His fairness, intelligence, and special qualifications for the job all contribute.

However, the greatest argument in his favor is a record interracial cooperation and understanding. Campbell in congress would represent ALL the people of this district.

Hears Man Cough --Finds Him Dead

Arthur Rolfe's sister, Mrs. Margaret Ingraham, 705 E. 43rd pl., heard him cough at about 4:00 a. m. Tuesday morning. When she went into his room to awaken him at 6 a. m. he was dead. He had previously been believed in good health.

Newton Street Ambulance doctors who were called, said the man died of natural causes. He was 42-years old and had been employed as a cook.

KIN OF L. A. PIONEER MOURNED BY THRONG IN CANAL ZONE

U. S. Army Salute Ends Rites; Son Attends Funeral

According to detailed newspaper accounts of Canal Zone daily publications, and dispatches received from the son of the late Altha Brandon, brother of Mrs. A. B. Blackwell, 976 East 52nd street, hundreds crowded the thoroughfare and church for the last rites following death from hemorrhages on October 2. The deceased, World War Veteran, was honored with a salute of three volleys fired at the cemetery by a detachment of thirteen soldiers under Corp. George Malinick of the U. S. Army.

Mr. Brandon went to the Zone in 1930 as an employee of the Bureau of Clubs and Playgrounds as relieving secretary in the silver clubhouse. The clubhouse managed by Mr. Brandon at the time of his death averaged an intake of $5,000 daily. His son, Altha Brandon, Jr., of Los Angeles, who attended the funeral has been offered his father's post with six month's tutelage by the general secretary of the department in which he worked, A. E. Atwell. Young Brandon, however, has expressed his intention of returning to Los Angeles as soon as his father's legal affairs are settled.

Attesting to the esteem in which the deceased was held was the attendance to his funeral by leading officials and dignitaries including the governor of the Zone. Floral tributes filled four automobiles and the funeral procession totaled seventy-six automobiles and eleven autobusses. Aside from the army detachment the Gamboa Boys Brigade under General Sobers and Cummins also paid respects in the funeral cortege.

Aside from his sister and eldest son born of his frist wife deceased, Mr. Brandon is survived by his widow and six children of the second union, the eldest is seven years old and the youngest thirteen months.

He was bor nin Pueblo, Colorado forty-three years ago and was employed there following this he was employed as as secretary of the Industrial Y. M. C. A.

Clarence Muse-- A-TALKIN' TO YOU

Every now and then, WHEN RACE prejudice is forgotten, some enterprising GENTLEMAN comes forward in OUR OWN RACE for the sole purpose of renewing it. The SCREEN ACTOR'S GUILD, founded on real DEMOCRATIC ideas, has above all things REFUSED to entertain any RACE attitudes that are un-AMERICAN. Some newspeper men still BELIEVE that the only way to get a HEAD LINE in a colored paper IS TO SAY SOME-ONE HAS DONE SOMETHING TO SOME BODY because they are COLORED. But I am happy to KNOW that so many of our ARTISTS are learning better. So on Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. OUR STARS and OUR EXTRA PEOPLE turned out to express their indignation for such UNCLE TOM methods in our papers, especially in a NATIONAL SHEET. Among the STARS all members of the SENIOR GUILD were BILL ROBINSON, LOUISE BEAVERS, HATTIE McDANIELS, your humble servant and a WIRE received from ERNEST WHITMAN who was busy on LOCATION. There were 103 BIT and EXTRA members headed by JESSE GRAVES and EDWARD BOYD members of the BOARD of directors, and mind you this was at TEN O'CLOCK in the morning—which meant they mean business. False reports and unfavorable news created out of the IMAGINATION of some of our NATIONAL WRITERS has done more HARM to the NEGRO artist than LACK OF WORK or OPPORTUNITY. These groups of members have decided to PROTECT their business BY HAVING their own releases, carefully prepared and above all DEVOID of RACE PREJUDICE. The motion picture business does not promote RACE DISTINCTION in their studios, and above ALL, THESE ARTISTS do not want it advised by any member of our RACE. These groups of ARTISTS ARE AGAINST their members VIOLATING GUILD RULES, because they KNOW that the GUILD is the GREATEST MOTHER the Actor has ever had. And these members have decided THAT THEY will give their FANS the best they have with any opportunity given them, and these ARTISTS are grateful for THE MANY NEWSPAPERS AND WRITERS that have BOOSTED their WARES. But they are against those writers that are TRYING TO PROFIT ON THE FAILURE OF an ACTOR. I think it is grand, THAT OUR ENTIRE GROUP of SUCCESSFUL actors are TIRED OF BEING CALLED UNCLE TOMS because they are making MONEY, while THEIR CRITICS HOPE FOR the SAME JOBS.

Negroes Sue Houston in Fight for Vote

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 27. — In sensational climax to a long, planned attack on the local Democratic Primary machinery, which admittedly deliberately denies the Negro rights of franchise in the Democratic Primaries, 12 pt lead to come ------aEl?oo a group of local colored citizens last Thursday filed suit as plaintiffs in the Federal District court naming the city of Houston, the Mayor, City Council, chief county Clerk and the Executive Committee of the Democraetic party for the city of Houston as defendants.

The petition also specified every election Judge, assistant election Judge of Precincts 24, 25, 30, 47 and 48 and their successors in office. The plaintiffs are C. F. Richardson, Will Green, Dr. Wm. M. Drake and Julius White. They are represented by the law firm of Mandell and Combs. The suit is dual in nature for damages, pointing out the refusal of the above parties to allow the plaintiffs to vote in the Houston Democratic Primaries. It also carries with it an injunction enjoining these defendants and their successors in office permanently from preventing the plaintiffs from voting in the Houston city Democratic Primaries or any other Primary.

REPRESENT EVERY NEGRO

The petition further points out that the plaintiffs in this suit represent every other colored citizen in Houston.

In theory, the suit is two-fold in nature first by Article 9, section 2 paragraph 3 of the city charter which provides that the expenses of all primary elections shall be borne and paid by the city; City Ordinance, chapter 10, Article 1, section 89 provides the same thing. The plaintiffs contend in their petition that the above is one that cannot be shifted by the city because the city pays for such elections, uses public grounds for the same and pays the salary of clerks etc., thereby making the Primary machinery the property and agency of the city.

Article 5, Section 1 paragraph 3 of the City Charter provides that candidates at Primary elections shall be voted for at large by all the legally qualified citizens of hte city of Houston It further says that any candidate elected in violation to this provision shall be ineligible for election at the ultimate General election; nor shall he hold any office if elected in violation to this provision.

The second theory in this section is that at the time the city charter was adopted it was necessary to have Negroes vote and any attempt to avoid that original adoption is in violation of the attempt of the city charter.

It is said that the plaintiffs in this suit have the support of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and a powerful group of wealthy white Texans who believe the time has come when the Negro of Texas should enjoy full and unmolested suffrage.

Westside Representative Thanks Subscribers for Cooperation

As I am giving up active association with the California Eagle as its collector and Westside representative for a brief period, I wish to thank all who have cooperated with me so beautifully. During the time that I have served the public in my immediate community and other territory, I have made many contacts that hvae proved pleasant and profitable.

I have enjoyed the work and assure both the subscribers and the management of the Eagle that at the first opportunity I shall be happy to renew same.

Julius Rosenwald Fund Again Offers Fellowships

CHICAGO, Oct. 28, (ANP)—The Committee on Fellowships for the Julius Rosenwald fund is again offering fellowships to worthy individuals for further study in their respective fields. The fellowships are not restricted to any special subject or activity, it was announced. While many of the candidates will probably contemplate advanced university work, the fellowships are open not only to scholars and scinetists but to persons who may plan to go into the professions or the fine arts, or into agriculture, journalism or creative writing, education, business or public service.

Fellowships are open to men and women candidates between ages of 22 and 35, but the committee considers very exceptional cases on their merits. Candidates m---- have completed their general college course or their general professional course before making application or give evidence of maturity and preparation which may be regarded as the equivalent of a general education of at least collegiate standard.

NEGROES AND WHITES

Fellowships are offered to Negroes and to white Southerners who wish to work on some problem distinctive to the South and who expect to make their careers in the South. Both types of fellowships are intended to provide opportunities for advanced study or special experience to individuals who have already given evidence of exceptional ability and who wish to prepare themselves further.

The term of the fellowships normally one year, and the amount of the award will be determined in each case on the basis of the expected expenses involved and of all other factors which enter into the given application, including the length of time proposed. The awards average $1,500 for a full year's work.

The term of the fellowships, requires full information about the personal history of the candidates, their education, experience, and a definite statement of the proposed study or investigation. Applications for fellowships in the prescribed form must be submitted with all required materials before January 10, 1939. Blanks may be secured from George M. Reynolds, Director for Fellowships, Julius Rosenwald Fund, 4901 Ellis Avenue, Chicago.

Knoxville Medico Baffled By Name Similarity

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 27. (ANP)—Dr. A. J. Bacot for many years a physician of Knoxville, received a call this week to go to the home of Leather Martin at 108 Maria Street. Having attended a Leather Martin who died at that address nearly a year ago, the doctor regarded the call as a joke and forgot about it. A second call met a like fate and the people at the house becoming alarmed at the delay, urged the patient's employer, a well known white social worker, to call the doctor.

"Leather Martin is dead", replied Dr. Bacote to her call. He died nearly a year ago." The white woman shouted: "You are all wet." Upon arriving at the home a few minutes later, a very sick girl confronted him. "Name please?" asked the doctor. "Leather Martin" was the reply. It was explained that there were two Leather Martins, this one having moved into the house about two weeks ago.

Negro History in Hi Schools Here Big Step

Declaring that the inclusion of Negro History in the curriculum of the Los Angeles high schools is one of the most important steps ever taken by the School System, the Los Angeles Negro History Study Club at its Bi-monthly meeting, held at McKinley Jr. High School, last Thursday, took definite steps to keep in close touch with the progress being made by the Curriculum Committee of the Los Angeles City Board of Education in constructing outlines in Negro History to be used by instructors.

In a letter to the editor of the California Eagle, released last week, the Study Club set forth its position in the selection of instructors to teach Negro History. "Since a precedent is about to be set in offering Negro History to students at Jefferson High School", the article stated," We feel that the instructor should be one specially qualified and selected from an eligible list established by a competitive examination. In this way only, do we feel that the desired results from a course in Negro History can be attained.

Ross Snyder Playground to Sponsor Program

On Friday, November 4, at 8 o'clock in the evening, Ross Snydey Playground will present a program in the main auditorium of Jefferson High School it was announced today by LeRoy Wolfe, playground director.

The program will be a demonstration of the various music, drama and dance groups sponsored by the playground.

Monday evening, October 31, the annual Hallowe'en program will be presented at 41ts and Compton Streets. Bonfires, costume parade, and a public dance on the tennis courts will constitute the program. Both entertainments are free and open to the public.

BULLDOGS TACKLE CINCINNATI PROS

Pro-football returns to the Gilmore Stadium Sunday afternoon, Oct. 30, when the famous Los Angeles Bulldogs open their seven games schedule against one of the strongest clubs in the country. Cincinnati's Bengals, conquerors of the highly touted Chicago Bears and the equally famous Pitsburgh Pirates with whom "Whizzer" White plays, will be the first opponents for the team coached by Elmer Henderson.

Golden State Security Sales Mount

Company to Observe "Read Your Policy" Week; Begins Oct. 30

Prior to the offical sales offer of the new Golden State investment certificates to policyholders and others, employees of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company subscribed to one fifth of the total amount the Company received authority to sell. Subscriptions were quoted as upwards to $20,000 by the Secretary-Treasurer, Norman O. Houston, and attributed to the employees' confidence in the business because of its sound policies and growth in the thirteen years since organization.

The authority to sell $100,000 in Certificates of Advancement at ten dollars ($10) per unit with the minimum sale at five (5) units, the rate of interest being 4 percent the first year and no less than 5 percent thereafter, payable semi-annually, was granted the Company early this month by the California Insurance Commissioner.

It was announced also, that the Company will observe "Read Your Policy Week", which begins October 30 and has been proclaimed by Governor Frank Merriam. Public announcement, slips attatched to new policies issued, and dissemination of general information on various types of policies will mark the participation in the Statewide observance.

Announce Other Officers in New Financial Institution

Announcement of other officers of the General Reserve Corporation, newest financial institution to open on the Eastside, was made this week by A. Hartley Jones, president, from the temporary offices located at 4608 So. Central avenue.

William Delahousie, well known young student of accounting, has been named secretary of the corporation. Following graduation from high school, Mr. Delahousie, because of his exceptional clerical ability, was appointed clerk in the offices of the Liberty Building-Loan Association under Jones, who was its secretary-manager. Here Delahousie worked five years, supplementing his experience with a course in accounting. At various times since he has held clerical positions with the SERA. The young accountant is married and has two children.

GRIFFITH SELECTED

As treasurer of the company, J. W. Griffin, vice-president of Conner-Johnson Company, Inc., was selected. Here about 15 years, Griffin has been one of the most successful business men in the staet. He is also treasurer of Golden West Lodge .IBPOEW, No. 86.

General Reserve is capitalized at $50,000; one of its main functions will be the encouraging and financing of Negro business in the community. Pending erection of its own building at 50th and Central, temporary offices are at 4608 Central.

SWIMMING LESSONS TO BE GIVEN AT YMCA

Starting November 1, regular "learn to swim" classes will be held from 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. daily at the Eastside's 28th Street YMCA. These classes are strictly for men who wish to learn to swim.

California Bank Advertising in EAGLE Adjudged Best Bank Advertising in United States, Canada

California Bank newspaper advertising published in the California Eagle during the year ended October 1 has been adjudged best bank advertising in the United States and Canada, according to the current edition of Bank Ad-Views, eastern publication.

The board of judges, made up of twelve advertising executives, found that Rod Maclean, manager of the bank's advertising and publicity department, has created "a distinctive advertising style—modern in tempo, admirably adapted to newspaper reproduction, yet poster-like in its ability to telegraph a message.

"In a word" the judges summarized, "California Bank's advertising strives to win the eye and mind of the public. It strives for dramatic eye-appeal to insure attention; for simplicity, to be understood, and it delivers its sales story with that dignity and honesty that should characterize the advertising of every good bank."

Well known in metropolitan Los Angeles advertising circles, Maclean is past secretary-treasurer and director of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles and past editor of the club's weekly publication, The Blue Pencil. He recently completed ten years in the service of California Bank and has for the past five years been in charge of the Bank's advertising and publicity department.

State Insurance Commissioner Issues Atty.-General Warrant Decision to All Companies

Rex, B. Goodcell, Insurance Commissioner of the State of California, issued a statement containing the decision of Atty-General U. S. Webb concerning the use of warrants, under the proposed $30 per week pension plan by insurance companies throughout the state this week.

The decision warned companies that warrants could not be used as legal tender in payment of claims and that, under the state insurance code, any agent, broker, or solicitor accepting said warrants would be guilty of rebate under the law of California, and that warrants could not be accepted as premiums. Among companies receiving the decision was the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company whose Home Office is at 4261 Central Avenue, Los Angeles.

The statement also pointed out that the warrants cannot be classed as interest bearing obligations of the state; as registered warrants; nor can they be used as legal tender in any investment.

CLOCKMAKER'S SHOP BROADCAST SETTING

A quaint old clockmaker's shop is the setting for the first story in "The Monitor Children's Program" next Saturday morning, October 29 at 10 o'clock over KNX. There are large clocks and small ones, some with bright and cheeky faces, others with faces old and mellow and wise. And, of course, there are cuckoo clocks, clocks with beautiful Westminster chimes, and others with softly sounding gongs. What occurs after the shop is closed for the night, and the city is quiet and still, makes a strange tale that will delight listeners both big and little.

A capacity audience heard Mr. Beavers comment on the growth of Negro business, particularly of insurance, and noted with interest his outline of the progress of Golden State Mutual whose Home Office is in Los Angeles.

On Saturday, Mr. Beavers was host at a luncheon complimenting Chicago undertakers.

L. A. Fellowship League Shapes Plans for Award

Selections for the annual award of the Los Angeles Fellowship League were announced as in order this week. Facts may be presented to the committee in charge, regarding any individual whose contribution to the local community is deemed worthy of official recognition. Based on some work or achievement during the current year, the awards are limited to Negroes, but unlimited as to age, sex or line of endeavor. Anyone may submit a candidate.

Judges are W. W. Webb, 1506 W. 36th street, Milton Dean, 2097 W. 29th street and Leslie King, 2122 W. 29th street. Letters addressed to either of them, or to the secretary, R. B. Strather, 651 E. 45th street, will be acted upon by the committee, it was announced. Nominations must be made before Dec. 1.

DID YOU KNOW—southern Congressmen used to claim that lynching was used only as punishment for the crime of rape. BUT, four out of five persons lynched had not been accused of rape.

Says Negro in Urban Centers Neglects His Opportunities

CHICAGO, Oct. 28, (ANP)—Negroes are neglecting many opportunities to improve the patterns of living, according to Frazier T. Lane, director of the Civic Improvement department of the Chicago Urban league, who has just returned from a 3,000 mile trip in Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, Michigan.

With very few exceptions the majority of the Negro population is found in very difinite areas or ghettos and the hub of activity centers around theatres, taverns and night clubs, he said. These areas are also characterized by large numbers of substandard and dilapidated dwellings. In those states where it is possible to purchase liquor in taverns or restaurants, Negro neighborhoods are studded with such places and they all seem to do a thriving business accompanied by "the monotonous tempo of rowdyism." There is very little difference between the Negro centers in Chicago, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Detroit except in volume. In those cities where liquor is sold in certain stores, the conduct of the people and the tone of the neighborhood is considerably better.

"Richmond and Washington are two cities which might well be a model for others to follow in regard to neatness and well kept premises." Mr. Lane asserted. "These sea-board towns present a beautiful aspect to one observing the amount of dilapidation and disorganization found in most communities. No matter how small the yard, there are found well kept lawns and growing plants. The fences are in good repair, the windows and vestibules seem to be cleaner and all around are evidences of pride. This seems to be a tradition in these two cities rather than the result of promotional effort.

NO PAINT

"In the large Negro area of Cleveland one wonders if there are any paint concerns in the town. For years a large number of frame houses there have never been painted on the outside. This is typically true of all of the Southern cities, especially where poor whites and Negroes live. One would suspect that they are afraid of paint.

"One gets the feeling that Negro life in the South is much easier than in the North. In the South the Negro communities have accepted segregation and seem to do very little about it. They feel that it is hopeless to try to change it and set out to enjoy life under these conditions. Some enterprising individuals have capitalized on this situation and operate separate tourist camps, bathing beaches, and state fairs.

"In the smaller areas of the South such as Scotland Neck, N. C., Saturday afternoons and evenings find all the colored people in surrounding communities "going to town" and filling the streets, stores and taverns almost exclusively. It seems to be an unwritten rule in these small places that the white people wait until Monday to do their shopping in the various centers because there is no room for them on Saturday. It is a familiar scene to see wagons drawn by mules with scores of Negroes in them on the paved highway going to town. There seems to be a perfect understanding between them and the white people for the latter know they will stay in their places. In one of the Southern cities of 45,000 inhabitants, we inquired as to where the colored people lived. Our informant told us 'right down there where the pavement ends and the tin cans begin.'"

Edgar Brown Seeks New Trial in Arrest Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27, (ANP)—A motion for a new trial has been made by attorneys on behalf of Edgar G. Brown, president of the United Government employes, in the case involving his protest of the charwoman disorder which led to his being hailed preemptorily into the police station and district court during the conduct of the recent Civil Service Commission distribution of application blanks for the position of female laborer in the federal service at a police precinct in Washington, D. C.

Alfred Belford Lawson, who recently won the celebrated Ne-Negro Alliance case before the Supreme court giving Negroes the right to picket, has been retained by Mr. Brown. If motion for a new trial is denied by the presiding judge, or if the case is again declared against him, the case will be taken to the court of appeals.

New York Judge Flayed for Lynch Reference

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—A demand for an apology from New York State Supreme Court Justice Salvatore A. Cotillo was made by the NAACP here today for a remark attrbiuted to him by the New York Times that conduct of labor union pickets in Harlem was "such that if committed elsewhere a lynching bee might well have resulted."

Justice Cotillo issued an injunction last summer against picketing of the Busch credit jewelry stores. One of the Busch stores is located in Harlem and in comment upon the conduct of the strikers, Justice Cotillo was quoted by The Times as making the above remark.

Justice Cotillo is known in New York as a friend of Premier Mussolini in Italy, Referring to Justice Cotillo's recent cablegtam to Mussolini urging him not to embark on an anti-Jewish campaign, the NAACP letter said: "This association believes you might well exhibit concern over the plight of minorities in your own country. The Negroes, forming the largest minority, deserve better than to have it suggested by a state supreme court justice that their conduct under any circumstances might call for a lynching.

People in All Walks of Life in Community Chest Drive

Putting aside all other duties, corporation heads, business men, professional men, salesmen, housewives, and club and society women this week have joined the huge Community Chest volunteer army of mercy to help raise funds in the Exposition district to carry on the splendid work of the 88 welfare agencies serving the district, Mrs. Abraham Lehr, chairman, announced.

The chairman stated that if the time was not freely given by volunteer workers, the Chest would be unable to raise the large fund required to aid the needy and unfortunate in the 488 square miles of chest territory.

"When called upon by volunteer workers," she said, "remember they have a message which they deemed important enough to take their personal time to explain to subscribers of Chest needs which must be met for the mutual benefit of all in the district.

"Do not take their time by asking them to call back. The Chest message is brief and to the point, and certainly such a humanitarian project is worth few moments of your time."

In urging subscribers to increase subscriptions this year by at least 20 per cent, Chest officials pointed out that the population increase in the Los Angeles chest area has increased 41 per cent since 1926, the number of subscribers has increased 56 per cent during the corresponding period, but the total fund rasied, $2,675,000, is $27,000 less than 12 years ago.

WHITE TENANTS HIT REMOVAL OF NEGROES

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La, Oct. 27—White tenants in Thomaston, a Farm Security Administration settlement near here, have protested against the government's plan to have them move out so Negro families can be moved in from Translvania, another FSA settlement sixty miles away. The whites say they are content to live in Thomaston with Negro families. A petition has been signed and sent to Louisiana congressmen and senator's protesting against the transfer.

Un-kinking Hair is No Beauty Treatment, Says Toledo Judge

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 27, (ANP)—Beauty cultrists of Toledo, already worried over the large number of "bootleg" shops offering them great competition, found another worry last week when Judge Edgar Norris of police court ruled that taking curls out of kinky hair is not a beauty treatment.

The decision was made in a case involving Mrs. Minnie Harvey arrested on charges of operating a beauty parlor without a license. The State Board of Cosmetology preferred the charges.

Mrs. Harvey's lawyer, Harry Kirtland, said his client did not operate a beauty shop. He contended she was taking curls out of hair, not putting curls into hair, and therefore she was not violating the state law.

CIVIL SERVICE PROBE SET FOR JANUARY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27.—The Congressoinal committee to investigate the U. S. Civil Service System, will convene here shortly after Congress opens in January, it was revealed here today, and hearings will be held shortly thereafter.

The NAACP will present cases to the committee involving discrimination against Negro citizens in the civil service.

DID YOU KNOW—Howard University was organized by a special act of Congress in 1867 and while designed primarily for Negroes, draws no line as to race. An estimated three percent of its students is non-Negro.

South Louisiana Observes Eucharistic Teachings While No. Louisiana Upholds Lynching

RUSTON, La., Oct. 27. (By Leon Lewis for ANP)—While New Orleans in the southern portion of the state is gripped in a spell of Eucharistic observance and being instructed by papal dignataries to "uphold the principles of Christian justice" and "cooperate for the ideals of American democracy in preference to persecution of minorities and practices of racial prejudices"; in Ruston some 400 miles north, a grand jury, sworn to uphold civil rights and justice returned a verdict of "insufficient evidence to make indictments" in the investigation of 55 witnesses concerning the lynchnngs of W. C. Williams, 19, near here Oct. 13.

The jury convened Monday morning, charged by Judge Walker with inyestigation of three "serious" crimes: the murder of Robert N. Blair, the attack on Blair's woman companion and the lynching of W. C. Williams. In its report to the court the grand jury also closed the month old clubbing of J. W. Breedlove and the attack upon his girl cmopanion, for which crime another Negro had been held up to last week's crime. Their report said that "evidence is conclusive that W. C. Williams attacked J. W. Breedlove and criminally assaulted his woman companion on the ngiht of Sept. 13 and that since then W. C. Williams has died.

"For the reason that W. C. Williams is now dead the above cases are now closed. In connection with the lynching of W. C. Williams, we have examined 55 witnesses and have obtained insufficient evidence to return any indictments. We therefore, continue this case for further investigation." After hearing the report Judge Walker thanked the jury for carrying out the instructions of the court.

White dailies throughout the state have editorialized the event as the "most un-American act of injustice and mob rule" at a time when ignorance and barbarism should not exist in the American civilization. They advise that steps should be taken by state officials to "rectify this shameful incident."

Congregational Church Board Gives Check to Aid Lynch Fight

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—A check for $200 from the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational and Christian churches to be used for aiding the fight for passage of a federal anti-lynching bill in the forthcoming session of congress, was received today by officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In a letter accompanying the check, Fred L. Brownlee, general secretary of the borad said, "I wish that our check was as large as our interest in this matter."

Officials of the association also announced today receipt of a check for thirty-five dollars from Miss Irene Lewisohn, daughter of the late philanthropist and donor of the Stadium at City College where New York's open-air musical concerts are held each summer.

Klan Fails to Bar Negro Chorus in White Church

MIAMI, Oct. 27, (ANP)—Although a group of Ku Klux Klansmen invaded his church Monday night and protested against the use of a Negro chorus in a revival service, it did not prevent the Rev. T. H. Hibson of the Orange Glade Baptist church from carrying out his plans.

The minister said 10 or 15 intruders dressed in ordinary street clothes, and without masks, left quietly when refused to oust the singers. Police were called in and took a report of the occurrence. Rev. Hibson said one of the ofifcers told him that there was an unwritten law in this town that colored people cannot take part in the services at a white church.

N. A. A. C. P. Gets 23rd $500 Life Member

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27—Nathan R. Margold, solicitor in the United States Interior Department, became the twenty-third life member of the National Associatilon for the Advancement of Colored People, officials of the Association announced in New York today.

Mr. Margold sent the Association a check for fifty dollars which completed in full a life membership payment of $500. His name will be inscribed on a bronze plaque in the national office of the NAACP.

At the same time Association officials announced receipt of fifty dollars from the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, marking the first installment on their life membership payment. Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is the only other Greek letter society purchasing a life membership, having made a substantial payment on it last year.

RAILROAD CLATTER

By CHARLES L. UPTON

Two hired hands from neighboring farms were telling each other their troubles. One was complaining about not getting enough to eat. "Just this morning", he said, "Old Man White's wife says to me, says she, "Do you know how many pan cakes you've et already this morning?" No, I ain't had no occasion to count 'em". And she says, "Well, that last one you et was the 16th'—and dadblame it, Bill, that made me so durned mad I jes got right up from the table and went to work without my breakfast.

Most people have two reasons for doing as they please a perfectly good one, and the real one.

Oscar Soares Saves the Day In Close PPBA Election

In one of the hottest and closest elections ever held by the Local Pullman Porters Benefit Associations, the quick brain work of Oscar Soares prevented a split ticket from electing J. H. Eldridge as delegate to the Grand Convention which convenes in Chicago next week. The general set-up at the election meeting was as follows: 19 members were present, H. L. Armstrong was nominated plus Ascar Soares and Eldridge, Pullman Porter Instructor. Eldridge had staged a strong campaign for the office, contacting every porter who arrived in town. Eldridge is a good man but due to the fact that he is not a member of the Brotherhood and is so closely identified with the Pullman management, the organization places a taboo on him as a delegate. Oscar Soares did the gentlemanly thing and declined the nomination in favor of H. L. Armstrong, thus avoiding the danger of spliting the 19 votes, which beyond all doubt would have elected Eldridge. The tally was Armstrong 12, Eldridge 7. R. J. Murray was again elected chairman of the organization and King Johnson was elected vice, Dan Hood, treasurer and Wm. Thedford, secretary.

Pullman Porter Instructor Will Return to Active Pullman Service, Rumro

Although not authentically verified, it has been reliably reported to the Clatter that Pullman Porter Instructor, J. H. Eldridge will be relieved of his present duties and returned to active service on the road. Eldridge has held the job down ever since the retirement of L. A. Coffin several years ago.

Golden West Real Estate Board Meets

The members of the Golden West Real Estate Board met at twelve o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. on October 19, 1938. There are now twenty-two members paid up and regular active members. At the meeting much interest was manifested by those present on completion of the organization. Directors elected were J. N. Brice, 1642 E. Imperial Highway, a man of long experience in the Real Estate business, P. O. Holt, 4255 South Central, who is one of the men to enter the Real Estate business during the boom days, his knowledge of real estate gives to the Board an outstanding character, the other members elected to the Board is S. B. W. May, 1054 E. Vernon Avenue, who has been in business for nearly 20 years. With the above Directors, four officers of the Board complete the Directors Board. Mr. Frank J. Whitley, 5408 Central Avenue, is the president. Mr. Whitley recently passed the brokers, written examination. He brings to the Board much valuable information Mr. Bernard C. Herndon, 669 E. 41st Street is the Vice-president, who has been very successful in his chosen profesion. Mrs. E. B. Hudson, 3209¾ South Central Avenue, the only lady the Board of Directors elected, is the secretary and effectively serves the Board. Mr. C. Eugene Huoston,, 5014 S. Central Avenue, elected Treasurer of the Board, is one of our most outstanding brokers. All the members of the Board expressed themselves as being very happy in being able to bring this Board into being as they feel with the cooperation of each member much good can be accomplished. To those brokers who have not yet joined us, we say now you are welcome to come into the organization. Get your application in at an early date.

The next meeting of the Board will be on Wednesday at 12 o'clock, October 26, 1938, in the Annex of the Y. M. C. A. building, corner of East 28th Street and Paloma. At this meeting we will have as our guest speaker, Mr. Roy Raymond Colby, Attorney at Law and Instructor in Law and Real Estate at the Polytechnic High School. All brokers whether members or not are urged to be present. A luncheon will be served.

Community Development Fund Termed 'Progressive'

Commenting on the establishment of the Community Development Fund of the Gold Furniture Company, one of our prominent race clergymen made this observation, and he accurately expresses the attitude of all those interviewed.

"The church and business must come to realize that their interests are not independent, but interdependent," he further stated during the interview. "It is a progressive step when an influential and respected firm like the Gold Furniture Company returns a share of its income to an honor to our religious and charitable organizations that we were selected to distribute this generous fund. We can hopefully await the day when all businesses realize that they have the same obligation to the community."

A few months ago during their 20th Anniversary Celebration the Gold Furniture Company at Washington and Central announced the establishment of its Community Development Fund. In the short time since its inception more than five hundred dollars have been paid out through churches and charitable organizathe various approved Negro zations.

ADVERTISING MONEY

Last week I promised to give you a basis for appropriation of advertising money, so, a promise being made must be kept.

BASIS FOR APPROPRIATION

In general there are three principle methods of setting an advertising appropriation: to base it on a fixed percentage of the previous years sales; to base it on a fixed percentage of estimated sales for the coming year, and to base it on an arbitrary figure set at the amount needed to accomplish the job at hand.

Back a few years ayo many of the National advertisers used the first method of setting their appropriations on the previous years business, the popularity of this method, however, has diminished in the last few years. The wise business man knows that last year's record does not seem to be a very reliable guide to next year's sales at all.

The greater percentage of advertisers who use the second method, on the other hand, rose in 1935 and have reached a higher peak in 1938 than any year previous. This of course indicates that a greater number of advertisers are willing to back up their judgement of markets and the best way to meet them with their advertising funds. They think that their judgement of what business will be next year with the colored people is a better guide than Figures of What Business Was Last Year With the Colored People. In Other Words (Go after the Colored Business this year for next year.)

It is the third group, however, that the greatest number of advertisers are found in today—because the average business man is studying his advertising problems more than he did a few years ago. He has to try to keep a jump ahead of his competitor. The amount of money they will spend for advertising will be determined by the particular advertising job to be done, and the particular conditions under which it must be done. The wise business man knows that markets and business conditions are changing and changing fast much more rapidly than they did a few weeks ago, to keep up with the times and stay in business he must change with the times. Advertising programs today my friend must be more flexible, better prepared to shift with the shifting todes of business improvement just because men will pass up a very good medium of advertising just because they have formed some policy years ago against such advertising, and in the meantime his competitor is getting all the Colored business while he is sticking to his silly policy.

The factors which enter into any analysis of past, present and future business conditions in their relation to an advertising appropriation, as enumerated by a great number of sales executives are:

1. Last years sales.
2. Average sales for last several years.
3. Past and anticipated selling resistence.
4. Expansion.
5. General attitude of the Negro buyer.
6. Competition
7. Factors peculiar to your particular busines.

The average business man is too close to his own business to single out a dominant selling idea. If you really want the Negro business let us lay out an advertising program that will get the best results with the Negro buyer.

This week I have given you the basis for appropriation — next week I shall give you an idea how to spread your advertising appropriation.

Electric Water Heater Put in City Park for Legionnaires

Visiting Legionnaires during the recent convention were given dramatic evidence of why Los Angeles is called the "Electric Capital of the World", when they saw an 85 gallon electric water heater installed right in the heart of Pershing Square to speed the task of washing 15,000 coffe cups daily at the Salvation Army tent. The first day the tent was opened, hundreds of Legionnaires poured in from all corners of the city for the free coffee and doughnuts made famous by the Salvation Army during the World War. Excitement was doubled when it was discovered that only cold water was available for cup washing. A hurry call was put through to the Bureau of Power and Light, which immediately arranged for an installation of the electric water heater at the Pershing Square location. The onlooking Legionnaires marveled at the nonchalance with which Southern California accepts the use of modern electric appliances and many a home town will hear of the "electric water heater installed under the trees right in Los Angeles' Pershing Square."

New approved electric water heaters are now being featured by Los Angeles electric dealers. They may be purchased on easy EHFA terms payable with watter or electric bill. Further information may be obtained by telephoning Bureau of Power and Light, Michigan 4211, Station 2644.

Vote No On Proposition Number 1

Vote NO on PROPOSITION No. 1, and save one of the few weapons maintained by the working people of the state.

In last Wednesday's issue of the Evening News we find photographs and description of the appalling condition of the strikers in the cotton fields of Kern county. We do not have to go to the tenant farms of the deep south to find starvation and extreme exploitation. Rev. E. P. Ryland and Laurence Sperber, reporter for the U. C. L. A. Daily Bruin, and Gordon L'Allemand a writer viewed this condition on behalf or the Committee to Aid Agriculture Organization.

These cotton pickers in the vicinity of Buttonwillow, under the so called ordinary conditions of $1.00 per hundred pound of cotton live in the lowest of circumstances. It was indeed a surprise to me in 1936 when I chanced to pass through this district to find a typical example of the southern tenant farming. Families of eight and ten made their home in a shack of one rom. The one store house was owned by the company. No radio was allowed so that the people would have to spend their meager earnings in the electric music box. Prices for food and other necessities were very high. The main activities engaged in appeared to be gambling, drinking, dancing and card playing. No church, movie, or library were available. Like the southern farmers these people picked cotton from year to year to remain in debt at the end of each season.

One of the most sad conditions is that of the children in this area. Most of them are without shoes and sufficient clothing to attend school. They are familiar with the activities of the adults to the extent that cursing, gambling, dancing and stealing are major activities. They live without baths and proper diet.

All workers who are engaged in the fruit and cotton industries in Califronia are faced with low wages and infrequent employment. The greater number of these people are Mexicans who travel from section to section during work season. For an instance when the fruit picking season is over they are not allowed to remain in the district. ted for vagrancy or other charges The owner will have them arrest in order to frighten them out of the vicinity until they are needed for work.

This condition prevents the worker from organization owing to the constant moving from one place to another. It is a frequent practice for the employer to hire a foreman who demands that 25 percent of the earnings must be reported to him if they hope to retain their jobs each year. It has been known that these foremen often to take all of the pay and disappear.

HOW TO CONDUCT A DIRTY CAMPAIGN

Now that the political mud-slinging season is at its peak a few timely suggestions on how to hurl election stink bombs and smear an opponent may prove interesting to the general public, especially to all prospective office seekers.

1. CALL YOUR OPPONENT A "PROFESSIONAL POLITICIAN"

This is particularly good if he has ever held office previously. The beauty of this disparaging appelation is that it can be used against almost any statesman or veteran public servant by any candidate who wishes to make a virtue of his own lack of public service experience.

2. CALL YOUR OPPONENT A KU KLUX KLANSMAN

This is wonderful stuff now in almost all parts of the country, except the Old South. It is especially good in great metropolitan districts, such as Los Angeles, where there are large Jewish, Negro and Catholic groups, who have very good reasons for distrusting the K. K. K. and the racial and religious intolerance it represented.

3. PROMISE SOME NEW AND ATTRACTIVE SHORT-CUT

To Utopia that will give every more or less senior citizen a life income without further toil, mental or physical. Even though the President of the United States and all the financial experts may disapprove of your plan and call it "a snare and a delusion," championship of such a scheme will win you votes. You don't need to worry about whether your plan will work or not. Let the old folks do that. Naturally no one . . . blame them for desiring an adequate provision for old age security: and you'll find many of them easy to fool.

4. IF YOUR OPPONENT IS A VETERAN

Or has been an official of the American Legion, call him a flag waver, and accuse him of using his war service record to gain public sympathy and votes. This is an excellent way to get Communistic or other subverse backing.

5. DON'T HESITATE TO TRY TO CONNECT YOUR OPPONENT

with some discredited political administration. Start a "Clean Government Campaign" and get all of the reformers and long hairs, you can round up, to join the movement. Open every meeting with a prayer, but be sure to forget all moral scruples when you start out to "smear" the other fellow. Try to forget that he has a wife and children, or that his honor may mean as much as life to him. Think only of winning and winning at all costs.

Should your case appear helpless, after going to all these lengths, accuse your rival of being backed by the Cahmber of Commerce, big businesses and the underworld. And don't forget, if worst come to worst, you can get a copy of that gangster's book on "How to Commit a Murder" at almost any good book store.

HALT THIS Plunge Into SQUANDERMANIA!

Proposition No. 13 on your November balot is a brazen attempt to let down the bars to wholesale public borrowings which would mean . . .

Staggering Debt And New Tax Burdens

This dangerous proposal would abolish the basic safeguard requiring a two-thirds vote for bond issues!

It makes it easier to get into debt, but harder to get out!

It would permit the issuance of revenue bonds, IN ANY AMOUNT, by a bare majority of those actually going to the polls. In reality, it would mean that any district, city or county could be plunged into debt by A SMALL MINORITY, as only a fraction of the registered vote usually turns out for a bond election.

SMASH The "Single Tax"

It's Robbery!

But if tax cranks and social revolutionists rob you of your home, your farm, your job and your savings,

It's Your Own Responsibility

Your DEFENCE is in your own hands—in your intelligent use of the ballot.

The discredited, six-times-defeated "SINGLE TAX" will appear as PROPOSITION NO. 20 on your November ballot.

This ruinous proposal would . . .

Confiscate Homes and Farms by piling Extortionate Taxes on Land—Higher than Taxpayers could pay.

It would wreck trades and industries, skyrocket rents, drain the State Treasury of the funds necessary to pay old age pensions, to maintain the public schools and other essential functions of government.

It would bring chaos, distress and disaster to California.

REV. F. A. HARRIS SUCCEEDS REV. S. M. BEANE AS MINISTERS' PRESIDENT

NEW HEAD IS PRESIDING ELDER OF LOS ANGELES DISTRICT, AFRICAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCHES; ELECTION HELD MONDAY

Rev. F. A. Harris, former pastor of Ward Chapel AME church and incumbent presiding elder of the Los Angeles District AME churches, was elected president of the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance Monday morning in the monthly session held in the 28th street branch YMCA. He succeeds Rev. S. M. Beane, pastor of Hamilton M. E. church, who served for two consecutive years.

Other officers for the ensuing year include A. K. Quinn, vice-president; A. C. Capers, recording secretary; L. C. Cleaves, assistant recording secretary; John A. Davis, financial and correspondent secretary; W. A. Venerbale, aregeant at arms; E. E. Lightner, treasurer.

Speakers for this month's meeting were Dr. Ebee of the Department of Water and Power who spoke in opposition to the proposed $30 every Thursday pension plan and Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh who spoke on the NYA program. Visitors included Mrs. Elizabeth St. Charles Edwards, Mr. McClenton and Mrs. Winters. Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. J. L. Caston.

The pulpit of the Second Baptist church will be filled next Sunday by Rev. Herbert A. Foster, assistant pastor and founder of the Unity of Christian Faith Conference. In the evening, a program will be presented under the auspices of the missionary society featuring the report of Mrs. S. A. Reed, president, on the National Baptist Convention, which she attended as a delegate.

"Dangerous But Possible" is the sermon subject of the Rev. S. M. Beane, pastor of Hamilton M. E. church, 1-8th and Naomi, for next Sunday morning. The Epworth League will hold its services at 6 p. m. and the evening services will be given to a program by former citizens of Oklahoma and Arkansas.

A visiting minister of the Seventh Day Adventist church at 40th Place and Wadsworth avenue; Elder O. O. Burnstine will be the speaker Sunday night, October 30th, 1938.

"Divine Heralding as taught in the scripture, will be the subject of the sermon.

On the Sabbath (Saturday) Elder Skinner, the Leader of the young people's Division of the Southern California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, a man who speaks hidden conviction, will be the speaker.

A pew rally will characterize both morning and evening services of the morning Star Baptist Church next Saturday at the corner of 41st Place and Ascot avenue, Rev. W. L. Strauther, pastor. Monday, October 31, prayer and consecration services will begin at 7:30 and will continue each evening throughout the week.

"The Christian's Proposition Number One" has been selected as the Sunday morning subject of the Rev. Walter R. Lovell, pastor of the First A. M. E. Zion Church, Pico Blvd. and Paloma Street. In the evening at 6:45 Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh, state director of Negro affairs for the NYA will speak on "The Needs of Youth". The senior choir and Men's chorus will sing at the morning hour and the young people's choir in the evening.

A missionary program will be sponsored by women of Goodwill Missionary Baptist Church next Sunday afternoon at three according to announcement by the pastor, T. T. Addison. Prominent church women and men of the city are reported scheduled for the program.

Dr. A. C. Capers was the speaker for the Baptist Ministers' Union Tuesday at its regular meeting. Visiting speakers included A. J. Williams of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Rev. John A. Ebee, representing the "$30 Every Thursday" pension plan.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text is from Micah: "Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me."

The Lesson-Sermon includes this parable of Jesus from the Gospel of Luke: "Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. . . . And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

Among the statements from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is the passage: "Blindness and self-righteousness cling fast to iniquity. When the Publican's wall went out to the great heart of Love, it won his humble desire."

At 7:30 on Monday evening, Novembe 7, the Mexican and Saw Chapel M. E. Chuches will jointly psesent an 'All Nations Musical" at the first named church, 1701 Sata Ana Boulevard, South Los Angeles. Artists will include representative groups of Japanese, Chinese, Italians, Portuguese, and Mexicans. Pastors of the Mixican and Shaw Chapel church respectively are Rev. F. O. Quintanilla and A. C. Austin.

Missionary Union to Present Trinity Eve Program Sunday

The Interdenominational Missionary Union will have charge of the evening services Sunday at the Trintiy Baptist Church, 3565 South Normandie under the sponsorship of Trinity's mission-ary union which will observe missionary and rally day. The rally effort, under the leadership of Mrs. James Johnson recently here from New York where she was a leader in the Metopolitan Baptist Church, will be marked by both morning and evening services.

In the morning, Mrs. Henrietta Childs, president of the Women's Convention of the Western Baptist State Convention will preside. The Rev. Lawson, a representative of the Home Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention Inc., will preach and other participants will include Mrs. Leola Longress, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Brackeen and Mrs. Baker. Devotionals will be led by the local deaconness board under its chairman, Mrs. Aice Young.

Finance committee head for the day is Mrs. Fannie Carpenter who will lead the women in a contest with the men, who will be led by the pastor, Dr. J. L. Caston. Mrs. Florence Tucker is president of the Trinity Missionary Society.

Second Baptist Boosters Celebrate 5th Anniversary

Celebrating their fifth anniversary, the Second Baptist Boosters' club held a forum program at the church on last Sunday evening, introducing to the public their nine charter members, present roster of seventy boosters, and a brief history of their numerous activities by the President, Mrs. Vassie D. Reese.

Following an impressive processional march by the Booster members, with Miss Helen Dundee at the piano, Mrs. Katherine Graham acted as mistress of ceremonies, presenting Rev. R. Willis in prayer, Mr. Robert Monley and Mr. Arthur Peters, soloists, the Carter Sisters trio, and the Second Baptist Octette, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Griffith Morrow in musical selections.

The principal speaker, Rev. Emett H. Booker, graduate of Howard and Columbia Universities, formerly of Ohio, who used "Forward With Our Task" as his subject was introduced by Mr. Lloyd Johnson, chairman of the anniversary committee, after the scripture reading by Mr. Chalmers Gaithers. An inspiring message was delivered by Rev. Booker, further enhanced by his own rendition of the song "My Task", accompanied by Miss Geneva Bass, organist, which was a sermon in itself.

Much credit is due the Style Art and Alpha Bowling Clubs for gracefully assisting as Ushers and to the Matron and Guild of Hamilton M. E., the Volunteer of Zion Hill Baptist and the Ladies Aid of Phillips Temple C. M. E., all of which church clubs contributed to the success of the anniversary.

So valuable has been the Boosters' club to the church and to the community that a large crowd gathered to wish them well in a future that may be even greater than their past five years which began when Vassie D. Reese with Edith Rankins, Emma Murphy, Anna Mabry, Daniel Mabry, Louise Allen, David Settle, Charles Anderson and Norris Stokes first organized what is now a flourishing factor in the activities of Second Baptist Church, pastored by Rev. T. L. Griffith.

USC Club Backs Book Club Program Here

The first library book club program of the fall season was recently sponsored by the University of Southern California Literary Club.

Headed by Osie Walton, who presided, the meeting was held last Friday evening, October 21, in the library club room--4504 South Central Avenue.

Lending interest to the evening was the reviewing of the fall favorites: "Dynasty of Death" by Taylor Caldwell; "And Tell of Time" by Laura Krye; Carelton Beale's "Glass Houses"; Johnathan Daniels' "A Southerner Discovers the South"; Upton Sinclair's "Little Steel" and Carl Crew's "Master Kung".

Members, Sarah Collins, Bill Stevens, Inez Hamilton, Charles Ray, Alvia Shaw and a large number of visitors were present.

Future meetings of the group, to which the public is cordially invited, will be announced at a later date.

Court Bans Daddy Grace's Church as 'Public Nuisance'

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 27, (ANP)—In a decision handed down by the state Supreme court, Judge Bellinger this week declared that the city of Columbia was warranted in calling Grace tabernacle a "nuisance" and ordering the place closed.

The court's decision dissolved an injunction granted the tabernacle last April 11 by Judge C. C. Featherstone, temporarily pending final determination of the case—restraining the city police from closing the "House of Prayer". Judge Featherstone's order had permitted tha the tabernacle to hold services each night until 10 o'clock pending final disposition of the case. The court action was the result of a petition signed by 232 residents of the House of Prayer neighboorhood last spring, complaining about the noise made during the tabernacle services. In rebuff the tabernacle, according to Judge Bellinger, attempted to "enjoin the city of Columbia and its officers from interfering with and molesting the plaintiffs in what they alleged to be their worship of God."

Judge Bellinger's ruling called attention to evidence that the congregation's practice of their religion" produced a "bedlam" that could be heard for "many city blocks" and asserted that the "testimony is convincing that the House of Prayer by reason of its practices, though in the name of religion, has proven to be a public nuisance."

Kitchen Shower Honors Addie Simms

Anniversary Banquet at Lincoln Memorial Tonight

Continuing the celebration of the re-opening of our auditorium and the observance of the 25th Anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. E. E. Lightner, the anniversary banquet will be held this evening (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets fifty cents Friday evening, Oct. 28th we are to have as our guests, the Christian churches of the city. Rev. M. F. Mitchell, Rev. Baxter Duke, and Rev. A. W. Jacobs, with their respective choirs, will be in charge of the services.

The celebration and the observance, will close Sunday, Oct. 30th with three special services. Dr. Raymond C. Brooks, former member of the faculty of Pomona College, and who is now the president of the Cumnock School in Los Angeles, will be the speaker at 11 a. m. At 3:30 p. m. we are to have as our guests the members of the Union Usher Board, who will render a special program. At 7:30 p. m. the choir under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Frederick, will render a musical program, along with a speaker on: 'World Peace". You are cordially invited to worship with us at all times.

Card of Thanks

The family of the late Williams Hurd who passed Sept. 30th wishes to thank Rev. James, their neighbors, and many friends for their expressions of sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings; acts of kindness and donation of cars. Also we wish to thank the Peoples Funeral Home for their excellent service; the Golden State Insurance Company for their prompt attention during the illness and following the death of our dear one.

Signed
MRS. K. B. HURD and

Sunday is Men's Day at Zion Temple

This coming Sunday, October 30th, a splendid Men's Day Program will be presented, featuring talented artists from various church organizations at both morning and night services. The theme of the day will be "CO-OPERATION".

Reverend O. V. Hall of the Isreal Baptist church will be the principal speaker at 11 o'clock service. This young minister is rapidly building a reputation for himself as a dynamic speaker. Come out and hear him. Music for this service will be furnished by the Saint Paul Baptist Sr. quartette, the Wicks quartette; soloists Mr. M. Stanton and Norris J. Stokes, member of the cast of "Run, Little Chillun".

The evening program, beginning at 8 P. M. will present a number of outstanding soloists; among them Mr. Broadenax former teacher at Tuskegee Institute and leader of a Jubilee Singer's group; Mr. Peters, sweet-voiced gospel singer of McCoy Memorial Baptist church, Mr. Curtis Creighton, Robert Manley and John Elmo Walton. Short addresses on the theme "CO-OPERATION" will be rendered by Messrs Duval and Jones. This program promises an evening of genuine entertainment and uplift. Public cordially invited.

Card of Thanks

In loving memory of our father and father-in-law, we express our deepest appreciation to the many friends of the late Orestes Murphy, pioneer citizen, during illness and death.

The deceased parted this life Sept. 30th, and was buried from Conner-Johnson Mortuary, Oct. 6th.

GOLDEN STATE MUTUAL GETS WARM WELCOME FROM CHICAGO THRONG

Stress Point That Windy City Has Plenty of Room for Company

By Cary B. Lewis

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 27—The Golden State Mutual Insurance company, Los Angeles, Calif., was extended welcome by the citizens of Chicago, Monday night at Pilgrim Baptist Church, also Rev. J. C. Austin and members of various fraternal and social organizations. The addresses and welcoming remarks were interspersed by the music of the two choirs o fthe church, senior and gospel, and two of Chicago's outstanding musical artists.

Rev. R. C. Keller, assistant pastor of the church presented the Rev. J. C. Austin whe represented E. H. Carey, master of ceremonies. The first welcome was delivered by Hon. Robert Miller, newly elected "Mayor of Bronzeville" and others to follow were R. M. Turner, trustee of Pilgrim Church; J. E. Mitchem, Chicago Negro Insurance Association; Alvin Poole, Chicago Negro Undertaker's Association, Mrs. Fannie O. Baxter, vice president of the Woman's Federated Clubs; Carl Hansberry, NAACP; Ellis Stewart, Supreme Liberty Life Insurance Company and Atty. William Temple, president of the Cook County Bar Association.

The speakers emphasized the point that there was plenty of room in the city of Chicago for another insurance company and that it was time for the Race to join hands in business efforts to make room for employment for the boys and girls who are graduating from our high schools and colleges.

Quite the most enjoyable part of the program was the appearance of two artists on the program, Mme. Thelma Wade Brown soprano, who took the lead in the rendition of "Sampson" at Orchestra Hall several months ago, rendered beautifully, "I Will Extoll Thee" and as an encore used "Calm As the Night". She was accompanied by Mrs. Goldie Guy Martin. Mme. Brown was charmingly gowned in black velvet.

MR. BEAVERS SPEAKS

Mr. Beavers, the speaker of the evening declared that he was highly honored and said: "My company is glad to join the crusade with other companies to get the money that rightfully belongs to us and these expressions of welcome coming from so many organizations, including our own Chicago Negro Insurance associations, evidences a new day in Negro business. We come to open the door of opportunity for employment. We now give employment to over 200 and our company ranks ninth among the hundred companies that are doing business in California."

"Most of you no doubt read of the declaration made by a certain company in New York in which it declared that they did not solicit business from Negroes. We believe you will join us in saying if they don't want us in New York, they can't have us in Illinois. We are certainly convinced that with a united front such as indicated by this meeting here tonight, we can accomplish a great good for our Race and make a much needed improvement in our economic status."

Quinn Adds 65,000 Votes to Primary Quarter Million

Following two weeks of intensive campaigning for County Assessor John R. Quinn, candidate to succed himself in office, Quinn headquarters report pledges of 65,000 additional votes.

These new votes, added to the 250,000 which Quinn received in the primaries, are probably sufficient to elect Quinn easily, headquarters officials said. However, volunteers workers intend to continue their efforts in Quinn's behalf and to pile up half a million votes at the November elections.

Meanwhile, Assessor Quinn is being deluged with invitations to speak before various civic, philnathropic and religious groups. Because the duties of the Assessor's off ice are numerous, Quinn is able to accept only a small percentage of the requests, headquarters said, but a large Speakers Bureau has been established to present educational talks in Assessor Quinn's place.

Besides explaining the methods employed by the County Assessor's office, these individual speakers are stressing the fact that the office is non-partisan and that Quinn, because he has done this type of work for twenty-five years is emintly fitted for the position.

to relinquish this notion because of circumstances.

He married early. He is the father of three children, the eldest of which is now in college. The ties of family life, with the building of a home and accumulation of income property were not so binding as to exclude the dominant idea of his life.—To Make the Most of Himself. For eighteen and a half years he has been a clerk at the postoffice. He was not content to make this an end of his accomplishments. Night after night—days off and in between times he applied himself; working at his job, building his home with his own hands and studying, ever studying something. He had an idea of becoming a realtor and so engaged himself in learning that business, even becoming attached to a local office.This did not quite satisfy him.

Having a natural gift of speech with a rich vocabulary thru constant study, he finally centered his entire thought on becoming an attorney. Perhaps it was the cruel injustices that his people suffer thru mis- or no-application of the laws of the land that was the deciding factor in the choice of his profession—for certainly those who know him best know that he is ever a champion of the weak.

He studied law at South Western University, and the L. A. College of Law finishing there last summer.

Approached on his attitude toward his work Mr. Denton made this remark:

"I don't intend to just take any kind of a case. Cases that would tend to demoralize, that react against the best interest of society in the defense thereof, I would not take!"

Mr. Denton will practice in this city. Announcement of the location will be made at a later date. He resides at 1026 E. 23 St.

CHATTER AND . SOME NEWS

By HELEN F. CHAPPELL

Society Editor

When Joyce Kilmer (author of "Trees") was killed in France, his wife, Aline, assuaged her grief with a memorable poem on laughter which closed with the lines:

"Will he take away the thorns from under the pot, and send me cold and supperless to bed;

He has been good to me, I know he will not: He has given me to keep a little foolish laughter,

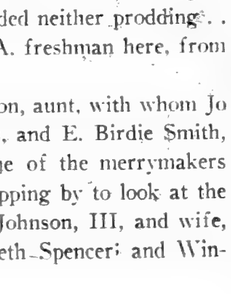
And I shall not lose it, even when I am dead."

. . .I pass the lines on to you because the fall has brought so much grief and disappointment. I'm thinking particularly of a very brilliant and personable young fellow who set a goal for himself years ago . . .and through an unforseen twist of circumstances fell short in the final try. I do hope he keeps his spirit up and girds himself to out right for the very best of us all the time. Laughter is the best preserver of courage . . .and this boy has plenty of it . . .that's why we're still betting on him. Tell you later.

ACCENT ON YOUTH

Haven't you always found that play is one of the best ways to keep in tune with the times? . . .Especially with these "Jitterbug" times. Saturday evening it was the "most-est" fun to be hostess-"impressario" (along with Almena Davis) in introducing to the younger of the Denver, Colorado . . .and she's studying engineering! It was fun because Jo sold herself instantly to every guest with the very first "Howdy-do". Among those present to do honor to Jo were ace pigskin toter Kenny Washington; Woodrow Strode who's temporarily on crutches as the result of an injury suffered in a practice scrimmage but has certainly suffered no loss of popularity. He's got -in the language of the streets--"what it takes" to make friends and hold them . . .Bill Lacefield, track star, who's as assuming as he was before the very recent trip to Germany representing the good old U. S. A.

Others were U. C. L. A. co-eds Viola Braeley, Margo over at the verynext opportunity. Things won't come tha Waugh and Lena Edwards, young artist and Lacefield's glest; L. A. C. C. co-eds Gwen Davis and June Bradley, the latter being the heartbeat of Kenny and one of the youngerset that one likes more at each meeting: Lennie and Edwin Pettie, model couple of the young marrieds; Joyce Dancer and Dunbar Hunt, Vernon Spaulding, Francis Comfort, Erline Edwards, George Cushnie, Lois Evans, Johnny Randolph, and Bayliss Strode, brother of Woodrow. It has never been mine to have a more pleasurable task than helping to entertain a more congenial and fun-loving group who needed neither prodding . . younger set Jo Gaines, U. C. L. A. freshman here, from . . .nor restraining.



Mesdames Ethel Ethel Johnson, aunt, with whom Jo is making her home; Ethel Jones, and E. Birdie Smith, whose lovely home was the scene of the merrymakers were sponsors of the affair. Dropping by to look at the youngsters were Barrister Ivan Johnson, III, and wife, Dorothy, with guest, Mrs. Kenneth Spencer; and Winsor Jones.

AND OY LOVE

We're congratulating Garth Adams who took unto himself a wife Sunday afternoon at half after five . . . . She's the former Constance Scott and as charming as her smile . . .And Dr. John Edmond Cooper whose marriage to the former Mrs. Rosetta Evans has been announced. It happened in Yuma, Arizona on September 1, 1937 . . . Dr. Coope ris a native Californian, one of our best dentists, and a former Wilbeforcean which makes him "tops" with me at any time. Mrs. Cooper comes from the "Show Me" State and is socially known as a member of Club De Solteras . . .Both couples have everybody's best wishes for just yeas and years of happiness.

John and Helen Riddle are "infanticipating" again. This week's guest list includes Howell E. Scott of Kansas City who's visiting his aunt, Mrs. A. E. Williams, of Yale Street, Pasadena; Mmes. Florence L. Hutchinson and Ethel Ganer of Fresno who attended the Woman's Political Study Clubs convention . . . and came in to look the "West's Best" plant over . . .The James L. STYLE CHATS

FOR THIS WEEK'S STYLE CHAT . . .we substitute some beauty lines on hands by Roberta Nelson Aikens, supervisor and instructor in the Walker College of Beauty Culture, Kansas City. Says Mrs. Aikens, "One thing that makes everything simpler about the care of the hands is that we don't have to bother about dry or oily skin. We wash oor nands so continuohsly that we are bound to wash away the natural oils. If tne hands are oily, it is best to give them a greaseless lotion. If they are moist or clammy, one of the liquid treatments should be used. Most of the time, what they really need is a good nourishing cream massaged into the hands before retiring (Always smooth the skin back). Massaging it down on the fingers is one of the quickest means of acquiring wrinkles . . . which no women consciously courts or wants . . .the best abettor of avoiding these undesirable creases is a pair of gloves.

Legend has it that the Queen of Spain, centuries ago, slept with her hands wrapped in poultices and fastened to the head of the bed. Certainly if a queen deems beautiful hands worth such punishment, we shouldn't mind the time it takes for lubricating ours before retiring and sleeping in a pair of soft cotton gloves. Be sure to select gloves that are at least two sizes too large. Whatever you use, before going to bed let your hands enjoy complete relaxation. The fingers are loose ends of the nervous system and should rest during the night. Wringing the hands is recommended for relieving nervous tension and ridding them of a drawn or tired look. As for bleaching, almost any good hand cream will do it very gently however, one of the advertised bleaching lotions or creams should be used by those who want a thorough bleach.

If you don't want a bleach this equipment along with your regular manicure kit will suffice: a lotion, a softening cream, and a finishing cream. It goes without saying that soap is the best cleanser.

George Carver Club Presents Leslie Browne

The George Carver Fellowship Club presented Leslie Calvin Browne, lyric tenor, in recital Sunday afternoon, October 23, in the auditorium of the First A. M. E. Church at Eighth and Towne avenue.

A representative group of music lovers and patrons listened to Mr. Brown who rendered a five part program which reached its climax in the fourth part with his interpretation of Mana Zucca's "Nichano." The recital was effectively ended with Negro spirituals arranged by Johnson, Dawson and Brown.

The recital marked Mr. Brown's first appearance in Los Angeles since his return from the East where he studied in the New England Conservatory in Boston. He was accompanied by Chauncey Reynolds.

Crossley Ranch Home Meeca for Younger Set

The desert home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crossley in Palm Springs has become the mecca of the younger set of Southern California for week-end parties since the return of their daughters, Marge and Yvonne, who vacationed in Monrovia during the summer with their grandmother.

For the last two week-ends, the Pace Setters, a social club, have been the Crossley's guests. Among them: Lawrence Mitchell of Pasadena with Jerome Jackson and Frank Young, James Scott and Eddie Roland. Palm Springs' hosts included Albert Gauff, Leon Crossley and Emile Rieus; and the Missess Cecile Heser, Dorothy Pierre, and Ruth Martin who are spending the winter as guests of Misses Crossley and who will resume their studies in Howard University in February.

PASADENA SECTION

MUSIC and DRAMA

Southern California's glamourous opera season is at hand; and will open, in all its brilliance with the Saturday, November fifth performance of the much-heralded "Andrea Chenier". Songbird Elizabeth Rethberg will appear in the leading role before a sold-out house.

Los Angeles Shrine Auditorium will be the scene of the opening as well as ensuing performances. You are urged to procure tickets for these stellar offerings in good time. Telephone or visit the Shrine Auditorium box office.

AND Pasadena's citizenry who have not yet seen Hall Johnson's superb opus: "Run, Little Chillun" had best run themselves as well as their children, down to the Mayan Theatre in Hill Street to witness as thoroughly entertaining a dramatic piece as ever graced New York's Broadway. I found its overwhelming naturalness, its telling action, its admirably chosen cast, the deeply religious fervor of its unforgettable music, the reasons paramount for the tremendous popularity that has followed it unceasingly since the opening night.

To see it is to burst with pride for Negro actors and Negro musicians; and here's a bet you'll come away humming that catchy, yet elusive tune: "Run, Little Chillun."

FORTHCOMING

And of very great importance to Southern California music lovers is the recital presentation of the widely-known dramatic soprano, Ernestine Jones-Wade.

That Mme. Jones-Wade is in the top rank of concert artists is an indisputable fact—especially so when one considers her background of notable artistic achievements.

All of us will want to go along to hear this artist when on Tuesday evening, November 8 the choir of Second Baptist church will present Mme. Jones-Wade in a brilliant recital. The event will take place in the main sanctuary of the church. For additional information contact members of the choir or the Second Baptist Church, Griffith Avenue at 24th street.

ATTENTION CHILDREN

At the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena, 230 South Los Robles Avenue the following children's plays will be presented: "Sir James M. Barrie's immortal "Peter Pan", Friday, November 11; Friday, December 16, Frances Hodgson Burnett's the "Little Princess" will be given and on Friday, February 3, 1939 a juvenile audience will sit entraptured before John Ruskin's "King of the Golden River."

Matinees will be held at 2:30 o'clock; while evening performances will begin at 8:00.

Parents are urged to make it possible for their children to attend at leastone of these forthcoming productions. Inasmuch as the performances are open to the public a fine opportunity exists herein whereby your child's personality may be well-grounded and enhanced. Single admissions are nominally priced; and may be secured at Vroman's Book Store.

Leslie Brown, tenor, came forward to the concert platform of the 8th and Towne Avenue A. M. E. Church to become one of the first of the season's recitalists. His program, given last Sunday afternoon to a large and appreciative audience included Rodolfo's Aria from "La Boheme" (Puccini); and a number of other well presented arias from the standard operas. Gluck, Handel, and Pergolesi were ably interpreted.

His spirituals, arranged by celebrated Negro composers, were rendered with an exquisite charm that left little if anything to be desired. Mr. Browne should go far in the world of music with his exceptional vocal ability.

He is a former student of the Boston Conservatory of Music and is at present a student of Roland Paul, vocal pedagogue in Hollywood.

Members of the Hall Johnson Quintet: W. O. Davis, Maricott Matthews, tenors; Joseph James, Jester Hairston, Baritones, Ernest Baskette, Bass, assisted by Contralto Willie Mays and Alberta Mayo-James, accompaniste, presented a musical gem of a program on Sunday afternoon last in the main sanctuary of the Avalon Christian Church, Los Angeles.

Hall Johnson himself was the capable master of ceremonies; and under his inimitable direction the fivesome sang such well-known songs as "Go Down, Moses", "Nobody Knows the Trouble I See" and "Keep a-inchin' Along" together with the poignant "Mother O' Mine," rendered in beautiful style, "Sweet and Low" and the Negro sermon "Exhortation."

All traditional Negro airs were skillfully arranged by Hall Johnson. Original poems and solos by Jester Hairston and Joseph James respectively, further delighted the audience. Mrs. Melba Hannah, church pianist, played incidental music during the programme. Pasadenan, Mrs. Frances Johnson and family are related to the far-famed musician, Hall Johnson.

Mrs. Blanche Duncan, well-known Pasadenan, is instituting a class in French conversation and drama. Classes meet each Monday and Thursday at 1:00 o'clock and at 4:00 o'clock. Interested persons may inquire or attend. Professor Marcel Lamour is the instructor. Classes meet in the Garner Center, 470 Blake Street.

Tonight at 8:30 P. M. members of the L. A. Art and Charity Club will present the well-known soprano artist, Leola C. Longress in a benefit recital.

The People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma Streets will be the scene of the musical event.

The worthy organization, the L. A. Art and Charity Club has long been engaged in humanitarian work-helping the needy students of art both local and national.

Tickets for the recital are nominally priced at thirty-five cents. Members of the club ask that you come out and "Help them to help others."

Town Hall Forum Opens at Pasadena's Scott M. E.

By NORMAN H. DUNCAN

Pasadena citizens were treated to a splendid educational innovation with the opening of the Scott Methodist Episcopal church Town Hall Forum last Sunday evening, October 23.

Subject for the evening's discussion was "Whethre Negro Americans". Los Angeles Urban League secretary, Floyd Covington as first speaker for the Forum, arrested attention with his commendable address--serving to awaken the assembly as to a possible solution to the race problem. Mr. Covington cited the need for us to "ualify, Specify, Justify, Typify, Rectify and Satisfy".

Mrs. Charlotta Bass, California Eagle editor, stated that Negro artists are helpless without the support of a business man of an established calibre. The forceful journalist, by dint of a swell- delivered address, gave rise to a barrage of questions from the audience.

The Rev. Baxter Carroll Duke, minister to the Avalon Christian church, gave the closing talk of the evening wiht his outline of a spiritual approach to the question broached that evening--"Whither, Negro Americans".

Though yet a new idea in Pasadena's Civic life, the "Town Hall Forum", instigated by the Reverend Karl E. Downs, minister to Scott M. E. church, every evidence si given that it will become an eagrely awaited educational event for each month that it is heralded.

Crowds Throng Friendship Baptist for Sunday Services

Much interest was manifest in the services at Friendship Baptist Church last Sunday. This interest began in the Sunday Church School with the largest attendance for some time.

The day was bright with sunshine and the old and young took ample advantage of this fact. The lesson subject: "Our Day of Rest," was discussed in a spirit of real joy.

Among the large attendance for the morning's service, were many visitors, among them: Mrs. Corinne Johnson, Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. E. Ridley, Oakland, California; Mr. A. Lynch, Denver, Colorado.

The sermon delivered by the Pastor: "The Two Hearts and Their Issues" was enjoyed by all. In response to the pastor's invitation to membership many persons joined the Church.

At the morning services children are cared for by the nurses furnished by the Junior Church, Mrs. B. Corine Carter, supervisor.

The Junior Church holds its meetings each Wednesday from 7:00 o'clock until 8:00 o'clock with large members in attendance. Subject for discussion "What Can Young People Do To Make Worship More Real?"

Mrs. Elwood Hunter, President of the B. Y. P. U., is rapidly developing that department; and solicits the aid of the older members in putting it up to greater heights. The Pastor's evening message: "The Passion of Jesus for Lost Souls" was taken from the young Rulers approach to Jesus.

The pastor, the Reverend W. D. Carter, and choir members, took care of the Forty-Eighth Anniversary Service of the Second Baptist Church, Riverside on Tuesday evening of last week.

The first Sunday in November will be "Every Member at Church Sunday" or "Harvest Homecoming Day" at "Friendship. Each family in keeping with our custom is expected to bring their basket dinner—enough for themselves and some for neighbors and friends.

Chest Plans Program in Pasadena

Mexican dances—interpreting the colorful, richly costumed dances of Spain, South America and Mexico, in their original pattern, will appear on the stage of the Lincoln School, Lincoln Avenue and Peoria streets, on Friday, tmorrow evening, at 7:00 o'clock when the Community Chest of Pasadena assisted by the Community Sing Association, will present a varied and interesting program. Also included will be a speaker and an interesting double feature film. There will be no admission charge.

The program is part of the social welfare work being carried on as a part of the 18th Annual Community Chest Campaign in Pasadena, November 1-10. These fields of activity include child care, health, youth training, and family welfare as well as care for the aged.

$270.000 has been set as the goal for which the campaign heads are striving--as this is the minimum amount required to adequately carry on the work in the 30 Chest agencies during 1939.

The public is cordially invited to attend the mammoth entertainment on Friday night--planned to be one of the most outstanding throughout the Chest campaign.

AME Pasadena has Fine Program

"Gratitude for the Enjoyment of Gracious Benefits," will be the theme of the Reverend J. M. Brown's sermon to the congregation of First A. M. E., Pasadena, this Sunday morning, October 30. There will be also a special musical program by the adult choir under the direction of Dr. J. H. McRiley. Mrs. Vivian McRiley will occupy her customary place at the church organ.

With Sunday Schoolt beginning promptly at 9:30, Walter Worrill capable superintendent; the Reverend E. M. Scott, Adult Bible Class teacher; Allen Endeavor at 6:30 with Moulton Johnson as leader, a fine program of religious worship is consistently offered.

'The Habit of Cheerfulness" is the minister's subject for the 7:45 P. M. evening worship period. At this time there will be a special gospel sing by the choir.

Prayer and class services are held each Wednesday evening.

On Thursday evening there will be a special program in the lecture room and social hour in the social hall of the church. Girls in the popularity contest will be especial guests of honor. Everyone is welcome.

DID YOU KNOW—One of the longest conventions in America's history was the Second International Convention of Marcus Garvey's U. N. I. A., held in 1921 for one month.

Business and Professional Body Holds Meeting in Pasadena

Members and interested persons filled the rooms of the Chicago Union Charity Club house on Tuesday, last for the regular meeting of the Pasadena Business and Professional Association.

Dr. Brandon A. T. Bowlin, president; and James M. Penn, secretary of the orgnaization, were present to open the meeting. Among business discussed was a plan to have a joint breakfast with members of the Women's Professional group--also a Pasadena organization.

An advertising campaign was suggested; and vice-president Herman Smith, came forward as the chief donor to the campaign.

Among the members and friends present were the Father and Mrs. Alfred J. Wilkins, Mrs. Clara Brown, Mrs. Mayme Reeves, Mrs. Ollie Ann Robinson, Dr. Edna Griffin, Reverends J. W. Coleman and S. W. Ford, Messrs. Carl Echols and Tait, of the "Pasadena Citizen"; J. A. Billups, Cecil Davis, Stanford Williamson and many others.

Members of the executive board, including Dr. Brandon A. T. Bowlin, Herman Smith, James M. Penn, Dr. Edna Griffin, Dr. J. H. McRiley, Mrs. Clara Brown, James Woods, Mrs. Ollie Ann Robinson, Ed Saunders, Cecil Davis and George Garner met at the home of the president, Dr. Bowlin, to plan definite schedule of meetings. The first and third Tuesday of each month, will be meeting days with the time scheduled from 8:30 to 10 p. m.

A better method of co-operation with race enterprise is stressed, in the main, as the organization's aim.

Scott M. E. Has Full Program

Sunday was preceded by a week of enthusiastic activity at the Scott Methodist Episcopal Church. A new feature was introduced in the midweek prayer service in the form of a phonograph recording seminar.

Last wtek's seminar was conducted by an eastern religious leader, W. E. J. Gratz; while members of the congregation and other interested persons will hear this week, H. M. McPherson secretary of the Board of Education, Chicago, Illinois.

According to Reverend Karl E. Downs, minister of the church these records are made specially for the Scott M. E. Church's midweek prayer service.

All reports concerning the three-day Festival, held at the Church Community Recreational Center, have it that the event was a phenomenal success.

For his sermon on last Sunday morning, Reverend Downs chose the subject: "A Fugitive from God", covering the career of the Biblical Jonah.

W. A. Perry, financial secretary reported the success of the "Every Dollar Campaign"—less than $200.00 is needed before the goal is reached.

Announcement is made by Mrs. Karl Downs of the "City Wide Musical" a program planned to exhibit Pasadena's outstanding talent among youth and adults. This program will be given on Sunday, October 30th in the main sancutary of the church. The public is cordially invited to be present at 7:30 P. M. to witness this interesting event.

LOS ANGELES AND PASADENA SOCIETY

By GEORGE GARNER

California's unforgettable moon floods are upon us now . . . that light whose silvery paleness gives fey beauty to verdure and wooded places, silently washes down the white houses along the way to an aspect at once ghostlike and beautiful.

Sunday afternoon last in the elegantly appointed Garfield Avenue residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Mills a number of Pasadenans were present to honor Mrs. Lula Rux of New York City. Host and hostesses to the delightful going away reception and supper party were Mr. and Mrs. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. William Booker in the receiving line: Mrs. Rhoda C. Harris, Mrs. B. Corinne Carter, Mrs. Rosetta Stewart, Mrs. Henry Edwards, Mrs. William Booker, Mmes. C. Mills, Waldon Slater, Milton Grooms and the Misses Pearl Booker and Emma Spencer.

The profusion of seasonal blooms that bowered the Mills' home were gifts o fthe James Woodses and the Waldron Slaters. Guests included Messieurs et Mesdames: Will Prince, Frank Prince, T. H. Parrish, Henry E. Burton, Van Williams, George Harris, Clarence Mills, Thomas Burch, Adam Burton, Henry Edwards, Charles Simpson, Waldron Slater, Milton Grooms, C. Johnson, Arthur Newsom, Jordan Willbourne, Herbert Lampkins, Roy Turner, William Corry, Rev. W. D. Carter, Fletcher Smith, William Lawson, William Butler, James Woods, Della Gilmore, James Robinson, William C. Gilchrist, Adam Fuller, James Sims, J. Cummings, Corinne B. Hicks, E. Smith, Irene Smith, Augusta Horn, Viola Jackson, Edith Dotson, Mildred Jones, Ruby McKnight, Lucille Johnson, D. M. Hughes, M. Hopkins, Hattie Stephens, Ruth Viser, Pinkie Taylor, Rochelle Vaughn, Ada Irby Brownlee, Lelia Belton, Homer Rowans, L. Williams, A. Bryant, Loretta Grant, George Ohmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry, of iting

100 Yale Street, entertained last week with a supper party to honor visiting Chicagoans .Mmes. Richards and Rooks.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lon Henry, Mrs. Hazel Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins, Mrs. Bennie Richards, George Armelin and Mark Jenkins.

To fete "sotobenars" LaRheeta Clariette and Richard Grant, Mrs. Julia Robinson-Lockheart opened her Forest Avenue house on Sunday evening to a clever cocktail shower and linen give, asking in about thirty Angelenos and Pasadenas to help with the merriment. In the witches and goblin motif Julia had prepared the punch and hors d'ourvres board, jolly pumpkin centerpiece filled with flame coloured dahlias, the bride and groom appearing jack o'lantern fashion from two corners of the room. all other accoutrements in the brough keeping with the Hallowe'en idea.

Rev. J. C. Coleman Confers with Directors on Religious Education

Arrived in Pasadena from the Annual Convention of the Internatoinal council of Religious Educatio last February, Rev. J. W. Coleman, pastor of the Community Baptist Church, has through his membership held himself on equal standing with many of the pastors and religious leaders of the other race.

The Community Baptist Church, according to its rapidly increasing membership, is serving as an outlet for the many contacts and experiences that Rev. Coleman has enjoyed in the field as pastor, student and director.

A very attractive program is being offered among them: A music department, consisting of three choirs; a church school; a school religious educatoin; the department of industrious relations, which includes free employment service; the bureau commission on better race relations and a church forum on community problems. A youth department is also included.

The church services are held at 11 o'clock morning and 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Sunday schol is held at 9:30 and the Young Peoples Socity meets each Sunday evening at 6:30. Workers' Council and Training Class, Mid Week prayer and praise service, choir rehearsal and Deacon-Trustee meetings serve to round out the church week.

JITTERBUG DANCE

Jitterbug steps and Lambeth Walks will lead to Pasadena's Dayton Street Hall on the 27th of the month — Today — when members of the Crown City American Legion Post No. 326 sponsor a pre-Hallowe'en dancing party.

George Brown, California's ace swing maestro and his Ebony Collegians are to furnish the swing music for tonight's dance. MEANWHILE:

Los Angeles County will dance at the historic Elks Auditorium on Hallowe'en Eve to the incomparable music of Les Hite and his famous orchestra.

CROWN CITY COMMENT

"The habit of looking on the best side of every event is worth more than a thousand pounds a year" . . .Samuel Johnson

For many years there has been a steady procesion of good people into the city hall and other administrative buildings of Pasadena and the reasons for these visits are many. One civic-minded gentleman may see the need for a fire station, and another, disgusted with organization efforts, seeks to remedy conditions in his section of the city by making contacts privately.

The list could be expanded many times with reasons—some good and others absurd; but the fact remains that there is a desire for better conditions and every citizen is looking onward and upward.

There surely must be some method by which our needs may be studied and presented properly. Forums have been looked to as one sure method of thrashing out civic problems but there is a danger of the conclusions being too general unless the discussion is carried on through several meetings until definite conclusions have been made. The clubs are doing a noble work; but there efforts are liable to be hampered by the same pitfalls as forums. The church plays a very important part; but the job is a little too big to expect the religious organizations to handle them alone.

A possible way out in our study of civic problems may be in the use of political campaign methods. We always extend the hand of fellowship during the election times—asking our favored candidates to meet with us and speak to our groups. The practice is fine; but a great mistake is made after election day is past. We soon forget our candidates—in and out of office. The men and women in office are fine, public-spirited people, and are equally as willing to meet with us after, as well as before election. Every forum and club, and joint-meetings, between our many organizations, will profit by inviting our officials into our midst to aid us in our discussion and study. We will profit by doing this from election to election — taking care to arrive at definite conclusions bolstered by action.

Which one of these men will receive my vote? This question confronts every voter regularly; and it seems that many of us are as regularly puzzled.

A recent judgment by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, in the Superior Court, should have opened the eyes of many voters on the question of how to vote—even though the judge is not up for re-election.

The question involved in court was whether or not a man must support his mother-in-law. The technical answer was "No"; yet, Mr. Lindsey expressed his practical answer by stating that it is the duty of the married daughter to use a portion of the earnings of the husband (which is community property), to aid an aging mother. Look for this sort of humanitarian quality in your candidates; and notice their conduct while in office—then vote accordingly.

"Hinshaw for Congress"—a good slogan for the man who is interested in good government—a good slogan by a man of strong and noble family background. His family represents a long line of strict abolitionists—with members of every profession represented. Hinshaw has never gone against the things for which his family stood. A good Republican can vote for this good Republican and feel good about it.

Directly in line with the aforementioned personality is our assemblywoman, Eleanor H. Miller of whom legislators have said: "Miss Miller has a record for fidelity and ability in service that is not exceeded by another member of the Assembly" . . ."She has been a strong champion in committee and on the floor in all battles for moral conditions in California" . . ."Her sincerity, her vision and her keen judgment in all things where human rights are involved are most proverbial."

Here within our midst— or away at Sacramento— this modest woman reflects daily the type of political leadership we should and must have . . .George Garner.

Jury Hears Sordid Details of San Diego Wife-Murder

SAN DIEGO. (By Mrs. E. B. Wesley)—The sensatoinal murder trial of Thomas Simmons retired navy man and war veteran, accused of the hatchet-slaying of his wife, Isola Newman Simmons, was brought before a superior court jury in Judge Gordon Thompson's court here last Friday.

Taking the witness stand in his own behalf, Simmons, 44-years old, testified that he hacked his wife with a hatchet, because she had cut his throat first. The woman died of multiple cuts about the face and body.

Simmons claimed that his wife had resisted his advances and had slashed at his throat when he became insistent. The gruesome killing occurred about 4 a. m. on the morning of July 13, and alarmed neighbors for blocks around the residence at 631 Cosby street.

Simmons is being tried on the facts of the murder case and should he be found guilty will be tried for insanity.

It was at first believed that Simmons, realizing the horrible deed he had commited, attempted to take his own life before police arrived, and turning the weapon on himself. He remained in the County Hospital in a critical state for several weeks.

Mrs. Simmons was the daughter of Mrs. M. Newman, a prominent Diegan pioneer family.

Deaths

In this city on Oct. 23, 1938, H. Quittie Davie, a native of So. Carolina, beloved husband of Ruth Davie, son of Mrs. Anne Davie, brother of Mrs. Sarah McPherson, Isaiah and Rufus Davie of San Diego. Mr. Davie recently came to this city from Washington, D. C. to take up permanent residence.

Funeral services will be in charge of Tate Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mary Smith, long time, well respected citizen of San Diego, died Oct. 23 at a local hospital. Mrs. Smith is the mother of Viola Johnson, Henry C. Johnson, Sylvester Smith, and Mattie Coffe of this city. Tate Funeral Home is in charge of burial arrangements.

The passing of Mrs. Broyles Haig on Monday has been reported.

Louis Softball Team Draws Crowd

An estimated crowd of more than 2700 gathered at Monroe Field last Friday night to greet the heavyweight champion of the world and watch his softball team in action. In ten innings the San Diego All-Stars were defeated by the Brown Bombers, headed by Louis at first base, 4-2. The game was full of thrills and excitement and the crowd was larger than has even attended an event at Monroe Field. An added attraction was an entertainment by theatrical stars from George Ramsey's Douglas Hotel Creole Palace. Louis and his players were guests of Mr. Ramsey afterward and standing room was at a premium.

Visitors and Visitants

Mrs. Iva Wickliffe, fashionable designer, is spending a few days in Los Angeles with friends. Mrs. Rosa Lee Cobb, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roxie Richardson, left for Santa Barbara Wednesday to spend a few days with another daughter, Mrs. Jean Ray Walls, former resident of this city.

Mrs. Fayetta Moore of Los Angeles, was the week end guest of her mother, Mrs. Lee Sapp and her sister, Mrs. Burnetta Erskip on 30th street.

Clubs

The Aztec Woodsonian club, whose membership is composed of men and women students and graduates of San Diego State College, is participating in the Vocational Folks' Day to be held in November at San Diego Night School. Plans to have two persons speak from the subject "Negro Life at San Diego State College" were approved. 25 Negro students are now attending San Diego State, the largest number ever in attendance at one time.

In observance of the anniversary of its organization, the Best Yet club was host at a five course dinner Thursday night at Cramer's hall. Music and dancing enlivened the event. The regular meeting was held Saturday night at the home of the president, Mr. Edward G. Rollins.

Just-a-Mere club, of which Reginald Duncan is president, met with Virginia Clark on Webster avenue Friday night, October 21. After transaction of business, a panel discussion of international affairs was heartily entered into by the members. Plans were made to have a booth in the Y. P. C. A. bazaar next month.

Churches

As Sunday was the first quarterly meeting of the new conference year, the service at 11 a. m. was in charge of Rev. H. Francis McClure, presiding elder, who presented an eloquent sermon on "Sublime Recapitulation". Rev. Blackmore, pastor of the Union Church in La Jolla, was a pulpit guest.

The Women's Civic League will render a pew rally Sunday. The devotionals will be conducted by Mrs. J. E. Craft, president, who will speak on "Finding God's Safety Zone in a World of Unrest." Miss Martha Nye will tell of her visit to Bethune-Cookman college on her summer's vacation from duties as principal of Stockston school.

A. M. E. Brotherhood Notes

The reporter recently returning from an extended visit to the Rocky Mountain states found the Brotherhood going ahead despite the complaints to the contrary of some. During our visit, it was our privilege to visit many churches of our own and other denominations. In none of these churches did we find a Brotherhood whose activities even approximated ours. True, some of them had made better records and louder noises, in spurts but for consistency and continuity of action not one could produce a record to compare with that of Bethel AME church in San Diego.

Since our return, meetings have been held with Brothers Owens, Henderson, J. R. Williams, Laird, Shelton and Fortier. Each of these meetings was weel attended and conducive of good for the Church and community. At the meeting of Oct. 6 held at the home of Brother Williams, a short memorial service was held for Mrs. Lulu McKinley, former member of our church, who was killed in Los Angeles.

At the meeting held at Brother Fortier's on Oct. 13, it was decided to have a Hallowe'en party in the basement of the church next Monday ngiht. There will be a fish pond with valuable prizes, a fortune telling booth, a donkey to pin the tail onto with a cash prize for the person who pins the tail in its correct place and refreshments. The public is invited to attend this party. Admission will be free.

Sunday school was called to order at 9:30 a. m. by the Supt., Mrs. Louella Robrets. A Hallowe'en party for the primary department was planned for Saturday afternoon.

Morning worship followed at 11 a. m. with the pastor Rev. J. L. Branham delivering the message. BYPU was held at 4 p. m. Mr. R. W. Lipscomb, the president was in charge. The social committee of the BYPU served refreshments in the social hall of the church.

Rev. C. H. Hampton, pastor of Bethel Baptist church and president of the Western Baptist State Convention delivered the installation sermon at 5:30 p. m. Rev. C. Johnson pastor of Zion A. M. E. church delivered the charge.

El Centro's Douglass High Shows Enrollment Increase

EL CENTRO, By W. A. Payne—The proposed extension of the Douglass High school received an added incentive this week when registration figures were made available. Both schools show a decided enrollment increase, 20 percent higher than is customary [illegible] time of the year.

[illegible]s are bing drawn for the extension which will be erected through P. W. A. funds, supplemented by the District Funds.

Additions and changes have been made in our educational roster. Miss Farlyn Lewis of Pasadena has been added to the faculty of the Washington school. She comes well recommended as a graduate of U. C. L. A.

Misses Lorena and Corene Miller of Yuma, Arizona are enrolled in the Douglass Junior college, as is Charles Cooper of Ashdown, Ark., so it seems that our name grows.

The Douglass Chronicle made its October appearance promptly. This is a monthly sheet edited by the students of the Junior College. The production is well edited; the reporters are active in reporting city activities and the close relation of community and school here make the sheet a friendly visitor. . . .

MISSISSIPPI STUDENT

Miss Ophelia Walker of Greenville Mississippi is making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Mary M. Burton. Miss Walker was graciously introduced to the younger set at a reception given in her honor by her aunt. She is a sophomore in Douglass high school.

Misses Ruby Hubert and Ruth Payne are attending San Diego State College. Messrs. James Lamb and Maurice Wiley have entered the Compton Junior College. Miss Clarice Hubert of the Imperial High schools is also a student at San Diego State.

The Parent-Teachers Association, Mrs. Sarah Maples, President, held an enthusiastic meeting last Tuesday afternoon. The principal address was delivered by County Superintendent elect Hiteman. The P.-T. A. has inaugurated a membership drive and means to build a formidable organization.

Impetus was given the work of the P. T. A. when on last Friday the Junior Class of Douglass High presented an original play "Why Join the P. T. A."—Mrs. Elizabeth McGee, author. The helpfulness of the organization was vividly shown. Short addresses were made by Mrs. Ruth P. McGregor, Mrs. Maples, and Prof. Stewart.

D. A. PRESENTED

The University Club presented District Attorney Heald as speaker at its Civic meeting last Sunday afternoon. By request Attorney Heald discussed a number of the proposed amendments to the Constitution, which will be voted upon at the November election. He discussed at length Proposition No. 1, 20, and 25.

James Robinson was soloist at the first Teachers' Institute held in the Wilson auditorium last Wednesday evening. He was accompanied by Miss Lenore Cooper.

Phillip Bancroft, candidate for the United States Senate addressed the citizens in the several Valley towns last Thursday evening. He delivered two addresses in El Centro, one in the Douglass auditorium and the other two in the Wilson School auditorium.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. W. A. Jackson returned recently from a trip that took her thru many states in the middle west, the eastern coast, and thru several of the Canadian cities gave a travelogue at the Harvest Homecoming of the Women's Civic and Improvement Club. Mrs. Jackson is president of the Community Club and the members took this occasion of greeting her and sharing some of the pleasanfries of the trip.

Mrs. Lottie Augustus, Past President of the Pacific States Temple has returned home after attendance at the Grand Lodge of Elks, Baltimore and extended visit in other sections of the country. Mrs. Augustus is well known in fraternal and church circles and very active in the affairs of her community.

HOUSING REVISION PLEA MAPPED BY BERKELEY INTER-RACE GROUP

BERKELEY. (By Ablyne Lockhart)—The annual plea for a revision of housing policies is being formulated by the liberal-minded students of the Interracial committee at the University of California," states Mr. Geroge Burcham, English descendent and Activities Director o fthe University Wesley Foundation. "All students under 21 years of age must live in approved houses. Due to the fact that there are only two dormitories on the list approved houses that will accept non-Caucasians, there have arisen a number of embarrassing situations from time to time. Chinese, Japanese and Negro students are continually complaining about the impossibility of securing living quarters near the campus."

He further commented that something must be done through educatino and action. Therefore the Wesley Center has organized a race committee to take action on such problems.

ALL NEGRO PLAN

The Little Theatre group which presents Thalian plays every Thursday for the purpose of selecting actors for the major productions of the former group, for the first time featured an all-Negro cast in Lady Gregory's Irish miracle play, "The Travelling Man". The cast was made up of Crayton Bennett, Ablyne Lockhart, Marion Goosby, and directed by Margret Ann Russell.

Bennett, with an unusual stage presence and a rich quality of vocie, sustained the difficult mood of the play. He received honor for having done hte finest piece of work of nay player seen on the stage in the past year.

Remember the Forum will be conducted on the usual fourth Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Carpe Diem Girls Club.

Mrs. P. Flowers of Atlanta, Ga., was guest of Mrs. Stella Porter Melton. She is house guest of her relatives in Berkeley.

Word comes of the passing of Mrs. Ethel James King, wife of the late Nathan King. She was a native of Shreveport, La. A sister survives. We also mourn the passing of V. Scott, who for many years was blind.

The Rev. F. D. Haynes, pastor of the Third Baptist Church in Clay and Hyde Streets, celebrated his sixth anniversary on Sunday evening. Rev. W. C. Sample of San Mateo delivered the anniversary sermon at which time the choir supported the speaker. Following the service the church proper conducted a reception in the pastor's honor at which time the various Boards and Organizations participated.

Mrs. Sallie McAustin is reported improved after a brief illness.

Mrs. Lottie Williams of Pasadena, was hostess at dinner to a number of her friends at a local Cocktail Lounge on Sunday evening. Guests were Mssrs. and Mesdames Joseph Stewart, Rogers Druitt, Ted Kenwood, Miss Adelle Porter, Messrs. Henry Cannon, J. and John Hill. After an elaborate dinner the guests were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart. Miss Williams returned to her home on Monday.

Mrs. Edna Mae Casey who is convalescing at the Haskler Farm celebrated her 17th birthday. She was agreeably surprised by her mother and relatives and was recipient of many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Nelson Williams has as her house guest her aunt, brothers and two cousins all of Le Cont La.

JAY GOULD'S COAST NEWS . AND GOSSIP

Bay Meadows off sailing with no sign of red ink . . . Everything is all set for the match race between Sea Biscuit and War Admiral except the weather. November 1 is the date in Baltimore . . . Can't understand why so many women insist on wearing big drab hats in public. It is a crime to subdue your charm and beauty.

Mae Richie, entertainer, just arrived from the Windy City, previewing her new outfit, wearing a zippy looking screw hat with a feather dangling up in the air . . . Bruce Kendly, globe trotter now in Chicago, got chesty and walked out on a big money proposition in Los Angeles, but his sweetie was heard to say, "If it suits him, it is all right with me as I am booked solid for 104 wekes which is two years in advance."

Mae Johnson of New York, Cotton Club tease dancer has 32 inch hips according to the artist's tape, which any Hollywood beauty would be proud of . . . Myrtle Bishop, entertainer, who walked out of the Alabam Nite Spot in a dispute in San Francisco, must have dulled the edge as she has been on the loose ever since, which is a long year.

Lucius Lomax, Jr., of Dunbar Hotel Cocktail fame, Los Angeles, never did so well with the gals, but the old bug has got him playing to a run . . . Saw Charlie Alexander, Los Angeles playboy now in Oakland, sprinting to Nat Earl's nite spot to catch the last show and square himself by buying a flock of mixed drinks for the pretties . . . Emma Smith, Mae Diggs, Daisy Boone, Arlene Williams, Ernestine Porter, Collen Carter, Patsy Hunter, Dorothy Webster, Connie Harris, Margaret Jones, Anelle Harris, Irma Washington and Emma Emma Wharton can do more with a tight fitting gown than the average dancer can do with a grass skirt.

Neal Johnson, globe trotter, formerly of San Francisco, is still circulating himself around New York City in his new 1938 car watching the world go by . . . Dr. Bushon connected with a New York insurance firm sends word that he is quitting the Coast for good and his address from now on will be New York. . . . Noodles Russell Smith of Seattle has been nixed out for some reason or other which has given Seattle sports a chill as Noodles is a regular guy . . . Johnny White of Detroit has an ugly rumor floating around that he has registered a flop by getting overloaded on one horse while making handbooks.

It is true that Mary Baker Moore has been vacationing thru the far East and all big cities since last June and is now at Bay Meadows in and out of the $50 machine with the very pretty Frankie Coleman who looks sharp as a tack . . . A few pocket books that new 1939 cars won't be out of their reach if the price goes mountain high, include, Pansey Spates, Lil Heart, Mrs. B. Sanderidge of Tulsa, Kitty Nelson, Beulah Robinson, Lagatha Gomez, Mabel Ramsey, Dorothy Baker, Maud Townsend, Bessie Jones and Mrs. Jackson of Jack's Tavern of Frisco, Lucille Finnely and Margaret Dodson. Money is no object when this bunch sees anything it wants.

Maude Adams and Odsesa Gaskill and Mrs. Whippy of Frisco took a flyer at Bay Meadows, had a tip on Zabra which paid $446 for a duce ticket. After looking at their money and the price on the horse, they decided not to bet. After the horse won, they took tht gate singing the blues . . . After crashing in big on the Bay Meadows races, Mrs. Eulah Andrews and Miss Katherine Homes spent the week-end in Reno . . . Marie Williams of Oakland has taken unto herself a new hubby, but doesn't seem to be able to persuade him to go across the Bay to see the ponies . . . Miss Naomi Cleveland, Miss Arazella Batts, Miss Helen Wiley of San Francisco can be seen sight-seeing at Bay Meadows and the other side of the Bridge.

FRISCO NEWS

Hannah Halah in her swell new outfit whose color delights the eyes can be seen each Sunday evening night spotting at the Bam, sipping mixed drinks and carrying a torch for her ex-hubby . . . Estelle Butler playing the night spots with a party of friends but didn't seem to be interested in any one person. . . . Mary Bentley and Helen Walker of Los Angeles can be seen playing the nite spots until the wee hours but can't seem to drink enough to get soused as they walk straight when folding time comes.

Miss Corine Lynwood has just returned from Los Angeles and entertained Mrs. Etta Mahoney from Oakland with Mrs. Etta Lynwood hostess.

Audrey Stein after having a few words with her hubby sometime ago was heard to say, "I detest a broken man; and I hope you will take a train for the West as far as it goes, and then take a boat as far as it goes, and then take a horse to the gold fi[illegible] and the first lump of gold you dig as big a cash register I may call you darling again!"

Los Angeles is a big city but Ruth Whitfield, Denny Louvette and Janie Foster could not have gotten lost as they are angling to take another dose of it and says is it is a city of pleasure . . . Wonder what happened to Zeke Williams of Berkeley. I don't see him showing any speed around the late spots on either side of the bridge.

One of Riverside's Most Colorful Characters Passes

RIVERSIDE, (By Frances M. Williams)—One of this section's most colorful characters, Mother Mays, died last Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m., with her hand clasped in a hand-shake with the pastor of her church, the Rev. A. L. Washington of Allen Chapel AME church.

Mother Mays had been ill for many months. Each week her condition was chronicled in the California Eagle. Funeral services were held Wednesday, (yesterday) in Allen Chapel A. M. E. church.

Trial Delayed

Trial of Edward Butler, accused of cutting his wife, was laid over, by order of the court, until Oct. 31.

NAACP Mass Meeting

A mass meeting, expected to attract people from all sides of Riverside, is scheduled for Nov. 20 at the Settlement House, according to announcement by the local branch of the NAACP, which met in regular monthly session at the Second Baptist church last Sunday afternoon. Speakers for the Nov. 20 affair will come from the local court house and the branch of the organization in Los Angeles. The Rev. F. H. Johnson, ex-president of the Riverside branch, was speaker at Sunday's meeting. J. T. Harvey is the present president.

16 OF 57 L. U. GRADS ENGAGED IN TEACHING

Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 28.—Records in the Registraris office here reveal that of the 57 members of the June 1938 graduating class, 16 are now engaged as teachers, one as a salesman, two as clerks, one as an assistant business manager and one as a secretary. A California youth, John Louis Mitchell, of San Mateo, holds a post in Arrow Rock, Mo.

Social

Wedding bells rang out Monday evening when Miss Catherine Stevens became the bride of Turner Parsons in a quiet ceremony, attended only by close friends, held at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. F. W. Cooper performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Beverly and daughter, Anita, were visitors in Santa Monica Sunday, attending the wedding of Miss Sylvia.

The Women's Uplifting club opened the first meeting of the year with a luncheon at the Tea Garden of its president, Mrs. Matilda Williams, 2470—10th St., Thursday.

VISITORS AT ELSINORE ARE LISTED

ELSINORE (By Anna Louise Thomas)—The Sunday School and residents of Elsinore wish Mrs. J. C. Roberts, who is confined at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hinds on E. 42nd Street of L. A. a speedy recovery.

At Davis cottage thisjuYSTg At Davis cottage visitors were Mrs. and Mrs. Edward McTay and daughter Sraah Emily Pelcde, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Smith, Jr., and Mrs. Mary Alice Allen spent the weekend at the Eucalyptus Inn Cottage of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Davis. First timers of Elsinore, formerly of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Mrs. John Brown, Noel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Durden and son, Arthur and Mr. Goodnor Durden were guests at the Brown Cottage.

MISSING VOTERS

Where were the 1,385,033 registered Californias who failed to vote in the August primary?

Sleeping, fishing or just absent minded?

Whatever the reason, the primary's tally sheets, now made known, credited 2,069,025 voters with going to the polls out of 3,3454, 058 who were entitled to vote.

Bridge Luncheon Given for Canadian

Mrs. Simmons of Monrovia entertained with a bridge luncheon Thursday at her home in Madison Avenue complimentary to Miss Beatrice Smith of Canada who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Christine Allen, West 37th Pl. Prizes were won by Mmes Mary Lindell, Homer Brothers, and Daisey Barrett.

OLD GRADS FLOCK TO KNOXVILLE CAMPUS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Old grads will return to the Knoxville college campus today for the College's annual homecoming celebration, Saturday afternoon the ancient grid rivalary between the Bulldogs of Knoxville and the Bulldogs of Fisk University.

J. CULLEN FENTRESS' GAB STUFF

WE SAW Bill Robinson, at 60 years, on the stage of the Paramount theatre the other evening. And as we watched this "young" man go thru his routine of dance steps, crack his jokes and win his audience, we were reminded of a souvenir program we saw of his sixtieth birthday party tendered by the Grand Street Boys' Association of New York last April 3.

Harvey Brooks, the pianist-composer, and I were browsing around in some of the things in the den of the Brooks' residence when we stumbled on an attractive and to-the-point story of the man called "Bojangles" by millions and "Uncle Billy" by Shirley Temple.

The souvenir program was approximately 8½ x 11 in size. The front cover featured a portrait "Bojangles", painted from life by David Immerman, the original of which was presented on Bill on the occasion of his last birthday.

A letter from Jonah J. Goldstein, president of the Grand Street Boys' Association, occupied the inside cover page. This reproduction really arrested and prepared the mind for what was to follow as one turned the pages.

Among other things, Goldstein said: "When I re-write Webster, I will change his definition of 'a birthday' so as to read: 'The day we are glad you were born'.

"You are 60 years 'young' because you are one of the fortunate few who knows the secret--that you get out of life what you put into it."

And then from two pages of reproduced congratulatory messages including Walter Winchell who wrote: "Dear Bill, It couldn't happen to a nicer guy. Your skin is brown but your heart is white. Sixty more happy birthdays," to Shirley Temple, who simply wrote "Dear Uncle Billy, Happy Birthday, Love," were good wishes from well known personages in many walks of life.

This was followed with "Presenting Bill Robinson"--his life story. We picked out a few of the more outstanding points in this picturesque and fascinating story. We quote:

"Those shining teeth are all his own . . . And Bill hasn't been sick in 40 years, except for three attacks of ptomaine poisoning . . ."

"Only a few years ago Bill gave an exhibition of athletic prowess that has gained for him the title of uncontested 'running backward' champion".

"His physical capabilities are surprising if you see Bill eat . . . Four quarts of ice cream is a daily average . . ."

"He never took a (dancing) lesson in his life . . . He can learn to interpret any song in 15 minutes . . . His favorite is Rubenstein's Melody in F . . .

The dance of the steps is his favorite and most famous routine . . . Like most of his dance routines, the step dance originated in his dreams . . ."

"He wears no taps . . . His shoes are especially made with thin wooden soles . . . Before he goes on the stage he takes a shower and changes his clothes from underwear to suit . . ."

"Because he doesn't like to have the audinece see how warm he gets, a clean towel is always kept in the wings, so that he can wipe his hands and face whenever he gets an interlude . . ."

"He earned $3500 a week for many years, and never missed a week . . . During the 17 years of their married life Mrs. Robinson has been able to direct his spending towards a few investments . . ."

"Born, the son of a Richmond, Virginia machinist, he was left an orphan before he could learn to remember either his father or mother . . . At six he decided on a career as a jockey . . . at eight . . . he picked up pennies and nickels and dimes in the beer gardens . . ."

"Just 30 years ago Marty Forkins saw the vaudeville team of Butler and Robinson, saw its possibilities . . ."

"As a special deputy sheriff of New York he carries in his vest pocket a gold badge in a diamond studded case . . .

"Bill's home is a combination refuge station and monarch's chamber . . . Someone once figured out that Bill Robinson is one of the nation's greatest philanthropists . . ."

To use his own term, "he's copasetic--that's the superlative of O. K."

THE LAUNDRY-MAN

ONE of the greatest obstacles to our progress as a group, to my humble way of thinking, is our tendency to harbor negative thoughts. We seem to have formed the habit of always looking upon the darker side of everything. Close observation through many years of business contacts with various races has forced the conclusion that this tendency exists among us to a greater degree than most other nationalities.

About five years ago, during the height of the depression, when modest homes could have bee purchased for a song and a dance, I can remember many heads of families whom I approached about buying homes. Theye were people, by the way, who were well able to make the small downpayment required at that time. Almost nivariably, their answer would be "Well—, I don't think I'd be interested in no ufficial o property now. Things is too critical along thru here.

"But you're paying rent now and you've got to live somewhere no matter how tight hitings get", I would remonstrate.

"Yeah, but the rents low, and it's going to be lower still before this Repression is over," they would croak in doleful tones. Today those same people are paying twice as much rent as they paid then; and on top of that, have a hard time finding a decent house to live in at any price, on account of the housing shortage. These instances are typical of the general thought of our masses and cause us to allow many opportunities for economic betterment to slip by us.

LOUISIANA LYNCH LAW

The description of the lynching of a half-witted Negro boy by a mob of white fiends in Ruston, Louisiana last week, published by the Pittsburg Courier, is the most revolting recital I have eevr read in my life. It seems almost impossible to believe that this vaunted American civilization would tolerate, and harbor such Neanderthal throw-backs as the members of the mob which so brutally tortured this Negro boy.

America raises her voice in holy horror at Hitler's treatment of the Jews in Germany. Article upon article has been written in fierce denunciation of his actions. But in justice to the Fuehrer, I must say that so far, I have read nothing concerning his treatment of the Jews that can match the sheer horror of this Louisiana torture execution.

It is no wonder that the Dictators have little respect for American public opinion; no wonder that they dub America the queen of Hypocrites, when she deliberately evades the passage of legislation which would outlaw such savage, medieval orgies.

If the Anti-lynching bill fails to pass at the next meeting of Congress, in the face of this atrocious outrage, we Negroes should have no further illusions as to the white man's sense of Justice, or his respect for human rights as far as we are concerned. And our only hope will be to organize and weld ourselves in one united political body, moving as one man under the direction of inspired leadership. Through such unison we will be able to bring such powerful political pressure to bear, that we can force our pleas for Justice to be heard. It seems to be the Only Way Out for our group in this country.

Young Tenor in Recital Here Nov. 1

On Tuesday evening, November1, at 8:30, in the People's Independent Church of Christ, Hall Johnson will present Charles Holland, gifted young tenor, in a recital. The program will include old English and Italian songs, a group of German lieder, Negro spirituals and modern art songs in English. Several Negro composers wlil be represented.

Mr. Holland received his early training in his native town, Norfolk, Va., and later continued his studies under some of the finest teachers in New York. He came to Los Angeles early in 136 with the Hall Johnson Choir of which he is still a member.

Mr. Holland is said, by competent critics, to be the possessor of vocal and musical gifts which should insure him a brilliant future.

(NOTE: This column is edited by J. Cullen Fentress and is sponsored by the Los Angeles branch of the Urban League. It is designed to bring to the attention of the public the work of specialists in various fields of endavor who so far have escaped the notice of the job-conscious. Contributions are solicited. Sketch Subject: FREDERICK D. CLOPTON—Furniture Manufacturer.

By JULIA CARPENTER

Not many people have the courage to leave an assured position and start out in a new field in middle-life. But Frederick D. Clopton's faith in himself and his courage in acting in conformity with that faith have been fully justified.

Clopton, a skilled furniture maker, graduate of Tuskegee Institute, seemed at first to be fated to teach his trade to others, instead of practising it himself as he really wanted to do. He stayed on at Tuskegee, after finishing there in 1912, for two years and taught wood-turning in the Institute's shops. Then followed a period of teaching manual training and mechanical drawing at the Public High School in El Paso, Texas. Twenty years ago when he and his wife first came to California, Clopton got out of teaching for a while. He worked for the Federal government as a cabinet maker in Vallejo, then for the Pacific Sash and Door Co. in Los Angeles. He went back in to teaching again as an instructor in manual training in various elementary schools in Los Angeles. He might still have been an instructor if he hadn't believed in himself enough to quit after a couple of years in the Los Angeles school system and start out on his own.

Clopton wanted to go into the business of wholesale furniture making. He didn't underestimate the difficulties, but neither was he frightened by them. Refused employment at various furniture manufacturing houses because of his color, he refused to acknowledge defeat. He set up his own business. This was begun on a small scale at first with the making of elaborate candy boxes. Later he manufactured book ends, lamps, tables and the framework and carvings on the legs of upholstered furniture. Today, Clopton specializes in the manufacture of carved period furniture. Some of those same firms who refused to employ him because he was a Negro furnish him a great deal of his business. His factory supplies the leading department stores in the city, and three interior decorators who cater primarily to the motion picture colony. Many of his pieces are designed for particular stores, who are given the exclusvie rights on their sale.

A great deal of the wood-turning is done by machine. However, the very intricate carving is done by hand. Interested in having young people take up the trade of furniture making, Mr. Clopton has himself taken the lead in this direction by training young men in his own shop. At the present time there are five of these young artisans working with him.

"Southern California is fast becoming a furniture style-center," Clopton points out. "Generally wood-carving and wood turning are trades in which opportunities are numerous. This is particularly true in Southern California. That's why more young people in this area should think seriously of these trades."

Mrs. Clopton, who manages sales for the factory, and has a thorough knowledge of every phase of the business, particularly market possibilities, emphasizes her husband's remarks. Certainly their success should encourage young people to consider their advice.

Thank God

Thank God for every bitter Cross,
Each torrent of despair,
That tossed me own the breast of God
And left me reeling there.

I'm grateful for each ray of light,
That splinters through the dark.
Each criticism and each boast
As I crawl to my mark.

Thank God for every luminous thought,
For every effort that bears fruit,
That He in me invest;
Each measure of success.

I cherish every blade of grass,
That dabs earth surface green:
Each choice book anthem every smile,
Which comes from friends serene.

Iam obliged for mother-love,
That chides us in our youth,
That suffers with us when we're sad
And points our way to truth.

SAGACIOUS SAYINGS

Dr. George Parrish, City Health Officer says:

"The Negro race has shown great fortitude, patient endurance and hope in its magnificant uphill fight for the betterment of its people, for better health and a better understanding of sanitation and hygiene. For years and decades the Negro received but slight recognition by his government and by the white people. Poverty stricken, ignorant and illiterate, almost single handed and unaided, they have fought their way out of the marshlands of ignorance into the uplands of enlightment and learning.

"Every man should be made to contribute to the support of his minor children, but the law is very defective on that point. As the law now stands, a man falls in love with another woman and walks out on his wife and two small children. She goes to court and gets a divorce and judgment for $20 a week. The husband refuses to pay and when ordered to appear in court, he moves over, the state line and is safe. There should be passed an interstate a national law—so that such men could always be picked up and jailed, no matter how far they moved. No thinking person should ever employ a man who has deserted his babies, for if he canot be loyal to his own flesh and blood, how can he be loyal to anyone else. As things now stand it is always the poor little woman who suffers.

"Pride is poverty of understanding; but real poverty, irreparable poverty, regrettable poverty, is poor health. If we could only know and appreciate the discontent and wretchedness of many people who abound in cash, what a considerable consolation could be found in our lives.

Zeta Chapter is Organized

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 27, (ANP)—Eight members were initiated into the Zeta Phi Beta sorority, Saturday forming the new chapter, Alpha Delta Zeta, set up by the southern regional director, Soror Lullelia W. Harrison who unraveled the mysteries and explained the history of the sorority.

After the ceremony, the following officers were elected: Basileur, Soror Mollye W. Young; 1st Anti Basileus, Soror Jennie O. Johnson; Grammateus, Soror Mabel A. Roseman; Epistolean, Soror Estelle G. Young; Tamiouchus, Soror E. Graves; Jerveler, Soror Helen L. Allen; Parliamentarian, Soror Julia F. Clark; Custodian, Soror Frances M. Alexander.

By MIRIAM MATTHEWS

Labor, too, is headline news in today's newspaper. The present effort to reconcile the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization makes "Sit Down With John L. Lewis," by Cyrus Sulzberger an important book to read at the present time. Written by a United Press reporter who has covered Lewis' activities during recent years, this sympathetic biography of the leader of the C. I. O. sketches the main outlines of his life from his beginning as a simple Iowa mine boy to his present national eminence. John L. Lewis once considered entering the prize ring to seek the heavyweight title; and during various stages of his career he turned down offers to run for senator from New Mexico, to become a member of President Coolidge's Cabinet, to run for vice-president on a ticket with Herbert Hoover and to become the Will Hays of the coal industry. This book will prove very revealing to those who want to understand John L. Lewis and the mainsprings of his behavior in the development of the C. I. O.

A suitable book to read in connection with the one just mentioned is "Little Steel," a novel published by Upton Sinclair on his sixtieth birthday. It represents the fifty-seventh title of a man who has devoted his life and dedicated his writings toward maintaining American civil rights and social justice and has lived to see many of the reforms he fought for incorporated in our social and political structure. This new book by the author of "Oil" and "Boston" is not one of his big novels nor one of his smashing indictments but an attempt to explain in simple and homely terms the struggle between the C. I. O. and Little Steel. The story is centered around Walter Quayle, a minor steel magnate who permits himself to be duped by a pair of "industrial counselors." When he finally wakes up and begins to look realities square in the face, he discovers he has had a lesson or two in American industrial democracy.

We also recommend Brooks' "When Labor Organizes", Keir's "Labor's Search for More"; William Green's "The Right to Work"; and John L. Lewis's "Labor and the Nation" for those who wish further reading on the subject.

Linguists of No Mean Ability in 'Little Chillun'

It has been said of the theatre that the best actors live their parts but one visit to the Mayan Theatre dressing rooms of the cast of "Run, Little Chillun," defies that popular belief in rather convincing manner.

While all, or most, of the Negro players are required to speak the crude dialect of Toomer's Bottom in Hall Johnson's Folk drama now smashing all records of attendance for Federal Theatre productions, one finds linguists of no mean ability among them.

Arthur Ray, who was educated in Scotland when he ran away from home at an early age, speaks the Highlander Gaelic with the greatest o fease. Ray is the fierce Tongola of the "New Day Pilgrims" in "Run, Little Chillun."

In her recent repertoire, Ruby Elzy adds a typical Negro tear to Norwegian songs in her Scandinavian group.

Brought up among the Pennsylvania Dutch, Cleo Desmond, who pioneered in the early Negro theatre as a member of the Lafayette Stock company, has performed in parts calling for Cockney, Jewish and Canadian dialects during the course of her career on the stage.

Thaddeus Jones, who essays the part of Deacon Esau Redd, is a descendent of the Seminole Indians and has done noteworthy research in Indian lore.

It was as much of a task for Modupe Paris, Nigeria African, to adopt the Oxford English accent to his native ear as it was to express himself in terms of harlemese. He knows many of the African tribal tongues, including the difficult Swahili language.

Olive Ball graduated magna laude as an English major from Howard University, yet there is no trace of the classics in her delivery of the famous prayer she delivers as "Reverend Sister Louella Strong" in the Hope Baptist revival meeting.

Completing the lingual cosmopolitanism of the "chillun" cast is Tarnova Nakken, born in Tiflis, Georgia Russia. Her constant "Yeah, man!" baers the flavor of Turkestan or, perhaps the strange Mongolian heritage of her paternal ancestry.

Hallowe'en Dance at Elks

Les Hites and his Cotton Club orchestra come to Central Avenue Sunday night in one of the greatest swing fests staged in the Elks' Hall in many a moon.

Hite and his boys will ride the broom stick, as the jitterbugs say in a pre-Hallowe'en dance, scheduled from 8 p. m. to the wee hours of the morning.

Although the dance will prenight, dancers are urged to wear inght, dancers are urged to wear their costumes and masks if they are so inclined.

This is reputedly Hite's last appearance in Los Angeles before he and his nation-renowned band leave for the East. Admission is 50 cents.

Premiere of 'Gang Smashers' Set Back to November 18

Destined to attract even greater attention than if it had been held on Nov. 10, the world premiere fo Million Dollar Theatre Production's new underworld thriller "Gang Smashers" is to be staged at the Millon Dollar Theatre downtown at Third and Broadway on Thursday Nov. 18. Necessity for a week longer in the cutting caused the postponment of the gala affair that will prove to be the theatrical and social event of the season.

Besides Nina Mae McKinney, the star, and her notable supporting cast, stage and screen highlights, famous lumonaries of all races from all walks of life will be present. Other famous actors in the all-colored melodrama that savors of the famous Hines trial in New York include the following: Monte Hawley, Lawrence Criner, Reginald Fenderson, Edward Thompson, Arthur Ray, John Criner, Neva Peoples, Vernon McCalla and others

Man Trapped In Home Burned

Awakening in a blazing house, his pyjamas and bed covering being burned from his body, Roland McCardell, 35-year old waiter, was trapped in his home at 1351 E. 42nd place early Saturday modning and burned ot death.

A man and his wife, Lindell Ratten and Vertia Ratten, asleep in another room of the house awakened in time to flee and turn in the alarm. Mrs. Ratten, dazed by the shock, attempted to run back into the house, but was caught on the threshhold and dragged to safety by her husband.

The couple told investigators that the fire must have started at about 5:15 a. m. in McCardell's room. Awakening, McCardell evidently attempted to get out, reached the kitchen wher the gas heater was buring but was trapped. He was dead, the body charred almost beyond recognition when firemen found him. The entire house was completely demolished.

His wife, from whom he was separated, was notified, and she in turn notified relatives of the dead man, living in Louisiana.

Knife Killer Goes on Trial Today

Expected to plead self-defense, Robert McCalman, 33-year old laborer and knife killer suspect, faces trial at 9:45 this morning in Department 43 of the Superior Court in the Hall of Justice.

McCalman is charged with the knife-slaying of Mack Maxwell, W. P. A. employer, on August 20, the culmination of a quarrel at the house in which both men roomed, 1055 E. 31st street.

Both men allegedly were intoxicated. Maxwell is said to have gone at McCalman with a blunt instrument of some sort, whereupon McCalman seized the dead man's own knife and slashed him, inflicting 12 wounds about the head and body.

Maxwell died at his home in the presence of Newton Street police and ambulance doctors. Although he was conscious when police arrived, groaning and twisting on the floor, clad only in a ragged bathrobe, he was unable to name his assailant.

McCalman was apprehended later that night as he stood on a street corner. He assertedly made a full confession of the cutting and the events leading up to it, although he refused to sign it.

Man Sees Red, Wields 'Red' Handled Knife

When John Riley gets drunk he sees red. Monday morning, he got drunk, saw red and seizing a red-handled knife commenced to carve th persons of all who got in his way.

Police arrested him a few hours after the rampage, as he lay in his bed at 4040 Morgan avenue, and under hic pillow, the knife, a bit stained with the blood of Will Howard of the Morgan avenue address, and Benjamin Gilbreath, 11715 Benders.

Morgan and Gilbreath, who were not badly hurt, told police that they arrived just in time, as Riley had threatened to kill his wife before he had finished.

Duke U. Urged to Drop Color Bar for Syracuse Grid Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Duke University, Durham, N. C., has been urged to continue the precedent established by North Carolina University three years ago, of refusing to draw the color line when southern schools come north to play football and meet a colored player in the lineup.

The problem of the color line will be faced by Syracuse university Nov. 12, when Duke plays Syracuse as Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, Negro half-back, is a star on the Syracuse team.

In a letter to Dr. William Preston Few, president of Duke, Roy Wilkins, assistant secretary of the NAACP urged abrogation of the color bar practiced by southern schools in the field of sports:

"Sidat-Singh is a regular backfield player on the Syracuse team and his forward passing this year and last has been responsible for 13 Syracuse touchdowns.

"If Duke will play Syracuse without raising any question on Sidat-Singh, either openly or through a 'gentlemen's agreement, between coaches, it will be strengthening a new, sportsmanlike and sensible development in athletic relations between the North and South.

"For three years, the University of North Carolina has played New York university in New York, and for those three years, New York university has had as a regular backfield man Edward Williams, a colored boy. There has been not the slightest friction in the three games."

Sidat-Singh Superior to Baugh --- Rice

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 27, (ANP)—Wilmeth Sida Singh, the Harlemite with the Hindu name who passed Syracuse to an upset 19 to 17 victory over Cornell a week ago Saturday, is being described by Grantland Rice, noted sports writer, as "greater than Sid Luckman or Sammy Baugh at their best."

This game, incidentally, was a bit trying for both Singh and Brud Holland, All-American end from Cornell. Both players are members of Kappa chapter of Omega Psi Phi fraternity and were initiated at the same time. Despite this fraternal bond, they played as if they had never seen each other with Holland smashing through in an attempt to hamper Singh's sensational aerials and the Syracuse back seeking to break up all passes aimed at Holland.

Singh did not play football while attending DeWitt Clinton high school in New York because he was one of the finest basketball players in the city and his coach, Harold Regan kept him off the gridiron. Even at Syracuse he did not play football until he was spotted engaging in the touch variety two years ago by Roy Simmons, assistant varsity coach. He was persuaded to report to the varsity squad and since then has not played basketball.

Singh is 20, stands 5 feet 10½ inches and weighs 177 pounds. He is studying medicine at Syracuse. He probably won't get into the game with Duke University on Nov. 12, just as he was barred from the Maryland game last fall. The contract, which like others signed by Southern schools stipulates that no Negroes may play in games with Northern institutions.

Negro Proves to Be Hero of Auto Wreck; Saves 5

MEMPHIS, Oct. 27, (ANP)—Five white Memphians, trapped in their buring auto Saturday night, owe their lives to an unidentified colored man who came to their rescue and extinguished the flames by throwing dirt over the blazing motor.

The five occupants were: Mrs. Fannie Eilbott, and her four daughters who had visions of being burned alive when they were pinned in the car after it turned over.

"We were only a few miles out of Little Rock when I applied the brakes in making a curve", Miss Lucille Eilbott said. "The brakes must have locked, for the car swerved and went over. The doors were jammed so we could not get out and flames were playing about the front end of the car. Our screams brought a Negro who scooped up dirt and threw it on the fire, extinguishing it. He left without giving his name.

'Trial By Jury' Aired This Morn

This graphic dramatization of the American constitution was prepared by the U. S. Bureau of Education and reaches KFAC listeners under sponsorship of the Los Angeles Board of Education.

Jackie Robinson Sparks Pasadena Jaysee Grid Win

It was all Jackie Robinson in the Rose Bowl last Friday night where the Pasadena Jaysee Bulldogs trammeled the Los Angeles City College Cubs 16-0.

It seems that Pasadena had anticipated too much Balfour Gland Cub colored star end, for two men were assigned to Gland the whole evening, keeping him bottled up on every play and hampering the Cubs decisively.

A crowd greater by 15,000 than that which witnessed the U. C. L. A.-Idaho fracas the following day, saw dark-skinned Jackie hold to his place as the sparkling satellite of Coast Junior college football.

In the first quarter he ran 35 yards for a touchdown, returning to convert for the extra point. The playing of Harold Floyd, former Jefferson High player, substitute for Robinson at quarterback, was also outstanding.

History of 'City of Angeles' Heard Over KECA Today

The picturesque and momentous history of the "City of Angeles" is being dramatized over KECA with Federal Theatre Radio Division favorites and second episode reaches listeners at 1 P. M. today.

The second episode of "My Los Angeles" stirring quarter hour drama unfolding the city's history making struggles, is sponsored by the Los Angeles City Board of Education and brings listeners an absorbing and exciting radio vehicle.

Although "A Journey to the Center of the Earth" has only three characters, the exciting Federal Theatre Radio Division adventure serial is proving tremendously popular with listeners.

DOWN IN FRONT

By ALMENA DAVIS

After a lapse of two issues, during which, we say with becoming modesty, this space was used for better things (do we hear a protest, DOWN IN FRONT by this duck-out-of-water, a female sports writer, is resumed.

Several of our couple of readers have asked us to do something on the football players of color, many of whom are unidentified as such by the fans, playing on the smaller college teams throughout the State. It seems that readers of the past few weeks' Eagle sports, are of the opinion that Kenny Washington and Woodrow Strode are all there is of color in Coast football.

Well, tain't so. There are several, eight of nine, who are, to the people of their particular locale, what the above mentioned lads are to us.

Two of them are in grid-mix whenever San Jose State College takes on any of the twelve out-fits on its schedule, from September 19 to December 3. Lloyd Thomas and Dor Presley, by name.

Thomas is playing his third and last year at first string end. I haven't seen him in action, but Press reports say he is in a class of the truly great. He is one of those rarities, a player who went to college with no previous football experience. Grasping the fundamentals of Dud DeGroot's system readily, he accomplished the near-miracle of ousting the senior end during mid-season.

Since that time he has improved in all departments of the game, and has become a virtual stone wall on defense, as well as being a great offensive blocker and pass snatcher.

The general idea is that Master Thomas is something of a paradox. He weighs only 175 but plays a crashing type of game and according to opposing blockers hits with the power of a 200 pounder.

In last year's game against the Sugar Bowl Champions Santa Clara, whose coach later picked him on the all-state grid team, Thomas was thrown a minority of Jose's power and it was found that little counted for a deficit in the number of yards gained.

A two-letter man, Thomas is also captain-elect of the basketball team and made all-star selections in that sport, as well as all-conference and all-state in football.

Presley is no comparative atom like his running mate. He weighs 227 pounds and at guard, has proved to be an important factor in the smooth running of the complicated double wing reverses which require a fast moving guard out in front of the ball carrier. In the DeGroot system, the running guard must also be big enough to b eplaced in a target spot on defense to stop a majority of the power shown by the opposition. Presley, now a junior has taken over cording to his coach, is of All-that job in grand style, and ac-American calibre.

In addition to his grid stunts he holds the school shot put record and tossed it well over 50 feet in all meets last year.

There is one game on the San Jose schedule which even the Trojans envy the small school. That is their yearly encounter with the University of Hawaii at Honolulu. It's a Christmas present, so to speak, from the authorities, coming in early December. Last year the Jose boys barely eked out a [illegible]

REFEREE AND RADIO ANNOUNCER 'GANG UP' TO WHIP CROUCH

Jack Kennedy, Reed Kilpatrick Err in Round Score, Fight Description

By J. Cullen Fentress

When Georgie "Cobra" Crouch entered the ring at Olympic auditorium Tuesday night we know he was prepared to fight Jimmy Garrison—just one man—of the Kansas City Garrisons. But, it wasn't long before Georgie realized he was up against another man besides his contracted foe—one Referee Jack Kennedy of Uncle Sam's Navy. And, what he didn't know was that up in the first balcony behind a KEHE microphone was one Reed Kilpatrick, an alleged fight announcer, who was incubating disparaging remarks all too freely about the sportsmanship of the race of which Georgie is a member.

At the end of 10 rounds, we felt Georgie had battled opponent No. 1, who was GARRISON, even-Stephen. It was a tough fight for both. The "Cobra", who, outside of Henry Armstrong, is the best fighter developed on the coast in the past six years, met in Jimmy a foe who was capable of giving as Georgie was able to give and take just as well.

The result, which was in Garrison's favor, didn't hurt the prestige of Crouch one iota, mainly because the 6,000 or so spectators saw him put up the best fight they have seen in many a moon against what turned out to be unsurmountable odds.

Opponent No. 2--Lieut. Jack Kennedy--gave a couple of rounds to Garrison, the giving of which must have made fair-minded arbiters who were present drop their heads in shame. Notably among these gift rounds were numbers six and seven. Crouch's margin in them was unquestionable. The final tally of the scoreboard would then have showed five rounds for Garrison and five for Georgie. The tenth went to Georgie by a wide margin.

And up in the balcony sat Opponent No. 3--Announcer Reed Kilpatrick. Fight fans who were listening to the battle in their homes, etc., must have felt that the some three thousand Negroes, present were unsportmanlike because they dared root for Crouch. Announcer Kilpatrick evidently didn't take time to consider the fact that these 3,000 or more fistic bugs were present solely because of the prowess of Crouch, and he would have his listeners of Tuesday night believe that Crouch's supporters were prejudiced—Prejudiced to the degree that they would cheer Crouch under any circumstances and razz Garrison and Kennedy under any circumstances. What Announcer KILPATRICK should have told his listeners was the fact that because Crouch had obviously been made the goat his supporters became rabid partisans as all good sportsmen would become under similar circumstances.

Next week, it's Lefty Lonie Flver versus Babe Brandelli and Leon Zorrita against Ray Vargas—two ten rounders. Matchmaker Suey Welch has lined up a good supporting card.

Lewis Defends Title Tomorrow

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27. (ANP)—Postponement until tomorrow night of the light heavyweight title bout between Champion John Henry Lewis and Al Gainer scheduled for Oct. 20, was announced last week. Dr. Francis B. Foley, physician for Connecticut State Athletic commission, said Gainer was not in condition for the match.

Democrats Take On Fremont Hi

One of the strongest Jefferson High teams in several years will take to its own turf tomorrow afternoon against Fremont, in the second game of the Southern League title chase after administering a thorough licking to the Huntington Park Spartans last Friday 24-0.

Jefferson is sparked by a stocky Japanese fullback, Max Tofoya, one of the best preppsters at that position in the city, and Joe Black, colored, left half back.

More than three-fourths colored in composition, the Democrats are depending on a strong passing attack to stem the drive of Fremont which won out over Polytechnic decisively in its opener.

POLY SMOTHERED

As enigmatic as the smothering of Idaho by U.C.L.A. on Saturday was Fremont's 19 to Polytechnic's goose egg last week-end. Poly employed a nine man line to guard against Fremont's Mel Bleeker, possibly the best prep player in the city, but to no avail.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE SPORTS

JOE LOUIS, heavyweight champ will put Los Angeles legal battles, film offers, and softball games behind him tomorrow when he leaves by train for the east.

Plans for Louis' Frisco Bout Outlined By Mike

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (ANP)—Details of his proposition for promotion of a heavyweight championship bout in conjunction with next year's San Francisco World Fair were outlined Thursday by Mike Jacobs who conferred with Co-Managers Julian Black and John Roxborough at the Morrison Hotel.

The proposition calls for a guarantee by the exposition committee of $500,000 for the show. It must be accepted or rejected by Dec. 20. Louis would defend his title against the survivor of a series of bouts among Lou Nova, Tommy Farr, and Max Baer.

One of the previsions is that the exposition provide an arena seating 45,000. Another is that there be no nominal promoter. The bout would be 15 rounds. A drive is to be started to amend the California law which provides for only 10 round title engagements and 12 round no decision bouts.

Detroit Stars Renew 'Civil War' with Giants Sunday

Fresh from a sensational doubleheader last Sunday in which they copped one and lost one in a winter League play-off with the White Kings, the Royal Giants, League leaders will square off with their bitterest rivals, the Detroit Stars, next Sunday. Jimmy Derricks whose infected teeth were blamed for his failure to hurl his playmates to victory, rather than a 5 to 2 loss, is in splendid shape now and threatens to send "School-boy" Griffith back to the kindergarten. The rest of the Detroit Stars also vow revenge on the Giants. But the Giants, hardened veterans of the Negro national league only laugh at the youngsters.

In the line-up of the Stars will be Macon, W. Lane, Flennoy, D. Dunn, Miller, Red Davis, Pepper Basset, O. Lane, and Derricks. The Giants will have Hughes, Williams, Wright, Suttles, West, Somers, Snow, Mackey, Griffith and Porter. The first game will be called at 1:30.

SUNDAY'S GAME SENSATIONAL

A run by Hughes batted in by Mule Suttles in the eighth inning broke a hopeless 7-7 deadlock between the Royal Giants and the White Kings last Sunday, setting the crowd wild as a relief from their tenseness. Lindell, of the New York Yankees pitching for the White Kings and Andrew Porter the Giant hurler had both been yanked in the seventh Gonzales replacing the white pitcher and Morris, the colored one. Suttles hit a home run in the second and another in the fifth. Williams copped a homer, a single and a double.

In the night cap, called in the fifth on account of darkness the Kings led 5 to 2.

Garcia, Hank Stage Verbal Preliminary

NEW YORK, Oct. 27, (ANP)—Ceferino Garcia, Filipino challenger, and Henry Armstrong double champion, staged a verbal preliminary to their welterweigh bout scheduled for Madison Square Garden next Wednesday by describing to the press this week just how they would go about annihilating each other.

Garcia is believed to have the best chance of any welter against Homicide Henry. He missed against Barney Ross it is true, but a lot of the boys believe he softened up Barney so that Armstrong could win the title. Garcia has the best punch of any fighter to step into the ring with Henry, is exceptionally strong, and will probably outweigh him by about 10 pounds.

BOLO PUNCH

Garcia's chief stock in trade is a "bolo punch" which is similar to Bob Fitzsimmons' corkscrew blow. He allegedly developed it slashing at sugar cane with a bolo. The punch is actually nothing more than right chop thrown high.

"I'll knock him out if I hit him," Garcia said. "Sometimes my punches do not land. But if they do I will knock him out."

"I am in good shape." "I have seen Armstrong fight two or three times and I know how to beat him. He will not be able to rush me like Ambers and I will be stronger than Ambers. Do you think he can push me around? And I am hitting good in the ring."

"My experience with the

"My experience is these Filipinos look as though they hit harder than they actually do," Armstrong said. "Just the same I'll be looking for his fancy punch."

"But he's going to have trouble hitting me with it. I'll rush him like I always do—there's no use trying to change my style. It's stood up this far—and I'll keep crowding him. Sure he's a swinger with that punch. To be a swinger you got to have the other fellow standing there. Well, you know I don't stand there often. I move around and most of the time in, so he'll wrap that punch around my neck."

Armstrong had hoped to put on weight during his recent lay-off, but didn't. He'll probably enter the ring weighing 134, his weight for the Ross and Ambers encounters.

Snyder Bulldogs Win City League Grid Opener, 20-0

A ruthless squad of Ross Snyder Bulldogs displayed tremendous driving power Sunday afternoon, defeating a lethargic Los Capistranos Mexican football team 20-0 in the City League opener. The League is composed of teams in Los Angeles, San Pedro and surrounding communities.

For 20 minutes the Bulldogs had difficulty getting started. The drive was started in the second quarter, however, when Coach "Tiger" Manson started his fast breaking backfield of Poindexter, Warren, Milton, and McKenzie moving. The backfield was sparked by the powerful drives of Left Tackle Creecy and bullet passing Scales.

Commended for outstanding play was the line including of Shanks and Russell, who were standouts.

The Snyders face the Delta Tau Sigma team on the home ground Sunday afternoon. The kick-off whistle is blown at 2 p. m.

Woody Strode Back in Bruin Lineup for Stanford Game

By ALMENA DAVIS

U. C. L. A.'s Bruins will have their statuesque right end, Woody Strode, back in the lineup Saturday afternoon when they square off against Stanford in the Los Angeles Coliseum. Although they didn't need him and might even have gotten along without Kenny Washington in defeating Idaho last Saturday, they could use two or three more like the lads aforementioned in tackling the Stanford Indians in this third conference game of the season.

Strode was released from the Hollywood Hospital Saturday evening after the referee blew the whistle, stopping the Bruin's wild scoring spree on the suprisingly ineffectual Idaho Vandals. The tall boy was cautioned to hoist his 200 pound frame about on crutches Saturday evening and all day Sunday, but reported for scrimmage on his own two feet (of unusual size) Monday afternoon.

GAME DULL

One of the dullest "big" games it has been this correspondent's lot to watch was the Bruin's strangle of the Vandals, score 33-0. The Bruins, claimed a lot of credit for their showing, but it is this observer's guess, that it was as easy as taking candy from the baby.

In patting themselves on the back, the Westwooders lauded the fine blocking they allegedly staged, which assertedly accounted for their five touchdowns. But if that is the best the Bruins can do in blocking, they still have a long way to go.

The team, with the exception of Hal Hirshon, is not blocking for Kenny Washington. On each of the nine times, the husky Bruin back took the ball, he was in the melee all by himself. Each of the photos taken of Washington plays, show, the jitterbug of the Bruin backfield being brought down by two or three Vandals with no member of his own team in sight, or sprinting across the goal line, pursued by Vandals, his own teammates watching from twenty or thirty yards distant.

Washington was in fine fettle. The very warm weather warded off his usual attacks of charley horse, and the Bruin concentration on spin plays with Hirshon.

He did not start the first quarter, was not sent in until the start of the second. He played that full period and came in again near the end of the third, to remain until a few minutes before the final gun, when he was waved off to the showers, to the accompaniment of a big hand from both sides of the bleachers.

First touchdown scored by Washington was a 47 yard left end run, started when he intercepted a Vandal pass. Three Vandals were coming up fast as he slithered down the sidelines. The first, he side-stepped, the second, he stiff-armed beautifully, and the third, Hirshon took out. Next Kenny-score was made on an end around play from the 7 yard line.

Although he scored two touchdowns, Washington placed the ball in position for another of the remaining three and might easily have taken the ball over himself. Midway of the second quarter, he ran 46 yards around his own right end to the 4 yard line. Lugging the apple 123 yards on 9 tries, losing nothing, gaining at all times he finished at 13.70.

Wynne Stars for UCLA Frosh

John Wynne, former Negro star at Manual Arts High school, was the only standout on the U. C. L. A. frosh team that met and was crushingly defeated by the Stanford first year-lings in Saturday morning's preliminary to the U. C. L. A.-Idaho game in the Coliseum.

Wynne, playing at fullback, was outstanding on defense, and vainly tried to spark the Bruin Babes to a touchdown when he broke out for a 36 yard run in the last few minutes of the game.

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT

(Matthew, V) "And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him.

2. And he opened his mouth, and and taught them, saying,
3. Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
4. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.
5. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.
6. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
9. Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God.
10. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
11. Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shal say all manner of evil against you falsely for my sake.
12. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

Could the regents of the Medical college of evangelists of the great Seventh Day Adventists church have read this beautiful sermon? Seemingly not, for in the bulletin for the 1938--1939 terms, under the caption "rules and regulations relating to the interne year", there appears this statement: "Non-caucasion students have at times experienced difficulties in arranging for their internships, the faculty and the trustees have suffered embarrassment because of the circumstances involved, which circumstances are not of their making and entirely beyond their control: therefore, in order to avoid as far as possible such perplexities, no non-caucasian student is, or will be, permitted to apply for, or accept, any internship, nor will such be allowed to take, or apply to take, any examination or test of any name or nature qualifying for an internship without having first received an authoriation to do so in writing from the administrative faculty of the clinical division, said authorization having been signed by the Dean and the Registrar. Any violation of this rule will be considered as meriting disciplinary action."

In short, non-caucasians—Chinese, Japanese, or Negroes, will not be allowed freedom in application for internship. This simple function of the medical student will become a very involved and complicated procedure for them—containing special authorizations and discretionary approvals.

For a moment, let us review the word of the Master:

He mentions the poor in spirit, the meek, those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, those who are persecuted for righteousness sake, those whom men revile and persecute. Who are these? Aren't they the non-caucasian groups mentioned in the Seventh Day Adventist bulletin? If these people are denied their hunger and thirst for knowledge, isn't that repudiation of the Christ's teachings?

When the heads of this medical Christian college have faithfully discharged their duty to the less fortunate seekers of truth—protected and defended them—they become, in His words, "the salt of the Earth." But when, on the basis of race or color, they discriminate; when they feebly recognized the prejudices of backward institutions—they shirk a Divine responsibility!

SKELETONS REVEALED

Political covers are being pulled back and skeletons revealed! Each day it seems a new and more ghastly one is brought to light.

The new mayor, Fletcher Bowron, says he is going to hew to the line and let the chips fal where they may.

We recall that the California Eagle supported then incumbent Mayor Frank L. Shaw in the recall election. This stand is not repudiated today. Eagle support was given because the Shaw administration weakened or letdown the bars of discrimination against Negro employment in all departments of city government.

However, the attitude of the Moyor in offering to lay down his political life in order to perform his duty is a commendable one.

We quote from a speech the new civic chief-executive addressed to 1200 honoring business men yesterday:

"It will live (the banquet) only in my memory—for it will never happen again—because I feel certain—as certain as I am of the sincerity and good wishes of those of you seated before me—that I will prove an unpopular mayor of the city of Los Angeles, because I intend to do my duty.

"I expect to appear ungrateful because many who expect to reap rewards for services in my campaign to defeat former Mayor Frank L. Shaw will not receive rewards, and I definitely expect to win the contempt of many post-election friends to whom I cannot and will not grant favors to the detriment of the city's best interests.

"I do not care to retain fairweather friends and I do not hanker for the back-slapping of opportunists. It is pretty sailing now, but I wonder who will still be my true friends when the weather gets rough."

Now, such statements, we believe, will react to the extreme discomfort of several more or less rabid pre-election Bowronites in the local districts. Within these words there is a subtle warning that "what they were thinking about—'taint goin' be."

There are those who contend that mayor Bowron's grandiose belief in future unpopularity is a mere political stunt. These individuals point out that Bowron may be preparing America's most familiar civic accomplishment—the double-cross.

Be that as it may, it would be well to watch just where the fatal blows are aimed. Although many will tell you he is the basest of public servants today, Mayor Shaw employed more Negroes than any other chief-executive in the city's history. In most instances, this was not a matter of policy or "political favorites". The men working in many of our civic jobs—jobs obtaining through Shavian influence—are Los Angeles' most competent servants.

Negro citizens, along with thousands of other Angelenos, have given mayor Bowron a feather-edged pair of shears. Let us make certain he does not use them to snip the most vulnerable portion of our anatomy—our pocketbook.

SQUABBLING NO HELP

Far too much time has been wasted by yound and old leaders of the Eastside finding fault with one another.

In order to discredit other publications, newspaper editors have not hesitated to print lies. The periodicals voicing these untruths were "set" by white men in white owned printing establishmented, but peddled as "Negro products."

Somehow the erroneous belief has spread that construction and destruction are identical. Young leaders in the community have set themselves to the task of tearing down existing institutions in order to make room for their own. The falacy of such ana idea is clear. If each generation destroyed what the preceding one had builded, the world would now remain in the throes of prehistoric barbarism. The great American families of wealth are living illustrations of the fact that economic success is not a matter of one life-time or one person. The Studebaker motor car company evolved from a famous coach-building firm of the nineteenth century. The Morgan, Rockefeller, and Astor fortunes represent the earnings of three or four generations.

The Negro particularly must learn that economic progress is a "layer after layer" affair. Those young businessmen who believe that success is written out terms of destruction are "more to be pittied than censored." It is sad to observe so many unwilling to construct enterprises of their own; so many determined only to undermine. The damage in this procedure, ironically, will affect them more than anyone else. Oldsters cannot reap much reward from great economic institutions; their lives are lived. Youngsters, however, will have need of the great fortresses they now threaten. It is pleasant, though, to understand that the "lunatic fringe" of destructionists have not made too noticeable a dent upon the thinking of the rank and file.

But in order to illustrate how important are existing business institutions, the Eagle wil review outstanding Negro enterprises next week. Watch for this feature!

Guest Editorial

BUYER'S GUIDE by Clarence Peacock

The week of October 17th to the 22nd was National Pharmacy week. Many millions of dollars are spent annually by Negroes in drug stores throughout the country. Over 17 per cent of the drug stores in the United States are located in Colored neighborhoods. For proprietary medicines alone, Negroes spend annually over $6,000,000, for tooth paste $2,000,000 and $4,000,000 for cosmetics.

Colored people spend approximately $4,000,000 a year with the colored owned and operated drug stores in the country. These stores give employment to approximately 862 colored people and pay them over $431,000 a year in salaries.

Negro drug stores are one of the few enterprises whose number did not suffer greatly in the failures during the depression. The reason for this is the law requires that a graduate pharmacist be in charge of the prescription department, which makes it less easy for the uneducated to enter this field of enterprise.

The Negro physician has the opportunity of directing the prescription business of his patients almost anywhere he chooses. Yet the 4,000 Colored physicians and the 2,000 Colored dentists in this country are only able to direct enough of their 12,000,000 patients to support 608 Colored drug stores.

In Harlem where the Colored population is over 260,000 there are 125 drug stores, of this number only two are owned and operated by Negroes. In this community as in all Negro communities where poor quality goods are habitually put before the buyer, it is doubly important that the buyer be made aware of the comparative value of drug products and of the various brands of proprietary medicines.

Recently a certain brand of nose drops that were highly advertised, were put off on the public as sure-fire cures for colds. On investigation it was found that these drops were actually detrimental and had in many cases of children's colds, led to lipoid pneumonia, and death.

If the Colored buyer would patronize only Colored drug stores or those stores that employ Colored pharmacist, he would to a great degree guard against those inferior and often harmful products that are continually being pushed upon him.

Your Colored papers carry a number of quality advertisements of drugs, propietary medicines and cosmetics. look these ads over and remember the names of their brands so you can demand them when you make your purchase.

CLEAN UP

The editorial appearing in last week's California Eagle which advocated a "clean-up" of Central Avenue from the sanitary as well as moral stand-point has found many interested readers. Letters of commendation and approval have poured into EAGLE offices.

Hence, we feel it proper to repeat last week's cry—"Clean up our sidewalks—then our souls!"

LOUISIANA has reason today to bow her head in humiliation and shame, and nothing short of arrest and imprisonment of mobsters who last week snuffed out the life of a young Negro, accused but not convicted of assault and rape, will even help to indicate that the fagot and rope are not rulers of this section.

Mobs are not always made up of the so-called "lower element" of our white brothers, and we opine that some of the members of Ruston's "best families" made up the blood-thirsty, vicious group of men who thwarted efforts of peace officers of the community in their attempt to bring legal action into play. But just as these same defeated officers had time to parley with the mob, who reputedly threatened to kill their victim immediately, just so certainly did they know members of the mob. They cannot tell a grand jury that they failed to recognize the men with whom they talked—and if they do, they cannot expect to be believed.

Louisiana's congressional representatives may proudly assert their opposition to the passage of an anti-lynch bill, may filibuster and filibuster as did Senator Ellender at the last session, and declare the sovereign of Louisiana able to protect people within its borders. But as long as so atrocious a crime is committed anywhere in the world, perpetrated in a section long noted for its inhumanity to an oppressed people, so long even such eloquent (?) filibusterers as Senator Ellender will fail to convince mere conservatives that legislation is not necessary.

The brutal manner in which Louisiana's lynching was carried out is no less horrible than the infamous Duckhill, Mississippi, torture slayings of last year. The mob's decision to save the dead man's body to compare fingerprints with those allegedly found on the car of the assaulted couples shows the insane reasoning of mob characters. What would have been done if the finger-prints had not been the same? (And who says they were?) Could mistaken identity restore life to a man who had been hanged, shot, tortured with a hot poker? Could restitution be made to a man who had been burned?

tribute the labor of his back or brow at a fixed rate per week, is it fair to pay him in alleged currency which devaluates at the rate of two cents per dollar per week

Of all merchants, the people's common business-house, the state government, alone is forced to accept warrants in payment of obligations due it. How simple it will be for unscrupulous financiers to buy up a lot of unwanted paper warrants and present them, at face value, to the state in payment of great debts. The probability of bankruptcy under such a set-up is obvious even to the most rabid Ham and Egger.

But probility for bankruptcy on the part of Mr. Average Citizen is even greater. Now, then, John Doe, well up in his fifties, has received his first precious thirty make-believe dollars. He rushes to the nearest store. Great chain companies will refuse him right off. Their trade is of a tremendous interstate character. They cannot afford to trifle with "California Script." It will do thme no good in Omaha, or Chicago, or New York. Nothing daunted, Mr. Doe will proceed to the neighborhood tradesman. Here he finds that the gentleman will accept his warrant only at a considerable discount. As time goes on, the discount will increase. Then, even the small tradesman will refuse script money. In doing this, they will realize that they amputate their greater patronage. But these merchants will be helpless. Most of their products are nationally distributed. Can goods, cereal, and bread. Great companies cannot accept paper vouchers valuable in only one state.

Yes, the entire idea is impossible and, if enacted, would effect a great economic disaster. Most thinking people grant this. However, the wide spread popularity of te schheme is a sombre indication of a spirit prevalent today which hitherto has been foreign to the national philosophy.

Alphabetical creations of the administration in many instances mirror this same feeling. America demands "something for nothing". People have been convinced that they can simply legislate themselves into economic security. It is fantastic.

During the depression, one of the East's great fortunes was swept away. The man thus lost a life time's earnings at eighty-two. He found himself destitute. He sold candy on the streets of New York, and today, nearing ninety, he is president of a million-dollar penny-candy corporation. This, too, is fantastic, but equally true. This man refused to allow "something for nothing" to saturate his thinking. Instead, he adopted the motto "something out of nothing."

But we do not suppose that all men are capable of such a feat. This man probably posseses rare talents and extreme determination. It is useless to believe his feat possible for everyone. But we can wager he did not waste time in bemoaning his condition, or seeking involved legislative schemes to see him through. He took in the situation, recognized reality, and found a way out.

This is what California oldsters must do. Certainly, support is due them. They have tilled the field, turned the wheels of industry, built the roads, and molded the national wealth. We cannot cast them off. They are common responsibility.

But when these worthy people adopt a suicidal, obviously ridiculous measure as an economic cure-all, they inflict injury upon themselves and the state. Of course, their action is a powerful rebuke to present inadequacy in old-age care. As such, it is certainly acceptable. But America must learn that over-night legislative concoctions never succeed. Calm study and rational laws may aid. However, the greatest hurdle is in the common mind. We must will for, and more important, work for recovery!

NEGROES JITTERY IN 'LYNCH TOWN; SAY VICTIM 'WRONG MAN'

RUSTON, La., Oct. 27. (By Robert McKinney for ANP)—This wild-eyed, Ku Klux Klan town of tobacco-chewing farmers, where sugar cane, cotton and strawberries are kings and Negroes are considered "working tools", is in a fury over the recent lynching of youthful R. C. Williams. Williams was suspected of slaying a white man, Robert Blair, and beating his woman companion to death. The lynching was the most brutal and outrageous of any ever catalogued in the annals of states' crimes.

A mob of 1,000 persons dragged Williams out of a smokehouse on his grandmother's property when a group of young boys yelled "we got the Blair killer."

The mob held state police and sheriffs at bay with rifles and riddled Williams' body with bullets. They burned his posterior with iron rods and hung him to a pine tree. They gave some of his fagots to the bloodhounds and burned the remains.

Although Sheriff Bryan Thigpen, who is reported to have said that Williams confessed the crime, claims every attempt was made to stop the mob, there are many who charged that little or no effort was made, and that Williams was not given a chance to say a word.

ELLENDER HIT

The town is in a fury because its Christians and liberals say that Senator Allen Ellender "didn't know what he was talking about on the Senate floor when he argued that the states could take care of lynching without interference of the federal government," because its judge, E. L. Walker, has angrily instructed a grand jury to investigate the lynching stating, "Lynch law has never prevailed in this parish. It will never prevail here."

The town is in a fury because Ruston pastors have unanimously condemned the lynching of Williams. Dr. W. E. D. Lockridge of the First Baptist church said, "Our community has suffered a disgrace in the eyes of all the civilized world."

It was this statement that left the ignorant farmers awe stricken; they can't understand why all this "commotion" should be made over a Negro. They are being agitated to believe by some of the leading men in Ruston who are reputedly affiliated with the Ku Klux Klan that killing a Negro isn't a crime. Some of the farmers have threatened to quit their churches before they will be made to accept the condemnation of the clergy. Others are indifferent because state officials have said nothing about the lynching.

Loquacious Senator Allen Ellender spoke at a state fair a few days ago, talking about sugar cane. He didn't even mention the lynching. In part the senator said: "You can't blame President Roosevelt or President Wallace for reducing the amount of sugar cane planted. I can see prosperity for the cotton farmer and there is none in worse fix than he is. If we take care of him, we can take care of others." On the same program, Governor Leche said, "Such great institutions as the South Louisiana State fair bring to us the realization of the possibilities of the great country we have down here."

The majority of the local Negroes are jittery; they are suspicious of white people because word is going around that "Williams was the wrong man." Some of the farmers say they will lynch every "nigger" until they get the right one.

Wm. Bigby Jr. is Fresno State Speaker

FRESNO, Oct. 27—Speaking on "The Negro in American Civilization" before the civic education class at the Fresno State College last Tuesday morning, William A. Bigby, Jr., Past Grand Lecturer of Prince Hall Masons in California, said, "During the 319 years of the Negroes existance in America, he has become a component part of his country's development and every endeavor. This, he not only has realized, but has striven in every way, since his emancipation, to pull his own weight, and contrbiute his share in the great work of buliding and shaping our great commonwealth in the American principles of freedom and democracy; to find and fil his place in the cosmic scheme of things.

"One-tenth of our 130,000,000 people are Negroes whose progress in the past 75 years is almost beyond belief. Yet, he still is in need of kindness, tolerance and helpfulnses. They need the re-assurance that the requirements of government and society will deal out to them, alike, an even-handed justice. Our country has many elements in the melting pot of its civilization many different modes of living and shades of thought, all striving in their own way to be loya to the high ideals worthy of the crown of American citizenship.

"America, however, will never come into hte sacred meaning of democracy in its fullness, until her people recognize the philisophy of Robert Burns. 'A man's a man, for a' that and a' that.' Economists, psychologists and historians have agreed, that the American Negro has, indeed justied Abraham Lincoln."

NOTABLE FACTS

Dear Editor:

I've just come across something in the Eagle that I particularly admire—so I wanted to express my admiration in tangible form. I don't know whether or not this feature has appeared in the paper before and whether I simply have been overlooking it in the past, but at any rate it struck me with renewed force last week. I refer to the short items placed at the end of each news story giving notable facts from Negro history. These are instructive, interesting, and well worth memorizing for future reference. Your policy of printing them is a truly constructive one and is destined to teach us all a number of very useful facts.

With best wishes to you always, I am

Sincerely,
Verna Arvey
